LETTER FROM GEN. ACORN

We have been furnished a copy of the following letter from Gen Acorn, addressed to Hon. R. Leachman, of this city:

FRANK'S POINT, Miss., May 7, 1867.

MY DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your very kind letter of 29th ult., and greatly sensible of the compliment you paid me, and truly grateful for the continued confidence expressed in the friendship for me manifest in your communication.

I enclose as germane to the subject, communication addressed to a few days since, in response to a letter sent me by the Editor of "The Columbian." This will give you a clue to the course I had marked to pursue. The foolish counsels of our Secession Leaders and their agents throughout the South, on the recent issues of "restoration," were repulsed, only by their insane teachings of Secession.—But regrets are useless, our backs are to the past, our faces to the future.

I have observed with approbation your remarks as to the future organization of a political party in the State of Mississippi.

I am in favor of organizing a party in the State, with a platform broad enough, and comprehensive enough, for all men, loyal white to stand upon—a union party with an emphatic reprehension of the acts of secession—a party in favor of equal rights to all men, before the ballot box as well as material, of free labor universal suffrage—a party of reconciliation on our things past and study of the future and free suffrage, which will unite the black, mean and raise the man most tall, to the dignity of the manhood in the land. The abolition of slavery has drawn every one of us with the vortex of free labor, and has swallowed you and I, men and women, old young, black and white to the ruthless which crushes idleness in rags—which is the only wealth held by law—the reign of free labor in honor; in this, is a lesson for our study; for one, I am willing to do what I can towards maintaining all the rights enstrusted in politics of the new regime.

I am not in favor of keeping blindly on running in favor of any of the political organizations of the North, as maintaining me in my circular letter of July 4th, and if, for the reasons then given and which still exist, impolitic to ourselves at present with any party in the North, only so far as it is a party of freedom. At present we have no in the affairs of the Nation. When united to our place in the family of ate no longer a party. But are in the Union; in other words, it becomes our privilege to again participate in the Government of the try, we can deliberately and wisely on our political confessor. We will then, I trust, waive our issues in making terms of reconciliation, including the action of northern parties or north ions. We will not be turned from our path by the men, choose for future friends and confidants, our of the American Union, who while and willing to do for the South that can constitutionally do, and who are the true interpretors of the to assist in repairing the ruin war has caused to all the material prosperity of our section is willing to enter at once into the as a laborer, in support of a party on a theory like the regardless organization as described, necessary to occasion, and when I find such, shall en to join it. Should I find a party ciation, maintaining either of the ect tenets here set out, even though mitting or dissenting in other ex- ing and criticising that which I regard as shortcomings.

I have always been opposed to recent acts of Congress, the theo- universal suffrage. I had advocated negro suffrage—events in fact, a friend, and prominent member Mississippi Convention, while that was in session, urging the policy of ing that principle in the present constitution. I did this for the that I hoped by such action to the imposition of unmerited suf- upon us, and for the further reason pressed, that the protection of the men in the enjoyment of his civil ation, must rest in the power to share in the political power of the . It required but the smallest ment of statesmanship to see the pro- ity of giving this power, while the em was being cautiously ed out into the hands of the most diligent class. There was no response my suggestion, the opportunity was

I next, after the North had ed a large majority in the Congres- sponse—the opportunity was lost!! am now driven to accept universal suffrage; to vote upon it. It is idle to cavil about the law; that which I so much dreaded, and so earnestly sought to avoid is an accomplished fact; and while I claim none of the credit, either by acts of omission or commission, I shall waste no time in regrets, but as before stated, accept the inevitable. I am not all the fulcrum of its consequences. I do this with hope; all is not yet lost; there is a frontier still beyond. Here I have no fear, I cannot afford to play demagogue while my countrymen s t weeping in desolation—as soon turn robber in the highway.

My professional duties will fully occupy my time until the third week in June, after which I shall be ready, if then asked, to accept your kind invitation to visit and speak to the people in your portion of the State. The "Grand Old Man" a good friend of mine in a recent trial before the "Peoples Representatives". The names of those who stood for me on that occasion will be long remembered in my memory, the engraving reached my heart, such pulsation serves to keep the record clear. I am truly and gratefully yours, and when I say, I shall not forget my friends in the "East"

Very Respectfully,
Yours &c.,
J. L. ALCORN.
HON. R. LEACHMAN, Meridian, Miss.

HER FIRST.—A lady says the first time she was kissed she felt like a ship of stone swimming in honey, cologne, nutmegs and cranberries. She felt also as though she was running through her nerves in a buggy drawn by a locomotive, and that all the cupids in sweetest dream by angels, shaded by honey-suckles and the whole spread with mulled raindrops.

Fallen Snow Flakes.

If words were ever more wherein fully uttered, or made really yet more eloquently grief known than those heart-throbs reveling in rhyme, we have yet to emblaim them in the myrtle memory of our tears. They are not the hyperbreathings of testimony they were uttered from the blighted rose-lips of real life—each word a gem, each line a pearl. Perchance, when her wild word-wail closed amid earth's coldest stone sister spirit of song, listening entranced above, may have flung to earth her starry scarf of sympathy, and caught this lovely and lost Peri up to her home in Heaven! Hope inspires it.)

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and earth below;
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet.
Dancing
Flirting,
Skimming along;
Beautiful snow! it is nothing wrong.
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to form in a picturesque freak
Beautiful snow from the Heav en above
Pure as an angel, gentle as love!

Whirling about in its maddening fun,
Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by!
It lights on the face and it sparkles the eye,
And cheeks in a glow and lips in a pout
Snap at the crystals that eddy around.—
The town is alive and its heart in a glow,
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow.

How wild the crowd goes swaying along,
Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye.
Gaily
Swinging,
Dashing they go,
Over the crust of the beautiful snow;
Snow so pure that it falls from the sky,
To be trampled by the crowd rushing by.
To be trampled and tracked by the hoofs of feet,
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow—but I fell!
Fell like the snow-flakes from heaven to hell;
Fell to be trampled as filth in the street
Fell, to be scoffed, to be spit on and beat.
Pleading,
Cursing,
Pleadings in vain,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead,
Merciful God! have I fallen so low?

And yet I was once like the beautiful snow
Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like the crystal, a heart like its glow;
Once I was loved as my innocence grew,
Chaste and unspoiled for the shrines of my home.

Father
Mother,
Sister,
God and myself I've sold them all.
What next, what next shall I be going on
Will outside sin and shame be all I need to know?
No night
For all that is not, or who is me, I know.
There is nothing so pure as the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that any thing so pure
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go
How strange it should be when no one cared
If the snow and the ice a rock my desperate Breast,
Pausing,
Freezing
Within,
Should refuse to give me a crust for a meal!
Or the comfort of fire from between its bars
To keep me from dying out in the street
Of a great city, where proud men meet
Apparently homeless, without a friend,
Without a shelter where head to bend.
Friendless,
Houseless,
Homeless,
Outcast,
Alone,
Dying,
Yet no one to pity a poor lost girl.
But the snow—the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and earth below,
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet.
Dancing
Flirting,
Skimming along;
Beautiful snow! it is nothing wrong.
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to form in a picturesque freak
Beautiful snow from the Heav en above
Pure as an angel, gentle as love!

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
Whirling about in its maddening fun,
Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by!
It lights on the face and it sparkles the eye,

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

Published Wednesday & Saturday by

J. GIBSON.

J. J. SHANNON, ... Editor

MERIDIAN, MISS.

Saturday : : : : May 18, 1867

The street car difficulties in our Southern cities have been terminated for the present by the negroes being allowed to ride where they please.—When it is remembered that for a long time this "equality" was not tolerated in the Northern cities, our opposition is not to be wondered at, much less made a pretext for refleasing old charges of persecution. When Sumner and Wilson get their franchise bill through for the northern States, we shall breathe easier.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in speaking of the false ears for ladies, which report says have lately been introduced, adds: This is but another step in the wild race which the female sex is running in pursuit of what Lytton would style "the deceptive." It will soon be necessary, indeed it is now necessary, that a man taking a woman to wife should obtain a surgical certificate as to the genuineness of her charms.—What must be the feelings of a bridegroom who discovers that he is mated with a partner who wears a false eye, false hair, false ears, false teeth, and false bosoms, and whose complexion has been made beautiful forever by the Arabian enamel and Circassian cosmetics of Rachel & Co?

George H. Pendleton, in his recent Urbana speech, calls the Radical party the party of despotism; shows that it was and is opposed to our system of government; that it favors, and has established upon us, a grinding despotism of taxation and military rule, &c., &c.; in the imperial-military-moneyed-high-tariff-despotism, established by Lincoln, and continued by Congress (so called) led by Thad. Stevens & Co. We used to wade into this party pretty extensively ourselves, but have quit the occupation, and left "the cause to Providence and those who want to fight." Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Prentice, who remained North during the war, while we were being impoverished and oppressed, may "pitch in" as much as they please now. We of the South have given up the fight—have fought our last battle, and entered the grand army of reoperation and reconstruction. The "refined civilization" and "constitutional liberties" of other days, we will leave to these gentlemen who "have been asleep a summer's day to wake at nightfall" to secure for us. The South tried it for four years and failed; now she wants peace and quiet, and bread and meat.

The Bankrupt Law.

Of this law, which goes into practical operation on the first of June, the New York Herald says:

After the violent speculations and fluctuations of prices of the past six years, there must be multitudes of firms and individuals who are really insolvent, and who will be tempted to go into liquidation so as to start fresh and unembarrassed by incumbrances. As is always the case, persons who are least suspected will be among the voluntary bankrupts; and the swell crest-fallen among the creditor class; money will become tight, and then will follow forced sales of stocks and real estate. In addition to the thousands of old bankrupts who have been working for this law for years, there are also thousands who have been ruined by the war in the South. Add to these the great number of insolvent firms who will be glad to take advantage of the law, and it is easy to foresee how busy lawyers, judges, and registers will be after the first of June, and what a disturbance will be created in the financial circles until the "rush" is over, and the rotten firms sifted out. Indeed, we look for a possible repeal of the law when Congress next meets, on account of the disturbance which the first operation of the enactment will necessarily create. The prompt repeal of the bankrupt law of 1842 was because of a similar state of things then. That law was abused; so will this be at first, and it will take a couple of years and probably prosperous times to reconcile the general public to the scandal such enactments bring to light, even under the most favorable circumstances.

It would be wise for business firms to prepare for possible trouble during the summer months. Caution in lending and abstinence from all speculative enterprises now, may save ruin three months hence. Getting out of debt, keeping out of debt, and selling for cash, are the golden rules for merchants when the course of the market is downwards, as it will be for some years, and until we get back to specie payments. This tendency will be aggravated by the voluntary and involuntary bankruptcies which this law renders inevitable. Again we say, look out for squalls after the first of June.

Senator Wilson spoke at the Capitol in Montgomery on Tuesday evening. Gen. Clanton replied to the speech of Senator Wilson, refuting his arguments, and eliciting great applause.

Falsehoods about the South.

Jeremy Diddler's, from the North and in our own section, continue to peddle the old story about the proscription and persecution of Northern and Union men by the rebels. We have just finished reading a letter on the subject, and find it the same old song—northern men are looked upon with suspicion and so are the loyalists—the "shining lights" of the Radical party are tabooed and proscribed on account of their devotion to the Union; lose trade, trust and employment in, consequence of their loyal sentiments, and frequently their lives for the same cause. Sharp-tongued young ladies and rabid youths, lately from the field of battle, are very annoying, if not dangerous. Though these statements are in a very great degree false and malicious, we rarely are able to get refutations printed in Radical papers unless the editors come South themselves. The Cincinnati Commercial, one of the most popular Radical prints in the North, recently sent a special correspondent South to examine into the true condition of things, and write the result of his observations. This gentleman came, saw and reported, and his statements, which we find in the Commercial, makes a plain, unvarnished story, full of truth, made up from his own observations and the accounts of reliable Northern men, whom he found scattered amongst us. "Mack," the Commercial's correspondent, says:

On my way to Chattanooga I fell in with Gen. Willard Warner, of Newark, Ohio, who told me he was on his way to his plantation, near Montgomery, Ala. I asked him how much truth there was in the report that a Northern man couldn't live down in that section, and he replied there wasn't a word. He had been there a year and a half—had been known as an ex-Federal officer, and so far from that operating against him, it had exactly the opposite effect, he said, for those especially who had been in the rebel army, liked a Northern man all the better from his having been a Union soldier—and no two men could be better friends than a rebel and a Yankee soldier, provided neither is a fool. General Warner is no Copperhead, remember. He has been a member of the Republican party ever since it was started, and is now a Radical State Senator in the Ohio Legislature. He finds it quite as easy to be a decent Radical in Montgomery as in Columbus—not a bit more danger of being scalped in the one place than in the other. In fact it is much safer to be among reconstructed rebels in Alabama than among unreconstructed Copperheads, such as you are apt to meet every once and a while in Columbus.

"Mack" saw enough to warrant him in recommending, as a splendid business enterprise, the formation of a Loyal Life Insurance Company, for the benefit of fearful souls who want to come this way, but don't wish to be killed for their Union sentiments. The premium should be graded according to the past and present occupation of the insurer. A good Yankee soldier may be insured for three cents on a thousand dollars, but on fellows who want to steal cotton, or engage in some such laudable and patriotic pursuit, or have been guilty of some flagrant treachery or act of renegadeism and double-dealing, the risk would be heavy, and less than fifty per cent. wouldn't be likely to pay. Northern men, or consistent Union men, are in no danger—will not suffer in fortune nor feeling on account of their political precivities. Talent, capital, capacity, and that honesty which secures confidence, are the only essentials to patronage, respect and prosperity in the South. We care not what a man has been or where he came from, so he makes a good citizen; but we must confess there is a small class of men among us, low-minded demagogues and vindictive partisans, whose chief aim is to breed discord and keep the sections continually warring against each other, for whom the honest reconstructive masses of the South have but very little use. Men who are gentlemen, and speak and act as gentlemen, who have the best interests of the country at heart—not given to boasting and defaming—can get along here harmoniously, be they Northern or Southern Unionists.

A STARTLING REPORT.—The police have made some strange discoveries and disclosures in New York. Organizations are now in progress for the purpose, and with the distinct object of resisting by violence and bloodshed, if necessary, the execution and enforcement of the excise and other laws which are obnoxious to a large class of the citizens. The information is of a startling character, well calculated to excite general alarm, and the papers are endeavoring to deter the parties concerned in these conspiracies from attempting to carry them into execution, by warning them that the proper authorities are fully prepared to resist and defeat them.

Major Giles M. Hillyer, of the Natchez Courier, is quite indisposed.

The Riot in Mobile.

We find in the Mobile papers full accounts of the disturbance, which occurred in that city on the occasion of the attempt of Hon. W. D. Kelly to address a meeting on last Tuesday night. We extract the following account of this unfortunate occurrence from the Mobile Tribune of Thursday:

There is a deep regret among our citizens at the occurrence of this unfortunate affair, but the prime movers in it have only themselves to blame.—The speaker had spoken about three quarters of an hour when the difficulty commenced, which at the time it was the general impression originated in the attempt of the Chief of Police to arrest Mr. David J. Files, a well known and respectable citizen of Mobile, who, it was alleged, had made some remarks, which, in the judgment of Capt. Charpentier, were calculated to provoke disorder in the excited state of the crowd.

Mr. Files objected to the arrest, and stated that he had no intention of creating any disturbance whatever.—This led to some movement on the part of the crowd, and the clattering of a cab over the stones on Government street a short distance above the meeting, induced many to believe that a fight had commenced, and a panic seized upon them and the whole crowd broke and rushed frantically down Royal street and up Government street. Numerous pistol shots were fired on Royal street, near the Municipal building, but strange to say, but few were hurt at that time, and none seriously. The Council was in session in the Municipal building at the time the disturbance occurred. The negroes who had rushed away in a mell in a moment of panic, rallied and returned to the spot, where, finding that there was no disposition to interfere with them, they became very boisterous and brandished their clubs and pistols in a threatening manner, declaring that "they were now ready," "wade in you s—as of b—s," and other like remarks.

Capt. Jack Petty, of the Night Police, who was standing on the corner, having been engaged in using every effort to quell the disturbance, was seen by some of these negroes, who immediately rushed upon him, swinging their clubs and firing their pistols at him. Capt. Petty was forced to retreat, and sought refuge in the Corporation Building, faithful as Frank being at the gate which had been barred in case of an assault, opened it for him. The negroes rushed up against the gate and tried to break through, demanding admittance and crying, "kill the s—n of a b—h."—Several shots were fired through the railings, and the marks can now be seen on the walls and panels of the doors at the stairs. After clamoring for some time they left and commenced roaming through the streets.

The community will bear in mind that this attack on Capt. Petty occurred after the crowd had been dispersed and there was no disturbance on the streets.

The general alarm was rung and hundreds of people turned out, the city remained in a form of excitement during the entire night. After whooping and yelling around the scene of the last meeting, the negroes dispersed in small squads and attacked nearly every white man they met. With the exception of three or four persons who were shot and stricken with clubs when the difficulty commenced, and in the immediate vicinity of the place of meeting, the other parties were all injured at points several squares distant, and over a half hour after the first dispersion.

Gabriel Olsen, a shoemaker, living at 204 Dauphin street, was passing along Water street in the vicinity of Church, when he was attacked by a squad of negroes and brutally murdered.

Mr. James Risk was badly beaten over the head and shoulders with a club, and is now suffering severely.

A young man named James Burns was also shot, but is not supposed to be in a dangerous condition.

Policeman Taylor, also was striving to maintain order, received a severe wound in the rist with a pistol ball.

Another policeman, whose name we have been unable to learn, was also injured by being beaten with clubs.

A gentleman by the name of Goldsmith was also injured, but not seriously.

A white man, named J. Gough, who was wounded in the affray, is reported dead.

A negro boy, shot in the head, was found dead on Cedar street, near Dauphin. It is supposed that he was shot at the original disturbance, and was running home when he fell dead.

We have heard of several negroes who were injured, but none others are reported dead.

We have heard of numerous other parties who were attacked whilst proceeding to their homes. These attacks were mostly made in the upper portion of the city. About half past ten o'clock three companies of the 15th Regulars reached Royal, street, and guards were immediately thrown out with instructions to disperse the crowd. In a short time the quietude of the city was perfectly quiet. The entire police force was out all night, and with the soldiers patroled the city. A guard was stationed around the Battle House, for, it is supposed, the protection of the Honorable Judge. We may here mention that at the first manifestation of a disturbance, Judge Kelly began to exhibit signs of timidity, feeling that he was guilty of creating it, and when the panic seized the crowd, he was amongst the first to run, followed closely by several of his allies. The negroes and some gentlemen who were on the stand, like sensible people, retained their position until the crowd had swept by them, and then made their escape.

Letter from Gen. Alcorn.

We publish in another column a letter from Senator Alcorn, which embodies some very sensible views on the political situation. We fully agree with Gen. Alcorn that it is "impolitic to unite ourselves at present with any party at the North, only so far as it is a party of restoration." The great living question before the country is that of the reorganization of our State Government, and the restoration of the State to the Union. It is very apparent that a large majority of the Southern whites honestly accept the terms of Congress and desire to accomplish this result. We think this should be done by the Southern people as a Southern measure, and separate from any alliance with the Northern Republican and Democratic parties. With restoration and full assurance of civil and political rights to the blacks, to be established in our State Constitutions, the issues of the past would be settled, and new political organizations would arise. The questions of reducing the taxes on cotton and tobacco, the lowest practicable tariff, and a general reduction of the expenses of the Government, would be the policy to commend a party to the Southern people.

We have received a copy of a new primary arithmetic for use in the common schools and academies of the United States, by Prof. P. A. Towne, of Louisville, Ky. The work contains in a small compass the cream of more labored productions; the subject is presented in a truly scientific form, and the greatest possible care taken in giving the rationale of every operation, to refer each step to its proper source, and in such a manner as to present the links to the eye itself. The rules are explicit, the explanations lucid and exactly where they should be. A careful examination of the work by teachers must lead to its general adoption.

Vicksburg Advertisements.

Our readers will find in our issue of to-day, the card of D. W. Flowerree & Co., dealers in ice at Vicksburg. They keep a supply of this article so necessary in the summer months and will fill all orders carefully and promptly.

We call attention to the card of H. B. Benner, worker in tin, copper, and sheet iron and dealer in cooking and heating stoves, house furnishing goods &c. On a recent visit to Vicksburg we called at the establishment of Mr. Benner. He has a large stock of every thing in his line, and will give satisfaction to all who send him orders both as to quality of goods and prices.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Joseph Bonte, wholesale and retail dealer in groceries, liquors, tobaccos and plantation supplies, &c., Vicksburg, Mr. Bonte has one of the largest stocks of goods and supplies in the Hill City, and is prepared to sell at very low prices. Give him a call when you visit that city, and you will not be disappointed.

One correspondent complains that our telegraphic news is too meagre. We have no more news than we publish. Our correspondents appear to regard it a task. We have to write and write and write and more pieces than one to get things, and sold has a "few more left." He has an excellent supply of all the goods usually found in hardware stores, and can sell at prices that will prove satisfactory.

He is agent for the celebrated Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, the best that are made and sole them at New York prices.

Sunday School Pic-Nic.

The various Sunday Schools of the City united in a pic-nic in Sweeney's Grove on Each school first met at its accustomed place, and after organizing proceeded to the new Presbyterian church—there forming a general procession, from there they marched down Johnson's avenue to Sidney street, and down Lee to the Railroad; marching along the road towards the depot, and branching off into a beautiful Magnolia grove on the southeastern below. About 200 children were in the ranks; and nearly as many more came in scattering afterwards. After singing a hymn, and remarked by Rev. Mr. Saville, the gathering was allowed to disperse, and engage in the innocent festivities of the occasion.

It is but just to remark that due notice would not be given to all the Schools, owing to the fact that a joint celebration was determined upon so late in the week. A trip to Lauderdale Springs has been in contemplation, and a pic nic in the campus of the Orphans' Home. This design was not abandoned until it was definitely ascertained that the M. & O. R. R. Co. would not charter an idle train for the transportation of the children, at a price within bounds. To disappoint the children entirely would not do; hence pic nic near the city.

There must have been between 400 and 500 persons on the ground. The children seemed to enjoy themselves most healthily; while neither discord nor accident occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. It required six long tables to accommodate the little ones at lunch; room afforded "big folks" at the "second table." All ate, however, and had enough; while the servants were also fed, and there was something to spare.

About 4½ o'clock P. M., the Brass Band visited the grounds, and delivered the visitors of the people with pleasant music; after which the schools were called together to re-organize in procession and return. The Band came in the advance, and as the line approached the City, the deep tones of fine brass pieces, and the sound of the drums told of its coming. Passing along Front street and up Johnson to the point of starting, the children were dismissed to their homes, joy beaming on their countenances, and their happy voices ringing through the air. The weather was oppressively warm, it is true; but few seemed to heed the fact.

To Mr. B. T. Rush, of the Star Stable, the schools are under obligations for furnishing conveyances; while the gentlemen of the Bands they feel grateful for exertions to add to the happiness of the occasion. Indeed all the citizens were kind and ready to assist in any manner in their power.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

HYMENEAL.

Married—On Sunday Morning, 10th inst., at the residence of L. D. Belk, Marion, by Elder S. Williams, Elijah Mosbley, Esq., and Miss. E. Bray, all of Marion.

We know not when we have witnessed a more agreeable and impressive ceremony than on this occasion; nor knows we have seen two more cheerfully united in the holy bonds of matrimony than the couple who had thus persuaded themselves that "it is well to wed." If matrimony is ever fully comprehended at the sacred altar, it surely must have been in this instance; both bringing with them a long array of past experience, yet fully competent to obey the mandates of Cupid. We wish the happy pair the full enjoyment of the usual felicities appertaining to the married state.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Washington May 15.—The deficiency in the accounts of the Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans, according to the latest statements here, is $1,000,000. This includes the amounts deposited in the National Banks of that city. Those engaged in the transactions have unconditionally surrendered all their private property to meet the deficiency, and the amount in the National Banks are less than the securities in the hands of the Government; therefore, the Government will not be loser to any great extent. Serious regrets are felt at the Treasury Department on account of these embarrassments. The parties concerned are of impeachable integrity. The difficulty is attributable to the decline in cotton. On Saturday week, when the Secretary first heard of the trouble, he dispatched a commissioner down.

The Russian Minister to-day communicated to the State Department, from Prince Gortschakoff, announcing the ratification of the Russian America treaty.

There was a brief argument in the Supreme Court to-day, on motion to dismiss the Mississippi bill, in which the recent action of Gen. Ord in taking possession of the Arkansas Treasury, and threats on his part to take possession of the Treasury of Mississippi, were discussed.

Hon. Robert J. Walker spoke in favor of the amendment.

Attorney General Stanberry replied that the motion to amend could not be received, and officially announced as an additional reason against the action of the complainants, that Gen. Ord had never made the alleged threat against the Mississippi treasury.

New Orleans, May 15.—We get the following from Hon. J. D. Campbell:

His messenger to Juarez, returned to-day —having made the trip from Matamoras to San Luis Potosi and back in fifteen days, remaining at San Luis Potosi two days. He was treated with the greatest courtesy and consideration.

There were several reports that Escobedo had 25,000 men at Queretaro, that he was in possession of all the roads except one, and expected soon to gain possession of that. Maximilian is inside with 15,000 men.

The feeling among the Liberals is very bitter against Maximilian's native officers, and it is feared that it will be impossible to save them in case of capture.

Juarez and his Generals are confident of their speedy triumph at Queretaro, and expect to be in the City of Mexico in two months.

A fire last night destroyed the wholesale grocery establishment of Pugsley, Dyer & Co., and a wholesale grocery corner of Pugdras and Tchoupitoulas streets. Loss heavy—partially covered by insurance.

New York, May 15.—Steamer Columbia arrived with Havanah dates of the 11th.

Imperial reports from Vera Cruz state that the Liberals had been repulsed at Queretaro, and were being driven towards San Luis Potosi by Miramon, who had been sent from the relief of the City of Mexico.

Wilmington's death is positively denied in Mexico. He is reported to be dangerously ill.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

Madame E. J. Thornton, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to have imparted knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a lifelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture, and desired information by return mail. Wonderful but True.

Madame Remington, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulist Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, describes the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a perfect and life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no imposition, as testimonials without number can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents, and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information.

☞ A Young Lady returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of a tawny three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she had used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. ABOLITION OF SLAVERY IN BRAZIL.—The Emperor of Brazil has issued a decree for the emancipation of slaves in that country. The mandate does not take effect until twenty years, but all the children of slaves born hereafter, are to be free from birth.

The Negro Riot in Galveston.

A dispatch of Thursday from Galveston says:

A mass meeting of the Republican Union party, last evening on the public Square, was attended by a thousand or twelve hundred people—three-quarters colored.

It was interrupted by a riot, after addresses by Hamsacker, the President, Col. J. Stancic, and Judge Baldwin. A negro named Passil followed, drawing offensive comparisons between the white and negro races.

Halfwhite States soldier cried out "that's a lie." A row ensued, fifty pistol shots were fired into the air, and a general stampede took place, leaving only half a dozen leaders and reporters on the stand. Afterwards order was restored, and moderate and more sensible addresses were made by Mr. Wiley White, and several colored speakers.

The shooting was chiefly by Blacks. Casualties: one negro minus his thumb, and a white man shot in the shoulder.

Resolutions endorsing Gen. Griffin and thanking him for Circular No. 13, were received with shouts of applause and adopted.

Mr. J. Batio, of Vicksburg, requests us to correct the erroneous impression circulated by the Natchez Courier, concerning his partnership with Captain Farlone, one of the Board of Registration. The partnership named was dissolved last year.

In this connection we would also state, that Col. Manlove, of the Vicksburg Times, informed us that Captain Farlone is not a "bitter partisan ladies" as announced, but a conservative and sensible ex-Union officer.—Natchez Democrat.

The editor of the Alabama Argus shows himself jolly under what other people might consider serious circumstances:

"We see that the Sheriff, during our absence has advertised the Argus for sale. We hope the bidders will have a merry time of it. If the Sheriff can sell it, he can do more than we ever could. Like a deep percussion cap, we think it will fail to 'go off.'"

Gen. McCardle and our neighbor of the Times are the most expert athletes of modern days. From the most ultra Southern standpoint, they have joined to the effect point of extreme Radicalism. Their policy is to disgust the Radicals with an over dose of negroism, by electing colored people to office. It remains to be seen whether the Radicals can swallow the nostrums administered by such empirics. Good bye, gentlemen; you tread on dangerous ground. We commend to you the following warning:

'To all my friends I bid adieu;
A saddener death you never knew
While loading the Radical mule to draw,
He kicked and killed me quicker'n a wink."

[Vicksburg Herald.

THE KINDNESS FROM THE NORTH.—A friend of ours, an old citizen, informs us that John M. Finch, Esq., of Dallas City, Ill., sent through him, to various destitute families here, a generous donation of meal and meal, which was distributed to them, greatly to their relief. Such acts will be remembered.—Vicksburg Herald.

BAD JAIL.—A white man and a negro, the only prisoners in our county jail, made good their escape on last Tuesday night. One of the prisoners, it appears, made his exit through the floor, while the other, after sawing the iron bars, jumped from the window of the second story.—The latter is the fact of the jail building, was absent on business at the time.—Panola Star.

A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Times says the President has informed ex-Mayor Monroe and others, that he has decided Gen. Sheridan not to close the register in New Orleans, and that the question of the Attorney-General on the disfranchising clause is announced. Monroe expresses the opinion that this will keep the registry open until September.

ANOTHER HISTORY.—The Washington Star, of the 7th, says R. Barnwell Rhett, of South Carolina, left in the city sufficient material for a history of the late war, which he is writing.

Gen. Ord has announced the following additional appointments of registers, for the counties named:

For Kemper County—W. S. Gamble, A. Key, John Mellon.

For Chickasaw County—R. A. Murdock, F. H. Tatum, I. W. Blessing.

MERIDIAN, MISS.

Wednesday . . . . May 29, 1867

Judge Watts sentenced four Federal soldiers to the penetentiary, last week, for horse stealing in Hinds county.

The Commercial Bank of New Orleans has suspended. Jacob Barker pledges his real estate, with an annual rental of $15,000, to cover the liabilities of the bank.

Miss Catherine Hatton, of Caroline county, Virginia, has lately made the discovery that she is the rightful heir to property to the amount of about one million of dollars, in the upper part of New Albany, Indiana.

Lieut. Col. Gay, commanding the post at Columbus, has issued an order requiring the immediate departure from the city of all freedmen who have no visible means of support.—Those disobeying the order will be promptly arrested and dealt with severely. This order shows that Col. Gay is alive to the situation of affairs.

The trial of Henry C. Brown, charged with embezzling funds to the amount of $15,000, which recently occupied the attention of the United States District Court at Little Rock, Ark., was closed on the 4th inst., and resulted in the jury disagreeing and the return of Brown to confinement. He was formerly an officer in the federal army.

A call has been issued for a National Democratic Convention to meet in Louisville on the 4th of next July.—The object in view as expressed in the call is to "consult upon the best means of re-organizing the party and by defending the constitutional liberties of the States and the people."

During the past week there were assembled in Convention, at Memphis, many of the most distinguished divines of the Baptist church in the Southern States. Their mission was connected with church affairs, and to discuss plans for the amelioration of the human race.

Hon. Jno. McRae has been appointed Probate Judge of Kemper county. The appointment will no doubt give general satisfaction.

The Crop Prospect.

The prospect of the planting interests in Mississippi is generally good. The growth of corn is extensive and promising. In many portions of Alabama the stands of corn and cotton are as good as was ever seen. The wheat looks green and vigorous.—There is less cotton planted in the Tennessee Valley than we have ever known. Corn and wheat prospects favorable. In Texas the wheat crop has suffered much from the weather, so much so that it is estimated the harvest of this year will be one third less than it was last, notwithstanding a larger area has been sown, and making no allowance for rust and other accidents. The best farmers all agree that the average yield of the wheat crop, throughout the country, will not reach more than ten bushels to the acre. Corn and cotton crops are very backward, but doing well. Freedmen are giving pretty general satisfaction.

In Illinois everything is growing magnificently; in Iowa wheat promises an average yield; fruit is in a favorable condition; in Southern Indiana wheat is in excellent condition, but there is some complaint of its being frozen out in a few localities further north; in Kansas there will be an unusual large crop of corn and wheat, unless the grasshoppers interfere with it; in Maine, Massachusetts and Michigan there is every prospect of a bounteous yield; in Minnesota, which was never known to fail, a large harvest is expected. Nebraska has one of the best stands ever known; in New Hampshire and New Jersey everything is looking finely; in New York, Vermont, Wisconsin and Rhode Island, wheat is vigorous, growing finely, and gives promise of a more abundant harvest than for several years; Ohio is doing better than for many years; a few reports come from Pennsylvania which are all favorable of the coming crops. Altogether the signs are that the coming harvest will be one of the most abundant ever known—the wail of want will be hushed and a smiling Providence give a yield for all.

COMPLIMENTARY.—A Western editor, speaking of a cotemporary, says "his intellect is so dense, that it would take the anger of common sense longer to bore into it than it would to bore through Mont Blanc with a boiled carrot."

The Trouble with the Colored Folks.

Mayor Heath, of New Orleans, has issued a proclamation to the colored people of the city, defining their privileges with respect to the right to enter theatres, public balls, bar-rooms, &c. This is done in consequence of the late disturbances, which he attributes to a mistaken and erroneous opinion as to the rights of the colored people under the laws. It is held to be the undoubted right of all citizens, upon complying with the requisitions of the law, to pursue any legitimate business, and in such pursuit to admit into their stores and places of business, and to deal with such persons only as they shall see proper, and to make such rules and regulations for the guidance of their customers as to them shall seem most conducive to their interests, provided the same be not contrary to law. Though the great principle that all persons are equal before the law animates the whole spirit of the Constitution, it will not, when applied to the actual and various conditions of persons in society, warrant the assertion that men and women are legally clothed with the same civil and political powers, and that children and adults are legally to have the same functions and be subject to the same treatment; but only that the rights of all, as they are settled and regulated by law, are equally entitled to the paternal consideration and protection of the laws for their maintenance and security.—What those rights are to individuals in the infinite variety of circumstances by which they are surrounded in society, are entitled, must depend on laws adapted to their respective relations and conditions. Gen. Mower, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen for Louisiana, n's issues an address to the colored people, in which he tells them they "will not be protected in wrong doing," and warns them that if their violent conduct is persisted in, the people of the whole North will turn against them and revoke the privileges lately conferred.

It is to be hoped the proclamation of the military Mayor, the circular from Gen. Mower and Gen. Sheridan's order disarming all persons except such as may be authorized or required by law to carry the same in the execution of their official duties, will have the effect of allaying the antagonism between the white and black races, which has been precipitated by ill-advisers who hope to rise thereby to the surface and float into power.—"Peace between the races" is certainly the interest of both black and white" and it should be the duty of all to restore those relations of concord and confidence which are essential to mutual prosperity and by which we can alone thrive. Northern propagandists who came here to educate the colored mind for political purposes should be eschewed. They mean no ulterior good to either race and only beget a perpetual enmity and strife, which if continued, will finally result in the black man having to succumb to the superior race. No one seeks to rob them of the privileges conferred by the government—peace and order, frugality and industry and a proper respect for the rights of both races, is all the Southern people ask.

Public Meeting in Mobile.

We find in our Mobile exchanges full accounts of the large meeting of citizens held in that city on Thursday the 16th inst., to express the views of the citizens of Mobile in reference to the riot on the occasion of Judge Kelly's speech.

Price Williams was chosen President and the following gentlemen Vice Presidents: Messrs. Charles Walsh, Jno. Reid, Jr., Wm. Stewart, W. H. Ross, Garland Goode, Wm. J. Ledyard, Chas. P. Gage and R. H. Slough.

A number of speeches were made and the following resolutions unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, At a recent meeting held in this city on the night of the 14th of May, 1867, there were disturbances and disorders resulting in the most lamentable consequences; and whereas, this meeting is composed of the citizens of Mobile, and they desire to announce to the people of the country their unqualified disapprobation and hostility to all such acts. Therefore, be it -

1st. Resolved, That we deeply deplore the affectionate occurrences that took place at the said meeting, and desire to express in the strongest terms, our disapprobation of them.

2d. Resolved, That we are of the opinion that the disturbance at said meeting was wholly unpremeditated, and the result of an accidental excitement to which all large assemblages are subject.

3. Resolved, That in our opinion, our people are not disposed to impede in any manner the free exercise of speech to all and every class of persons.

Bishop Larrille, of the Roman Catholic Church, died at Bardstown, Ky., on Saturday evening, after a long and painful illness. The funeral ceremonies took place at Louisville on the 14th.

The Illinois Insane Asylum.

REVELATIONS OF FRIGHTFUL CRUELTIES.

The following recital of a series of fiendish barbarities taking place in a presumedly humane institution we find in a late Pittsburg, Pa., journal. Our cotemporary says of the frightful abuses practiced in private insane asylums have been exposed in several American and English works of fiction, but the public generally have been apt to believe accounts coming through such sources were exaggerated to the imagination of the writers. Occasionally, however, well authenticated facts have gone to prove that no coloring of romance could exceed in shocking ghastliness the revelations of reality. Lately, circumstances have brought to light some scenes and incidents in the interior edonomy of the Illinois Insane Asylum, and such another chapter of horrors could scarcely be found outside the records of the Spanish Inquisition.

Within the walls of that terrible building, given over, hopelessly, helplessly, to the tender mercies of a gang of brutal, beastial doctors and keepers, hundreds of poor demented creatures have languished through years of torture and indignity until death kindly came to terminate their sufferings. From various sources the truth is gradually coming out, and the details already published are so sad and sickening as to make one almost doubt the possibility of their occurrence, were not the evidence in the case thoroughly sustained and irrefragible. There is proof positive that unfortunate inmates were, for the slightest offences—offences, be it remembered, committed in a condition of utter irresponsibility—subjected to the most cruel and revolting punishments. Think of a delicate woman consigned to the fiendish discipline of the "screw-room," and the case is one that actually occurred. The wretched victim was fitted closely-fitting waist or "jacket," with sleeves coming below the hand and sewed up, having a single loophole through which a string or cord might be passed. Her arms were then crossed in front, the hands being drawn tightly behind her. She was then thrown violently upon the floor, face downward, her clothing was removed, and then she was beaten until her flesh was a mere jelly.

With what was called refractory or obstinate patience, the indescribable agony of the cold bath was resorted to. The patient was taken to the bath-room, tied hand and foot, plunged into cold water, and held under until almost strangled, for a moment removed, only to be again and again submerged until life was nearly extinct.

A lady, employed in the asylum for three years and a half, writes to a female friend that one of the physicians instructed the attendants how to choke patients without leaving finger marks. From another attendant we have the following story of devilish malignity vouched for:

"An attendant discovered a patient of infirm health resting on her bed in the day-time, in disregard of a rule of the house to which no exceptions are allowed. To the peremptory and insulting order to get up, the poor patient ventured a word of submissive entreaty. This was too much. The attendant is not to be answered by a patient! She seizes her roughly and strikes her upon the head with violence. The patient is roused and defends herself, or attempts it. We are summoned to the attendant's assistance, and find her—a large and heavy woman—on the floor, her whole weight upon the invalids body, with her knees upon her stomach, and with the patient's head as a hammer, the tresses of her hair serving as a convenient handle, pounding the floor with all her might. To our exclamations and intercessions we get for reply the assurance that the offending victim has 'got the devil in her and I mean to beat it out. Help me to jacket her till I get satisfaction out of her.' She put on the jacket, tied the poor creatures arms behind her, dragged her across the hall to the bars, tied each hand and foot firmly to the bars, one side, not too close together, and then seizing her by the hair, again began pounding the bars as at first she pounded the floor. Her muscle was fearfully effective; every blow gashed the scalp, and spirted blood over the walls and the floor and her own person. A great splash fell upon a plate of food one of us chanced to be holding."

Mrs. Packard, who, though perfectly sane, was, through the machinations of some of her relatives, immured in this horrible place, in a published account of her account of her experience, says:

"Patients are often choked until their faces are black, and their tongues hang out of their mouths. A lady of refinement, of pure and virtuous character, and a nature remarkably sensitive to the instincts of a true woman, was thrown into a dirty, wet room, and stripped of all her clothing, except a torn chemise, and laid upon her back on the floor, Dr. —— sitting astride her naked body, while four attendants held down the strap to her quivering limbs."

We had thought that the system of coercion and chastisement had been virtually done away with, in public asylums at least. Those colored reports of the treatment of those whom Providence has afflicted with the loss of reason, received, at any rate, as much of care and kindness as their vacant wandering minds could be brought to appreciate, Illinois has undeceived us. We congratulate that highly civilized and Christian State on the possession of an indelible blot upon the reputation of the country, and a burning shame upon the very name of humanity.

THE GREAT

SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Compri-e a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepared from pure Drugs, by a class of expert med ical Physicians, specially for the climate and incident to a Southern locality.

They are not secret or patent mixtures, and are recommend d to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know not, little about Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines ever offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

FEMALES OF THE SOUTH!

Diseases peculiar to your sex, incident to all localities, called from the passing breeze that fans you with its perfumed breath, or, also, that from some pendant shrub-drop, are to you a constant and abiding trouble, whether an inhabitant of city or country, hill or dale, palace or hovel, disease rankles and preys upon your vitals. Gloom and despair are your constant companions. Your pale and sickly countenance, your sunken eyes, your listless step, your feeble and tottering walk, your palpitating heart, your debilitated frame, all tell of that disease which, if gradually and steadily making inroads upon your declining system.

The Sunshine o Hope

Now bursts upon your vision, and the clouds of despair that hover o'e heavy pall of gloom upon your spirits disappear, and you know by the return of health, in all its grandeur are now established.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

It is all cases of a want of action on the part of the Kidneys and Bladder, affecting old or young, male or female, this compound can be relied on.

ABOLITION OF SLAVERY IN BRAZIL.—The Emperor of Brazil has issued a decree for the emancipation of slaves in that country. The mandate does not take effect until twenty years, but all the children of slaves born hereafter, are to be free from birth.

The Negro Riot in Galveston.

A dispatch of Thursday from Galveston says:

A mass meeting of the Republican Union party, last evening on the public square, was attended by a thousand or twelve hundred people—three-quarters colored.

It was interrupted by a riot, after addresses by Hammeker, the President, Col. J. Jones and Judge Caldwell. A negro named Pasell followed, drawing offensive comparisons between the white and negro races.

If United States soldier cried out "that's a lie." A row ensued, fifty pistol shots were fired into the air, and a general stampede took place, leaving only half a dozen leaders and reporters on the stand. Afterwards order was restored, and Mr. Maverick and more sensible addresses were made by Mr. Wiley White, and several colored speakers.

The shooting was chiefly by blacks. Casualities—one negro minus his thumb, and a white man shot in the shoulder.

Resolutions endorsing Gen. Griffin and thanking him for Circular No. 13, were received with shouts of applause and adopted.

Mr. J. Botto, of Vicksburg, requests us to correct the erroneous impression circulated by the Natchez Courier, concerning his partnership with Captain Furlong, one of the Board of Registration. The partnership named was dissolved about a year ago.

In this connection we would also state, that Col. Manlove, of the Vicksburg Times, informed us that Captain Furlong is not a "bitter partisan Radical" as announced, but a conservative and sensible ex-Union officer.—Natchez Democrat.

The editor of the Alabama Argus shows himself fully under what other people might consider serious circumstances:

We see that the Sheriff, during our absence has advertised the Argus for sale. We hope the bidders will have a merry time of it. If the Sheriff can sell it, we can do more than ever we could. Leave a deep percussion cap, we think it will fail to go off."

Gen. McCardle and our neighbor of the Times are the most expert athletes of modern days. Born the most ultra Southern stand-points, they have journeyed to the farthest point of extreme Radicalism. Their policy is to disgust the South with the reconstruction of measures, by electing colored people to office. I ron ains to be seen whether the Radicals can wield the enormous administered by such empirics. Good by, gentlemen—you travel too fast for us. We commend to you the following warning:

"Trail'er friends I tell thee:
A saddener death you never knew
While leading the Radical mule to drink,
He kick'd and killed me quicker'n a wink."

THE KINDNESS FROM THE NORTH.—A friend of ours, an old citizen, informs us that John M. Finch, Esq., of Dallas Co., Ill., sent through him, to various destitute families here, a generous donation of meal and meat, which was distributed to them, greatly to their relief. Such acts will be remembered.—Vicksburg Herald.

BAD JAIL.—A white man and a negro, the only prisoners in our county jail, made good their escape last Tuesday night. One of them it appears, made his exit through the floor, while the other, more daring, made his exit through the window of the second story.—The Sheriff who resides at the jail building, was absent on business at the time.—Panola Star.

A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Times says the President has informed ex-Mayor Monroe and others, that he has directed Gen. Sheridan not to close the register in New Orleans until the opinion of the Attorney-General on the disfranchising clause is announced. Monroe expresses the opinion that this will keep the registry open until September.

ANOTHER HISTORY.—The Washington Star, of the 7th, says R. Barnwell Rhett, of South Carolina, is in the city collecting material for a history of the late war, which he is writing.

Gen. Ord has announced the following additional appointments of registers, for the counties named:

For Kemper County—W. S. Gamble, A. Key, John Mellue.

For Chickasaw County—R. A. Murdock, H. Narron, J. W. Blessing.

For Hancock County—J. F. H. Claiborne, Dallas G. Duell, Levi K. Brown.

For the County of Lowndes—Early Hendricks, A. P. Beeseker, Jr., Lemuel S. Powell.

Judge Watts sentenced four Federal soldiers to the penetentiary, last week, for horse stealing in Hinds county.

The Commercial Bank of New Orleans has suspended. Jacob Barker pledges his real estate, with an annual rental of $15,000, to cover the liabilities of the bank.

Miss Catherine Hatton, of Caroline county, Virginia, has lately made the discovery that she is the rightful heir to property to the amount of about one million of dollars, in the upper part of New Albany, Indiana.

Lieut. Col. Gay, commanding the post at Columbus, has issued an order requiring the immediate departure from the city of all freedmen who have no visible means of support.—Those disobeying the order will be promptly arrested and dealt with severely. This order shows that Col. Gay is alive to the situation of affairs.

The trial of Henry C. Brown, charged with embezzling funds to the amount of $15,000, which recently occupied the attention of the United States District Court at Little Rock, Ark., was closed on the 4th inst., and resulted in the jury disagreeing and the return of Brown to confinement. He was formerly an officer in the federal army.

A call has been issued for a National Democratic Convention to meet in Louisville on the 4th of next July.—The object in view as expressed in the call is to "consult upon the best means of re-organizing the party and by defending the constitutional liberties of the States and the people."

During the past week there were assembled in Convention, at Memphis, many of the most distinguished divines of the Baptist church in the Southern States. Their mission was connected with church affairs, and to discuss plans for the amelioration of the human race.

Hon. Jno. McRae has been appointed Probate Judge of Kemper county. The appointment will no doubt give general satisfaction.

The Crop Prospect.

The prospect of the planting interests in Mississippi is generally good. The growth of corn is extensive and promising. In many portions of Alabama the stands of corn and cotton are as good as was ever seen. The wheat looks green and vigorous.—There is less cotton planted in the Tennessee Valley than we have ever known. Corn and wheat prospects favorable. In Texas the wheat crop has suffered much from the weather, so much so that it is estimated the harvest of this year will be one third less than it was last, notwithstanding a larger area has been sown, and making no allowance for rust and other accidents. The best farmers all agree that the average yield of the wheat crop, throughout the country, will not reach more than ten bushels to the acre. Corn and cotton crops are very backward, but doing well. Freedmen are giving pretty general satisfaction.

In Illinois everything is growing magnificently; in Iowa wheat promises an average yield; fruit is in a favorable condition; in Southern Indiana wheat is in excellent condition, but there is some complaint of its being frozen out in a few localities further north; in Kansas there will be an unusual large crop of corn and wheat, unless the grasshoppers interfere with it; in Maine, Massachusetts and Michigan there is every prospect of a bounteous yield; in Minnesota, which was never known to fail, a large harvest is expected. Nebraska has one of the best stands ever known; in New Hampshire and New Jersey everything is looking finely; in New York, Vermont, Wisconsin and Rhode Island, wheat is vigorous, growing finely and gives promise of a more abundant harvest than for several years; Ohio is doing better than for many years; a few reports come from Pennsylvania which are all favorable of the coming crops. Altogether the signs are that the coming harvest will be one of the most abundant ever known—the wail of want will be hushed and a smiling Providence give a yield for all.

COMPLIMENTARY.—A Western editor, speaking of a cotemporary, says "his intellect is so dense, that it would take the anger of common sense longer to learn how it hurt it would to bore through Mont Blanc with a bullet pierced.

The Trouble with the Colored Folks.

Mayor Heath, of New Orleans, has issued a proclamation to the colored people of the city, defining their privileges with respect to the right to enter theatres, public halls, bar-rooms, &c.

This is done in consequence of the late disturbances, which he attributes to a mistaken and erroneous opinion as to the rights of the colored people under the laws. It is held to be the undoubted right of all citizens, upon complying with the requisitions of the law, to pursue any legitimate business, and in such pursuit to admit into their stores and places of business, and to deal with such persons only as they shall see proper, and to make such rules and regulations for the guidance of their customers as to them shall seem most conducive to their interests, provided the same be not contrary to law. Though the great principle that all persons are equal before the law animates the whole spirit of the Constitution, it will not, when applied to the actual and various conditions of persons in society, warrant the assertion that men and women are legally clothed with the same civil and political powers, and that children and adults are legally to have the same functions and be subject to the same treatment; but only that the rights of all, as they are settled and regulated by law, are equally entitled to the paternal consideration and protection of the laws for their maintenance and security.—What those rights are to individuals in the infinite variety of circumstances by which they are surrounded in society, are entitled, must depend on laws adapted to their respective relations and conditions. Gen. Mower, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen for Louisiana, also issues an address to the colored people, in which he tells them they "will not be protected in wrong doing," and warns them that if their violent conduct is persisted in, the people of the whole North will turn against them and revoke the privileges lately conferred.

It is to be hoped the proclamation of the military Mayor, the circular from Gen. Mower and Gen. Sheridan's order disarming all persons except such as may be authorized or required by law to carry the same in the execution of their official duties, will have the effect of allaying the antagonism between the white and black races, which has been precipitated by ill-advisers who hope to rise thereby to the surface and float into power.—"Peace between the races" is certainly "the interest of both black and white" and it should be the duty of all to restore those relations of concord and confidence which are essential to mutual prosperity and by which we can alone thrive. Northern propagandists who came here to educate the colored mind for political purposes should be eschewed. They mean no ulterior good to either race and only beget a perpetual enmity and strife, which if continued, will finally result in the black man having to succumb to the superior race. No one seeks to rob them of the privileges conferred by the government—peace and order, frugality and industry and a proper respect for the rights of both races, is all the Southern people ask.

Public Meeting in Mobile.

We find in our Mobile exchanges full accounts of the large meeting of citizens held in that city on Thursday the 16th inst., to express the views of the citizens of Mobile in reference to the riot on the occasion of Judge Kelly's speech.

Price Williams was chosen President and the following gentlemen Vice Presidents: Messrs. Charles Walsh, Jno. Reid, Jr., Wm. Stewart, W. H. Ross, Garland Goode, Wm. J. Ledyard, Chas. P. Gage and R. H. Slough.

A number of speeches were made and the following resolutions unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, At a recent meeting held in this city on the night of the 14th of May, 1867, there were disturbances and disorders resulting in the most lamentable consequences; and whereas, this meeting is composed of the citizens of Mobile, and they desire to announce to the people of the country their unqualified disapprobation and hostility to all such acts. Therefore, be it

1st. Resolved, That we deeply deplore the unfortunate occurrences that took place at the said meeting, and desire to express, in the strongest terms, our disapprobation of them.

2d. Resolved, That we are of the opinion that the disturbances at said meeting was wholly unpremeditated, and the result of an accidental excitement to which all large assemblages are subject.

3. Resolved, That in our opinion, our people are not disposed to impede in any manner the free exercise of speech to all and every class of persons.

Bishop Lavalle, of the Roman Catholic Church, died at Bardstown, Ky., on Saturday evening after a long and painful illness. The funeral ceremonies took place at Louisville on the 14th.

The Illinois Insane Asylum.

REVELATIONS OF FRIGHTFUL CRUELTIES.

The following recital of a series of fiendish barbarities taking place in a presumedly humane institution we find in a late Pittsburg, Pa., journal. Our cotemporary says; The frightful abuses practiced in private insane asylums have been exposed in several American and English works of fiction, but the public generally have been apt to believe accounts coming through such sources were exaggerated bo the imagination of the writers. Occasionally, however, well authenticated facts have gone to prove that no coloring of romance could exceed in shocking distinctness the revelations of reality. Lately, circumstances have brought to light some scenes and incidents in the interior edonomy of the Illinois Insane Asylum, and such another chapter of horrors could scarcely be found outside the records of the Spanish Inquisition.

Within the walls of that terrible building, given over, hopelessly, helplessly, to the tender mercies of a gang of brutal, beastial deatectors and keepers, hundreds of poor demented creatures have languished through years of torture and indignity until death kindly came to terminate their suffering. From various sources the truth is gradually coming out, and the details already published are so sad and sickening as to make one almost doubt the possibility of their occurrence, were not the evidence in the case thoroughly sustained and irrefragible. There is proof positive that the unfortunate inmates were, for the slightest offences—offences, be it remembered, committed in a condition of utter irresponsibility—subjected to the most cruel and revolting punishments. Think of a delicate woman consigned to the fiendish discipline of the "Screw-room," and the case is one that actually occurred. The wretched victim was fitted closely-fitting waist or "jacket," with sleeves coming below the hand and sewed up, having a single loophole through which a string or cord might be passed. Her arms were then crossed in front, the hands being drawn tightly behind her. She was then thrown violently upon the floor, face downward, her clothing was removed, and then she was beaten until her flesh was a mere jelly.

With what was called refractory or obstinate patience, the indescribable agony of the cold bath was resorted to. The patient was taken to the bath-room, tied hand and foot, plunged into cold water, and held under until almost strangled, for a moment removed, only to be again and again submerged until life was nearly extinct.

A lady, employed in the asylum for three years and a half, writes to a female friend tqat one of the physicians instructed the attendants how to choke patients without leaving finger marks. From another attendant we have the following story of develish malignity vouched for:

"An attendant discovered a patient of infirm health resting on her bed in the day-time, in disregard of a rule of the house to which no exceptions are allowed. To the peremptory and insulting order which followed, the patient ventured a word in self-defence. This was too much. The attendant is not to be answered by a patient! She seizes her roughly and drags her upon the floor with extreme violence. The patient, in terror, still defends herself, or attempts it. We are summoned to the attendant's assistance, and find her—a large and heavy woman—resting her whole weight upon the invalids body, with her knees upon her stomach, and with the patient's head as a hammer, the tresses of her hair serving as a convenient handle, pounding the floor with all her might. To our exclamations and intercessions we get for reply the assurance that the offending victim has 'got the devil in her and I mean to beat it out. Help me to jacket her till I get satisfaction out of her.' She put on the jacket, and the poor creature arms behind her, dragged her across the hall to the bars, tied each hand and foot firmly to the bars, tied her knees together, and then seizing her by the hair, again began pounding the bars as at first she pounded the floor. Her muscle was fearfully effective; every blow gashed the scalp, and spirted blood over the walls and the floor and her own person. A great splash fell upon a plate of food one of us chanced to be holding."

Mrs. Packard, who, though perfectly sane, was, through the machinations of some of her relatives, immured in this horrible place, in a published account of her account of her experience, says:

"Patients are often choked until their faces are black, and their tongues hang out of their mouths. A lady of refinement, of pure and virtuous character, and a nature remarkably true to the instincts of a true woman, during the long, dreary hours was stripped of all her clothing, save a torn chemise, and laid upon her back on the floor, Dr. —— sitting astride her naked body, while four at tendants applied the strap to her quivering limbs."

We had thought that the system of coercion and chastisement had been virtually done away with, in public asylums at least. Rose colored reports had led us to believe that those whom Providence had afflicted with the loss of reason, received, at any rate, as much of care and kindness as their vacant wandering minds could be brought to appreciate. Illinois has undeceived us. We congratulate that highly civilized and Christian State on the possession of an indelible blot upon the reputation of the country, and a burning shame upon the very name of humanity.

Mr. L. A. Ingraham, the largest property holder in Meridian, has enjoined the collection of his city taxes, on the ground that they are oppressive. We regret very much he has seen fit to take this step. It will entail a great deal of litigation, and probably stop much of the machinery of the city government during the summer.

A few of our advertisers receive editorial attention this morning. Others will follow in succeeding numbers until every patron has a touch of our pen. Send in your advertisements, gentle men, if you want your business ventilated.

Yes, perfect bliss is fragrant smoke;
Proof rises all around;
Nor shall strife like this,
In sight of Pleasants's are be found.

The place to get cheap and pure chewing and smoking tobacco is at the extensive establishment of Pleasants & Co., Louisville, Ky. Maj. J. B. Pleasants, the head of the house is an old Confederate, well known here where his business qualities and personal character gained him the esteem and confidence of the people. See the advertisement elsewhere.

ADVERTISE.—We commend the following, which we find in one of our exchanges, to the attention of the Merchants and business men of Meridian, who don't advertise in the Gazette.

Let everybody—merchants, farmers, mechanics, professional men, &c., bear in mind the following rules:

If you have land to sell,
If you have goods to sell,
If you have stock to sell,
If you have any property to sell,
If you want to sell anything
If you want to buy anything,
If you wish to increase your business, build up your town, and grow rich, which in all probability is the case, advertise in your local paper—a paper that is extensively read by the above named classes and families.

Bear this in mind also that the most successful business men of our country, are those who advertise liberally. Not one man in a hundred who possessed the requisite energy and business habits, and who advertised liberally, has failed in business.

Stephen Girard, Astor, A. P. Stewart, Barnum, Banner of the Ledger, and nineteenths of the men, who from small beginnings have amassed immense fortunes—laid the foundation of their prosperity by liberal advertising.

If you are doing fit, advertise that you may do well, and if you are doing well, advertise that you may do better.

No matter how dull the times are, advertise liberally. Let the public know what you have to sell—your sales will be increased, and even if it benefits the printer, it will benefit you immensely more. Think a little and you will agree with us; and if you do agree with us send in your advertisements for our next issue.

Meridian was visited by a heavy thunder storm on Monday morning, accompanied by a very heavy fall of rain. The lightning struck the store of Hill, Henderson & Co., slightly injuring the establishment, and setting some Petro oil on fire. The fire, however, was extinguished, before it made much progress.

There is a colored man in our midst named James Collins, who thinks he is in such imminent danger as to render a body guard necessary when walking the streets at night. Last Sunday night, we understand, he mustered a large armed escort to conduct him from church to his boarding house. We hardly believe there is any one absent here particularly anxious to perforate his body, and incline to the belief he would like to get a "proscription" impression among the colored people and thus become a Martyr. Collins hails from Mobile, and we hear, is sojourning with us for his health. We hope it will improve rapidly, and enable him to soon return whence he came. We have no use for agitators, white or black, in our city. We don't want either race exasperated, and a feeling created that must inevitably result in collisions. Let harmony and good will prevail, and all will get along smoothly and prosperously.

GRAND TOURNAMENT AND FANCY DRESS BALL, at Meridian, Thursday, June 18th.—We notice that the Meridian Tournament Club proposes to have a grand tournament and fancy dress ball in this city on Thursday, the 18th of June. Preparations will be made on a large scale, and it is expected that it will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind that has been known in the State. A large crowd will be present from Mobile, and all the towns and villages on the line of the Alabama and the Chattahoochee railroad. We will be made more definite in our next issue.

The Meridian Manufacturing Company.

At the late extra session of our Legislature a few friends of this enterprise from this place, prepared and had, a "charter" for the Company, and after some exertion procured its passage through the Legislature. The act provides, "That Levi Hurlbutt, Jno. T. Ball, J. M. Roberts, L. A. Ingraham, S. Evans, R. Y. Brown, Jno. Watts, J. Harvey, I. S. O. G. Greer, C. E. Rushing, and R. McLemore, together with others who may become Stockholders and Others for the one hundred to be corporate, by the name of "The Meridian, Miss., Manufacturing Company," for the purpose of carrying on at Meridian, Miss., the manufacture of cotton and woolen yarns, and fabrics from wool, &c." The capital stock of the Company shall be $50,000, which may be increased to $150,000 to be divided in shares of $100 each. The company can commence operations when $18,900 is paid in. Section four of the act allows the Company to receive lands for stock at such cash valuation as may be fixed upon by their agents and Section five says they may, from time to time, as is expedient and necessary, issue bonds in sums not less than one hundred dollars, payable at such time as they may think best, (not over 20 years,) based upon Real Estate and other property of said Company, at such rates, &c. The Charter granted, shall be and remain for fifty years.

Here is one of the most liberal of Charters, giving the Company existence for fifty years, and it may be based and built up of material, of which we have an abundance. Our idle lands may thus be made productive, and yielding to us. Our poor population who are almost starving, given employment. Our city given an additional stimulus and a better price given for cotton at our doors. There may be the Pioneer movement in this city, to eventuate in our becoming the "Lowell of the South." It will pay our monied men much better than selling goods, and our planters who have saved from the wreck, or who may hereafter deny yearly, fresh their farms a few hundred, or thousands. Having no negroes to invest in, we cannot do better than put our money in stock.

Let us get ready by Fall and go to work, and put the thing in motion. Send a word to our friends at a distance who subscribed their land that they will be all right, that the Company expects to revive and act in good faith toward those who subscribed their lands. Let us hear from the Directory.

There was some murmuring and threats made Monday morning by a few indiscreet colored persons about the city, and for a time many persons feared there was trouble ahead. It appears that on Saturday night Deputy Sheriff Means arrested and lodged in Jail Henry Loper, (colored) for whom a reward had been offered and who was charged with having attempted to assassinate Batt Moore, Jr., a few weeks since. On Sunday, about noon, Henry escaped from jail, and in the afternoon was pursued by Mr. Moore and Policeman Smith with a dog. When they were in the vicinity of Sonnachie creek, persons had by heard two or three shots and as one concluded Loper had been overtaken and fired upon. Upon the return of Mr. Moore and Mr. Smith, however, they stated that the fugitive had not been overhauled—that but one shot had been fired by them and that was at a dog but interfering with the pursuit. But the statement did not suffice, and on Monday morning Capt. Sunderland, of the Bureau, in company with a large number of freedmen scoured the woods and searched the creek for the body. There was a good deal of excitement among the freedmen for a while which gradually died away after it was ascertained the body could not be found, and but very little evidence, if any, discovered of foul play. Our own opinion is there was no foul play—that the fugitive and would-be-assassin made good his escape and is now secreted in some of his old haunts near Ozatibbe. On Monday afternoon Capt. Sunderland caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Policeman Smith, which was found in the sum of five hundred dollars. Yesterday some freedmen renewed the search for Loper's body, but of course without success.

A writ has also been issued for Mr. Moore, we understand.

An important decision was recently made by the Supreme Court of Louisiana. The court held that no recovery can be had on notes given for the purchase money of slaves. They also held in conformity to previous decisions that no recovery can be had on notes issued on Confederate money, or in other words, that such money was illegal and no consideration for any contract such as could be entertained by the Court; and further, that notes signed before the passage of the stamp law do not require to be stamped to be used as evidence.

Is it Anybody's Business?

Is it anybody's business if people should chose
To call upon Hurlbutt and by groceries or clothes;
Or, to speak a little plainer, that the morning all may know,
Is it anybody's business if Hurlbutt sells so low?
Is it anybody's business if both sides do not draw,
At Hurlbutt's Store to look at goods, they do not buy at all.
Or, is it necessary that a curtain should be drawn,
Is it the people on the sidewalk, whether
Or not they buy or sell,
Is it anybody's business whose fancy goods they buy,
They may look and welcome, or help themselves to buy.

The large establishment of Broach, Brown & Co., issue in our columns of today, an advertisement of uncommon interest to the public. Everybody is invited to visit this house and see what we have in our own borders a place to buy dry goods as cheap as in New York—a store fully adequate to our trade and presenting goods of unexceptionable quality.

"Suited to a T," is the usual verdict of the domestic jury upon articles purchased at Sanford's. Prices at this house are getting down towards the ante-bellum figures.

A traveling correspondent of the Baltimore Sun writes:

"Between Montgomery and Atlanta I have seen people selling their bedding off corn. The destitution in Alabama is as great now as at the surrender—daily rations are served to sixty thousand of the most needy. In addition, there are about 20,000 who are on the verge of distress. Counties refuse to pay the Government 1/10 of the corn furnished, and order the agents to sell part of the foreign charity for the purpose."

HYMENEAL.

MARRIED, at St. Michael's Church in Marengo county, Alabama, on Thursday, May 18, 1867, by Rev. E. H. Thomas, Mr. F. E. WHITFIELD, of Memphis, Tenn., and Miss LULA H. GAY, of Marengo county.

The ceremony was performed at the Episcopal church where as many were in attendance to witness the beautiful and imposing rite. It was indeed a scene of peculiar interest and beauty—the young and lovely bride standing by her manly groom and surrounded by her bridesmaids and their suits. The entertainment, on the occasion of the wedding, was attended by quite a number of friends and relatives and was a superb affair—decidedly a success. Those present could not help but enjoy themselves to the fullest extent both in the parlor and around the festive board. The friend has every cause for self-gratulation in having made such a happy alliance—for in his lovely bride are happily blended those qualities of heart and soul that serve to make the perfect woman and secure a fidelity as undying as our pulse. We breathe a heartfelt prayer that they may drift pleasantly adown the stream of time, and that the lengthening shadows of life, when girlish graces resign into dignity and loveliness, chastened with the gentle meekness of maternal affection, will find them as now, united in heart and destiny.

☞ A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she only appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she had used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance as has been fully told. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. PURIFY YOUR BLOOD!

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

OF all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age "by the thousand ills that flesh is heir to," none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer has spent a decade in studying, experimenting, and perfecting it, before introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized as the most searching purifier in all parts of the country, to be the most surprising and effective remedy for certain diseases of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this kind have either failed to extract the sanction of the faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain mercurial ingredients which neutralize the good effects of the Sarsaparilla, and oftimes injure the health of the patient. It is now with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Bones, Habitual Costiveness, Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Liver Complaint Indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Scrofula, or King's Evil.

Besides curing the above, it is also known to be a

Great and Powerful Tonic

Purifying the blood and invigorating the system. In short, it is without exception, in the cases mentioned, and its symptomatic effect upon the human blood and economy, as it is the most desirable remedy of the age. It is already extensively used throughout the country. The finding of cures it has effected steadily coming to the proprietor's knowledge and he has no hesitation in recommending it to the afflicted as the best remedy in use and advising all who desire to procure relief from suffering. One bottle being sufficient to convince the most sceptical to admit of further doubt.

The Screw Superseded

BY J. I. WILLIAMS'

Improved Patent Lever Press

IN presenting this Press to the public, I feel safe in saying that it has every advantage in baling cotton that the Screw has, and in point of durability, repairing, reparing, &c., it is far preferable. Five or six hands can raise this press in less than half the time that it would require twenty hands to raise a Screw, with comparatively no danger. In repairing the patent lever press three or four hands can take away any stick of timber belonging to it, and put another in its place, in one hour, after it has been shaped.—One can be built with less timber, with less money, and much less labor, both to the employer and the mechanic—the mechanical work being more simple, and much less. One can be easily covered and protected from the wheather, and may be made to last for many years; and many of the farmers can repair them, according after the old stick. This Press is very strong and simple, and may be made on the plantation, by an ordinary mechanic, and managed by common laborers; and every piece of iron belonging to it can be made, or repaired at the nearest shop. The lever of this press and screw of press that great power is exerted on the compressing block, with a comparatively small expenditure of force—the screw press, which may be either mutual, or by horse power. The strength of one man will press a bale weighing five hundred pounds, and upwards; and though it is contrasted to the use of horse power, very few that have this press, will use a horse in packing, as two or three hands will press a bale of cotton by the time a horse or mule can be hitched and removed, or nearly so. This Press is unquestionably the speediest contrivance, or machine for baling cotton ever invented; and its surpassing power cannot be questioned. As a evidence of its worth, I propose to build one of my Patent Lever Presses and test its merits against any other cotton press now in existence, in any of the following States, viz: Louisiana, Mississipi, Alabama, or Georgia, at some suitable place designated by the opposite party; and after being fairly tested, if, in the judgement of twelve competent Judges, it be decided that his Press can be built for less money, and will possess greater or compressing power with the same amount of force to set upon it—that it will pack more bales in a day, or given time with the same number of hands, and thought to be more durable; or if it possesses a majority of these advantages, I will give him one half interest in my Press in said State. In evidence of its power, I propose to press a bale of cotton, of the usual size, weighing 500 lbs. with my own strength alone, for the bale, if I succeed, or give a Press if I fail.

Testimonials :

MR. J. I. WILLIAMS :—I take pleasure in certifying that your Patented Screw gives entire satisfaction, and consider it decidedly superior to any other mode of packing cotton known to me: it is much cheaper, more simple, and is less liable to the old Screw, and much easier to the hand or mule (if one be used) in packing. Very Respectfully,

F. C. SEMMES.

MR. WILLIAMS :—We have used your Patent Presses the past season, and have fully tested them, and in our judgement they are superior to any principle of baling cotton now in use, and take pleasure in recommending them to the cotton planters, and public generally.—We have likewise seen your Circular, and indorse all set forth therein. We are proud to know that something has been invented to supersede the Screw successfully. It conclusion we believe it to be one among the best improvements of the day. Respecfully Yours,

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common St.,

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep and write up books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges :

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES. —About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing, for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work life three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1800, or $5150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $3892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Chingarora

ANTI-NERVOUS

SMOKING TOBACCO!

THE CHINGARORA TOBACCO grows from the rich soil of the "ORIENT," and is possessed of a peculiarly delicious flavor entirely unknown to the tobaccos of all other climes. But its unprecedented popularity has sprung from the fact of the existence of that deadly poison, NICOTY, which pervades every other tobacco, and which is to the one and sole cause of the distressing nervous diseases, dyspepsia, &c., which most invariably, sooner or later, follow the indulgence of the pipe and cigar. At the recent analysation of tobacco from all parts of the world, at the Academy of Sciences in Paris, the renowned Chemist, M. LAMOUREAUX, declared that while European and American tobaccos contained fully eight per cent. and the purest Havana tobacco from two to five per cent. of of Nicotine, CHINGARORA did not contain one discoverable particle of that deadly poison, a drop of which, extracted, will destroy life.

Our agent at BOMBAY has shipped us large quantities of the CHINGARORA. During the past year, and we have been pressed to supply the demand for this delicious luxury to the veteran smoker, yet we are prepared to deliver it in unlimited quantities at a price much lower than any known American tobacco of a similar quality.

A connoisseur has but to smoke the Americus tobacco to regret, which are invariably chemically flavored, to be disgusted with the medicinal taste which leaves a nauseous, unhealthy coating in the mouth, and in time seldom fails to shatter the nervous system.

The natives of the "ORIENT" smoke the CHINGARORA from morn till night, from youth to age, and are happily unconscious of the vivid, distressing fire which courses through the veins of the smoker of the fumes of tobacco containing NICOTYN.

Astrology.

The World Astonished

At the wonderful revelations made by the great Astrologist,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to hopeless misery hope, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of reputation and property, how, when and where to become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in which you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives a perfect likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and tells, by what supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the planets, &c., that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Tell her the day you were born, send a lock of hair, inclose one dollar and three postage stamps, and in your own handwriting write your name in full, and address, and she will send you a horoscope, containing the above information, $1.

Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,

REPARATOR CAPILLI

For rev'o ing hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have come), restoring and forming a growth of hair upon the face it has no equal. It will force hair to grow upon bald heads, or a vest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few applications are sufficient to prove the assertion that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard like Reparator Capilli. Thousands of living witnesses from their own experience can bear witness. But many will ask, how can we distinguish the genuine from the s purious? It certainly is difficult, as nonetheless of the different preparations offered to the public for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and many of them have destroyed very large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you comparatively little, and will not disappoint expectations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us your address, and a bottle will be sent, post paid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be refunded you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given.

MAJ. MCCARDLE'S LETTER.—The reader will find elsewhere a rather singular letter from Maj. Wm. H. McCardle, of Vicksburg, in which he urges the election of colored men to Congress. We give it to the public, not that we endorse the views of the writer, but to show the extremes to which some men are running.

The colored people of Enterprise held a meeting last Saturday evening at their church. Addresses were made by two colored men. Everything passed off quietly.

Two freedmen, Toney Clark and Geo. Robertson, got in a difficulty at Enterprise the other day over a game of cards, when Robertson drew a pistol and shot Clark, the ball penetrating the heart and causing almost instant death. George has been committed.

MAYOR WITHERS REMOVED.—On the recommendation of Gen. Swayne, Major Gen. John Pope has caused Mayor Withers and Capt. Charpentier, chief of Police in Mobile, to be removed from office. Mr. Gustavus Horton has been appointed Mayor and Col. C. A. R. Dimon chief of Police. The Advertiser speaks well of the new officials.

FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS.—The Picayune gives the following particulars of the fire which occurred in the Third District of that city on Sunday evening last, destroying the whole block of buildings bounded by Port, Rampart, Good Children and Ferdinand streets, with the exception of one on the corner of Rampart and Port.

The mortality among the mules, attributable to feeding them upon Western shelled corn, has been very great in the Northern portion of the State, and threatens to seriously interfere with farming operations. The most successful treatment for this corn cholera that we have seen announced, is an ounce of Chloroform to half an ounce of Laudanum, given as a drench.

IMPORTANT MILITARY ORDERS.—Col. Shepherd commanding at Mobile, has ordered the provost guard to seize and take possession of all large firearms found in the hands of improper persons, and to search the person of every one suspected of having small arms for evil purposes, such as disturbing the good order and peace of the city. The Provost Marshal is ordered not to permit any one to bear fire-arms through the streets without written permission.

THE CRASH COMING.—It was only a few days since that we announced the failure of the immense house of Crane, Watts & Co. Now we see that Frazer, Trenholm & Co., of Liverpool, with several houses in this country, have failed, with liabilities footing up four millions of pounds. Also that the well known house of Hyde & Porter, of Cincinnati, has suspended, leaving its creditors minus one hundred and seventy thousand dollars.—The news of Frazer, Trenholm & Co's. failure, caused gold to advance to 137½. This but the beginning. The paper bubble must burst ere long under the corruption, enormous and disproportioned taxes and the increase of military expenses, produced by the "revolution of ideas." Legislation that paralyzes the strongest limb of the national industry and is forever vascillating and turning into confusion the best laid plans of business men, is the bane of self government.

The Horizon Darkening—Let the South Act Wisely.

The Mobile riot, like the New Orleans disturbance of July last, is producing its legitimate fruit. All radicaldom stands aghast at the disturbance, and Mr. Kelly returns home with a pocket-full of data with which to excite the passions of the Northern people and keep up political fury that will carry the Republican party successfully through the next Presidential campaign. Already the radical prints teem with malevolent comments; the disturbance is, they say, only the out cropping of the old pro-slavery intolerance; the resurrection of secession doctrine and the rekindling of the smouldering fires of an unsubdued rebellion, which, if necessary, must be quenched in blood. A reader of northern papers would naturally conclude we had another "bleeding Kansas" down here, where political gladiators satiated their vindictive hate in human gore; and really we fear unless something is done to neutralize the agitation, check needy adventurers and propagandists in their efforts to excite the passions and cupidity of those whose influence they seek at the ballot box, the extravagant pictures now painted in the North may become life-pictures.

It has been very properly observed that during four years of terrible and cruel war, we had large districts of country where there were thousands of colored people, with scarce an abledbodied white man, or five pounds of powder, or five guns in ten miles square; and there were no insurrections, no riots, nor scarce any acts of violence. Ladies lived on plantations with large numbers of colored people, without one male protecter, and yet treated with courteous respect. Now we submit if, after the war closed, and the colored man was emancipated, Radical agitators and office-seekers had remained at home and left the Southern people, or all races in peace, they would soon have peacefully and pleasantly adjusted themselves to the situation. The races would have continued what they were before—friends, friends from association and interest. The colored man would have accepted his new position with moderation—would have cheerfully taken service in house and field, and regarded as his friends those who gave him honest employment and fair wages. None of the present anxiety on agitation would have disturbed the equanimity of the public mind. The colored man would have gone forward in a moderate and healthy development, wisely appreciating and judiciously improving his advantages.—All our great industrial interests would have prospered and the whole country gone forward in a prosperous career of recuperation and social and financial improvement. In thus alluding to the past we only desire to fasten the responsibility of getting up the present antagonism, where it properly belongs, and to conjure our people to make the future as honorable for good order and moderation, as were the years of war, whose dying echos are forever hushed. Let our aim still be to harmonize and fraternize; to infuse a new life into the dead avenues of trade, and exalt our unfortunate people; to combat the inflammatory harangues of the mischievous, be they from the North or South, with that calmness which becomes a quiet, dignified and manly submission. The North is unquestionably "master of the situation" and opposition to her will is useless; let there be none; remain peaceable and orderly, complying with the law faithfully and honestly, trusting that "behind a frowning Providence he hides a smiling face." You cannot find a stain of dishonor upon us yet, and by the help of God, there never will be. The policy we urge, under all the difficulties that surround us now, demands much self-sacrifice and magnanimity, but we believe the Southern people are equal to it.

FORNEY ALARMED.—The Mobile Advertiser's Washington correspondent informs us that the Chronicle is filled with wonder and alarm in consequence of recent information from Baltimore, announcing that numerous volunteer military companies are organizing in that city, the members of which are drilling nightly, and perfecting themselves in the art of soldiering. It learns, also, that these companies are made up of young men who were formerly in the Confederate service, and it regards the information as reliable but unaccountable. There is doubtless some truth in the rumor. Warned by experience, and contemplating the possibility of an exigenty, it may be inferred that the Baltimoreans are profiting by Forney's example.

Col. Wm. Polk died in Marshall county on the 1st instant. He was a native of North Carolina, but had resided in this State for many years. His age was 74 years.

MILITARY RULE IN MOBILE.—To prevent further violence growing out of the disturbed condition of affairs, Col. Shepherd, by order of Gen. Swayne, assumes the maintenance of public order in the city of Mobile. The city police administration is suspended and special policemen, or members of the old force may be employed when necessary. Breaches of city ordinances will be tried as heretofore. All violations of the public peace and existing orders will be dealt with by the military. Outdoor congregations after nightfall are prohibited. When public demonstrations are intended notice must be filed at the Mayor's office in season, to permit the presence of such police force as may be deemed essential. Severe responsibility is attached to the publication of articles commending or inciting riot or violence to individuals, or the public use of incendiary language, or occurrences of disorder in rooms of public entertainment. The spirit of the order is very good, yet a perusal of the ukase reminds us of the old French maxim pas a pas on va bien loin. Every order of this kind should admonish the people of the necessity of organizing under the present law and relieving the country of military rule. True, Mississippi has been fortunate thus far, but our next neighbor's house is now on fire and it behooves us to consider our own safety.

Albert Pike, though a Tennessee editor, is laboring very hard to convince the people of Mississippi that they should vote against organizing under the military bill. If the General will try and relieve his own State of Brownlow's rule and secure the ballot for the good and true Tennesseans, the citizens of Mississippi will endeavor to look after the interests of their own State. Bespattering our fair women with flattery, couched in chaste rhetorique, is a shrewd plan to defeat reconstruction as proposed by Congress. In the days of the Confederacy it did very well to tell the girls the man in the moon would hold his nose as he passed the fire-side warriors by; but that kind of tea-pot patriotism has "played out." Our women, like the great bulk of the men, want peace and order, and are not disposed to array themselves against Congress and the army and navy, with broomsticks. The men tried that for four years with guns and failed—now Lee, the noblest Roman of them all—says peace, and a hearty compliance with the law, and we are sure that nine-tenths of those who wore the "grey" will be as ready to obey his injunction now as when he cried "onward" in the Valley.

The bureau of statistics shows that the exported products of this country for the first quarter of the present year were valued at thirty-three million dollars, of which amount the Southern States furnished just twenty-two millions worth, or 70 per cent. of the National exports.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The treasury agent reports that the City National Bank of New Orleans during the recent run, paid out $670,000 in two days. Its deposits were $670,000.

It is stated in high financial circles that the next monthly statement will show a slight increase of the public debt, owing to the payment of $33,000,000 interest, and light revenue receipts (only about $15,000 for the month.) Receipts for June will be heavier, as the income tax will then be due.

The statements of the probable meeting of Congress in July to meet the treasury difficulties are mere speculations. No treasury officer was suggested nor meeting expected, for such purpose, as the treasury will require no relief.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1839—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana!

WITH COMMERCIAL, ASSOCIATIONAL AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE has, by its very methods and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

during the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments, and which, while it gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what or how many they be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total expenses.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two or three months et prob ble $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5802 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best foundation parents can give their sons. So far as KNOWN, not one of the thousands of our graduates is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

N. B.—The method of purchasing the FANCIFUL CHANCE, is by sending cash for many articles as they may be wanted.

A conviction has but to smoke the American tobacco cigarette to be convinced. Remaining flavored, to be disgusted with the medicinal taste which leaves of nauseous, unhealthy cooking in the usual Hoop Skirt to be found, at first class stores can form no idea of the ease and elegance which glides over the wearer.

TO THE LADIES.

To those having worn one of these Skirts it is not necessary for us to speak of their superiority over all others.

To those of fashion consider them the only Skirt suited to a refined taste, their grace and beauty in dressing well adapted to any style of dress, and stands pre-eminent for the new and elegant short dresses.

But to those who have not, we say, try them; and if they do not give perfect satisfaction we will refund the money, and allow the return to us of the Skirt in good order.

You also have an advantage—you have a Skirt made to suit your form, which you cannot get in any other.

Remember you get the best Skirt made in the World for little more than half the value, and a splendid chance of getting a large amount of money.

NOTICE.—Persons wishing to purchase Right of the same kind can have one reserved for them on the reporting for Canada, Nova Scotia, and the Provinces.

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates.—We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper for every worthy subscription—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

Notice to Correspondents.

"May," who sends us an acrostic and a piece of poetry on "Night," is informed that her communications is respectfully declined. If you wish to write anything for publication try prose. The verses you send are deficient in measure and do not indicate much genius for poetry.

"Long Ago," by E. S. will appear in our next.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

The great object of persons who have become debilitated and feel forewarned of disease, is a remedy. Many think that billousness is the cause, and use medicine which but feeds the disease. To all who feel thus, we suggest that they try a bottle of the Lung Tonic Bitters, which will invigorate the system and produce perfect health.

Smith & Alford.—The card of this house will be found in to-day's print.—The gentlemen composing the firm are known to everybody in the county, and understanding the wants of the people, have purchased with an eye to supplying them. Their goods are unexceptionable in quality, and are sold at moderate figures.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Cushing House, Cairo, by Shipley & Stiles. We spent a few days recently at this Hotel, and can recommend it to our friends who visit Cairo.

Thanks.—We are under obligation to Messrs. W. B. Rockwell & Co., Booksellers, Cairo, for late papers.

Messrs. Enterprising Friends, Messrs. Putnam & Madison, will accept our thanks for a copy of St. Tood'an, a most interesting periodical of St. Louis.

Grand Tournament, Coronation and Fancy Dress Ball.

It will be seen that the Meridian Tournament Club proposes to have a grand tournament and fancy dress ball in this city, on Thursday, the 13th of June.

Preparations are now making on a large scale and there is no doubt that it will be one of the most brilliant affairs that Meridian has ever been the scene of. The large assemblage that will be here from all parts of this State and Alabama will be addressed by Maj. H. St. Paul, the talented and eloquent editor of the Mobile Times and other distinguished speakers. Gen. Forrest is confidently expected here as one of the Judges. It will be noticed from the advertisement that three prizes in greenbacks are offered besides the knightly honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty.

The Knights will form in procession at Rusha's Stable at 10 o'clock P. M., and march through the principal streets.—Tilting will commence at 2 o'clock. The crowning will take place as soon as the tilting is over. A committee of young ladies will then be selected by the Judges, and invited to the stand, to designate the most graceful rider.

Notices.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Ruddle & Co., found in another column of our paper, whose medicines command the patronage of all those who are afflicted.

We would call special attention to their Ague Tonic, a never failing remedy for Chills and Fever; a trial is all they ask.

Their Sarsaparilla for Eruptions of the Skin, Diseases of the Blood, &c., &c., is too well known to require any comment.

Dr. Seabrook's Soothing Syrup, the Children's Panacea and Mother's Friend, is, like the Ague Tonic, fully equal to any thing now in use, and defies all competition.

What! Ho!! Ye Dyspeptic!!! Ye who suffer with Indigestion, ye who need a gentle Stimulant, Tonic and Appetizer, take Hurley's Stomach Bitters. Bitters that are Bitters.

Oriental Pearl Drops, for beautifying the Complexion and giving a softness to the Skin, far excells anything of the kind known, and is free from all injurious ingredients. No ladys' toilet table is complete without it.

Bitterson's English Horse Liniment is one of the best Liniments now in use, as all who have used it for man or beast can testify.

For all Summer Complaints, Cramps, Colic, Cholera, &c., use the Extract of Jamaica Ginger, Prepared by James Ruddle & Co.

We deem it useless to say anything of Seaton's Chemical Writing Fluid and Carmine Ink, for their reputation as the best made is known to all who use them; to such as have not used these links we recommend to give them a trial.

White, Lloyd & Co.—The advertisement of this enterprising house will be found elsewhere. Our energetic publisher is one of them are all natives of the State, and quiet unassuming gentlemen with whom it is a pleasure to deal. They keep a good supply of the "necessaries of life" always on hand, and are as moderate in their figures as the times will justify. They are also agents for a superior article of lime.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from Capt. W. C. Dowd, and others, committee on invitation, to attend the examination of the Scotland High School, to be held at Carr Institute, Columbus, on the 4th July next. It would afford us pleasure to attend but for another engagement on that day.

The Southern Asylum—Reasons why it should be Patronized.

There is no simpler transaction than that defined by the character of the Southern Asylum. The profits of the company are devoted to the endowment of an asylum for widows and orphans. Those profits consist in the difference between the time and cash valuation of land disposed of. To the former amount tickets are sold. In the first drawing it is the purpose of the company to pay all debts and make no profits; in other words, to make the tickets equal in face value to the cash valuation of property distributed. The company will thus demonstrate the practicability of its plans, so simple, that every reader seeks to find some mystery in this process of subdividing "plantations" into "farms." Then, too, it is the policy of the corporation to show how readily poor men may be enabled for a very small sum, Wherever twenty or thirty valuable prizes are distributed among ticket holders, and when the books of the company—open to the inspection of all—show that the value of prizes distributed is precisely equal to the amount of tickets sold, there will be no more doubt of the fairness of this lottery. Then, too, a great political and industrial good, is effected by the subdivision of estates among small farmers, and the attraction of white emigrants to the South. The good done by the Southern Asylum will soon be realized and its mode of distribution fully comprehended. It begins its work at home, and here would first win approbation and confidence. It has neither made professional parade of piety nor asserted any policy of unmanaged benevolence. The company has never denied its purpose to make money. Any sane man can understand how this is done when he reflects upon the multiplicity of business transactions that arise from world-wide advertising and resulting trades in real estate.

The charter of the company is perpetual. As good faith, now to be inspired, will be invaluable. Stockholders understand this quite as well as the public. Hence the employment of gentlemen, who have no interest in the profits of the company, to conduct the operations. Its managers are intermediate agents between the public and the stockholders.

We may add that the Lauderdale Springs Home of Destitute Widows and Orphans, which Abraham Lincoln was a benefactor, even when war raged, will probably be made the recipient of the beneficiaries of the Southern Asylum. This institution at Lauderdale Springs was originally founded by planters of Eastern Mississippi and then it was managed by the Baptists of Mississippi. These planters became so improverished that they are looking for further expenditures in behalf of the multitudes of poor women and children who appeal to them for aid. That paradise, which planters bought, with all the property has been transferred to the Asylum authorities. Governor Humphreys of Mississippi, is President of the Board of Trustees, and the eleemosynary institution is in charge of the State. If the Southern Asylum Land Company undertook the purchase of sits and the erection of buildings, hundreds would starve before any practical good could be achieved. Hence, if the trustees of Lauderdale Springs Charity will contract with the Board of Managers of the Southern Asylum, as they have agreed, those who buy tickets in the Land Lottery may rest assured that by no other process can they expend money which will give food and shelter to those more helpless and deserving. Northern people cannot object, since President Lincoln himself approved the beneficent institutions at the Southern Asylum would foster and the widows and orphans fed and clothed are those who lost everything by the exigencies of the war.

The seat of the institution to which the profits of the land lottery will be appropriated, is Lauderdale Springs, on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, twenty miles above Meridian, and near the Alabama line. There are now five hundred applicants for food and shelter and beneficiaries of the institution. It is enough that a woman or a child is helpless and impoverished. It matters not whence they come or what their history. Beneficiaries of the institution are extended alike to all people of all the States. A cotton factory is building hard by, in which the youths and women are to be employed. It is to this institution, now sadly in need of funds, that the profits of the Southern Asylum will be devoted.

Buy at least one ticket in the first drawing of the Southern Asylum. The buyer may be lucky enough to make some poor widow or half starved child will have reason to bless an unknown benefactor.—Memphis Bulletin.

We learn that the Choctaw Manufacturing Company, who, for some time, have been preparing to build the necessary houses about two miles from this place, let out the contract for the brick buildings, to a company from Selma, Ala., who have agreed to have them finished by the first of December next.—Enterprise Star.

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DISTRICT,
Mississippi and Arkansas,
Vicksburg, Miss., May 25th, 1867.

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 9.

The Commanding General calls the attention of post commanders to the prevalence of the crime of horse-stealing in certain sections of this State, and considering the Military District to an extent materially obnoxious to the interests of peace, order and valuable property owners.

Such communities are authorized and directed to exert their utmost efforts to break up the nefarious trade in the secret associations existing under the pretense of a commutated and under command of a commissioned officer when proof can be had to dispatched after the offenders, formed with competent guides and if pursued to capture if possible. It will be their duty to hold for trial by Military Commission, and a report of the facts of every case sent at once to the Headquarters for further instructions.

In all cases of this class, arrested by the civil authorities, will be immediately turned over to the nearest commander, who will cause the trial to be had in strict accordance with the rules and regulations directed in the preceding clause.

In all cases no pains will be spared to secure evidence necessary for conviction. When the perpetrators are ordered to be sent for murder proof for trial, the witnesses will be sent with them, or if he deems it unsafe to do so, transmit to send the parole testimony, the requisite affidavits in due form must be forwarded with the prisoners.

The civil authorities in the District will not consider the foregoing as in any way intended to relieve them from the responsibilities of their official positions, but on the contrary, it should urge them to increased vigilance, and in case of riots, in the aid thus rendered, an acknowledgment will may possibly be done away with.

The civil authorities in the District, which do desire the speedy restoration of good order and the enjoyment of perfect security invited to co-operate with the military commanders in this matter by giving their explicit instructions according, as public feeling dictates of persons in their districts against whom there is evidence of such crimes as may warrant the commission of horse-thieves, and generally by such action as the particular circumstances of each case may seem to require, to secure their hearty good will in the work.

Military Commissions will be ordered from and their proceedings reviewed at these Headquarters. In other respects the execution of this General order is devolved upon the Sub-District Commanders.

By command of BREVET MAJOR GENERAL A. C. ORD.

O. D. GREENE,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Official: Jno. TYLER, Brevet Major and 1st Lieut. 33d U. S. Infantry,
Actg. Asst. Adj't. Gen'l.

The Enterprise Star learns that a son of Mr. Barnett Pendleton, living at Claiborne in Jasper county, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun, in the hands of one of his playmates, Albert Donald, son of Squire Donald.

The same paper also records the murder of one negro boy by another. It says: About 9 o'clock last Friday night, two freedmen, Tony Clark and George Robertson, were playing around the track of the M. & O. R. R., in the southern part of town. Some misunderstanding about the game arose, which resulted first in abusive language, and finally in fisticuffing with a pistol of Tony Clark by Geo. Robertson through the heart, which caused instant death.

The Friar's Point Coahomian says that in a terrible affray on Mr. T. J. Jackson's plantation in that county, last Wednesday, Leo Turner killed a man named McCloud. McCloud attacked Turner with a large cane knife, when the latter killed him with a handspike.

Inducements of a character not to be disregarded, have influenced the editor of the Jackson Mississippian to unite its interests with the destinies of the Vicksburg Herald. The names of the two journals, as well as their interests, will be continued. The editorial department will be controlled by the editor of the Mississippian.

The Opinion of the Attorney-General.

The importance of this document, and its great length, have caused us to publish it in a supplement, to the exclusion of much that would otherwise have appeared in this number. We have not space at present to give anything like a summary of the many points to which he refers; the opinion is able, his reasoning is logical and the whole document is characterized by a justice and fairness that will be gratifying to the Southern people who have so great an interest in this important decision. While there is some doubt still as to whether some few classes of officers are disfranchised, and we are promised, that hereafter a table will be prepared giving lists of such as are affected by the bill, the opinion is sufficiently plain as to most cases.

The rule of construction is to be in favor of the voter, and all not clearly excluded have the right to register and vote.

Another most important question on which the opinion is very clear is that the Board of Registers have no discretion in accepting or rejecting those who offer to take the oath. Their duty consists simply in administering the oath and registering the voter. They have no power to inquire as to whether the person is qualified or not. If he swears falsely he may be indicted for perjury in a court of competent jurisdiction, but the Board of Registers have nothing to do with it, if he offers to take the oath and be registered; they must administer it, and register the applicant even if they know he is not eligible under the law.

THE Board of Registration for the county of Lauderdale, for the purpose of registering voters under the first section of the act of Congress supplementary to an act entitled an "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the Rebel States," passed March 2d, 1867, will enter upon the discharge of their duties, we understand, at an early day. The Board, as our readers are aware, is composed of Wm. Cathey, Alpin Sloan and D. A. Smalley. Messrs. Cathey and Sloan are old citizens of the county and have the confidence and good will of everybody. Mr. Smalley is a comparative stranger in the county—was an officer in the Federal army—but has gained the esteem and respect of every one with whom he has had any dealings. He accepted the position at the request of a number of our citizens, and we are confident will discharge the duties pertaining thereto impartially and "without fear or favor." Although we differ with him in politics, we have found him a gentleman and a social host.

Gerrit Smith and Greeley on the Stump.

Two prominent pillars of the Republican party in the North—two really honest philanthropists who figure in politics—Horace Greeley and Gerrit Smith—have been making speeches to the subjugated whites and emancipated blacks of Richmond, Va. The speeches are characterized for mildness and impartiality (though some things said are bad in logic), and we believe will do some good North and South. Mr. Greeley believed the time for peace had come—that one year from the date of Lee's surrender should have seen the restoration of peace. He warned the riotous blacks that they must disabuse their minds of the idea that the lands of their former masters were to be confiscated for their benefit, and that they will find it to their advantage to settle down to habits of industry. Mr. Greeley said Mr. Stevens was the only "confiscation" member of Congress that he knew, and then referred to the hundreds of millions of acres of good lands in the Southern and other States which were offered to every man for the mere cost of drawing up the title deed, and he asked the colored people if they believed it would be becoming on their part to seek to get slices off their neighbors' lands rather than seeking for the public lands as he had proposed. Mr. Smith did not spare the South for its sins and follies, for bringing on the war, or for attempting, in some cases, to run away from the restoration terms of Congress; but he blamed the North also for its share in bringing on the troubles and for its want of magnanimity.

It is a good sign to see Greeley and Smith doing something to counteract the effect of some of their own teachings. It is an indication that the war spirit of might is cooling down, and that order and justice will yet assume its wanted sway. We should be glad to see Greeley and Smith take a tour through the Southern States and meet upon the stump the Kelly stamp of wrangling fanatics who would roll the waves of anarchy mountain high.

We find the following notice of John P. Morton & Co's school books, and Professor Towne's Primary Arithmetic in one of our Louisville exchanges. We fully concur in what the writer says as to the value of the books, and hope they may be adopted generally in our schools:

JOHN P. MORTON & CO'S SCHOOL BOOKS—TOWNE'S PRIMARY ARITHMETIC.—We have received from John P. Morton & Co. a catalogue of the school-books published by that enterprising house, the only Southern house, by the way, engaged in the publication of school-books. The series embraced in the catalogue is complete, while the accompanying recommendations are strong and almost endless, coming from the leading educators in all quarters of the South. In our opinion, these testimonials are richly deserved. The series is indeed everything it should be. In excellence of style, in charm of thought, in purity and elevation of tone, in justness of method, in force of exposition, in general adaptability, and in every other appropriate quality, the members of this series are unsurpassed if not unequalled. Certainly no better series is now published. If our authority is worth anything we cheerfully fling it into the scale already weighed down by with so many of the highest and brightest names in the land.

The mathematical section of this series is prepared or is in course of preparation by Professor Towne, formerly Principal of the Barton Academy in Mobile, and one of the most skilful, thorough and successful teachers in the whole country. Professor Towne, are now in use, the test of which they abide triumphantly, all who have used or critically examined them attesting their excellence in the warmest terms. The accomplished author, as we are pleased to see, has just completed the Primary Arithmetic of the series, a copy of which we have received in advance of publication. The work is surely a masterpiece of the kind. Never did the learner begin at the foot of the hill of mathematics by a smoother or gentler ascent. The grade is one of the very lightest known to educational engineering. The feeblest and most timid of learners will find it by a way of pleasantness. He will scale the rugged steep almost without knowing it. We hazard nothing in predicting that the Primary arithmetic will become as speedily favorite wherever it is known. And it will soon be universally known.

We heard a good joke on one of our most popular preachers the other day. He will pardon us the liberty taken, as such instances of human liberality should not go unrecorded in these times of selfishness.

An old bachelor applied to him to tie the knot matrimonial between himself and an old girl of an approximate age. The bridegroom was a clever fellow in his way, but inordinately stingy, and with no more sentiment than a pig, or poetry than a turnip. The ceremony through, the crusty bridegroom bethought him of the usual question that bones from the happy man's lips, and asked in his usual way, "what is to pay?" Our minister replied that usually the matter was optionary with the bridegroom—whatever he thought right, &c. That sometimes it depended on the intensity of the bridegroom's love for his bride, or of his love for the preacher, &c. That sometimes it depended on the liberality of the bridegroom, and sometimes on the amount of the bride's fortune, &c. Whereupon the bridegroom pulled out a ten dollar bill, and handed it to the preacher, saying, "I reckon that will be about right, sir. That sometimes it depended on the liberality of the bridegroom, and sometimes on the amount of the bride's fortune, &c. Whereupon the bridegroom pulled out a ten dollar bill, and handed it to the preacher, saying, "I reckon that will be about right, sir. That is liberality with a vengeance.

—Telegraphic Summary.

Official information was received in Washington on the 27th inst. of the surrender of Queretaro, and the capture by the Liberals of Maximilian, Mejia, Castelz and Miramon.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—John Surratt was brought into the criminal court today to be tried for murder and conspiracy to kill President Lincoln. His brother Isaac had been brought there from Canada was in the court room. The defense was ready for trial, but the United States was not. Four or five important witnesses were absent.

CHARLESTON, May 20.—Two negroes, William Hugey and John F. Stewart, charged with stoning the cars in a street car riot in Charleston, and afterwards resisting the police in the discharge of their duty, have been sent by General Sickles before a military commission for trial.

LONDON, May 23.—Notwithstanding the declaration to the contrary, it is thought the Government will not carry into execution the death sentence of the Fenian prisoners.

Mr. J. P. Dement, Jr., has started a neat and interesting little paper at Forest, called the Register. Forest is one of the most promising stations on the line of the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad, and will, we think, sustain a paper handsomely.

We learn that within the last two weeks, two steam saw mills have been burned in this county, to-wit: That of James R. Ainsworth, in the Pine Ridge neighborhood, and that of Judge Bridewell and brother, six miles south of Hazlehurst, on the railroad. It is believed that both were fired by incendiaries.—Hazlehurst Copiahan.

FINANCIAL.—The Mobile Times, of Tuesday, says:

News of a most cheering character has reached our city. Mobile merchants and Mobile bankers are "all right."

In addition, we may add that nearly two hundred and fifty thousand dollars were yesterday received by our banks, having arrived by express, and that, although they were not in need of it to meet their obligations, this welcome increase to their cash resources strengthens them against even the remotest possibility of any temporary embarrassment.

Mobile will this year, as in 1857, maintain her high financial character and give the country another example of what prudence, combined with ability, can accomplish.

Secretary McCulloch completely negatives the Radical intimations that financial matters would necessitate a meeting of Congress in July. He says, in his opinion, the Treasury can get along easily till December. The maturity indebtedness of the United States is being converted at the rate of one million per day, and there is no reason to doubt but that the first series of 7-30's and early compound notes will all be converted by the end of the fiscal year.

A difficulty occurred in Mobile the other day between Mr. Perryman, of the firm of Perryman, Roberts & Co., and Mr. Hall of the firm of Jewett, Hall & Co., of St. Louis, which resulted in the shooting of Mr. Hall in the back, inflicting it is thought, a mortal wound. Mr. Perryman has been bonded in the sum of $5,000.

Mr. Hall has since died.

STARVATION IN MISSISSIPPI.—The last number of the Kosciusko Chronicle, announces the actual starvation of two persons in Leake County. It seems that a family of ten persons had been living for several days upon sassafras blossoms, roots and barks, in the absence of proper food, and disease and death ensued. As soon as the condition of the family was known, the neighbors came forward, and by contributions saved the remaining portion of the family from a similar fate.

We regret to learn that on Tuesday night last, the residence of Col. M. Mimms, living near Choctaw Agency, was burned through the carelessness of a servant-girl in replenishing a kerosene lamp. The furniture was saved. It would not be out of place for all persons using kerosene lamps to be a little careful. —Louisville (Miss.) Bulletin, 18th.

OBITUARY.

With pain and regret we are called upon to announce the death of George W. Carpenter. He died with hemmorage of the lungs at his Mother's residence, near the Somsuba, May 20th, 1867, aged 30 years, 2 months, 10 days.

The state of his health from childhood, has been a source of great solicitude to his friends—having been afflicted from his infancy, and enhanced suffering more or less he was relieved by death. The closing scene of his suffering was intense, and could he have received medical attention in due time, his suffering might have been relieved, and his life prolonged as a stay and comfort to his friends. The physician reached him Monday evening. His friends were not apprehensive that his exit from earth was at hand; but, in two hours after the administration of the first dose of medicine, he was a corpse. He lingered only three days, when his spirit took its exit, and we trust that he has been healed by the great Physician above, and made whole through the atoneing blood of Jesus. Since the death of his father, at the beginning of the war, he has been the stay and comfort of a widowed mother and two sisters, who now mourn his loss—together with a large acquaintance of relatives and friends. His last words were, while he pressed his mother's hand, "Mother, what will you do without me?"

While pity prompts the sorrowing sigh,
Oh! may this truth, O Lord, be nigh,
That thou hast taken him away
In mercy, not in wrath, we pray.

THE GREAT

SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Comprise a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepares from pure Drugs, by a class of experienced Southern Physicians, specially for the diseases incident to a Southern locality.

They are not secret nor patent mixtures and are recommended to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know but little about Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines ever offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

FEMALES OF THE SOUTH!

Diseases peculiar to your sex, incident to all localities, called from the passin breeze, that fans you with its perfumed breath, or snatched from some pedant dew-drop, are to you a constant and abiding trouble. Whether an inhabitant of city or country, hill or dale, palace or hovel, disease rankles and preys not secret your vitals. Gloom and dispair are your constant companions. Your pale and ghastly countenance, your colorless cheeks, your lifeless eye, your tottering walk, your palpitating heart, your depleted brow, all tell of that disease which is gradually and steadily making inroads upon your declining system.

The Sunshine of Hope

Now bursts upon your vision, and the clouds of dispair that hang as a heavy pall of gloom upon your brow can now be driven back, and the bright visions of health in all its grandeur are now offered you.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

English Female Bitters

Delicate old or young married or single. Send and get one bottle, it will do you good.

YOUR LIFE BLOOD

Must be changed, in order to be relieved of that troublesome class of diseases requiring pure blood.

Simply because It is composed of the best medicines for that purpose, viz: Stillingia, Yellow Dock, Sarsaparilla, Burdock, and Iodine of Potash. For Scrofula, Cutaneous, Skin Diseases, Gout, Rheumatism, Glandular Tumors and Swellings, old Ulcers and old Sores, Constitutional Derangements, etc., it acts like a charm.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

In all cases of a want of action on the Kidneys and Bladder, affecting old or young, male or female, this compound can be relied on.

CHILLS AND FEVER

Can be so easily cured by using one package of Dromgoole & Co's King of Chills, which never fails to arouse the Liver, clean the Stomach, open the Bowels and relieve the most inveterate case of Chills. One package will cure a case of six months standing.

Those Who Do Not Think

Grey hairs honorable can have them restored to their original color without staining the skin or scalp. It does not dye the hair—but simply restores it to its former color—and at the same time prevents it from falling off, cleanses the scalp of all dandruff and humor, imparts a beautiful gloss and comes as near restoring hair to the bald as any other preparation. It is Dromgoole & Co's Tonic Hair Restorative. It is warranted.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME R. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrican who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yours-if, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. WONDERS BUT TRUE.

MADAME REMI'G'ON, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulistic Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a perfect and life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no imposition, as testimonials without number can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents, and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return-mail, together with desired information.

☞ A Young Lady returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized, by her friends. In place of a sickly, pale, flushed countenance she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she had used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, so Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed. Its efficacy in drawing impurities from the system, thereby beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, thereby healing the sores, and leaving the cuticle as pure as the infant's when first born. Sold by druggists generally. Price $1 per bottle. Sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of an order, by

REPARATOR CAPILLI.

Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wigs—

Come speed, come youthful, come sight and hair,

REPARATOR CAPILLI.

For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal in the annals of the world. Whiskers, mustache and beard are entirely worthless, and the face is a blank, unless there is a good growth of hair upon it. Reparator Capilli will force a growth of hair upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from one to three months. A few unprincipled practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or harden the growth of hair on the face. This assertion are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own mouths) can testify to the contrary. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as in the matter of the late patent laws advertisements are so worded that they appear honest, when nothing unlike it fully comes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send $1 and one of us will forward it post paid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application if giving entire satisfaction as not given. Address, be reported by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue so as to give the person charged an opportunity to be heard.

That we fix one hundred and fifteen be assessed if by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: That the taxes on manufactures, and on sales, be assessed on the first day of March, and be due and payable on or before the thirtieth day of April, in every year, and in and during the year eighteen hundred and seventy-two no longer; and in any such case such assessment shall be made after the thirtieth of April, enforce collection thereof by the collector, shall be levied in addition thereto the same five per centum on the amount of taxes unpaid, and interest at the rate of one per centum per month upon said tax from the time the same became due as a penalty, except from estates of deceased persons, or insolvent persons: Provided, That the tax on incomes for the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six shall be levied on the day this takes effect.

That section one hundred and twenty-three be amended by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: That there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all salaries of officers, or payments for services to persons in the civil, military, naval, or other employment or service of the United States, including senators and representatives and delegates in Congress, when exceeding the rate of one thousand dollars per annum, a tax of five per centum on the excess above the said one thousand dollars; and it shall be the duty of all paymasters and all disbursing officers, under this government of the United States, or persons in the employ thereof, when making any payment to any officers or persons as aforesaid, whose compensation is determined by a fixed salary, or upon settling or adjusting the accounts of such officers or persons to deduct and withhold the aforesaid tax of five per centum; and the pay-roll, receipts, or accounts of officers or persons paying such tax as above said shall be made to exhibit the fact of such payment. And it shall be the duty of the accounting officers of the Treasury Department, when auditing the accounts of any paymaster or disbursing officer, or any officer without his salary from moneys received by him, or when settling or adjusting the accounts of such officer, to require evidence that the taxes mentioned in this section have been duly paid and paid over to the Treasurer of the United States, or other officer authorized to receive the same: Provided, That payments of prize money shall be regarded as income from salaries, and the tax thereon shall be assessed and collected in like manner: Provided further, That this section shall not apply to payments made to mechanics or laborers employed upon public works and ground further, That in case it should become necessary for showing the true receipts of the government under the provisions of this section upon the books of the Treasury Department, the requisite amount may be carried from unappropriated moneys in the Treasury to the credit of said account; and this section shall take effect upon salary and compensation for the month of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Sec. 14. And be it further enacted, That there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all distilled spirits, upon which no tax has been paid according to law, a tax of two dollars upon each and every proof gallon, to be paid by the distiller, owner, or any person having possession thereof, and every proprietor and possessor of a still, distillery or distilling apparatus shall be responsible and liable for the taxes imposed by law upon the spirits distilled therein, and the tax shall be a lien upon the spirits distilled, on the distillery used for distilling the same, with the stills, vessels, fixtures, and tools therein, and on the lot or parcel of land, whereon the said distillery is situated, together with any building thereon, from the time said spirits are distilled until the said tax shall be paid: Provided, That the tax upon any spirits distilled and removed from the place where the same were distilled, and deposited in bonded warehouses as required by law, shall, at any time, upon knowledge of such fact obtained by the assessor or assistant assessor of the district where such spirits were distilled, be assessed by him upon the distiller of the same, and be refunded or remitted to the collector, who shall immediately demand payment of such tax, first upon the neglect or refusal of payment by the distiller, shall proceed to collect the same by distraint. But this provision shall not exclude any other remedy or proceeding provided by law: Provided further, That the tax on all spirits shall be collected at no lower rate than the basis of first proof, and shall be increased in proportion for any greater strength than the strength of first proof.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That proof spirit shall be held and taken to be that alcoholic liquor which contains one-half its volume of alcohol of a specific gravity of seven thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (7936) ten thousandths at sixty degrees Fahrenheit, and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to adopt, prescribe, and prescribe for use such hydrometers, weighing and gauging instruments, meters, or other means for ascertaining the strength and quality of spirits subject to tax, or for the prevention or detection of frauds by distillers of spirits, and to prescribe such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to insure a uniform and correct system of inspection, weighing, and gauging of spirits subject to tax throughout the United States. And whenever the Secretary of the Treasury shall adopt and prescribe for use any meter or meters, it shall be the duty of every owner, agent, or superintendent of a distillery to make application to the collector of his district for such meter or meters, to be used in his distillery, and the same shall be furnished and attached to the distillery by the collector of the district, whose duty it shall be to furnish all the pipes, materials, labor, and facilities necessary to complete such attachment in accordance with the regulations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, who is hereby further authorized to order and require such changes of or additions to distilling apparatus, connecting pipes, pumps, or cisterns, or any machinery connected with or used in or on the distillery premises, or may require to be put on any of the stills, tubs, cisterns, pipes, or other vessels, such fastenings, locks, or seals, as he may deem necessary. And in all sales of spirits hereafter made, where not otherwise specially agreed, a gallon shall be taken to be a gallon of first proof, according to the foregoing standard set forth and declared for the inspection and gauging of spirits throughout the United States.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, that every person, firm, or corporation, who distills or manufactures spirits or alcohol, or who treats or makes mash, wort, or wash, for distillation or the production of spirits, shall be deemed a distiller, and the making or keeping by any person of grain, mash, wash, wort, or beer, prepared or fit for distillation, together with the possession of such grains of a still or other apparatus capable of use for distilling upon the same premises, shall be deemed and taken as a presumption of evidence that such person is a distiller.

Sec. 17. And be it further enacted, That hereafter all distilled spirits, before being removed from the distillery, shall be inspected and gauged by a general inspector of spirits, who shall mark the barrels or packages in the manner required by law; and so much of the act approved July 28, 1866, chapter two hundred and sixty-six, as requires the appointment of an inspector for each distillery established according to law is hereby repealed: Provided, that all such other duties as have heretofore been imposed upon inspectors of distilleries may be performed by such other [illegible] appointed officers as may be designated by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Sec. 18. And be it further enacted, That whenever, in the judgment of the collector, there shall be a general bonded warehouse so located as to be conveniently accessible to a distillery, and in the same collection district, the said collector shall direct all spirits which may be removed in the bonded vehicles attached to such distillery to be transferred directly to a general bonded warehouse; and all spirits thereafter produced in such distillery shall be removed to a general bonded warehouse, within the time and in the manner hereinbefore required for the removal to the bonded warehouse attached to the distillery.

Sec. 19. And be it further enacted, That no spirits shall be removed in any cask or package containing more than ten gallons from any general bonded warehousing in which the same may have been distilled, redistilled, rectified, or manufactured, nor from any distillery of less age, at any other times than after sunrising and sun-setting, on pain of forfeiture of such spirits, and every person who shall violate this provision shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each cask, barrel or package of spirits removed. Any officer of Internal Revenue may be specially authorized by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to issue any passport which may by law be subject to seizure, and for what purpose said officer shall have all the power conferred by law upon collectors of internal revenue, and such special authority shall be limited in respect of time, place, and kind or class of property as the said Commissioner may specify.

Sec. 20. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for any internal revenue officer to seize and detain any barrels, casks, or packages containing, or supposed to contain, distilled spirits, when such officer has reason to believe that the tax imposed by law upon the same has not been paid, or that they are being removed in violation of law, and such packages may be detained by such officer in a safe place until it can be satisfactorily ascertained by the proper officers whether the articles so seized are liable to be proceeded against for violation of the internal revenue laws.

Sec. 21. And be it further enacted, That whenever any distilled spirits so found elsewhere than in a bonded warehouse shall be sold or offered for sale at a less price than the tax imposed by law thereon, such selling or offering for sale as aforesaid shall be taken and deemed as prima facie evidence that said spirits have not been removed from a bonded warehouse according to the law, and that the tax imposed by law on the same has not been paid, and the said spirits without further evidence be liable to seizure and forfeiture: Provided, That this section shall not apply to spirits sold at auction by an auctioneer who has paid the special tax as such under such rules and regulations, and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, nor to sales made by judicial or executive officers under the order or decree of any court.

Sec. 22. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of every person, who empires or carts any goods, wares, or other article subject by law to tax, from a cask, barrel, or package, bearing any of the marks or brands required by law, or marks intended for or purporting to be, or designed to have the effect of such marks, immediately upon such cask, barrel, or package being removed, to efface and obliterate said marks or brands; and any person who shall violate this provision shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars for each offence, and any such cask, barrel, or package, from which said marks or brands shall be and obliterated as herein required, shall be liable to forfeiture, and may be seized by any officer of internal revenue wherever found.

Sec. 23. And be it further enacted, That in case any bond under which any distilled spirits shall have been withdrawn from a bonded warehouse be forfeited by failure to furnish or produce at the proper time the evidence required by law or regulation that the articles named in the bond were duly received and actually stored in the bonded warehouse or district to which they were destined, or by other breach of the obligation, the obligors in the bond shall pay the total amount of duties upon the articles removed under the bond, with a penalty of fifty per centum upon that amount, and the collector of the district in which such bond is to be given may proceed with distrain from any property, real or personal, subject to distraint or seizure, belonging to said obligors; and in case no such property can be found, the collector shall immediately forward the bond to the United States district attorney for the proper district for suit, and notice of the breach of the obligation of any such bond shall be forthwith forwarded by the collector of the district to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Sec. 24. And be it further enacted, That the forty-fourth section of the act of July thirteen, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, approved July twenty, be amending thereto as follows: Provided, That when any still used, or fit for use in the production of distilled spirits, shall be not exceeding one thousand dollars in value, has been or shall be seized for any violation of the laws relating to internal revenue, the same shall not be released by the court to the claimant, or any other intervening party, before judgment; and if declared forfeited, such still shall be so destroyed as to prevent its use for the purpose aforesaid, and the materials thereof shall be sold as other forfeited property. In case of seizure, as above, of a still exceeding in value the sum of one thousand dollars, its release to the claimant or any other intervening party, before judgment, shall be at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 25. And be it further enacted, That the owner, agent, or superintendent of any still, boiler, or other vessel used in the distillation of spirits, who shall neglect or refuse to render true and exact entry and report of the same, to do or to cause to be done any of the things by law required to be done concerning distilled spirits shall, in addition to other fines and penalties, now by law provided, forfeit for every such neglect or refusal all the spirits owned by or for him, and all the vessels used in making the same, and the stills, boilers, and other vessels used in distillation, found on the premises, together with the sum of five hundred hundred dollars for each offence, to be recovered by the usual suit, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be subject to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years; which said spirits, with the vessels containing the same, with all the vessels used in making the same, and all such materials, may be seized by the collector and by him sold; a description shall be [illegible] of the property to be sold, and the manner of sale;

From the Clarion.]

Gen. D. H. Hill, in an article published in his Magazine, says incidentally that it is the duty of voters in the South to elect men to office "whose consistent Unionism will be satisfactory to the dominant party."

If Gen. Hill had qualified his counsel by the words "federal office," it would have met our approval. It will be idle to re-enact the farce of electing persons to Congress who cannot take the oath prescribed, that they have never borne arms against the United States, nor given aid and comfort to others thus employed. Though the range from which selections will be required to be made in order to elect persons who are eligible under this stringent and unjust law, is limited, yet they can be found—and men too, whose sympathies are with the South, and will serve her faithfully if the people choose to elect them though they may not have approved her attempt to establish a separate Government.

For the present, let ambition sleep. No man should permit his name to be used for an important office, knowing in advance that he will not be allowed to perform its duties.

In regard to State offices, the range of selection will not be so restricted. They are accessible to any persons who are entitled to vote under the Reconstruction laws. Under these acts, the vast body of young, ardent and patriotic men who followed the fortunes of the Confederate flag, are eligible to any State office within the gift of the people if they have attained the age prescribed by the Constitution. There are many old men of sound judgment, matured thought and ability, who have heretofore stood aloof from public affairs, but who now, in the interest of their country, will be induced to give it the benefit of their services. It will be the part of wisdom, to give more attention to our local governments, and less to federal politics than heretofore. Here in Mississippi, is ample scope for the display of the highest order of statesmanship. Our laws are to be remodelled and adopted to the new era: and he who gives the energies of his body, and of his mind to the work, and performs it successfully, will entitle himself to be called a public benefactor.

The Panola Star, of the 14th says:

The case of the State against Evans, for the shooting and killing of a man named Bond, in Lexington, in the year 1866, was set for trial on the 15th inst. Great difficulty was had in procuring a jury, but success at last attended the efforts of the sheriff, and the trial commenced yesterday. Up to the present writing we have not heard the decision of the jury.

The Natchez Democrat says:

"Mr. Edward Metz, a German citizen of Natchez, whose residence was on the corner of Canal and Washington streets, was found dead in his bed Friday morning. He was seen working in the garden last Thursday evening, and retired that night complaining of headache. When milkman came Friday morning to serve his house with milk he knocked at the door. No one came, and the milkman entered and found the deceased in bed a corpse."

The Fayette Chronicle, of the 23d, says:

"A posse of citizens a few days since arrested, on the premises of Rev. W. B. Johnson, nine negro men, all armed to the teeth, who, it is said, were trying to capture and hang a negro in Capt. Thompson's employment, for what reason we did not learn. The would be lynchers were thwarted in their plans and the fellow's neck saved.

The town of Corinth has voted to take $30,000 stock in a railroad to connect that town with the Tennessee river at Clarksville.

HON. GEO. W. GAYLE—The case of Judge Gayle, of Cahaba, Ala., charged with treason and conspiracy to assassinate Lincoln, was finally disposed of on Tuesday in the United States District Court, Montgomery, Judge Busteed presiding. Judge Gayle was present in Court, and by his counsel, ex-Governor Watts plead pardon by the President, when the case was taken from the docket and the Judge fully discharged. The pardon, says the Montgomery Mail, was "full, complete and unconditional." Thus ends a case of more magnitude, and at one time fraught with much danger to our distinguished fellow citizen. We congratulate Judge Gayle upon his being at last relieved from all trouble in this matter.

ISSUE OF PROVISIONS IN MISSISSIPPI.—Maj. Gen. A. C. Gillem, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Mississippi, on the 2d inst., ordered the following issue of provisions to the destitute people of that State:

Corinth—five hundred sacks of corn and eight thousand pounds of pork.

Oxford—two hundred and fifty sacks corn and four thousand pounds of pork.

Yazoo—two hundred and fifty sacks of corn and four thousand pounds of pork.

Jackson—five hundred sacks corn and eight thousand pounds pork.

Natchez—five hundred sacks corn and eight thousand pounds pork.

Greenville—two hundred and fifty sacks corn and four thousand pounds pork.

Brookhaven—two hundred and fifty sacks corn and four thousand pounds pork.

Lauderdale—five hundred sacks of corn and four thousand pounds of pork.

Winchester—two hundred and fifty sacks of corn and four thousand pounds of pork.

If Judge Kelly had been South during the war, he could not have the hardihood—not even he could—to speak of the negroes of the negroes of the South as if they had all been loyal to the United States during the rebellion. The fact is that ninety-five per cent. of them were as faithful to the Confederacy as any average equal number of Southern whites. They formed the quartermaster, commissary, ordnance and pay department of the rebel armies—working faithfully and perceivingly at their allotted tasks, although not five per cent. of the able bodied whites were left at home to compel them to this work, had they been otherwise minded. It is simply a bald, bold, black falsehood to speak of the Southern negroes as having been faithful to the Union, or faithful to anything but the rebellion, during the recent civil war.

FINALITY OF THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.—Thurlow Weed, of the New York Commercial Advertiser, a well known veteran leader in the Republican ranks, commenting upon the dismissal of the injunction cases by the Supreme Court says:

And now that the Supreme Court has refused to interfere in this bill, our Southern countrymen may rest assured that it will be a finality in every sense of the word. The North will never consent that any further conditions shall be exacted from them. The Republican party has, with hardly an exception, repudiated Thaddeus Stevens' recent declaration as to confiscation and further exactions, and the Northern people will expect Congress to carry out in good faith the terms of the measure, should that body be disposed to "go back" upon it. There is no probability, however, that congress will be inclined to do anything of the kind, and those at the South who have cherished doubts as to the bill being a finality may dispel their fears at once."

Gen. Swayne's Report upon the Riot at Mobile.

HEAD'QRS DISTRICT, OF ALABAMA, }
Montgomery, Ala. May 20th, '67. }

Maj. Gen. John Pope, Commanding Third Military District, Atlanta, Georgia:

GENERAL—Herewith I have the honor to transmit to you the report of Col. O. L. Shepherd, 15th U. S. Infantry, commanding officer at Mobile, upon the recent riot in that city.

Immediately upon hearing of the outbreak, I proceeded to Mobile in company with Brevet Brigadier Gen. Wm. McKee Dunn, Assistant Judge Advocate General, and made personal inquiry into what occurred.

So far as I can learn, the disturbance was not apprehended or deliberately planned, unless possibly by a small party of ruffians such as usually found in cities. Nor do I find that after it commenced, it was participated in by a large number persons, but that, on the contrary, the mass was hastily abandoned except by the police, and by such parties of freedmen as gathered together for defence or from confusion or curiosity.

It seems that the speaker having been for some time interrupted by some persons who should have been immediately arrested, a single arrest was made. This was accompanied by the discharge of a pistol, after which a number of shots were fired at the stand occupied by the speaker and his friends. After a momentary lull, a large number of additional shots were fired, apparently without rin.ifinite purposes, the weapons so far as known being pointed in the air.

I do not find that a greater charge than timidity or inefficiency can be sustained against the police authorities of the city of Mobile. At the same time freedom of speech and public order will seem greatly outraged in that city, by an element which is active in the spirit of the rebellion, and proven upon the part of the police simply by timidity. This is supported by the antecedents of the police, and by the fact that but a single arrest was effected on the night of the disturbance.

Sincere and earnest apprehension was expressed to me lest a collision of races, extending and disastrous, and involving with the fate of the colored people, and that of Union men in sympathy with them should grow out of the impulse given by the recent outbreak.

To prevent the possibility of this I directed the Post Commandant to assume the maintenance of public order, to place guards at the headquarters of the fire companies, to prohibit out-door assemblies after nightfall, to suspend the entire police force and re-appoint only such as were known to be trustworthy, and to summarily punish all disturbers of the peace.

For the final suppression of the disorderly element above referred to, and to give confidence and support to those who have been heretofore the allies of the government, I respectfully recommend that the control of municipal affairs be transferred to persons well known for their continuous loyalty to the United States.

Your obt servant,
WILLIS SWAYNE,
Brig. Gen'l.

Imperial Rule Ended in Mexico.

The power of the empire of Maximilian is confirmed; the Imperial drama in Mexico is ended, and the leading actors prisoners in the hands of Juarez, the head of the Liberal party. Mejia, Miramon, and Castillo, also passed into Liberal custody when the Imperial garrison fell at Queretaro, their last stronghold.—In a short time, as soon as Marquez is forced from the city of Mexico, the Liberals will be undisputed masters of that unhappy country. But we have no hope for anything like a permanent peace in bleeding, distracted Mexico. Comparative order will be established for a time, but Mexican ambition and hate will soon burst forth again. The past history of the country shows it contains turbulent elements that no power in Mexico can keep down. Considerable anxiety is manifested for the fate of the leading prisoners. It is feared the wild cry for retaliation and revenge will prevail, and the prominent officers be shot. It is to be hoped human counsels will, however, prevail, and the Archduke allowed to return to his native country.—But little hope can be entertained for Miramon and Mejia. The history of the former is well known, and the latter has been acknowledged as the leading and most successful General fighting under the Imperial banner. The execution of Maximilian would bring upon Juarez's head the execration of all mankind.

The full name of the Archduke is Ferdinand Maximilian Joseph. He is the eldest brother of Francis Joseph, the reigning Emperor of Austria, and was born in 1832. He married Marie Charlotte, youngest daughter of Leopold, King of Belgium, in 1857. Maximilian is a member of the Lorraine branch of the proud, imperial house of Hapsburg, which has wielded the sceptre over different nations of Europe for over six hundred years.

Owing to certain changes in the business arrangements of the proprietor, I have withdrawn from editorial connection with the Herald. The change in its management, has not resulted from any change of the views I have always taken in its columns for the past two years. I shall still urge them; if not as a journalist as a citizen. During my whole residence in Vicksburg, it has been conspicuously before the public as an editor. In now retiring for a season, I make my acknowledgements of the profound courtesy of people and press.

I. M. PARSONS.

We regret to part with him. He has contributed much to the reconstruction movement, and we hope will soon return to the tripod and aid in the completion of the work.

The True Policy.

It is wiser to realize at once that the present Congress has two years to run, and that the excluded States can be readmitted only on such terms as it may prescribe; and that it is better therefore, to elect members to a Convention pledged to accept the terms tendered without hesitation or delay. To this complexion, unpleasant as the reflection may be, it must come at last. The refusal of the Supreme Court to take jurisdiction of the questions involved in the Military Laws, removes every ground of hope of relief from the conference to which the opponents of Reconstruction occupied, and nothing is left but to reorganize under them, or to accept the alternative proposition of prolonged military rule with the certainty of ultimately organizing upon some other plan dictated by the dominant party, which would probably exclude from the polls all except the blacks and the so-called loyalists of the Brownlow clan. For this reason, while we rejoice to see that our opposition friends in Alabama have so far modified their position as to advocate the holding of a Convention, we shall advise its Mississippi the election of men who will face the issue squarely, and pledge themselves to put the State through on the shortest route to reconstruction in conformity to the requirements of Congress.

The commutation awarded to all Mississippi Confederate soldiers, who lost legs in the service and have supplied themselves with artificial ones, is seventy-four dollars. They receive a warrant on the State Treasury for this amount, on the certificate of the Probate Judge.

A force is now employed in taking up the remains of the Federal soldiers buried in the vicinity of Rienzi, and are removing them to the Soldiers' Cemetery, at Corinth, for reinterment.

Gen. Seymour, commanding at Pensacola, announces that quarantine will be enforced at that harbor from and after May 21st.

GRENADA AND MERIDIAN RAILROAD.—The people along the line of this road are going earnestly to work, to have the road built. Meridian and Lauderdale county will subscribe $125,000. while we are daily lying over our road to Okalona, these more energetic people are laboring day after day; and, if we do not wake up to our interests in the premises, will snatch the golden fruit from our grasp.—Holly Springs Reporter.

The Hernando Press of last week, says that Col. Felix Labauve was about to leave for France. Col. Labauve's object to visit the land of his birth and the haunts of his childhood, and also to attend the World's Exposition at Paris.

Judge Quarles, who has just returned from the South, says the construction party of the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad, on the 25th from Rio de Janeiro.

Mr. Stanbery's Opinion Reviewed.

We have read the Attorney General's opinion and breathe easier, as it relaxes many of the rigors of the military bill as interpreted and enforced by some of the military commanders. Mr. Stanbery divides the disfranchisement under the law into classes. 1st, those who held office under the federal government, and 2d, those who held office under State governments, after which he proceeds with his opinion. Those of whom he speaks explicitly are members of Congress and members of State legislatures, and members of conventions which have exercised legislative powers in respect to the seceding of the State, and organizing secession governments; but members of State conventions for the purpose of remodeling State constitutions, are not liable to disfranchisement therefor. Nor are any officers or clerks of the legislative or executive departments. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and officers of State government, whose functions are exercised at the capital, and judicial officers whose jurisdiction is co-extensive with the State, are clearly liable. Naval and military officers of the old army and navy, who took the oath of allegiance and afterwards entered the Confederate service, are among the excluded class. Those who can vote are all persons without distinction of race or color, aged twenty-one years and upwards, who have resided in the State twelve months previous to the day of election and have not been disfranchised for participation in rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony at common law. Officers properly municipal are not disfranchised, "such as officers of cities, towns, villages, and subordinate and other municipal divisions, of less jurisdiction than a county, whether their functions are executive or judicial, as is sometimes the case where the same officers act in both capacities." Militia officers can vote, holding military commissions before the war. Persons appointed by the Governor or Legislature and exercising special duty are not disqualified. A man is not disfranchised although he has held office and taken the oath, if he has not afterwards engaged in the rebellion; and not, although he may have taken part in the rebellion, if he has not previously held one of the designated offices, and taken the oath.

His opinion relative to some officers of States of limited jurisdiction, such as justice of the peace, sheriffs, &c., is reserved for further investigation. Actions of active service, and not passive sympathy, constitute giving aid and comfort to the enemy. Paying taxes, or holding civil offices during time of war does not disqualify a man. In all cases of doubt as to the rights of the citizen, the interpretation must be in favor of his right. Registers have no right to question applicants; the oath is the sole test, and when a person applies to the board for registration, the power of the board is confined to the administration of the prescribed oath, and if the applicant takes that, his name must go upon the registry. The board cannot enter upon the inquiry whether he has sworn truely or falsely; that inqury must be reserved to the court, which may afterwards have jurisdiction to try him on any indictment for perjury. This abstract will give the reader a pretty clear idea of the chief points of the long, but interesting, opinion. It is marked by a refreshing degree of liberality in the construction of the military law, and will enable many who have heretofore been classed among the disqualified to approach the ballot box. His opinion relative to the extent of the liability of county officers, and the powers and duties of commanding officers, will be looked for with much anxiety by our people who wish to see the vexed question of registration finally settled.

Isaac Bragg, a gentleman of color, is a candidate for Congress, to represent the District of Texas in which Austin is situated. He is opposed by G. R. Scott, editor of the Austin Intelligencer. Isaac's chances are said to be much the best.

Among the popular errors an exchange mentions the following, to which we direct attention:

That editors keep public reading-rooms, That they have plenty of time to talk to everybody. That they are delighted to get anything to fill up the paper with—That every man's own special axe is a matter of "public interest." That it doesn't make much difference whether copy be written on both sides. That editors return rejected manuscripts.

GENERAL SHERIDAN'S ORDER.—Under date of may 16, Gen. Sheridan has issued "Special order No. 45," couched in the following terms:

"Until further orders, no fire arms will be permitted to be carried, either openly or secretly, by any person in the city of New Orleans, except such as may be authorized or required by law to carry the same, in the execution of their official duties.

The Mayor of the city will give such instructions to the police as may be necessary to insure a strict enforcement of this order; and any person found violating it will be subject to trial and punishment by a military commission."

This order cannot be too highly commended, and we hope Gen. Ord will issue and enforce a similar one in Mississippi. In addition to fire arms, it should embrace bowie, dirk and butcher knives, and other implements of murder. Prohibit the carrying of arms and we will guarantee the quiet of the country against all rowdies and rioters.

The most practical speech made in Lafayette Square Thursday night, was by the colored Bishop Payne, of the African Methodist Church of Ohio. Although slow at the commencement, the old man warmed into a strain of fervor, humor and common sense, which held a large and admiring audience for a late hour. His advice to his colored brethren was in most respects sound and unobjectionable. He warned them against the advice of men who urged them to claim too many social prerogatives. He advised them to be slow in pressing claims which were unwillingly conceded, and to abandon the idea that Congress could elevate them unless they assisted in doing it themselves. He advised them to abandon the idea that the lands of their old masters were to be divided among the blacks; and, speaking for the negroes, he wished to say to those white people that the black man meant him. "If one negro stole a sheep it was no sign that all negroes would steal."—N. O. Crescent.

THE GIRLS TO THE YOUNG MEN.—The literary department of the loka (Miss.) Herald says: "Twenty four young men in this town are without wives."

Most young men consider it a misfortune to be born poor, or not to have capital enough to establish themselves at their outset of life in a good and comfortable business. Poverty is a misfortune, but often merely lacking a sufficiency to them, if we may judge by what we daily behold. It is the rich who are generally the poor; those who have no capital to begin with, are those who have a fortune in themselves, and who, by a proper application of their energies, soon become capitalists. Poverty is a blessing in disguise, and many a man has had reason to bless it for the good it has done him.

It will be seen that the Meridian Tournament Club proposes to have a grand tournament and fancy dress ball in this city, on Thursday, the 18th of June.

Preparations are now making on a large scale and there is no doubt that it will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind that has ever been seen in the South. The large assemblage that will be here from all parts of this State and Alabama will be addressed by Maj. H. St. Paul, the talented and eloquent editor of the Mobile Times and other distinguished speakers. Gen. Forrest is confidently expected here as one of the Judges. It will be noticed from the advertisement that three prizes in greenbacks are offered besides the knightly honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty.

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates. We have revised and redraced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every purse. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

Those who wish to enhance their exterior respectableness, and consequent influence in the circles of well dressed society, should examine the stock of Hirbuth, Sadler & Co., where gentlemen can be dressed in prevailing fashionable habiliments, and the ladies of fashion supplied with goods and exquisite corsets that will set the feminine world agog.

A Joint Depot Building is to be erected at Corinth by the Mobile & Ohio and Memphis & Charleston Railroad Companies. A Joint Depot was to have been commenced at this place long ago, but we have not seen any preparatory signs yet. Has the project fallen through?

Meridian is abundantly supplied with vegetables—gardens have been well cultivated, and though the late frost did much damage, old mother earth has supplied enough for all.

The house-furnishing and furniture establishment of Fallon, Fulton & Co., is as popular as ever and keeps up with the demands of the public. We invite the attention of country dealers to this house, assuring them the dealings here are conducted upon enlarged and liberal views. Both the Messrs. Fallon, as well as Dr. Fulton, are gentlemen with whom it is a pleasure to deal, and they are prepared to negotiate sales upon terms as favorable as any in this section. By an untiring energy, they have established a very large trade—by an undeviating integrity, they have made "troops of friends," and by an enterprise which is worthy of all commendation, they have established a position among the most successful merchants of the country.

We had a call on Monday from Eggleston, Esq., editor of the Mobile Tribune, who is just returning home after a visit to the North.

Judge Handy arrived here yesterday, en route to Macon to open the High Court on Monday. Ex-Governor Clarke and Hon. Patton Anderson, were also along, going up to look after the interests of their clients.

Sunday School Celebration.

A few of the children connected with the Baptist Church Sunday School in this City, assisted by a friend or two from another school, assembled early in the week, it seems, to get up a supper for the purpose of relieving the wants of a destitute Lady. The idea was a good one, plans arranged and preparations all made before the officers of the school were apprised of the design—so quiet was the matter kept, and so rapid its accomplishment.

On Wednesday night last the children of the entire Sunday School met at the Mayor's office and were kindly received and filled with lumbering amongst tables spread with heavy goodies and nice things provided over by the ladies of the Baptist congregation. The supper was a success in every particular, and the children, after an unusually hearty meal, returned to their homes and to bed, well satisfied with their evening's entertainment, and we presume dreamed of the delicious feast provided over by the ladies of the Baptist congregation.

The proceeding affair of energetic girls whose deep tenderness of heart overcquered natural timidity and gave them the courage to act, is worthy of the boys also devoted their [illegible] their own means to the [illegible] the laudable undertaking. We would like to know the names of the young misses engaged, were we satisfied that we could not be offended thereat. Some of the [illegible] to have the warm thanks of all concerned.

The Screw Superseded

BY J. J. WILLIAMS'

Improved Patent Lever Press

IN presenting this Press to the public, I feel safe in saying that it has every advantage in baling cotton that the Screw has, and in point of durability, cheapness, raising, repairing, &c., it is far preferable. Five or six hands can raise this press in less than half the time that it would require twenty hands to raise a Screw, with comparatively no danger. In repairing the patent lever press three or four hands can take away any stick of timber belonging to it, and put another in its place, in one hour, after it has been shaped.—One can be built with less timber, with less money, and much less labor, both to the employer and the mechanic—the mechanical work being more simple, and much less. No can be easily covered and protected from the wheather, and may be made to last for many years; and many of the farmers can repair them, modeling after the old stick. This Press is very strong and simple, and may be made on the plantation, by an ordinary mechanic, and managed by common laborers; and every piece of iron belonging to it can be made, or repaired at the nearest shop. The levers of this press are so arranged that great power is exerted on the compressing block, with a comparatively small expenditure of force in the prime move, which may be either manual, or by horse power. The strength of one man will press a bale weighing five hundred pounds, and upwards; and though it is construcated to the use of horse power, very few that have this press, will use a horse in packing, as two or three hands will press a bale of cotton by the time a horse or mule can be hitched and removed, or nearly so. This Press is unquestionably the cheapest contrivance, or machine for baling cotton ever invented; and its surpassing power cannot be questioned. As an evidence of its worth, I propose to build one of my Patent Lever Presses and test its merits against any other cotton press now in existence, in any of the following States, viz: Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, or Georgia, at some suitabl place designated by the opposite party:

and after, being fairly tested, if, in the judgement of twelve competent Judges, it be decided that his Press can be built for less money, and that it possesses greater compressing power with the same amount of force to act upon it—that it will pack more bales in a given length of time with the same number of hands, and thought to be more durable; or if it possesses a majority of these advantages, I will give him one half interest of my Press in said State. In evidence of its power, I propose to press a bale of cotton, of the usual size, weighing 800 lbs. with my own strength alone, for the bale, if I succeed, or give a Press if I fail.

Testimonials:

MR. J. I. WILLIAMS:—I take pleasure in certifying that your Patented Press gives entire satisfaction, and consider it decidedly superior to any other mode of packing cotton known to me: it is much cheaper, more simple, and durable than the old Screw, and much easier to the hand or mule (if one be used) in packing. Very Respectfully,

F. C. SEMMES.

MR. WILLIAMS:—We have used your Patent Presses the past season, and have fully tested them, and in our judgment they are superior to any principle of baling cotton now in use, and take pleasure in recommending them to the cotton planters, and public generally.—We have likewise seen your Circular, and indorse all set forth therein. We are proud to know that something has been invented to supersede the Screw successfully. In conclusion we believe it to be one among the best improvements of the day. Respectfully Yours,

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or to the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400, or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Grenada & Meridian R. R.

We are glad to learn that this great enterprise is attracting considerable attention throughout the entire country through which it is to pass. We understand from Prof. W. B. Townes, the agent appointed to solicit subscription for the road, for the counties of Yalobusha and Carroll, that his books will be open for subscription in a few days.

According to the Charter of this road $125,000 in money is required, before operations can commence. It is arranged so that every land owner can become a stockholder. If a man subscribes lands to the amount of $1000, he is only required to pay one tenth of that amount—one hundred dollars—and that in three annual installments of $33 33⅓ each. We presume every man who has lands through which this road passes will subscribe liberally.

We understand that Meridian and Lauderdale county will subscribe $125,000. What will Grenada, Yalobusha, Carroll, Choctaw, Winston, Neshoba and Kemper do? We feel confident that they will do their part.

The President, Mr. Brown, desires the people to subscribe liberally and that at once. He wishes to be able to show the people of Memphis, Mobile and Selma when he visits those places to solicit subscription, that the people along the route are anxious for the early completion of the road. Remember that only $125,000 is required before the work is begun. This amount can easily be raised, and the work will commence at once.

We understand that the Mississippi and Tennessee R. R. Company will survey the route and build ten miles of the road. They are taking a deep interest in the enterprise, knowing it will prove a great feeder to their road. Once the enterprising people of Memphis see the great advantage this road will be to them, they will open their purses and subscribe liberally. We trust that the Memphis press will lay this matter before their people. Let us not, in the meantime, become lukewarm in the matter. We have it in our power now to secure the Charter, and no sooner as this is done the work will begin in earnest.—Grenada Visitor.

A line of railway leading directly from Memphis to Mobile is the very thing needed by the people of this section, and Dr. Brown is the very man to head the undertaking. It is impossible to estimate the beneficial results which would accrue, to the people of Choctaw and adjoining counties, from the successful execution of this enterprise. As the railroad, when built, will run through or near Greensboro, we earnestly trust that, those of our county who have the means will put their "shoulders to the wheel" and contribute liberally for the furtherance of the undertaking.—Greensboro Valdite.

The True Policy.

It is wiser to realize at once that the present Congress has two years to run, and that the excluded States can be readmitted only on such terms as it may prescribe; and that it is better therefore, to elect members to a Convention pledged to accept the terms tendered without hesitation or delay. To this complexion, unpleasant as the reflection may be, it must come at last. The refusal of the Supreme Court to take jurisdiction of the questions involved in the Military Laws, removes every ground of hope for relief from their enforcement, which the opposers of Reconstruction occupied, and nothing is left but to submit to be under them, or to accept the alternative proposition of prolonged military rule with the certainty of ultimately organizing upon some other plan dictated by the dominant party, which would probably exclude from the polls all except the blacks and the so-called loyalists of the Brownlow clan. For this reason, while we rejoice to see that our opposition friends in Alabama have so far modified their position as to advocate the holding of a Convention, we shall advise in Mississippi the election of men who will face the issue squarely, and pledge themselves to put the State through on the shortest route to reconstruction in conformity to the requirements of Congress.

SUBMISSION, NOT ACCEPTANCE.—Those who are puzzling their brains to know whether the South will accept or not the provisions of the Military Despotism Bill, will be enlightened by the following, which we take from the Richmond Whig. It says:

It seems that some persons can not or will not understand any thing. We have not been called on to "accept" or "consent." We are asked no odds about it. We have been simply required to obey, and armies and generals have been sent down among us, and are now among us, a l defenceless as we are, to make us obey. We accept all this as Mr. Davis accepts imprisonment at Fortress Monroe; as Napoleon accepted it at St. Helena.

The Fenians are reported to have secret arsenals in New York, and to be in busy preparation. Gen. Sprays, in an oration at Boston last week, promised a raid on Canada forthwith.

Ex-Detective Baker has filed a bill to compel the city of Washington to pay the amount of a warrant allowed by it for the capture of Booth.

The Financial Troubles at New Orleans.

Jacob Barker's failure is considered a very bad one.

Great dissatisfaction exists that no official statement of the affairs of the First National Bank has been made by the examiner, Mr. Knox who has now had the institution in charge 12 days. The following is its condition: Liabilities, $1,170,000; assets, $1,500,000; one third the assets are considered good. The liabilities will be increased $100,000, that being the amount of the certified checks of the bank which the treasury held, and which were taken up by a draft of T. P. May & Co., and Oakes Ames, but which were not forwarded for collection. T. P. May & Co. represent May and A. S. Mansfield, a private banking firm just about starting. The principal debtors of the bank are: Gen. Beauregard by note, $40,000 and over drafts amounting to $72,000; Gen. Dick Taylor, $37,500; Gen. Harry Hays, $20,000; Gen. F. J. Herron, U. S. Marshal, directly and indirectly, over $20,000; Col. J. O. Nixon, of the New Orleans Cresent, $80,000; Gen. Wade Hampton Cuthbert Bullitt, Walton, Deslorde, and others. These have generally indorsed for each other. Over $200,000 of the funds of the United States Court were in the bank.

The defalcation in the treasury is over a million. Whitney's bondsmen are Gen. F. J. Herron, United States Marshal, T. P. May and A. S. Mansfield, each for $50,000; Robert Watson and A. T. Jones for $25,000. May, late assistant treasurer and president of the bank, has been arrested and held for the same amount. The appointment of John J. Walton as assistant treasurer has given general satisfaction. He is an old citizen.

"Our modern marriage service read thus: 'Clergyman—Will you take this brown stone front, this carriage and span and these diamonds for thy husband? Yes. Will you take this unpaid milliner's bill, this high waterfall of foreign hair, these affectations accomplishment and fine constitution for thy wedded wife? Yes. Then what mammon has joined together let the next best man run away with, so that the first divorce court may tear them asunder."

Horace Greeley, of New York.
Augustus Schell, of New York.
Aristides Welsh, of Philadelphia.
David R. Jackman, Philadelphia.
W. H. McFarland, of Richmond.
Richard Barton Haxall, of Richmond.
Abraham Warwick, of Richmond.
Gustavus A. Meyers, of Richmond.
William W. Crump, of Richmond.
James Lyons, of Richmond.
John A. Meredith, of Richmond.
William H. Lyons, of Richmond.
John Minor Botts, of Virginia.
Thomas W. Dowsell of Virginia.
James Thomas, Jr., of Richmond.
Horace F. Clark, of New York.

We notice with the sincerest regret the death of the Hon. Samuel Stillman Boyd, of Natchez, on the 21st inst. Judge Boyd has had few equals as a jurist and a man of talents, and the list of his superiors is an extremely short one.

HIDDEN TREASURE.—The last Pensacola Observer says:

Rumors of treasure being found have for several days been going the rounds, and seems the semblance of truthful reality.—It appears that while some negro men were digging a well on Monday last, on a lot in the upper part of the city, belonging to the estate of Joseph Secrist, deceased, they encountered a brick vault, and breaking through it found a chest with the key in it, on unlocking it broke the lock and began to turn it. Attached to a ring on the door of the chest by a wire, was a brass plate so arranged as to indicate the amount of the special deposit. This was copied by one of the negroes who participated in unearthing the chest, and has been dealt unfairly with by his comrades. His figures are almost in hieroglyphics, but parties who have examined them say that the sum is $240,000.

On Friday an attempt at insurrection was made at the Jeffersonville, Indiana, penitentiary. The plot was for one Floyd to get a store-room door open upon pretence to obtain a new pair of shoes, when the others were to rush in and escape. One man proved traitor to the conspiracy, and the ring-leaders were whipped according to the humane law of Indiana. There are 1,136 prisoners in the institution.

Gen. Hindman proposes to substitute side drains for levees on the Mississippi and its tributaries, turning the surplus waters of the Cumberland into the Tennessee, and those of the Tennessee into the Chattahoochee and Tombigbee, on the east, and into the west draining the Platte into the Arkansas, the Arkansas into Bayou Bartholomew, Red River into the Atchafalaya, &c.

Mr. Jas. M. Hampton, of Calhoun county, warns the public against the use of Northern oats, as he feels satisfied that some of them are dangerous to stock. He lost two valuable mules by feeding oats to them, and upon examination, discovered that the grain was mixed with large quantities of broken glass, which seemed so prepared as to preclude the idea that it was purely accidental.

Capt. Paul Forney, son of J. W. Forney, assigned to duty on Gen. Swayne's staff, has arrived in Montgomery.

The Tribune's special says the true reason of Gen. Thomas' call to Washington is that the President may get a true statement of affairs in Tennessee, there being been a complaint against Brownlow's suffrin.

Letter from Capt. Jennings.

The following letter from our young friend Charlie Jennings, speaks for itself. The correction has already been made, and the author's name given:

WACO, May 23, 1867.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—A paragraph in the N. O. Picayune, taken from the "Gazette," has just come under my eye, announcing my death in a duel at this place. The particulars are given with remarkable preciseness, as though your informant had been an eye-witness to the fact. Please write me who was your informant, for there is not a word of truth in the statement? I have fought no duel, nor have any difficulty in a ball-room, or out of it, that could possibly lead to one. A man so prone as to thus unnecessarily grieve my family and friends, is to loathsome to live.

Hoping you will make a public correction of the falsehood, I have the honor to be, as ever,

Very truly your Friend.
CHAS. A. JENNINGS.

MORE TERRITORY.—The Government is now busily engaged in making efforts for the acquisition of the British Northwest territory. It is understood that the consent of the inhabitants has been assured.

It is now settled, the Cairo Democrat tells us, that the Mobile and Ohio Railroad will, with all due haste, be finished to a point in Kentucky, opposite to Cairo. That the work may be completed in the shortest period possible, operations will commence simultaneously and vigorously on either end.

There was a procession of negroes last Wednesday night, in New Orleans, numbering five thousand. They carried transparencies, and were armed with clubs, but dispersed without doing any damage.

The New York Day Book proposes Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, and Edgar Cowan, of Pennsylvania, for the Presidency, in 1867, and somebody in the Chicago Times nominates Jeff. Davis for President and Greeley for Vice. Our opinion is Mr. Davis will never be up for office again. While in this "gulf of troubled waters," he will probably live a retired life with his family and friends.

The Mobile Nationalist, a weekly, in the interest of the Radicals, has been suppressed by Col. Sheppard, commanding at Mobile. The tone of the sheet was calculated to produce a "conflict of races." If printed hereafter its editorials must be submitted to Col. Sheppard.

Gilmore Sims says that so far as he can see, there is no possible escape for South Carolina from general famine, unless the charities of the outer world should be more prompt and bountiful than hitherto.

Jacob Barker, the New Orleans banker was arrested Tuesday of last week, on an affidavit made by Alderman Pat. H. Cummings, charging him with embezzlement and fraud. Mr. Cummings had deposited in the Bank of Commerce, at the date of its failure, the sum of $8000.

Rev. John W. Beckwith, Rector of Trinity Church, New Orleans, has declined the See of Georgia, to which he had been elected. His reason for declining so high an office in the Church is, that the work in his Diocese had but begun. He remains in accordance with the wishes of the largest congregation in the city.

MR. DAVIS IN CANADA.—A Toronto telegram of the 31st ult. states that Jefferson Davis was enthusiastically received there. He goes to spend a few days at Niagara Falls, and intends to reside at St. Catherines.

HEAVY DAMAGE AGAINST THE MOBILE AND OHIO RAILROAD.—Last week an important case was tried before the Circuit Court of Mobile, Judge Rapier presiding. The case was that of Wesley Thomas vs. the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company. The jury found a verdict for complainant of $16,000 damages. The complainant was a fireman on one of the engines which ran off the track, whereby he was injured and lost his right arm.

GLAD TO HEAR IT.—The Eutaw Whig and Observer of last Thursday states, upon the authority of the President of the road, that the arrangement which was made some months ago between the Directors of the N. E. & S. W. Railroad, (Meridian and Chattanooga,) and Mr. Geo. E. Waddell, will be carried into effect.

The Memphis and Charleston railroad has paid twelve dozen and seven shillings and the Governor of Tennessee has paid the Governor of Mississippi $1,000.

Mr. Greeley and the Enemies of Justice.

Horace Greeley is being pretty roughly handled by a lot of radical demagogues in the North for interceding in behalf of Jefferson Davis and then signing his bond. The New York Herald devotes four columns to abusing "honest Horace" and Wendell Phillips, of the Anti-slavery Standard, wants words to express his opinion, while the Union League, of New York, have arraigned and threatened to expel him from that "honorable body." And here is a verse of a new song some of them have prepared for the occasion:

We'll hang Horace Greeley on that sour apple tree,
Because he helped to set Jeff. Davis free;
Old Horace's philosophy we can not swallow down,

Charity and mercy may do now and then,
But cannot be extended to Jeff. or his men;
And now having power we must try and keep it there.

So we'll hang Horace Greeley on that sour apple tree,
Because he helped to set Jeff. Davis free.

The "gray old sage" responds to this treatment in strong and vigorous letters—letters which lay out his defamers right and left—"which literally scourge them, cutting their black-and-tar hides at every skelp." Hear him

At once a concerted howl of denunciation and rage was sent up from every side against me by the little creatures whom God, for some inscrutable purpose, permits to edit a majority of our minor journals, echoed by a yell of "Stop my paper," from thousands of imperfectly instructed readers of the Tribune. One impudent puppy wrote me to answer categorically whether I was or was not in favor of hanging Jeff Davis, adding that I must stop his paper if I were not. Scores volunteered assurance that I was defying public opinion; that most of my readers were against me, as if I could be induced to write what they wished said, rather than what they needed to be told. I never before realized so vividly the baseness of the editorial vocation, according to the vulgar conception of it.

And again:

I do not recognize you as capable of judging or even apprehending me. You evidently regard me as a weak sentimentalist, misled by a maudlin philosophy. I arraign you as narrow-minded bloodhounds who would like to be content to a great and good cause, but don't know how. Your attempt to base a great enduring party on the hate and wrath necessarily engendered by a bloody civil war, is as though you should plant a colony on an iceberg which had drifted into a tropical ocean. I tell you here, that out of a life constantly devoted to the good of human kind, your children will select my going to Richmond and signing that bail bond as my wisest act, and will feel that it did more for freedom and humanity than all of you were competent to do, though you had lived to the age of Methuselah. I ask nothing of you then, but that you proceed to your end by a direct, frank, manly way. Don't sidle off into a mild resolution of censure, but move the expulsion you purposed, and which I deserve, if I deserve any reproach whatever. All I care for is that you make this a square stand-up fight, and record your judgments by yeas and nays.—I care not how few vote with me, or how many vote against me, for I know that the latter will repent in dust and ashes before three years have passed. I understand one for all, that I dare you, and defy you, and that I propose to fight it out on the line that I held from the day of Lee's surrender. So long as any man is not seeking to overthrow our government he was my enemy; from the hour in which he laid down his arms he is my fellow-citizen, I give you fair notice that I shall urge the re-establishment of those now proscribed for rebellion, so soon as I shall feel confident that this course is consistent with the freedom of the blacks and the unity of the republic; and that I shall demand a recall of all now in exile only for participating in the rebellion, whenever the country shall have been so thoroughly pacified that its safety will not thereby be endangered.

While differing from the philosopher of the Tribune in politics, we must say his conduct outside has been manly, noble, honorable. In 1861 he wanted to "let the erring sisters depart in peace"; at the close of the war he asked pardon and amnesty for all, and now notifies his party that he will urge the re-infranchisement of those prescribed for rebellion, and demand the recall of those in exile, for participating therein, as soon as he shall feel confident that this course is consistent with the freedom of the blacks and the unity of the Republic. This bold and fearless assertion of his views and the heavy blows he has dealt among his adversaries, will not be soon forgotten by the great and generous heart of the Southern people. His action has not fallen on unthankful ground; 'twill yield him his own with fair increase. The Southern people will render him that tribute due his courage and manliness, his mercy and justice.

A petition addressed to Col. Shepherd, Commandant of the Post at Mobile, is being numerously signed in that city for the release of Mr. David J. Files, now imprisoned at Fort Gaines for his share in the Kelly riot on the 14th ult. It is understood that the petitioners pledge themselves for the future good behavior of Mr. Files, and for his appearance to answer for any charges that may be brought against him.

FREE RIDDEN.—The physicians of Montgomery, says the Selma Messenger, have reduced their fees to customary charges when "times were good." The scarcity of money is the cause of the reduction.

Dolbear Commercial College.

This celebrated and truly Southern institute is in full operation, the number in each class being nearly full, and the professors under Mr. Dolbear's able and judicious superintendence, giving a wonderful impetus to their pupils. To show how much of a national character Dolbear's Commercial College possesses, we will state that at the late commencement exercises, letters were received and read during the ceremonies, from such distinguished characters as General James Longstreet, General D. H. Hill, Governor Aikin, of South Carolina, Governor Wise of Virginia, and and others, highly commending the practical plan adopted by Col. Dolbear and followed by his college.

At the commencement ceremonies above alluded to, the following named graduates received their diplomas. It will be seen that some of the first names in the country are included among them:

E. B. Sumner, of Louisiana; C. W. Byington, of Georgia; H. L. Nusom, of Texas; H. H. Stout, of Mississippi; J. W. Lawrence, of Texas; C. Simmons, of Louisiana; T. Clements, of Louisiana; H. J. Hardee, of Louisiana; L. E Alexander, of Texas; C. C. Williams, of Texas; J. M. Levy, of Alabama; H. B. Ferguson, of Alabama; W. W. Hopkins, of Alabama; W. J. Foster, of Texas; L. P. Johnson, of Texas; L. L. Lobdell, of Mississippi; J. C. Buster, of Texas; Albert Iankes, of Texas; W. M. Lacy, of Texas; J. W. Cox, of Mississippi; J. G. Wilkerson, of Texas; J. L. Greene, of Texas; A. J. Love, of Texas; N. C Whittington, of Mississippi; J. T. Young, of Louisiana; G. W. Byington, of Georgia; M. A. Edwards, of Georgia.

Dolbear College cannot be too highly praised. This system is altogether practical—absolutely so.—Books, similar to those of mercantile and insurance houses, are kept, which the student is required to make entries in, and post in the same manner as if actually engaged in the business itself. He has also a complete system of telegraphing, and his pupils are taught in the rooms of the college all the secrets and minutia of the art, being rendered capable of telegraphing from New Orleans or any other point to Halifax, or over the Atlantic cable to any point of Europe.

Book keeping, arithmetical, gebra, telegraphing, and all the other branches required to make a perfectly accomplished practical business men are taught at Dolbear Commercial College, corner of Camp and Common streets, opposite the City Hotel.

Parents and guardians, as well as young men themselves, are respectfully invited to call and see for themselves.

There was a great reconstruction meeting at Greenville, Butler county, Alabama, on the 1st instant. White and colored citizens participated The Hon. Walter H. Crenshaw, presided, and opened with an earnest speech at length, especially addressed to the freedmen, who listened with marked attention. He was followed by Col. Mann, of Mobile, in a brief, pointed argument, and Capt. John B. Gamble, in an eloquent appeal to harmonious and just relations between the races. The people are a unit here in favor of prompt and faithful reconstruction under the military bill.

COLORED TOURNAMENT.—A number of the most spirited of the colored citizens of Memphis are at present engaged in making the preliminary arrangements for a grand tournament at the race course on the 6th inst.

In the city of Mexico, at the last accounts, meat was seventy-five cents per pound, in silver, and potatoes five cents each.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Safety Hand Lamp, AND Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and most valuable and the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is non-explosive. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no grease, smoke or smell, does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

This should be termed a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting it—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the Faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation. This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Affections of the Blues, Habitual Costiveness, Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fistula, all Skin Diseases, Liver, Complaint, Indigestion, Piles, Pulmonary Diseases, Syphilis, Scrofula or King's Evil.

The proceedings of the last meeting of the City Council, show that our city officials are going to fight Mr. Ragsdale's Junction bill. To do otherwise, would have the effect of breaking up our local government entirely, something the people of Meridian will not readily consent to.

Col. Martin Keary, the newly appointed United States revenue officer, for the Second District of Mississippi, was here the other day looking after the interests of the Government. He went down to Shubuta to seize a "still" belonging to some parties recently arraigned and bound over by Commissioners Gibbons and Walker. He returns to Meridian, again we understand, this week.

George P. Shedd has a lager beer saloon in full blast in the house adjoining Hill Henderson & Co's, on Lee Street. The latter dispensed by Shedd, is noted for its superior excellence, and we would advise the lovers of the beverage to try it.

Kahn, Woolf & Aaron.—We invite special attention to the card of this enterprising firm, to be found among our new advertisements this morning. They have just received one of the largest assortments of goods, of the most select variety to be found in East Mississippi, and are offering their prints at remarkably low figures.

Calicoes at 12½ to 20 cents per yard.
Lawns at 20 cents per yard.
4-4 domestics at 16 to 25 cents per yard.

We have had the pleasure of examining a portion of their latest arrival, and are fully satisfied that our lady friends can find no better bargains or more durable prints, than at this house. Give them a call at an early day.

Halloran & Hornuth.—It is with pleasure that we direct attention to the Confectionery establishment of these gentlemen. They have, at much expense and labor, succeeded in establishing one of the best Confectionery and Ice Cream Saloons in this city. The interior arrangements are both attractive and commodious, and we are glad to know that this establishment is fast becoming a favorite resort for the ladies and gentlemen during the warm and oppressive weather now upon us.—They deserve the thanks of the community for fitting up so agreeable resort, and will undoubtedly receive a liberal patronage.

Mrs. Norton is now in receipt of a fresh arrival of ladies' hats and bonnets, ribbons, trimmings, cashes, all of the latest style, and in endless variety. Now is the time to call at Mrs. Norton's.

The great object of persons who have become debilitated and feel forewarned of disease, is a remedy. Many think that biliousness is the cause, and use medicine which but feeds the disease. To all who feel thus, we suggest that they try a bottle of the Red Jacket Bitters, which will invigorate the system and promote perfect health.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J.J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides, J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-tf.

Another Wonder and Novelty.

Wonders and novelties never cease. Men have ever been experimenting on and improving fluids to dissipate darkness. Various vessels have been invented, and numerous liquids discovered to give the world artificial light. The latest, and we believe about the best, is the Meteor Safety Fluid. It possesses advantages that cannot be claimed by the friends of any other burning fluid. It is non-explosive; as convenient as a candle; will not smoke out; generates its own gas; the wick needs no trimming; the lamp is free from smoke, smell or grease; needs no chimney and cannot get out of order, and burning seven ninety fifty per cent of oil over the usual burning fluids, the cost of operation is equal to that of any other known fluid. These recommendations must certainly secure its adoption everywhere. Fulton, Patton & Co., of this place are the agents for Lauderdale County, and Chunnet county for Alabama, and can supply all with sufficient quantities. Call and examine the fluid and lamps. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she had used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its construction, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of the South and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition..... $145
Board for three months..... 90
Contingent expenses, about..... 20
Total $255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200; or $800; total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1800, or $3150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $2892 net gain to our Student; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $3295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn from $2000 to $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' JEWELRY ASSOCIATION

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in the United States. That business is and always has been conducted in the most honorable and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the correctness of our principles for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The endorsements of the trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused in this city the failure of many jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one-third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately received very large lots of these Bankrupt Goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away Finer Goods, and more valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a fair business. Our AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past season we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, as the articles distributed will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

The Chingarora ANTI-NERVOUS SMOKING TOBACCO!

THE CHINGARORA TOBACCO grows from the rich soil of the "ORIENT," and is grown entirely of a peculiar, delicious flavor entirely unknown to the tobaccos of all other climes. But its unprecedented popularity has sprung from the fact of the extraordinary effect that daily prevails, wherever they find the weed sold for use. Within the last few years, and in the midst of the distressing nervous diseases, dyspepsia, &c., with which our invigorating climate is filled, and which most invariably accompany other injurious habits, Sleeve Buttons, and a great variety of Vest and Neck Chains, plain and chased Gold Chains, &c., &c., valued at

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' JEWELRY ASSOCIATION

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in the United States. That business is and always has been conducted in the most honorable and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the correctness of our principles for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The endorsements of the trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused in this city the failure of many jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one-third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately received very large lots of these Bankrupt Goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away Finer Goods, and more valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a fair business. Our AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past season we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, as the articles distributed will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

The Chingarora ANTI-NERVOUS SMOKING TOBACCO!

THE CHINGARORA TOBACCO grows from the rich soil of the "ORIENT," and is grown entirely of a peculiar, delicious flavor entirely unknown to the tobaccos of all other climes. But its unprecedented popularity has sprung from the fact of the extraordinary effect that daily prevails, wherever they find the weed sold for use. Within the last few years, and in the midst of the distressing nervous diseases, dyspepsia, &c., with which our invigorating climate is filled, and which most invariably accompany other injurious habits, a great analyzation of tobacco from all parts of the world, at the Academy of Science in Paris, the renowned Chemist, M. Lanoussaux, declared that the Chingarora, of American tobacco contained fully eight per cent. and the purest Havana tobacco from one to five per cent. of Nicotine, that the CHINGARORA did not contain one discoverable particle of this deadly poison, a drop of which, distributed, will kill a man.

Our agent at BOMBAY has shipped us large quantities of the CHINGARORA during the past two years, and we have been pressed to supply the demand for this delicious luxury to the various parts of the globe, of which we receive it in unlimited quantities at a price much lower than some of inferior quality, and of the same quality.

A connoisseur has but to smoke the American tobacco cigars, which are invariably chemically flavored, to be disgusted with the medicinal taste of the tobacco, and the nervous feeling in the mouth, and in time seldom fails to produce its nervous prostration.

The natives of the "ORIENT" smoke the CHINGARORA from morn till night, from youth to age, and with the accumulation of the vivid, distressing fire which coarses through the veins, for all of the fumes of tobacco contained Nicotine.

We are a steady lover of the weed to try the CHINGARORA, and guarantee unprecedented pleasure in its delicious flavor.

The World Astonished

Madame LE FERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, law and lawsuits, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated. She gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your future life and for her great and almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see the future as clearly as the earth. She will procure or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, also direct the future destiny of man. Feel it to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable opportunity. Consultations free, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the above by mail with equal safety and satisfactions to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, stating all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of $3 and nativity. The strictest secrecy and honor will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. J. J. SHANNON.....Editor

A gentleman from Mississippi named P. C. Chewell, formerly a captain in the Confederate service, committed suicide recently in St. Louis by taking morphine. A letter was found on his person from a lady in Mississippi full of expressions of friendship and affection, but affording no particular information as to his past history.

Meridian presents decidedly a city like appearance. It has sprung from its ashes, and has taken a new growth, which gives promise of its very considerable importance as a city at no very remote day. Among its acquisitions, we note the hotel of our old friend, Gen. Patton, which is becoming a very popular establishment. By the way the General is a very valuable man to his country. His versatility is remarkable. He can do anything his hand finds to do. He was a good Confederate officer. He served his people acceptably in both branches of the State Legislature; is a Mason of very high position in his Order, and delivers addresses of rare elegance and classic taste, abounding in facts, fancies, figures, and tropes in commemoration of its divine mission; and withal, knows how "to keep house." For his single sake, we wish him success in all his undertakings.—Clarion.

"Ma," said a little girl to her mother, "do the men want to get married as much as the women do?" "Pshaw! what are you talking about?" "Why, ma, the women who come here are always talking about getting married, the men don't."

WELL PUT.—We can add nothing to the weighty considerations put forth in the following brief paragraph from the New York Times. Let us hope that this stubborn lesson in finance will not be forgotten by the next session of Congress;

With the Mississippi levees reconstructed, and the richest lands of Louisiana and Mississippi once more in cultivation, the increased receipts of the cotton tax would amount to nine or ten millions yearly. The failure of Congress to meet the question twelve months ago is punished by the present widespread inundations, which will entail a loss of receipts from cotton estimated at from four to ten millions. The difference between might have been and what will be, therefore, exceed twenty millions a figure which the country can ill afford to lose. Apart, then, from the humanity of a well-timed relief measure for rebuilding the levees, its financial wisdom is susceptible of demonstration. The guarantee of a few millions now, to enable the work to proceed, would be repaid tenfold in a few years.

ST. PETER'S DAY AT ROME.—The approaching festival of St. Peter's Martyrdom will occur on Saturday, the 29th of June, with extraordinary pomp and ceremony. The Pope has invited all the bishops in Christendom, who can find the means of doing so, to accept his invitation, to assemble beneath the dome of St. Peter's on the day of St. Peter and St. Paul. Five hundred bishops have already signified their intention to attend the ceremonies, and it is anticipated that not less than eight hundred prelates of every tongue and nation, and race and color, from all parts of the globe will be present on this great occasion. The largest number of American Bishops have sailed from New York on their way to Rome.

A BRIDGE OF PEOPLE IN ST. LOUIS.—Mrs. Eliza S. Perkins, a beautiful and luxuriant widow, with an eye of fire and a form of sylph-like proportions, has brought suit in the Circuit Court against one James Hall, for $10,000 damages. We know nothing about Mr. Hall, neither does the Deputy Sheriff, who has been unable to find him to serve the notice upon him. The officer does not know the defendant even by sight, and is hunting for him with the document in one hand and the defendant's photograph in the other, by the aid of which he hopes to identify him and bring him into court. Judging from the picture, Mr. Hall is a handsome man, somewhat declined into the vale of years, with a face that might have been handsome forty years ago, and an expression of sadness that might have been caused by disappointed love. Mr. Hall has probably left the city, and if he sees this notice will save trouble by coming forward and delivering up $100,000, or taking the fascinating widow for his lawful wife.—St. Louis Democrat.

Dr. J. W. Dennis, formerly of Peoria, Illinois, about three weeks ago, eloped with a Mrs. Harris, of Onedia, Illinois. Dennis leaves two wives and three children behind; Mrs. Harris leaves a husband and three children. The most damnable act on Dennis' part was to sell his real estate, piano and take her gold watch, which her father gave her long since, and leave her not a dime to subsist upon.

Charges are being carried at Washington against Gen. Pope, Governor of Louisiana, and efforts are being made to have Gen. Sheridan removed.

☞ Encouraged by the liberal patronage extended the Gazette, and with a view to increase its circulation, we offer the following liberal inducements to clubs:

Five copies of the Weekly six months.....$5.00.
Five copies of Semi-Weekly one year.....$20.00.

REGISTER, REGISTER.

The work of registration commences in Lauderdale on Saturday the 15th inst. We ask the attention of our subscribers in this county to the notice by the Board of their appointments at the different precincts. Register yourself and use your influence with your neighbor to register also. Prepare to vote and take part in the government of the country.—The time is limited and the opportunity to register should not be neglected.

Encouraged by the liberal support that the public in this part of the State have given the Gazette, and with a view to increase still farther its circulation, we have reduced the subscription price of the Weekly to two dollars per annum. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, our circulation has increased during the last three months and is now double that of any paper that has been published in Meridian or in this part of the State since the removal of the Clarion to Jackson. The Weekly Gazette is the cheapest paper in the State, will have but few advertisements and contains a complete epitome of all the news for the week. A little effort on the part of our friends would soon double our circulation.

A subscriber at Paulding complains at the delay and irregularity in receiving our paper at that office. The semi-weekly is issued on every Thursday and Sunday. The Weekly on Tuesday. As the papers are mailed on the day of their date, the weekly should be received at Paulding Tuesday evening—the semi-weekly of Thursday on Thursday evening, and the semi-weekly of Sunday on the Tuesday following.

Rev. A. Slover, a member of the Legislature from Tippah county, died at his residence in that county, a few weeks since.

Officer W. M. Rogers, of the Memphis Police, was shot last Tuesday in the streets of Memphis by a drunken fireman named Thomas Pruett.

The Clarion of the 5th says we are sorry to learn that our friend D. M. Lamkin, of the firm of Johnson & Lamkin, Vicksburg, had his leg broken by accident on board the steamer Calumet, last week.

We will thank our friends in different parts of the State, and especially in the Eastern counties, to send us information of the condition of the crops, progress of registration, number of white and colored voters registered, &c. &c.

Messrs. Power & Jones of the Clarion, have purchased the stereotype plates from which the rules of practice and proceedings in Bankruptcy are being printed at Washington, and will soon commence printing them for the use of lawyers and others in this State. The book will be sent post paid, for $1 25 per copy.

We have just seen an intelligent gentleman from Jasper county, who states that the Board of Registers had completed registration at the Hickory Grove box, and the result was 110 colored and 60 white voters registered. Jasper will give a large majority in favor of a Convention.

Yellow fever is reported to be in Havana.

Thos. J. Durant telegraphs Gen. Sheridan he will not accept the Governorship chair of Louisiana. He has been living in Philadelphia—practising law—since the July riots, and it is said never intends returning to the Pelican State.

Gen. Pope upon the recommendation of Maj. Gen. Swayne has removed the entire Boards of Aldermen and Common Council of the city of Mobile and appointed six Aldermen and eighteen Councilmen to take their places.

The Booth Diary.

So much has been said and written about the Booth Diary that the President recently applied to the Secretary of War for a copy of it, which was promptly furnished, certified to by Judge Advocate Holt, who affirms that in all respects it is as when it came into his possession, and refers to the statement of Col. Conger that it had not been mutilated since taken from Booth's body. It is short and rather shows there was no plot, in the true meaning of the term, for the assassination of the late President Lincoln. "Until to-day" he says in one of his entrys, "nothing was ever thought of sacrificing to our country's wrongs." If the intention to assassinate was conceived upon the day of its execution the innocence of Mrs. Surratt is pretty well established. Booth writes that he thought he was performing an act of heroic self-sacrifice—was doing "what Brutus was honored for, what made Tell a hero."

The diary, if correct, is a remarkable chapter of the history of the times and the public are yet at a loss to know why it has been so long secreted. It would have been of much value if used at the Surratt trial, and relieved President Johnson of Butler's insinuation of complicity in the assassination, if permitted to have gone before the country. But let us look at the different statements of the men who handled the document as given by a cotemporary, and see if suspicions of forgery are not well founded. Joe Holt testified before the Judiciary Committee of the House, that Colonel Conger brought the diary to him, fresh from Booth's body. He afterwards admitted that Conger had not given the diary to him, but had given it to Stanton, who had given it to Eckert, who had given it to Holt. Stanton denies this statement, and says Conger gave the book to the notorious detective, Baker, and that Baker brought it to him. Conger swore that the book is in the same condition it was when he took it from Booth's body, and Holt testifies that it has not been altered. Butler asserts, that the book has been spoliated—that leaves which would have established the innocence of Mrs. Surratt, have been cut out; and even Baker declares that the diary is not in the condition it was when he first saw it. He says that it contained an account of Booth's killing his horse in a tangled wood to escape detection, and then sleeping between the animal's legs to get the warmth while it remained in the dead body during all of one night.

A writer in the New York World thus gives his reasons for believing from internal evidence that the diary is not genuine. He says:

"It was probably written, at the instigation of the detective Baker, by some newspaper correspondent. It bears in every line the marks of invention. In some places this is overdone. Booth is made to say: I shouted sic semper before I fired. It is absurd to suppose the real Booth would have written such a thing. Again: In jumping I broke my leg. I rode sixty miles that night with the bone of my leg tearing the flesh at every jump." Then, the bone of his leg still tearing his flesh, enemies on every side, all the crossings guarded, the fatal circle of foes steadily closing in, every secon.l of time of incalculable value, the necessity for devoting every faculty to the business of escape a matter of vital importance, Booth sits down to write several hundred words of maudlin nonsense. There is hardly a semblance of reality in that 'diary.'

As to the reason of this forgery, if forgery it is, the writer in the World says:

"But what necessity for forgoing a diary? One of two things is true. Either Baker and his associates killed the wrong man, or, killing the right man, they forged this diary in order to magnify the importance of their deed and the importance of the supposed plot which resulted in assassination. If one supposes that they killed the wrong man, a dozen mysterious circumstances are explained.—Then one understands why the story that Booth is still alive is so frequently reaffirmed; why men, apparently responsible, deliberrly announce that they have seen him; why the corpse of the supposed assassin was so mysteriously hurried into a concealed pit; why even the clothing of the supposed Booth was dr.s royed; why there was every-where a labored attempt to prove that Booth had indeed been killed.

The Mobile papers tell us that Samuel Lyons of the banking firm of James Tait & Co. of Mobile, has absconded, taking with him some fifty thousand dollars. A free use of the telegraph has failed to apprehend him.

Crops in Pontotoc County.—Corn looks well and is growing fast. The wheat crop is fine and cotton gives satisfaction.

A. L. Pope, an old citizen of Mobile died Wednesday night.

The Past and Present.

The order No. 5 of Gen. Ord, commanding the Fourth Military District, which virtually prevents all freedom of action in taking any part in political matters, is creating some talk in Mississippi, and at least one prominent citizen, Hon. W. L. Sharkey, of Pontotoc, has written to Secretary Stanton and Gen. Grant, asking that Gen. Ord be required either to modify the order or that he be removed, so as to give the people of the State more than just the right to pray. We may wrote a long letter to Gen. Ord, telling him that it was absolutely necessary to overcome both the Democratic party in Mississippi that a branch of the Republican party should be organized. Gen. Ord returns this letter with the indorsement that he holds the opinion that the most important duty devolving upon freedmen is that they provide by their own labor for their support, and that he cannot see that this opinion can be construed to the benefit of rebels or Union men: to prevent poverty and starvation among the masses the soil must be tilled. Part 3 of General Order No. 5 means this, and this only, and has no political bearing whatever, as the General commanding has no connection with political parties. He will neither prevent nor assist party organizations.

"How little do they see what is who frame their hasty judgments upon that which seems." In looking over the proceedings of what is known as the Secession Convention, we find this same R. W. Flournoy was there to aid in voting the State out of the Union. Here is the vote taken on the adoption of the Ordinance of Secession:

And when Mr. Alcorn's motion came up providing that the Ordinance should not go into effect until at least the States of Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Louisiana, seceded from the Union and resumed their sovereignty, R. W. Flournoy of Pontotoc, voted nay; he wanted to shove Mississippi out forthwith. Now he is prating about the political rights of the negro and urging the organization of a radical party in the State. This outward sainted lover of the negroes rights will hardly do to trust, Mr. Stanton. He frames his face to all occasions.

Whether Mr. Flournoy was as ready to fight for secession as he was to vote for it, we are not advised. The reply of Gen. Ord to the impertinent suggestions of this latter day saint, is manly and patriotic and should commend him to every patriot, no matter where he lives, North or South. Gen. Ord has a proper conception of the dignity of his position, and will not prostitute his office to break down or build up political parties.

I say now unequivocally that Gov. Wells is a political trickster and a dishonest man. I have seen him myself, when I first came to this command, turn out all the Union men who had supported the Government, and put in their stead rebel soldiers, some of whom had not yet doffed their gray uniform. I have seen him during the July riot of 1866, skulk away where I could not find him to give him a guard, instead of coming out as a manly representative of the State and joining those who were preserving the peace. I have watched him since, and his conduct has been as sinuous as the mark left in the dust by the movement of a snake.

I say again that he is dishonest, and dishonesty is more than must be expected of me.

Gov. Wells, it should be remembered, began his career as a "persecuted loyalist" and for a time won a little fame among the radicals, but of late there has been "none so poor as to do him reverence."

It is now reported that Maximilian and officers have not been executed. They surrendered their swords to Escobedo.

Wendell Philips is losing his temper and with it his logic. A few weeks ago, he stood before the country in somewhat admirable attitude of an agitator, an outlaw. Now he affects the loyalist. The change shorns him of one-half the locks of his strength. His last cry is one of rage at the purchase of Jefferson Davis, and at Horace Greeley for going bail for him. He speaks of Davis as "the wretch who sought to crush the most beneficent government in the world." Wendell forgets that he was said in the Surgerist of John Brown, and that, to use his own words he "labored for dissolution for nineteen years."

The New Albany (Ia.) Ledger gives an account of the murder of his wife and only son by Thomas J. Smith, formerly of Floyd county, and the subsequent suicide of Smith, near Darby, Perry county, Ia. The suicide left a communication complaining of domestic disagreement.

The Safety Hand Lamp,

AND

Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and need? ?, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Oil will not blow out nor explode and the Oil is inexhaustible. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Head to the burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

THE GREAT

SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Comprise a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepares from pure Drugs, by a class of experienced Southern Physicians, specially for the Diseases incidental to a Southern locality.

They are not secret nor patent mixtures and are recommended to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know but little about Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines ever offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

FEMALES OF THE SOUTH!

Diseases peculiar to your sex, incident to all localities, culled from the passin breath, that flows to you with its perfume from or snatched from some pedant dew-drop, are to you a constant and abiding trouble. Whether an inhabitant of city or country, hill or dale, palace or hovel, disease rankles and preys upon your vitals. Gloom and dispair are your constant companions. Your pale and ghastly countenance, your colorless cheeks, your lifeless eye, your tottering walk, your palpitating heart, your dejected brow, all tell of that disease which is gradually and steadily making inroads upon your declining system.

The Sunshine of Hope

Now bursts upon your vision, and the clouds of dispair that hang as a heavy pall of gloom upon your future can now be driven back, and the bright visions of health in all its grandeur are now offered you.

DROMGOOLE & CO'S

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates.—We have revised and reduced our terms so as to get the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

Notice to Correspondents.

"May," who sends us an acrostic and a piece of poetry, signed "Night" is informed that her communication is respectfully declined. If you wish to write anything for publication try prose. The verses you send are deficient in measure and do not indicate much genius for poetry.

"Long Ago," by E. S. will appear in our issue.

We invite attention to the card of Smith & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale seed corn and sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smith & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides Mr. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, in their employment and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

The great object of persons who have become debilitated and feel forewarned of disease, is a remedy. Many think that biliousness is the cause, and use medicine which but feeds the disease. To all who feel thus we would say, look into the virtues of the Red Jacket Bitters, which will invigorate the system and produce perfect health.

Sears & Alford.—The card of this house will be found in to-day's print. The gentlemen composing the firm are known to everybody in the county, and their reputation for honor and fair dealing have purchased with an eye to supply business. Their goods are unexceptionable in quality, and are sold at moderate figures.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Cooking House, Chinn, by Shipley & Chinn. We spent a few days recently at this house, and can say that it is one of the best kept houses we visit Cohn.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students enroll in the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1600, or $5150 he earns in four years. Budget $255 leaves $4862 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the students in both cases to have A-Good English education to begin with. We deem it business-like action that the latter student terms $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers'

JEWELRY ASSOCIATION

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most responsible Jewelry Association in the United States. That business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. It has rapidly increased, and is a safe guarantee of its appreciation of our patronage for the method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, giving to the late German wars, and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry Houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these Bankrupt Goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away these Goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment in doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have introduced a number of the most valuable articles to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will perceive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are also ALL Prizes dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, and the articles drawn will be immediately sent to any address, by return mail or express.

Thursday : : : : : : : June 13, 1867.

Dr. Harmon and the Enterprise and East Mississippi Relief Society.

We call the attention of our readers, and especially those in the counties of Clarke, Lauderdale, Jasper and Newton, to the following article from the Cairo Democrat of last Saturday.—The statement that the people of these counties "are without clothing to cover their nakedness, and are barely kept alive by the bread of charity," and that "old dresses, coats, pantaloons, shirts, boots or shoes, no difference how much worn, will be received by these nearly naked people with feelings of the deepest gratitude," will excite surprise and indignation in the counties named. We know there is a scarcity of provisions in this section, and indeed throughout the State, owing to the failure of the crop of last year, but nothing to warrant Dr. Harmon in making representations that would call forth such an article. There have been and still are many persons here in want of corn and meat to carry on their farms, who would be abundantly able to pay for any supplies they could purchase as soon as their crops come in. They relied on commission merchants for advances, and have been disappointed. There are others destitute; some from illness, and many from misfortune.—Contributions of provisions from the west, properly distributed, would be productive of much good. But the destitution in clothing is not general; the cases are exceptional, such as might be found in any part of the country, North or South. So far as clothing is concerned, the people of the counties named, whether white or black, are not the ragged vagabonds Dr. Harmon would make believe. We have, during the last few months, been in all of these counties, and we neither saw nor heard of the "nakedness" that Dr. Harmon proposes to clothe.

So far as the assertion, on the authority of Dr. Harmon, that "during the past six years, the youth of the localities named have not had a single days schooling, and now that Sunday Schools are being established, there is great anxiety upon their part to attend, but they cannot do so on account of their almost entire nakedness," it may surprise our Cairo contemporary to learn that in these localities there are several thousand well dressed children attending schools daily and in these benighted regions there are many well conducted institutions of learning in successful operation, that are educating both white and colored children. The cases of children that "have not had a day's schooling" and can't attend Sunday school for want of clothing, are certainly very few in number and confined to the very poor and worthless, such as might be found in Illinois or any State of the Union. We understand the merchants of Cairo have contributed liberally to relieve the wants of many of our people. We thank them for that, and we thank our friend of the Democrat for his sympathy, but must respectfully decline to put them to the trouble of looking up their old worn out "boots and shoes" to send us. We can also dispense with the "old pieces of carpet, torn bed clothes" &c. The counties that Dr. Harmon assumes to represent contain a population of 44,000 —24,500 whites and 19,500 colored. The Gazette has a large circulation in these counties and our subscribers will sustain us in the assertion that the facts as they exist, whether among our white or colored population, do not justify Dr. Harmon in creating such an impression. We think Dr. H. had better come home and that the Enterprise Relief Society would do well to appoint another agent. Such gross exaggerations to say the least of it, are sufficient to cast suspicion on all his transactions.

From the Cairo Democrat, June 8th.

Another Call for Relief.

NAKEDNESS AND STARVATION.

Dr. J. W. Harmon, representing the Enterprise and East-Mississippi Relief Society is now in the city. He holds a commission to act, signed by Governor Humphreys, of Mississippi, and stamped with the seal of the State.

The people of Clark, Jasper, Lauderdale and Newton counties, Mississippi, whose he represents, are in a pitiable condition of destitution. They are without clothing to conceal their nakedness, and are barely kept alive by the bread of charity. He is here therefore to obtain provisions, money or any kind of old cast-off clothing. Old dresses, coats, pantaloons, shirts, boots, or shoes, no difference how badly worn, will be received by these nearly naked people with feelings of the deepest gratitude—There are in the city thousands of garments thrown by as useless, or kept in reserve for the rag man, that would prove very acceptable to these poor people. That there may be no hesitation about sending ragged articles of apparel, he has authorized to ask for even old pieces of carpet, torn bed clothes, or any articles that can be manufactured into the very roughest kind of clothing. Contributions may be left at the auction rooms of Lyas T. Parker, on the Ohio Levee, or they will be called for in any part of the city.

Dr. Harmon informs us that during the past six years, the youth of the localities named have not had a single day's schooling, and now that Sunday schools are being established, there is great anxiety upon their part to attend, but they cannot do so on account of their almost entire nakedness.

The ministers of the various churches of the city, are requested to make this call known to their congregations. The wants of the people represented by Dr. Harmon, are of a pressing character, and every means calculated to secure prompt relief must be adopted.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

AUGUSTA, GA., June 7.—Gov. Orr, addressed the citizens of Anderson District, S. C., After reviewing the various plans proposed during the war for reconstruction, he earnestly insisted upon the acceptance of the plan of reconstruction, now proposed as the only means of preventing the administration of the affairs of the country passing into the hands exclusively of the ignorant, and consequently the barbarian and tyrant, and as the only hope of making this country even tolerable.—He showed from the census of 1860 the great preponderance of the colored over the white voters in the State, and utter inability of the whites to defeat the Convention or protect themselves whenever an issue was made with the colored people. There are 60,000 colored voters in the State, while there are only 40,000 white. Intemperance, he says, that there are not now so many colored men as in 1860, but it is sure that proportionate decrease has been proper with the whites than the blacks since the commencement of the war. Gov. Orr insisted upon the cultivation of the most cordial relations between the races and the formation of no alliance with the two great political parties of the nation.

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—Benj. F. Flanders, the new appointee for Governor, relieving Governor Wells this morning at the executive office, and made known that he came in obedience to the order of General Sheridan, and was ready to enter upon his duties as State executive. Governor Wells declined voluntarily to vacate the office, and protested in writing against this action of the military authorities.

At one o'clock P. M., an order was received at the Governor's office addressed to Governor Wells but he was absent. The nature of the communication has not been ascertained.

Mexican news received to-day confirms previous reports that Lopez had sold Queretaro to Escobedo for three thousand dollars. Nothing new.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Southern Relief Fund commission, is still vigorously carrying on its beneficial work, in addition to loading the U. S. steamship Purveyor, which left this port on Tuesday last, the Commission have since shipped 8,000 bushels of corn to Charleston and Savannah for interior distribution. A voucher for the Treasurer, Mr. James M. Brown, received from Davenport District, S. C., an application for relief from the heads of 62 families, the names of each person being given representing 326 individuals. Unless relief be afforded soon, some of whom are now suffering for bread, the worst consequences may be expected. So long as this agency for food is heard, so long will this Commission call for money.

CHARLESTON, June 7.—Gen. Sickles has published another order of which the following is the substance:

1. Reynolds, Sheriffs, Chiefs of Police, City Marshals, Chiefs of Detective and Town Marshals to report to Col. Blanding, Provost Marshal General of this District, the duties, salary, etc., of each officer, and by what authority appointed.

2. Reports to be made of the commission of all offences, arrests, etc.

3. Reports to be made of the escape of prisoners and the attending circumstances of such escapes.

4. Sheriffs are required to report the condition of jails.

Civil officers in charge of jails, prisons or establishments, are to make monthly reports to the Provost Marshal General.

5. All sheriffs, constables, &c., are required to obey and execute the lawful orders of the Provost Marshal General; and resistance to, or embarrassment of the lawful orders or authority of the Provost Marshal General, will subject the offender to trial by a military commission.

7. Requires duplicate reports to be sent to the Post Commanders.

8. Sheriffs will not release civil officers from the discharge of duties now required of them.

Disobedience of sheriff's and constable's fees for services performed under orders of the Provost Marshal General.

9. Requires all persons who may know of any breach of the peace to make complaint at once to the Chief of Police.

11. Imprisonment for default of payment of costs, fees and charges of the Court, attorney or public officer, shall not exceed 30 days.

NEW YORK, June 7.—A special cable dispatch says that a cowardly attempt was made to assassinate the Emperor of Russia while driving back from a grand review in the Champ de Mars Napoleon through the Bois de Boulogne. A young man fired a pistol at the Czar, but the pistol was overcharged and exploded, wounding the assassin in the hand.

Bystanders threw up the hand which held the pistol, and he was instantly cut down by the escort and made a prisoner, severely wounded. The assassin is supposed to be a Pole.

PROGRESS OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

PETERSBURG, June 7.—The President and party arrived here on their return to Washington at seven this evening, having been escorted thither from Jarrat's depot, 20 miles from Petersburg, by Major Collier and a committee of the City Council.

A few remarks were made by the President, Secretary Seward and Post Master General Randall. After supper the party proceeded to Richmond.

RICHMOND, June 7.—The Presidential party arrived here at 10 o'clock, and were met at the depot by the Mayor and a committee of the City Council, and Capt. Millward, of the Spottswood Hotel, by whom they were escorted to that hotel. A band of music performed several patriotic airs.

BUTTLER FOR CONFISCATION.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The following is the concluding paragraph of a letter (from Butler) to a negro meeting last night: "It is not a self-evident political truth, that where the land is held in large tracts be the employer, or to be tilled by the employees, there can be no just and true field for the exercise of Republican citizenship, and it is one of the pressing a thickness of the country, is the very basis of reconstruction, that some plan must be devised by which the lands of the South may be divided among those who shall occupy and till them.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Benjamin F. Flanders, whom Gen. Sheridan has appointed Governor of Louisiana, arrived there twenty years ago from New Hampshire, and commenced his career as clerk in the Charity Hospital. He was Secretary to Mayor Crossman, and an ardent Know-Nothing. As Secretary of the Opelousas Railroad, he was violently opposed to co-operation during the incipiency of the rebellion. He has been Federal Treasury Agent for several years past.

Gen. Sheridan appears unsupported here. His prompt action defeats the plans of schemers and shocks the Conservatives.

The treasury holds $340,000,000 as security for the National Bank's circulation—$60,000,000 for deposits of public money—$300,000,000 National Bank circulation is $236,000,000; fractional currency $29,000; revenue receipts for the week $5,500,000, receipts for the year to date, $52,000,000.

The Postmaster General returned this morning. The President will return this evening.

The President received his first intimation of Governor Wells' removal through the newspapers. The President considers these removals unauthorized by law.

Mayor Withers has returned from New York, and will communicate with the President on Monday.

General Grant has returned from West Point.

General Johnson was at the War Department yesterday, looking after the interests of his road. This is the first visit since 1861, when he vacated the Quartermaster Generalship.

The Secretary will redeem and destroy $20,000,000 compound interest notes next week.

The State Departme nt has been officially informed of the commencement of the sentence of the 128th American Fenians.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Gen. Lee is now before the United States District Court, Judge Bryon has decided that the Virginia Company is bound to exhibit private messages in evidence when required, the question of being within the class of privileged communications. The decision receives much comment in mercantile circles.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Duncan & Kendall have filed a bankruptcy petition. Their liabilities amount to $120,000.

BROOKLYN, June 8.—A fire originated to-day in the rear of Olin and Hall's building avenue. The stable of Peter Lyman, with four valuable horses were burned.—The stable was broken open and $18,000 stolen. It is probable, therefore, the fire was the work of burglars.

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—This morning at half-past nine o'clock, Brevet Brig. Gen. James Forsyth, of Gen. Sheridan's staff, relieved the Executive office, in the Mechanic's Institute, and told Gov. Wells he bore a written communication to him from the General Commanding, which was found to be as follows:

HDQR'S. FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT, }
NEW ORLEANS, June 7, 1867. }

Mr. J. Madison Wells, ex-Governor of Louisiana, New Orleans, La:

SIR: Gov. Flanders has just informed me that he made an official demand on you for the records of the office, which you have refused to yield up. By virtue of the authority you have acknowledged and urged on me up to the time of your own removal, I request you to deliver Brigt. Brig. Gen. James W. Forsyth, or my staff, to notify you that he is sent by me to elect you from the Governor's office, and respectfully, unless you consider this notification as equivalent to election.

(Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN,

Maj. Gen. U. S. A., Commanding 5th Military District.

After reading the communication Governor Wells said to Gen. Forsyth: "Sir, I surrender the office I held only to the sword." He then called upon Judge Ellis, the Chief Justice of Louisiana to bear witness of what he said. Without making any more ado, Sheriffs Gen. Forsyth withdrew. The new appointee, Mr. Flanders, will therefore take immediate possession of the executive office.

Ex-Governor Wells has consulted with eminent counsels as to the proper course to pursue at law.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The yacht Henrietta, from Europe, is coming up.

The ship sunfisher, of Wiscasset, was towed into Horse Shoe harbor into Maxinillian's confidence, and two other Imperial Generals, ousted the fall of Queretaro by selling one of the principal forts.

Maximilian in surrendering made three requests: "He should not be insulted, but treated as a prisoner of war; if any to be shot, he be the first; if shot his body not to be abused."

[BY THE CABLE.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Herald's special from Paris, yesterday says the Imperial party had a very narrow escape, the ball passing in a line between two of the distinguished personages, wounding a milady standing in the street. The horse ridden by the groom in waiting was wounded in the head immediately after the discharge, and the blood spouted on the Imperial uniform.

The assassin attempted a second shot, when the pistol burst. He is a Pole, coming from Belgium, and without accomplices in Paris.

PERTH, June 8.—The coronation of the Emperor Joseph of Austria, as King of Hungary occurred here to-day in the presence of a great concourse of people.—The ceremonies were very impressive, and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

A deduction will be made where advertisements are published in both papers.

☞ Encouraged by the liberal patronage extended the Gazette, and with a view to increase its circulation, we offer the following liberal inducements to clubbers:

We will send six copies of the Weekly Gazette one year for $10.00.

Six copies of the Weekly six months $5.00.

Five copies of Semi-Weekly one year $8.00.

Five copies of Semi-Weekly six months $10.00.

Encouraged by the liberal support that the public in this part of the State have given the Gazette, and with a view to increase still further its circulation, we have reduced the subscription price of the Weekly to two dollars per annum. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, our circulation has increased during the last three months and is now double that of any paper that has been published in Meridian or in this part of the State since the removal of the Clarion to Jackson. The Weekly Gazette is the cheapest paper in the State, will have but few advertisements and contains a complete epitome of all the news for the week. A little effort on the part of our friends would soon double our circulation.

Should County Officers Register!

The opinion of the Attorney General does not disfranchise those who held county offices before the war and afterwards participated in it. The citizen is entitled to every doubt in his favor. The large class of persons who held county and precinct offices before the war should not hesitate to come forward and register.

The Registration Board have no right to decide who shall or shall not register. Their duty is to register all who take the required oath.

Every citizen has as much right to decide on the law and the opinion of the Attorney General as the Board of Registrars. They have no judicial power. The country cannot afford to dispense with the services of so important a class as those who have held county offices in the work of reconstruction and we therefore urge them to register without delay.

A project is on foot for completing the Marion and Greensboro Railroad. A company of capitalists, located in New York, propose, through agents now in Selma, to undertake the work, to have the road finished to Greensboro by the 1st of January next, also to assume the debts of the Cahaba, Marion and Greensboro Railroad Company, amounting to some $50,000 00, provided the stockholders in the road will donate to them their stock.

REDUCTION OF FARE.—The Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad has reduced its rates of fare to five cents a mile. This reduction has been made to meet the wants of our people, oppressed as they are by the general scarcity of money.

A number of prominent landlords in Mobile have voluntarily reduced the rents of their stores and houses, and their names are published in the Tribune of that city.

Registers in Bankruptcy for Mississippi.

For the First Congressional District, Judge E. C. Gillenwaters, of Corinth. For the Second District, S. S. Fairfield, of Greenada. For the Third District, Joseph W. Field, of Columbus. For the Fourth District, George A. McKee, of Vicksburg For the Fifth District, L. M. Perce, of Natchez.

Messrs. Gillenwaters and Fairfield have been appointed by Judge Hill, and have qualified. The others have not yet been appointed, but doubtless will be at the next term of the District Court, which will be held at Jackson on the Fourth Monday in this month. Judge Hill intends holding special courts at several important places in the State to try Bankrupt cases, and will, some time during the present month, indicate the times and places, and for what counties such courts will be held. The rules and proceedings for applications under the Bankrupt Law, prepared under the direction of the Supreme Court, have not yet been sufficiently promulgated, but will doubtless be received, and the law go into operation by the first of July.

Among the ablest conducted of the Republican papers of the West, there is none that exercises a more controlling influence over the public men of the party, none that speaks more authoritatively for Republicanism, than the Chicago Tribune. As one of the principal arguments used against reconstruction is, that these measures are not considered a finality, and give us no assurance of representation in Congress, we copy the following extract from the Chicago Tribune of June 6th, to show in what light they are regarded by the exponents of the Republican party. In commenting on Stevens' letter on confiscation, the Tribune says:

"Mr Stevens' confiscation scheme will certainly fall to the ground.—Nothing in the political future is more certain, than that every Southern State which complies with the requirements of the Reconstruction Law will be promptly admitted to the Union. The Fortieth Congress cannot be induced to break its word in this matter. As men, the members know it would be dishonest; as politicians, they know that such a policy would result in the immediate and total overthrow of the party which should retain it."

Vagabondage.

The New Orleans Picayune has an article on the Cuban laws respecting Vagabondage. The law is a good one and if enforced will prove a blessing to the country. According to our cotemporary's account all persons are liable to its penalties who have not constant useful employment. It is not enough that he have the means of support in patrimony, or even in property accumulated by himself; if he spends his time foolishly, hanging about saloons, billiard-rooms, and the like, he is liable to arrest and confinement in the workhouse or other disciplinary institution. That which prompts to this new order is the large number of crimes and misdemeanors now being committed throughout the island. They are believed to have their origin in vagabondage, or rather idleness, as the Spanish code defines it, and it is that which the government seeks to do away with.

Such a law, properly enforced in this country, would create the greatest revolution in morals and labor ever known. The amount of crime and vagrancy here now has no parallel; and it all, or nearly all, is superinduced by idleness—sluggish idleness that nurse of sin which leaves so many fields untilled and burdens our jails and penitentiaries. We really think that class which idle away their time should be forced to useful occupation, as in Cuba. "Labor is life; 'tis the still water awaiteth; idleness ever despaireth, bewaileth," and we should not, therefore, waste our spring of youth in idle dalliance, but plant those rich seeds which blossom in manhood and bear fruit when we are old. Let us try the Spanish plan, and "hold every person, of whatever race or color to constant, useful occupation."

☞ We urge upon our subscribers and especially those in Lauderdale, Clarke, Jasper and Newton, to send us the facts in reference to the want of provisions or clothing in those counties. Those that are really suffering for the necessaries of life can obtain relief if a true statement of their condition and wants is made known. Besides the provisions distributed by the United States Government, which alone are sufficient to prevent starvation—the Relief societies of Cairo, St. Louis and other cities, if appealed to by our merchants, will send sufficient supplies to meet the immediate wants of the destitute. Any information on this subject that may be sent us will be laid before the public at once, and we can assure our friends that the enterprising and liberal merchants of Meridian will heartily co-operate in affording prompt relief to the suffering.

THE MERIDIAN AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.—The last Tuscaloosa Monitor says:

Col. Jemison Jr., was re-elected President, our young friend Corbin Burton, who lost a leg at Chickamauga, has been made Secretary, and Jas. H. Fitts Esq., Treasurer. These appointments will meet the approbation of the friends of the road.

The contract with Messrs. Waddell & Co., has been closed, by their notifying the Directory of their rejection of the contract within the prescribed time. We learn the President has full powers in the premises, and we hope he will use them to secure a speedy completion of the road to this point.

We learn from the Picayune that a few days since Mr. Isaac Lichtenstein of Summit, Miss., was called to the gate of his house by some negro, and was, while at the gate, shot by the latter in the breast, when he instantly

Gov. Marvin of Florida on Reconstruction.

Gov. Marvin of Florida, one of the ablest statesmen of the South, an original Union man, who opposed secession, and after the surrender received the appointment of Provisional Governor, advises the people of his State to accept the terms proposed by Congress and hasten the work of reconstruction. We have not room to publish his letter entire, but submit the following extract and recommend it to the careful consideration of our readers:

I have been in Washington a number of days, and have had the opportunity to talk with a number of the Judges of the Supreme Court and other intelligent gentlemen, and the general wish seems to be that the South should reconstruct and get herself represented in Congress as soon as possible. It is said that such is also the desire of the President. The most able and intelligent men see no way to get the country out of its present difficulties, but that for the South to fall in with the Congressional plan and reconstruct their Government.

In doing so it is by no means necessary that the Southern people should attach themselves to either of the great Northern parties. It would probably be better for them to stand for the present aloof from either of these great parties, and use the power which they will possess as soon as they are represented in Congress in advancing the interests of their section. As soon, too, as the Southern representatives are admitted, the old issues will be dead, and new parties dividing on new issues will spring up. The Southern people ought to remain in a position to join themselves to a great Union National party, which shall recognize the late war, the reconstruction laws and place them on a fair, just and equal basis, favoring no one part of the country at the expense of another; and which shall insist that the Government shall be fairly administered in a spirit of economy. Such a party is likely to be formed as soon as the Southern States are admitted. The next President is likely to be elected by neither Republicans nor Democrats, but by a great Union party that will be composed of the best and most patriotic men from each of these parties.

Jacob Barker was recently attacked by a squad of his depositors as he was walking the streets of New Orleans. They made a raid on him and one of them vociferously demanded his signature to a check on some solvent bank for $100. Fortunately for Mr. Barker, the policeman on that beat came to his assistance, protected him from the clamorous crowd, and led him to a City Railroad car, in which he took refuge and went home.

CROPS.—From all sections of our own and adjacent counties, we are daily receiving the most gratifying reports of the great amount of labor has done remarkably well, and more than the usual quantity was planted. Corn was never more flourishing, and the prospects for cotton are satisfactory. The planters are busily engaged in with an earnestness and vim that speaks well for them. The plantations are in good order, and are free from grass. If we have no serious set-back in the weather department, we may anticipate one of the largest crops of corn made in this section for many years—and of cotton, from present prospects, there is no reason to doubt that a larger quantity will be realized than was last year.—[Columbus (Miss.) Sentinel.

General Longstreet in a letter that has been recently published says:

"The military bill and amendments are peace offerings. We should accept them as such, and not look back upon them as the starting point from which to meet future political issues as they arise."

Greeley in reply to a letter from a Georgian, says: "I wish the South were as free from danger in respect to famine, and other evils, as from confiscation."

THE MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES IN SAVANAH.—General Pope has been petitioned by five hundred colored men to remove the mayor and aldermen of Savannah. The petitioners allege that they cannot expect and do not obtain justice from the present incumbent. A white man named Curtis is recommended for Mayor, and he is said to have promised the negroes a full share of the spoils of office.

A correspondent of the Port Gibson Standard, says that "being in Liberty, not long since, he found the most influential citizens of that county have a project in view which looks to one feasible, and in which the people in this county, Jefferson and Claiborne are interested. They have organized a Society for the purpose of promoting Internal Improvements and Immigration, and propose to make a railroad from some point on the N. O. J. & G. N. R. R. at or near Amite Station, on the road, by the way of Liberty, Meadville and Port Gibson, to Vicksburg, as the most certain method of accomplishing the ends of their organization."

The city of Louisville, Ky., has been sued by a resident for $25,000 damages sustained by the death of his wife and daughter by cholera last summer, he alleging that the epidemic was caused by an overflow, which was occasioned by the streets not being properly graded to allow the water to run off.

LIGHT AGO.

I am sitting, sitting all alone,
In the little cottage door;
Where oft I've sat with loved ones
In the halcyon days of yore—
Memory reverts in sadness,
To the time I used to rove
Round about that quiet cottage,
With those I fondly loved—
Unbidden tears are falling,
As a glance I backward throw,
Through the veil of memory hanging,
Since the times of long ago.

'Twas here I spent my childhood,
'Neath this cottage roof so low;
Floating on the stream of pleasure,
In the time I used to row;
With those I loved to join me,
In the sports of my delight,
From the early dews of morning,
Till the reign of eventide night.
Oh! blissful days of childhood,
Why did ye fly so fast!
And leave the weary heart to feel,
Life's sweetest joys are past.

'Twas there I had a mother dear,
With a voice so sweet and low,
And a father blessed me often,
In times of long ago.
And too, I had a brother dear,
With a heart so manly firm,
And a sister to caress me;
With a love that's always true,
But all have gone and left me,
There are none that love me now—
There are none to caress me,
Nor soothe my aching brow.

My mother's form is mouldering,
Beneath the old Elm tree;
My father's bones are by her,
'Neath the deep pond fair o'ers;
The grass and flowers are growing,
On the little mound we made,
In the corner of the garden,
Where my darling sister's laid.
My brother, oh my brother—
He never prays—
He fell as falls the soldier,
The bravest of the brave.

The world's a desert now to me,
One field of endless woe,
I never again shall see such days,
As the times of long ago,
But wherever I wander,
Dreaming of years gone by,
My thoughts shall come at evening,
Childhood's home to thee,
And when my living echoes,
And my body slumbers low,
I'll join in Heaven my loved ones,
As in the times of long ago.

THE GENERAL ORDERS AND FORMS IN BANKRUPTCY.—There is reliable authority for stating that the delays in the appearance of the general orders and forms in bankruptcy are entirely owing to the many corrections found necessary since adjournment of the court, in order to make them as perfect as possible; and that no authority was given to the clerk by the court to make such corrections, the number of the justices who had gone to their respective circuits had to be consulted. At the same time several changes in the rules have been suggested by the various judges, and others may have to be made before the work is completed or any part of it loaned to the different districts. No one has any authority to create the impression that the same can be furnished until they are corrected.—Washington Chronicle, June 4th.

Our Cin's Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates.—We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

THE TOURNAMENT TO-DAY.—Our citizens should not forget the grand tournament to-day, and the ball to-night. Extensive preparations have been made for the accommodation of all. Tilting commences precisely at two o'clock P. M.

We are gratified to state that Major St. Paul, of the Mobile Times, will be in our city to-day, and deliver an address at the Tournament.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. Corn is to be had for cash in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn. Now, at these extremely low prices inducements to merchants. Our young friend, Jno. W. Harvey, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides, J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends in this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-tf.

RECONSTRUCTION IN NORTH MISSISSIPPI.—At the recent meeting of the Federal Court at Oxford, Gen. Alcorn addressed the people in favor of reconstruction, and Col. Grand Tournament and Fancy Dress Ball at Meridian, Thursday, June 13th.

It will be seen that the Meridian Tournament Club proposes to have a grand tournament and fancy dress ball this city, on Thursday, the 13th of June.

Preparations are now making on a large scale and there is no doubt that it will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind that has ever been seen in the South. The large assemblage that will be here from all parts of this State and Alabama will be addressed by Maj. H. St. Paul, the talented and eloquent editor of the Mobile Times and other distinguished speakers. Gen. Forrest is confidently expected here as one of the Judges. It will be noticed from the advertisement that these prizes in greenbacks are offered besides the knightly honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty.

The Knights will form in procession at Rush's Bastion at 10 o'clock P. M., and march through the principal streets. The tilting will commence at 2 o'clock. The tilting will take place as soon as the knights can form in the lists after the procession ends. Admission to the tilting ground, 50 cents.

BANKRUPT.—Judge Ingraham, of Meridian.—We understand that it is the intention of Judge Hill to hold regular terms of his court at that city for the purpose of deciding such cases in Bankruptcy, as may arise in this part of the State. We understand all cases from the counties of Lauderdale, Clarke, Wayne, Green, Davis, Jasper, Newton, Neshoba, and Kemper, will be tried at the Court to be held at Meridian.

In view of this fact we suggest to the city authorities to take steps to provide a suitable place for the accommodation of the Court. The Mayor's office might answer with some improvements. New seats, desks, &c., should be made. We trust the Board of Mayor and Aldermen will take this matter up at their next meeting.

Relief for the Destitute.

The charitable donations to the desolate South from the more favored parts of the country are among the most cheering signs of the times. One vessel, the Relief, Captain Belden, U. S. Navy, recently brought to Mobile 11,000 bushels of corn and 30,000 pounds bacon, a gift from the noble State of Maryland to the sufferers of Alabama. We hope the destitution in that State is not so great as in parts of Alabama and Georgia.

Wherever it exists, the facts should be made known, and we have no doubt supplies for all the suffering can be obtained from the Western cities, and sent to our different Railroad stations. Supplies have been sent to Lauderdale, Enterprise and other places, and much more can be obtained if manifestly necessary to avert starvation.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.—We learn that Capt. Wm. Felts, tax collector of Choctaw County, Alabama, was shot at on last Thursday, while on his way home from Wharton's tannery, by some unknown person. The report of the gun frightened his horse, and he ran off at full speed, breaking one of the stirrups and throwing Capt. Felts against a pine log, lying on the road side inflicting a severe wound, and rendering him insensible for some time. While in this condition some person, supposed to be the villian who shot, robbed Capt. Felts of about six thousand dollars. The scoundrel is yet at large, but Capt. Felts's friends are confident of being able to detect and bring him to justice.

A difficulty occurred at the depot of the Vicksburg & Meridian Railroad Tuesday afternoon, between Mr. F. Sanford, of this place, and Mr. T. Lewis of Cairo, in which sticks were freely used by both parties.—Mr. Sanford being the assaulting party, and having exhibited a pistol during the "fracas," was fined four dollars and costs, by Mayor Henderson, and required to give bond for his appearance at the next term of the County Court. The difficulty grew out of some commercial transactions.

New Advertisements.

We call attention to the advertisement of Thomas D. Reid & Co., Druggists and Apothecaries, Lecatur, Meridian. They have on hand a choice selection of fresh drugs and chemicals, patent medicines, fine liquors &c., which they offer for sale on the most reasonable terms. Those who desire prescriptions made up may rely upon their being prepared with accuracy at all hours, either by day or night.

We publish to-day an important announcement from Thomas J. White, Assessor of Internal Revenue for this District, informing the public that agreeably to the Revenue Laws he will hear at his office in Meridian, Lauderdale County, Miss., on any appeals relative to excessive or enormous assessments made by Assessors in the District. Parties interested will govern themselves accordingly.

COTTON TRANSACTION.—Mr R. M. Harrison reported yesterday evening at the Fourth District Station that the house of Mr. Elmore, No. 178 Seventh street, had been robbed of furniture, valued at one $1000.

This morning a man named John Ramer, who has a store at No. 92 Circus street, was arrested, charged with having the stolen furniture in his possession. It appears that the transaction was accomplished in this way: Mr. Elmore, who is at present absent from the city, left a colored man in charge of the premises.

Yesterday morning two white men came to the house with furniture carts, told the man that Mr. Elmore had moved and that he wanted his furniture moved to the new residence. The colored man believed the statement, and allowed the furniture to be taken away.—New Orleans Times, June 8th.

WHO WOULD NOT BE BEAUTIFUL?—All may possess a clear, unblemished skin, of alabaster whiteness, by the use of Chastellar's White Liquid Enamel. It is the most perfect article in use, for removing all impurities of the skin, and unlike all other cosmetics, contains nothing that will injure the cuticle; being vegetable, it is perfectly harmless. KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. TOMARKIN, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrican who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a likelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture, and desired information by return mail. Wonderful but True.

MADAME REMINGTON, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulistic Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a perfect and life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no imposition, as testimonials without number can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information.

Address in confidence, Madame GERTRUDE REMINGTON, P. O. Box 297, West Troy, N. Y. apr15wly.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she had used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it a most invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use, any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, and healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. The Safety Hand Lamp, AND Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning quality of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is incombustible. The cost of the Oil is about one half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not freeze a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

Here is one of his impressive sentences: "Bankruptcy, foreign war, internal hatreds, a hell of fire thinly crusted over, new dissensions, separations, strifes, new rivers of blood, repeated disclosicatious, new hatred of the red deserved wrath of God, the corroding stains of innocent blood upon the soul, the inscrutable horrid lapse into the most hiddeous of despotism, all the Dantesque horrors of the infernal regions that the shades of dead nations, tortured, inhabit—all these stare upon them out of the grim silent darkness of the future days."

Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $5150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $5150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortune parents can give their sons. So far as known not one of the thousands of our graduates is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is enough.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers'

JEWELRY ASSOCIATION

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in the United States. That business is and always has been conducted on the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for the method of obtaining, cheapest and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry houses in London and Paris, forcing them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one-third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely at such sales, and can offer extremely low prices that we can afford to send away Fine Goods, and give better chances to draw the most costly prizes, than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, so as article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns. Circulars and Terms will be immediately sent to any address by mail or express.

Lauderdale County, Miss. June 7, 1867.

Encouraged by the liberal support that the public in this part of the State have given the Gazette, and with a view to increase still further its circulation, we have reduced the subscription price of the Weekly to two dollars per annum. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, our circulation has increased during the last three months and is now double that of any paper that has been published in Meridian or in this part of the State since the removal of the Clarion to Jackson. The Weekly Gazette is the cheapest paper in the State, will have but few advertisements and contains a complete epitome of all the news for the week. A little effort on the part of our friends would soon double our circulation.

Henry S. Foote is writing a series of articles for the St. Louis Democrat in favor of female suffrage.

The Nashville Banner is responsible for the following. We would like to know who is the "young gentleman of fortune from Mississippi," for all such are rarities at present:

Some six weeks ago a young gentleman of fortune came to this city from Mississippi, on a visit to some friends. He had been here but a few days, when he met at a party a beautiful Kentucky girl, an heiress, with whom he at once fell in love, and the attachment being mutual, not many days passed ere they were betrothed, and the time was set for the wedding. Everything had been arranged for this important event, when by some mysterious means the friends of the young heiress got an inkling of what was going on, and the old folks in Kentucky, though not ill-disposed toward the proposed match, were somewhat annoyed at the course the lovers had pursued in not consulting them as to the propriety. The marriage was to have been solemnized a day or two since and on the morning set apart, the would-be bride-groom, chuckling over what he considered a clever scheme, visited the young lady to notify her of the hour they were to be made one. The hour rolled round, and he went to claim her, but lo! the bird had flown—the loved one had disappeared, perhaps forever, and the ardent lover departed with bowed head and lengthened visage, or imaginary echoing of rattling tracks of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad rattling in his ears. His girl was on the way to Kentucky, and the old folks had triumphed.

The Cost of Swearing.

The great majority of men in almost every undertaking in life, make figures and then add them up, faithfully counting the cost of this or that plan of business, or scheme for speculation, to see if it will be profitable. Those who are not can do it by summing up, remembering the results are not always profit or loss, under their heart for in the true sense of that prompts to action, are not so hasty and are generally crowned with success. Swearing appears to be a very free and luxurious commodity: a kind of low rate, easy exchange and men are more liberal in giving out oaths, than in the distribution of their goods to the poor, or kind cheering words to the many aching hearts about them.—From the great mass of humanity in this extensive country, and in every land; in the numerous boats that glide over seas and rivers; in coaches drawn by steam, and horse; along the streets of every city and village; about the quiet rural homes and highways, the plowman at his shire; the teamster with his cart; farmers, mechanics, lawyers, doctors and all; and nearly every boy and man first or last, join hearts in a horrible chorus of oaths, the mighty volume, and blasphemous volley of oaths which go from this sin polluted earth, up to the presence and hearing of Him who is the Great Ruler and Spirit of the Universe. They exchange one man curses another, and he curses him back, associating with his fellow men's, heaven, earth, hell; and his own precious soul joining on to the sacred name of God all that is vulgar, low and mean to make his words sound outrageous and strong.

Another curses loud and long—as it to attract attention, or arouse laughter, and is impudent enough with much deceit, to beg the pardon of some, who may hear.—Others moved by anger uncon rolled, and augmented by rum, fling and scatter ruinous oaths indiscriminately; cursing to pay for the wicked mess, blows, blows are given, blood is shed, and a man who is made in the image of God is slain. This is only an idea of the cost. We can easily calculate and consider the great difference between good, kind, soothing words that bless, and cruel blighting, withering recollections that will cost us dearly in time and in vast eternity. Is a man in good earnest? Does he really mean what he is saying, when he so constantly calls on God, to damn his fellow, his immortal soul; his friend, his neighbor, his wife; and his dear little children; a part of himself whom God hath given him to teach and to train for glory, and for Heaven. Surely he had not counted the cost of swearing or he being driven on and on to such a fearful end as that. Infidel and burning passions of a guilty soul, swearers ought to remember that their useless vain words are like rusty, barbed iron, spikes, driven by them in many a faithful bosom, and tender loving heart, to rankle, to wound and embitter forever. Then O! foolish man, remember well the deeds the blows, scars, blood and deaths; mourning souls; and falling tears, the alienation of friends, and aggravation of enemies.—Think own soul than which it is said in the Scriptures the whole world is worthless; is seriously at stake by indulging in that of which you have not counted the cost. The Bible declares a judgement to come, and every man will be judged in righteousness and according to the deeds done in the body; and that he will have to render an account for every idle word. Then the registered account against him will be long, and in shame and confusion his guilty soul will have to stand before the holy King and his court, unable to justify itself for having desecrated the name of the Lord.

The Commandment is given, Exodus 20c, and 7v. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain." And our Saviour taught the multitudes, and his disciples, Matthew 5c, and 33d to 37th, Swear not at all, neither by Heaven, for it is God's throne; nor by the earth for it is his foot-stool; neither by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by the head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. But let your communication be yea, yea, nay, nay, for whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil."

Can the cost, and Verily be applied to say yea, yea, nay, nay and have no condemnation.

W. S. L.

GASTON, Sumter County, Ala. June 6th.

MISS LESLIE ON SLANG!—"There is no will," says the author of the "Behavior Book," "in a lady's vocabulary of slang." Instead of a nap—in calling pantaloons "pants," or gentleman's sparks—in saying of a man who dresses dressing out, that he looks seedy"—and in alluding to an amusing anecdote, or a droll incident, to say that it is rich." All slang words are detestable from the lips of ladies. We are sorry to hear a young lady or gentlemanly now fast going out, and almost banished from the best society. To her honor, be it remembered, Queen Victoria has prohibited the polka being danced in her presence. How can a genteel girl bring herself to say, "Last night I danced with Mr. Bull, or, Mr. Polk came and asked me to polk." Is there no limit to fashionable absurdity? Is there no limit to fashionable slang is worthy of the dance—We have little tolerance for young ladies, who are usually having neither wit nor humor, set up for both, and having nothing of the right stock to go upon, substitute coarseness and impertinence, and to say impudence, and try to excite laughter and attract the attention of gentlemen by their slang. Where do they get it? How do they pick it up? From low newspapers or vulgar books? Surely not from low companions? We have heard one of these ladies, when her collar chanced to be pinned awry, say that it was put on drunk—also that her hair was crooked, meaning crooked on her head. When discovered she was a "dreamer." When ushered to a room she was "showed." When she thought to be "mistaken." When she did things out of time she was "late."

REGISTRATION IN CHICKASAW.—The last number of the Houston Record, says:

Oak Grove, whites 71, and blacks 19.

Gen. Swayne writes Mr. Jones of Mobile, who declines the appointment of Alderman, that his place can easily be supplied from the newly enfranchised class. So we go.

A very destructive fire occurred recently at Greensboro, burning a very considerable part of the town. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The extensive turpentine distillery establishment of John Robbins, Esq., situated on Fish River, Baldwin county, Ala., was burned to the ground, together with a large lot of fine rosin and a quantity of spirits of turpentine, on the 7th. The loss will probably amount to $10,000 or $12,000.

The Paris Etendard mentions that Mr. Jefferson Davis is coming to England on a visit, and will then take up his residence in Canada. Mr. Davis should take up his residence in his own land, and not under the flag which treated his cause so contemptuously during our late struggle for a separate nationality.

SHERIDAN AND THE INDIANS.—We see that Gen. Sheridan has determined to concentrate all his troops along the lines of the Pacific railway, telegraph and mail routes. At present, Denver and California mails leave the railroad at the forks of the Platte, and follow the south side up the South Platte River to Julesburg.

Important Order from Gen. Ord.

Land under Cultivation, Crops, Stock and Farming Utensils not to be Sold under Execution until December 25th, 1867.

HEADQUARTERS FOURTH MILITARY DISTRICT, MISSISSIPPI AND ARKANSAS,

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 13.

I. With a view to secure to labor in this District its hire or just share of the crops, and as to protect the interests alike of debtors and creditors from sacrifices of property by forced sales in the present unsettled condition of the country, it is ordered that all proceedings for the sale of lands under cultivation, or of the crops, stock, farming utensils or other material used in tilling such lands in pursuance of any execution, writ or order of sale, issued in cases where the debt or other cause of civil action was contracted or accrued, prior to the first day of January, 1866, be stayed and suspended until after the thirtieth day of December, 1867.—In the meantime all interferences, under color of any such process with the lawful tenant in cultivating or gathering the growing crops, is prohibited; provided that the rights or remedies for a recovery of debts at any time, of parties to whom the crops have been hypothecated, for money, stock, or other means or material, supplied in the cultivation of the land, shall not be hereby prejudiced or postponed.

This order to go into effect from and after the 30th day of June, 1867, in the State of Mississippi, and from and after the 30th day of June, 1867, in the State of Arkansas.

II. It having been reported that corn, so much needed by the poor of the District, is made into whisky illicitly, Sub-District and Post Commanders are directed, when they can learn of the existence of any clandestine engaged in manufacturing whiskey, to inform themselves whether it pays the legal taxes, and if not, seize it, and all the liquor they can find, and as property increases where whisky abounds, the property seized will be sold for the benefit of the poor of the county in which it is found, and the money will be divided under the direction of the Registration Board for that county, to whom it will be duly turned over.

Sub-District and Post Commanders are entrusted with the execution of this order.

III. When complaints are made by citizens that they have been arrested by the civil authorities for opinion's sake, such complaints will be entertained by Post Commanders in the District, who, after carefully inquiring into all the circumstances under oath of both parties, will forward a report of their investigation to these Headquarters.

By Command of Brevet Maj. Gen. Ord.

[Signed] GEO. L. HARTSUFF,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Registration.

The Board of Registers for this county entered upon their duties yesterday, and will push the work of enrolling forward to completion at reasonable speed. We would again urge upon our people the necessity of coming forward and presenting themselves for registration. Indifference and supineness, will not effect our salvation. We must seize the present opportunity, and endeavor to lift our feet and place them upon a firm foundation.—We must act now or never; if the present golden opportunity is let slip, never again, will we, perhaps, be able to contribute to the formation of a government under which those who come after us, must live. If you are in favor of the Convention, or opposed to it, register, and thus be armed with a vote for whatever enemies may arise in the future. Those who register can alone vote, and to the voters hereafter belongs our fate for "weal or for woe." There is no time to be lost; every moment must be used and every vote secured. Gen. Swayne intimates already that where the people of Alabama decline to look after the interests of life communities in which they live, colored men will be appointed in their stead. If we refuse to register, we cannot vote; and if we cannot vote, our influence at the ballot box is dead, and the newly enfranchised class fill the various State and municipal offices with men of their own color. We fear many men will permit prejudice to write "too late" upon their brows. Let those who appreciate the importance of being armed with a vote come forward and urge every man to shake off his lethargy and prejudice and prepare to casthis vote in behalf of our section.

The Board for the county consists of Messrs. D. A. Smalley, W. Cathey, and A. Sloan, with J. P. Walker, Esq., as Clerk. Our readers should remember that they are law executors, and not law makers; that their duty is disagreeable, and should therefore secure them that courtesy and respect characteristic of the Southern people.

Mexican Affairs.

MAXIMILIAN'S PROCLAMATION.

The New Orleans Picayune contains some interesting news from Mexico. A Court Martial was ordered for the trial of Maximilian on the 29th May. Generals Mendez and Camples, Castillo and Mejia, have been shot.

The following is Maximilian's proclamation:

COUNTRYMEN—After the valor and patriotism of the Republican forces have destroyed my sceptre in this place, the tenacious defence of which was indispensable to save the honor of my cause and my race.

After this bloody seige, in which the Imperial and Republican soldiers have competed in abnegation and boldness, I will occupy myself, countrymen; I came to Mexico not only animated with the best faith of insuring the felicity of all and each of us, but called and protected by the Emperor of France, Napoleon III. He, to the ridicule of France, abandoned me cowardly and infamously, by demand of the United States, after having uselessly spent France's treasure and shed the blood of her sons and your own.

When the news of my fall and death reaches Europe, all the monarchs of Charlemagne's country will demand of Napoleon's dynasty an account of my blood—of the German, Belgian and French blood shed in Mexico. Then will be the end.

Soon, before the world, Napoleon the third will be covered with shame from head to foot. To-day he has already seen His Majesty, the Emperor of Austria, my august brother, praying for my life to the United States, and myself a prisoner of war in the hands of the Republican Government, and with my crown torn in pieces.

Countrymen, here are my last words. I desire that my blood may regenerate Mexico, and that my fate will serve as a warning to all ambitious and incautious men, and that you will act with prudence and truthfulness, and ennoble with your own virtues the flag you sustain. May Providence save you and make you worthy of myself. MAXIMILIAN.

Dr. James Metcalfe, died at the residence of Dr. Choppin, in Natchez, on the 1st inst. He was a native of Kentucky, and 78 years old at the time of his death.

The bankrupt act which went into operation on the first of June, sweeps off imprisonment for debt throughout the country. It sets aside all stay laws, and all preferences, voluntary agreements, and secret attachments.

DESTRUCTIVE HURRICANE IN ARKANSAS.—The Record, published in Searcy, of the 1st inst., says: On Monday evening, about seven o'clock, a terrific hurricane swept over a portion of our county, causing an immense destruction of property and probably great loss of life.

Mr. Greely writes in a private letter to a Southern friend, that he has already "seen infinite good in getting rid of Davis as a prisoner, and thus enabling those who have been rebels to become (in effect) Republicans without seeming to belong to their late leader." He adds that for himself he can stand the "hooting" which shall be given him for his course in the matter.

It is reported that Gov. Jenkins, of Georgia, has no intention of resigning, and that he and General Pope are working harmoniously together, and that the Governor is entirely indisposed to have any controversy with the military authorities, but desires quiet and good feeling in the State.

Registration was going on at Byram, Hinds County, on Monday last.—On that day 34 whites and 140 negroes were registered.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A CARD.

Mr. F. T. Sanford having circulated a report that I had compounded with him to assault Col. Lewis, on the 12th inst., and that he had made arrangements with the Police to absent themselves on that occasion, I denounced the same as false, and called upon Mr. Sanford, and demanded that he set me right before the community. The following Card to the public, from Mr. S., will speak for itself.

Respectfully,
R. L. HENDERSON,
Mayor.

To the Public.

On the 9th of June, I approach Mayor Henderson and asked him in a jocular manner, what he would charge me to whip a man (not anticipating any difficulty at the time.) Mr. Henderson remarked in the same jocular manner, (knowing the question was put as a joke,) that he generally charged about ten dollars if it was well done. Subsequently, and on the same day, I had a difficulty with Mr. Lewis, and as I have since told several persons, that the matter was arranged between myself and the Mayor to assault Mr. Lewis, and that I had also made arrangements with the Police to be absent on the occasion, I would here state, that these remarks were said in thoughtfulness, and with no intention to injure the Mayor or the Police, or to bring discredit upon either of them, and that there is not one single scintilla of truth in regard to such arrangement having been made by us. I would further state, that I have several times asked the Mayor warrants, but what he would charge for fighting.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE CONCERNING HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

PROTECTION FOR THE HEALTHY AND RELIEF FOR THE SICK.

INTELLIGENT TESTIMONY IS AS IMPORTANT IN MEDICINE as in law. The great Patriot Henry said that the laws by which he then were guided was the "lamp of experience." The same lamp is the sure discoverer and standard adjution to the properties and effects of a medicinal preparation which "they" themselves have tried, and the operation of which they have had abundant opportunity to observe in a great variety of cases, are absolutely conclusive. They are so considered by the public, who very naturally prefer this species of testimony to any other that can be offered in behalf of a proprietary remedy. Volumes of such evidence have been published in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS during twenty years that the unequaled Tonic and Alterative has been before the world; and although its reputation as a Standard Specific has long been established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still deemed advisable to exhibit, through the press, from time to time, new proofs of its success. Recent facts add pertinence and force to facts more remote, and serve to show that the public confidence is prepared with sufficient exactitude and care, and that it is still, what it ever has been, the purest and best of all Vegetable preparations, an inevitable cure for Dyspepsia and all derangements of the Stomach and Liver, a perfect antidote to the unwholesome influences which produce and aggravate epidemic diseases, and a specific which for all forms of Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Kidney complaints and Debility, is unequaled and generally recognized as the healthful stimulant and corrective. The commendations are dated, and are published as specimens of an immense mass of testimony in the possession of the Proprietors. Some idea of the quantity of this kind of testimony in the hands of the proprietors of Hostetter's Bitters may be formed by the reader, when it is stated that the communications on the subject of Fever and Ague alone received by the firm during the last three years, number upwards of TWO THOUSAND. They all add to the same effect as that of Mr. Bourne, given below, and if ever anything was established on unquestionable evidence, it is the important fact that Chills and Fever can be broken up and radically cured in a very short space of time by the use of this incomparable tonic. Nor is this all. Entire exemption from the distressing malady, and all forms of Intermittent Fever, is guaranteed to such residents of Fever and Ague Districts as may be wise enough to take the BITTERS as a preventive. Though malaria may be prostrating their neighbors all around them, and on the left, those who have taken the precaution to fortify their systems and constitutions, in advance, with this counteractive of all atmospheric poison, will surely escape the ravages.

The physicians and others whose names appear in the annexed correspondence are ready at all times to confirm verbally the statements made over their signatures.

Perhaps one of the most striking proofs that can be cited of the intrinsic excellence of the Bitters, is the general adoption of the preparation by medical men. The profession has not one of their favorite advertised medicines, but this unequalled vegetable tonic has maintained their prejudices, and they recommend and administer it to their patients as the purest stimulant and best stomachic that has ever run pro-ne.

The present season of the year is a trying one to the feeble and enervated—indeed to all. In July, in August and September, every debilitated person should see that his system is necessary to have a reserve of strength and vitality in order to resist the blow without flinching or breaking down. Hostetter's Bitters are a stanimal medicine, sustaining the vital and muscular energy of the frame with this powerful and general vegetable restorative, and any temperature, any climate, any condition of the atmosphere may be encountered with comparative impunity.

Read the following letter from E. Bourne, a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, Pa:

PITTSBURGH, May 10, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

GENTLEMEN: Having a visit to the West, last fall, I contracted chills and fever, which brought me to my bed, and finally terminated in typhoid fever and confined me to my room for several months, during which time I was physically, as prostrated that I almost despaired of ever recovering my health; having entirely lost my appetite for days, not being able to eat a morsel; added to which I was much distressed with a roving sensation in my head, and passed many sleepless nights, all from debility caused by my prostrate condition, brought about by the fever. At this stage of my condition, a friend recommended me to use your celebrated Stomach Bitters; but, being morally opposed to the use of medicines in any form, I at first declined, but afterwards yielded to my prejudices, and after taking the medicine for several weeks as directed, my appetite returned, and with it I am rapidly regaining my former strength and vigor. My sleep (from the loss of which I had suffered much) has never been better than it is now, and the roving sensation before alluded to has entirely left me. My bowels, which were much constipated and irregular, are now quite natural, and in fact I am glad to say that I feel myself a new man, and to-day (on this card) avail of my appreciation of your valuable preparation in order that others suffering as I have may read the result of the victim, which prejudice prevented me from enjoying for so long a period, and may add that they (bigotries) after seeing the beneficial effect your Bitters had on me, recommended that I use them regularly.

Yours, very respectfully,
E. BOURNE, 6 Market st.

Another letter, from a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, dated September 4, 1866:

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

GENTLEMEN: I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits I have received from your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Being in the Ol regions in '61, I had a severe bilious attack, and being dyspeptic, which left me very weak, I was advised to try your Bitters. I procured one bottle, and they worked as a charm on me. In one week I got eight (8) pounds heavier, and I seemed to have got new life in me, so much so that I have used them every summer since as a tonic. I think I have used in all about five dozen bottles; another bilious attack and much reduced in weight, being under the care of an A. M. physician, I again had to have recourse to the old Bitters, with the same good results, gaining six (6) pounds in a few weeks. I bought a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and intend to keep them on hand as a sure remedy. Wishing you success in every success, I remain yours gratefully,
WILLIAM M. MILLER.

FITZINGHAM, EFFINGHAM COUNTY, ILL.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

GENTLEMEN: With pleasure I can say that your Bitters are superior to any others. I have used them in my family for a long time, and always with beneficial results. Yours, very truly,
ROBERT GILBERT.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

SIRS: I believe your bitters are the best in use, I tried them for dyspepsia in 1863, and they cured me. It was not faith that did it, for I had no faith in them, I tried them to please a friend. I had been prostrate for several weeks with dyspepsia and chronic diarrhœa. I expected to die; but less than one bottle so far restored me that I could attend to my business. I had used Ostetter's Bitters before which resulted in the return of the same disease, accompanied with bronchial affection, when I again used your Bitters, and was soon restored to health. I have recommended them to hundreds of my friends, and have never known them to fail in effecting a speedy cure. Truly yours,
MIRANDA CHAPPEL,
Postmaster at Buckland, Prince William County, Va., Nov. 6, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

GENTS: I have been selling your Stomach Bitters for eighteen months, and find them an excellent medicine. All that is necessary is to let the people know their virtue, and they will use them. I have used them myself, and now recommend them to all who have weak stomachs.

Respectfully yours,

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: For a long time I have been afflicted with dyspepsia, during which time I was unable to attend to any business. I was advised to use your Stomach Bitters. I did, and found them a great benefit to me. I believe had it not been for them I should have been in my grave this. I write and reply to testify to the virtue of your BITTERS, but would advise you also to use them as soon as possible, as I am now keeping a store.

Yours respectfully, JOHN M. GREACEN.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gents: It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best BITTERS of the day. It is especially beneficial to females. I have used them for derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years experience in the use of your Bitters in my family compels me to give your BITTERS the preference that its popularity merits.

Franklin, Clinton County, Ind., December 8, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: Some eighteen months since I was troubled with weakness of the stomach, and had lost my appetite, and by the recommendation of a friend, I procured your BITTERS; in one place I found them so much I can purchase them, or if you will send me some on sale, for by so doing I can save money, as I can purchase them cheaper here than I can send for them. We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

Rev. Dr. Wm. Spillman, will preach at the Methodist Church in this city to-day. Subject—union and perpetuity of the church. Text, Math. XIVc. 18v.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Seddon A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

We have received the Hazlehurst Weekly News, a paper recently established at the flourishing town of Hazlehurst. Rev. H. J. Harris, a gentleman who is well known over the State, and very competent for the duties of his new profession, is the editor. The number before us is neatly printed and creditable to the publisher and editor. We trust the News may have an extensive circulation and prove profitable to the proprietors, and useful to the public. Mr. Harris takes a sensible practical view of the situation, and favors reconstruction under the military bill.

A new daily paper has been commenced at Jackson, to take the place of the Mississippian consolidated with the Herald at Vicksburg. The new aspirant for public favor is the Jackson Advertiser, edited by Merrill, Metz & Potter. All these gentlemen have had experience in the newspaper business, and will, no doubt, get up an interesting journal. We wish them prosperity in the enterprize.

A change has recently taken place in the management of the Vicksburg Times. Col. Thos. B. Manlove has retired from the editorial department, and is succeeded by Col. W. H. McCardle. Col. McCardle is a veteran in journalism, and one of the most able and graceful writers in the South. We welcome his return to a profession in which he has justly acquired distinction, but feel regret at Col. Manlove's retirement. Col. M., though quite a young man, was making his mark as an editor, and we are sure he will carry with him to whatever new profession he may engage in, the best wishes of the editorial fraternity for his success.

We were gratified to see at the Tournament, on last Thursday, our friend C. H. Wilson, formerly our associate in the Clarion, but now one of the editors and publishers of the Eastern Star, at Enterprize. The Star is one of the most flourishing weekly papers in the State, and receives, as it deserves, a liberal support from Enterprise and the surrounding country.

We had the pleasure of welcoming to our sanctum, on Tuesday last, Col. Thomas, editor of the Choctaw Herald, published at Butler, Alabama. The Herald has a wide circulation in Choctaw, a section of country trading largely with Meridian. Our merchants would do well to remember this fact, and before the business season opens, give the Herald their advertisements.

Our sanctum was enlivened on Thursday last, by the presence of Major H. St. Paul, editor of the Mobile Times, and Mr. Sussman, for many years associated with Mr. Bellentyne, in the publication of the Tribune, but now engaged in the Times office. Mr. St. Paul, as able writer and accomplished gentlemen, is no less distinguished as an orator; he delivered the address at the Tournament.

EXCITEMENT IN GREENSBORO, ALA.—A NEGRO KILLED.—THE TOWN IN ARMS.—We understand a very bad state of affairs exists in Greensboro, Alabama, in consequence of the killing of a negro man, named George Green, by a citizen of Green County. Green was a member of the Board of Registers for the county, and got into a dispute with a white man, whose name we could not learn, and report goes, called him a d—d liar, whereupon the white man drew and fired a pistol, killing him almost instantly. The excitement became increased, and assembled with arms in one end of the town, with a view of attacking the citizens, who in the meantime had supplied themselves with weapons and were resolved to receive the attack. The negroes stood at 12 o'clock on Thursday night. The greatest excitement prevailed, it was feared a riot would ensue, and the town was in a state of siege. We hope the matter has gone no further.

The Round Table, a Gotham

The Tournament.

In this, the reign of utilitarianism, while the asperities of the rough ways of action are smoothed by the touch of fancy, it is pleasant to see revived the brilliant bearing of our Knights and the approving smiles of our fair ladies, for the scenes of romance that lend such a charm to the otherwise gloomy chronicles of the "Middle Ages."

The grand Tournament so long expected and for which such ample preparations have been made, passed off very pleasantly to all concerned, and will long be a theme of happy reminiscence.

We must confess that it is with unalloyed satisfaction we recall the animated scenes of last Thursday eve—the beautiful parterres of "human flowers" that graced that portion of the amphitestre to the right of the entrance, the Knights passing to and fro in elegant costumes, and the Judge's stand whence the Meridian Band poured forth its stirring notes.

Eleven Knights entered to contest the prizes, but we did not learn the characters assumed by all. R. F. Coleman, Knight of Choctaw, time, 29 seconds, 3 rings; Capt. W. A. Payne, Knight of Dixie, 28½ seconds, 0 rings. This we consider the best time rolling on record. T. R. Rush, Knight of the Golden Arrow and Rose Plume, 26 seconds, 4 rings; L. P. Switzer, 28½ seconds, 5 rings; J. W. Harvey, Knight of the Red Plume, 28½ seconds, 7 rings; S. Stephens, 26½ seconds, 5 rings; J. R. Payne, 26 seconds, 1 ring; J. Jones 26½ seconds, 2 rings; Walker, 31 seconds, 5 rings; R. Harvey, Knight of Malta, 29½ seconds, 5 rings; M. Rush, 27 seconds, 3 rings.

W. A. Payne, Knight of Dixie, received the first prize. He already wears the medal so gallantly won on the 1st of May, and, in our opinion, is likely to do so until he gets tired of it. J. W. Harvey, Knight of the Red Plume, took the second prize. In this Knight, our champion of Dixie will "find a foeman worthy of his steel," at some future tournament. J. Jones won the third prize in dashing style. Accustoming to rule, these successful competitors who boast of "double blessedness," turned over their wreaths to the single gentlemen who had taken the next highest number of rings. L. P. Switzer, Right Royal Knight, crowned Miss Bettie Watts, of Meridian, Queen of Love and Beauty. R. F. Coleman, crowned Miss Lota Watts, of Uniontown, First Maid of Honor—Master Matt. Rush crowned Miss Ida Payne Second Maid of Honor. Mr. R. F. Coleman, was adjudged the "Most Graceful Knight," by a committee of young ladies appointed by the judges—Miss Lota Watts, of Uniontown; Miss Sallie Jones, Meridian; Miss Hooks, Sumter county Ala.; Miss Swayne, Enterprise; Miss White, Kemper county.

The riding throughout was excellent. Capt. Bush, especially, riding like a centaur. Long live the Meridian Tournament Club! It has afforded us a deal of pleasure. We have listened to the address of Messrs. Metz & Potter, and the brief but no less elegant and appropriate remarks of General Ramsey; we have gazed upon faces as fair as ever graced "hall or bower," and in fact we are indebted to the "Club," for an evening of innocent enjoyment. Col. Henderson, our worthy Mayor, was present all praise as its President, he seems to have carried into the chair that executive energy so marked in his administration of municipal affairs. We must not omit to state Gen. Patton introduced the Knights to the assembled fair, with "Patton's grace."

Let us encourage Tournaments. They keep fresh in memory the deeds of heroic men, and foster the principles of chivalry which are founded upon the best feelings of the human heart. 'Twas the office of the Knight of old to succor the distressed. When the arm of law was weak, and might made right, he rode forth to protect the innocent and become the champion of the poor. His sword was ever unsheathed in behalf of woman, and his proud homage elevated her from the deep degradation of "dark ages." Let us remember and emulate their fame. Kv.

THE MOBILE ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.—On and after to-day the accommodation Train leaving Mobile at 4:30 P. M. on Sunday, and leaving Meridian at 5:37 P. M. on Saturday, will be discontinued. On all other days of the week, the train will run as heretofore.

DEATH OF COLONEL THEODORE O'HARA.—Many hearts throughout the Southern States will receive with sorrow the announcement of the death of Col. Theodore O'Hara, of Kentucky, which event took place on Friday afternoon last, in Barbour county, Alabama. Since three of the Lafayette, Col. O'Hara had been in declining health, and for several months was confined to his bed. His general friend will be pained to learn that his death was hastened by the loss of his property by fire, which occurred a few months since.

Hon. J. M. Botts accepted, in behalf of the friends of the Charlottesville Convention, a proposition for a joint committee of the two wings, as follows:

"To the Unconditional Union Men of Virginia.—The Republican Executive State Committee and the undersigned, citizens of the State of Virginia who have ever ourselves unconditional Union men and members of the great Republican party of the United States, call upon all citizens of like condition, as common sufferers, not to throw away the "golden opportunity" to restore themselves, our children and the State, from the hands of those who have brought nothing but war, desolation and wretchedness to our doors. Let a full council at Richmond, as more convenient than Charlottesville, on the first day of August next, at 12 o'clock, M., in the African Church, for the purpose of extending and perfecting the organization of the Republican party, commenced by the Convention assembled at Richmond, on the 17th of April last."

The motion for a new trial in Conover's case was abandoned. He leaves for Albany penitentiary to-night.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3—P. M.

Gen. U. S. Grant:

SIR: I transmit by mail to-day a communication from Gen. Griffin, in which he asks for the removal of Gov. Throckmorton, of Texas.

I feel like Griffin on the subject—that he ought to be removed. And I fear that I will be obliged to remove him. And I fear that I will be obliged to remove the Governor of Louisiana. He is impeding me as much as he can.

I will commence the registration in Louisiana as soon as the Supplemental Bill reaches me officially. I feel myself fully equal to the new task, and hope to get through it creditably to the military.

I send Griffin's application and this telegram, asking the benefit of your judgment. It is my intention to make but few remarks,

P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major General.

The annexed dispatch was in answer to the foregoing:

Major General P. H. Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS, La.:

SIR—I would advise that no removals of Governors of States be made at present.

The question now under consideration whether the power exists under the law to remove, except by special act of Congress, or by trial under the 6th section of the act—promulgated in Order No. 33.

[signed] U. S. GRANT.
General.

WASHINGTON, June 13—The prize fight between Aaron and Collyer was won by the former in sixty-seven rounds. The fight was of the most desperate character, Collyer's face being completely jellied.—Both men were terribly punished, and it is supposed that neither can possibly recover.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The array of jury for Surratt's trial is progressing, and the panel will probably be completed today.

The National Intelligencer, which is now regarded as the executive organ, has the following:

"We have authority for the statement that at a very recent consultation of the Cabinet, it was decided that the military officers in command of the five Districts, into which the unreconstructed Southern States are divided, have no power to remove civil officers, during their authority, from the State governments as now organized.

The question we now understand before the Cabinet, had more immediate reference to the removal of the Governor and other civil officers of the State of Louisiana by Gen. Sheridan, but of course will apply to the actions of the other four commanders.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—The Picayune has the following:

The Ki Commercio Matamoras of the 7th gives the following as extracts from a letter of the 2d from Monterey: "Miramon has died of a fever which attacked him after he was wounded at Queretaro. Castillo, Mejia and several others have been shot, according to a letter I have seen from a creditable person in San Luis. The most profoud silence is preserved as to what is to be done with Maximilian. The chief functionaries talked both ways. I have just been told that Mexico was at the feet of the monarch."

El Mensajero, the Imperialist paper published at Brownsville, pronounces Maximilian's proclamations of Monterey, and says that it originated with a burlesque paper at San Luis Potosi.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—It is almost certain that the acts of District Commanders, wherein they have transcended the munificent powers of the 39th Congress, will be reversed, and the powers of Provisional Governors restored, and that the functions of Provisional Governments will hereafter only be removed by court martial or act of Congress. This is the decision of the Cabinet, Stanton only dissenting by silence.

The probable resignation of District Commander Sickles before these reversals and restraints was discussed. Such action was apprehended and deplored. The point was, however, made that these District Commanders were soldiers on duty, and, that however unpleasant that duty may be, they cannot abandon their posts.

AUGUSTA, June 13.—Governor Brown delivered a speech at Milledgeville to-day. He counseled moderation and future prospects of the country. He takes strong ground in favor of reorganizing under the Military Reconstruction acts, as the only hope for restoration, and denounces the unconstitutionality of Gov. Wells and others, who oppose reconstruction on the proposed terms.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The steamer Governor Sharkey left port at 2 A. M., bound for Arkansas River with a large cargo of Freight and 200 government hands, for Port. Gibson. The boat was overloaded, and as she swung from the levee, began to list. She was loaded for the shore, and as her bow struck, some 20 or more persons jumped ashore. She afterwards swung loose and floated into the stream, and sunk to the hurricane roof. Yawls from other boats took off the captain and crew and a large number of the government hands. Many also swam ashore, but it is feared a large number were drowned. The boat had 300 passengers list were lost, and probably the number of missing will never be known.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—General Withers had a prolonged interview with the President this afternoon. Nothing transpired beyond such points as affect municipal officers, which will be considered in cabinet to-morrow. Indications are that the administration will move carefully but determinedly in carrying out to the latter of reconstruction acts, no more and no less, avoiding however, ultra irritating or hurried measures.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

ETHEL'S ORDEAL.

BY DESDEN FORREST GRAVES.

"You're not believing a word I say, Ethel?"

"No, I'm not, Mr. Orme!"

The dark-eyed, handsome man of the world bent forward to direct the full force of his caressing glance into Miss Grant's face.

"Ethel—what can I do or say to convince you of my sincerity?"

"Nothing, Mr. Orme—I must read you for myself."

Alan Orme was puzzled for once. He could not decipher the meaning hidden in the words of that lovely girl who sat among the flowers like a beautiful impersonation of Summer's self!

She was very fair and delicate, with heavy braids of golden hair shadowing her open forehead, and deep hazel eyes. Every feature was classically perfect from the straight nose and chiseled scarlet lips to the small, pink ears, and column-like throat. Ethel Grant was a beauty, and what is more, she was an heiress. Ah, poor child! she was sometimes almost tempted to wish that she had been penniless and plain!

"Ethel," said Alan Orme, suddenly changing the deep music of his voice into an indescribable melting cadence, "my nature lies before you like an open book; read it when and how you will!"

"Mr. Orme," said Ethel, dreamily, twisting the tassel of her blue cashmere opera cloak; "I have read in old times novels of people who passed through tests and ordeals ere they were deemed worthy to aspire to the great wishes of their hearts. I wish those olden times were back once more."

"So they may be, Ethel, as far as we are concerned," pleaded the lover. "Condemn me to any trial or test you please, dearest, and see if I do not pass through it for your sake!"

"But suppose the result proves unsatisfactory!"

"It will not prove unsatisfactory!"

"Then I have your permission to try you by what ordeal I please?"

"You have."

Ethel's brilliant eyes looked half doubtfully into Alan's, but the next moment a bright glow suffused her cheeks.

"What nonsense we are talking! You will certainly be late at that scientific meeting. Bon soir Mr. Orme!"

And Alan departed, only half satisfied with the success of the game he had been so pleading so passionately, while Ethel's cheek dropped on one fair hand, and she sat musing in the strange brightness of the late November twilight!

"He is handsome—there's no denying that fact!" she said, half aloud, "and his manners are very fascinating. I feel the charm even while I strive against it! And if the instinct of love is a test, he should prove true, and he should be but a deceiver! Nelly!"

She spoke, speaking abruptly—a tall, swarthy girl obeyed the call, entering with her work in her hand.

"When do you enter upon that engagement?"

"As governess in the Orme family?"

"Yes."

"On Thursday, I believe. Why?"

"Nell" said Miss Grant, her eyes dancing with mischievous sparkles, "I've a plan in my head—a plan worthy of the most impudent, sensational novel! Can you keep it?"

"Papa!" whispered little Tommy Orme, "I don't like the new governess one bit. She isn't pretty. She wears horrid green spectacles and a curly wig, and her skin is so dark and—"

"Hush!" he interrupted the fascinating whisper, whose voice was so low and enchanting in Miss Grant's boudoir. "I am tired of this everlasting nurse. Mary's been at the piano this instant, or I will know the reason why!"

"But papa, Miss Ward—"

"Silence!"

"Miss Ward!"

"Sir?"

This swarthy governess sat at her writing desk, a pair of green glass spectacles upon her eyes, and the folds of brilliantined hair almost hiding her profile in its heavy luxuriance.

He poked out the coals vigorously as he spoke.

"And about your salary, Miss Ward—two hundred dollars is more than I can give—do not interrupt me, if you please—a hundred and fifty is all I am prepared to give you; and I wish you to be a little economical about the fires and lights. It costs a great deal of money in this bleak days, and my sister is a very wasteful housekeeper—very!"

He closed out of the room without waiting for the governess's reply, and the next moment she heard him scolding and berating his sister in the adjoining apartment.

"Two pounds of beefsteak for a single breakfast — it's abominable — perfectly bominable! I've no money to throw away on such folies! Where was yesterday's cold lamb?"

"My dear Alan, servants—"

"Servants—servants! that's all nonsense! And what's this bill for Tommy's shoes! It's only four months since Tommy had a pair!"

"Yes, but—"

"I tell you what, Maria, there must be some limit to this throwing away of money—my income never will stand it! Children—never!"

He stamped his foot imperiously on the ground, with an emphasis that sent the frightened little one flying into the next room, to the protection of their governess's presence.

"Hush Tommy, that's very wrong!"

"I don't care—I do! Papa never does anything but scold and storm round, and I'm tired of it! I know I shall learn to curse if he does!"

"Silence," went on the enfant terrible, "papa 'll scold the heiress instead of her. He is so cross!"

"Hush, hush!" lisped his little sister reprovingly, "papa will hear you!"

The evil genius of mischief crossed toward the half open door, but stopped talking nevertheless, while the new governess made the comment so quietly begun to arrange the lesson books and prepare for the duties of the day.

When Mr. Orme returned from his business that evening, he went straight into the school room.

"Miss Ward, I find it is cheaper — Hallo! Where is the governess. I don't pay wages for the governess to dawdle away her time!"

"Gone!"

"The salary was insufficient."

"Let her go, then. People are getting altogether too extravagant ideas now-a-days. I do not care!"

And he went up to his room to prepare for an evening call on Miss Grant.

Ethel was at home, as bright and radiant as ever, not a vestige remaining of the heaven-dye which had so lately stained her clear skin, nor the huge green spectacles. Mr. Orme advanced towards her.

"Well, Ethel, is my answer ready?"

"Yes."

"What is it?"

"Most emphatically, No!"

"Ethel!"

"Mr. Orme!"

"You promised to try me."

"I have tried you, and you have been found wanting. Good evening Mr. Orme!"

Nelly Ward remains with Miss Grant as her companion, and Mr. Alan Orme was never able to comprehend the motives that had actuated Ethel Grant's conduct.

He was not at all satisfied, but Miss Ethel was.

The Safety Hand Lamp,

AND

Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not burn out nor explode, and the Oil is luxuriant life. The cost of the fluid is about one half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county Miss., and Chestaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

OF all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the attention of the Faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges. —About $400 per annum, for four years; or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800; board, $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200 and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, the best foundation for other parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.

Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wig.

Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,

REPARATOR CAPILLI

For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force a full growth of hair upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from six to three months. Few fashionable practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But very many, however, are to distinguish the genuine from the spurious. It is certainly a difficult, as nine tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will not cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. Every Druggist does not keep it, but send us one dollar and we will forward it post paid, together with a receipt for the money, and it will be sent by return mail or express, providing entire satisfaction is not given. The Chingarora

ANTI-NERVOUS

SMOKING TOBACCO!

THE CHINGARORA TOBACCO grows from the rich soil of the "ORIENT," and possesses all of a peculiarly delicious flavor, entirely unknown to the tobaccos of all other climes. Its most unprecedented success in the Orient, during the last of the entire absence of that deadly pestilence, the Nervous Dyspepsia every other tobacco, and which is in a great measure due to the cheering effects of the Chingarora upon the nervous system, and the almost entire absence of the indigestion of the pipe and cigar. At the present unsightly exhibition of tobacco users all the world, at the Academy of Sciences in Paris, the renowned Chemist, D. Lanscenaux, declared that while pipes and cigars of other tobaccos contained fully eight per cent. and the purest Havana tobacco from five to seven per cent. of Nicotine, the CHINGARORA did not contain one discoverable particle of it, the deadly poison, a drop of which, extracted, will destroy life.

Our agent at HOME has shipped us large quantities of the CHINGARORA TOBACCO for the past two years, and we have been pressed to supply the demand from the delicious luxury to the veterans smoker, yet we are now prepared to offer it in unlimited quantities, and we feel sure it will keep them some American tobacco of a far inferior quality.

A connoisseur has but to smoke the American tobacco segars, which are invariably chemically flavored, to be disgusted with the use of Nicotine which leaves a nauseous, unhealthy coating in the mouth, in time seldom fails to shatter the nervous system.

The natives of the "ORIENT" smoke the CHINGARORA in the form of segars, from the youth to age, and are happily unconscious of the evils of Nicotine, which are entirely avoided by devotees of the inhaler of the fumes of tobacco containing Nicotine.

We invite every lover of the weed to try the CHINGARORA, and guarantee unprecedented pleasure in its use.

The World Astonished

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, become in a state of confusions and friends, love of money, &c., have become disconsolate. She causes the lagging lovers, long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the name of your future husband or wife, and how, when and where you will be married, causes speedy marriages, and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She brings your very thoughts and by the magic power of her supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. By reading the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overpower and predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she defines the future destiny of man. Full not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you only a trifle, and you never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation by mail, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, by sending a lock of hair and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness returned with answer. Letter from Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, on Reconstruction.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE COLUMBIA PHOENIX:—The people of South Carolina were persuaded six or seven years ago, that their only hope of maintaining African Slavery, was in the destruction of the American Union and the formation of a Southern Confederacy. I do not think so, and therefore, in warning you against this fatal delusion. I said to them that slavery was safer in the Union than it could be in a separate Confederacy.—I told them that the extinction of the Union would be the death-knell of Slavery. They spurned my counsel, and madly rushed into a bloody civil war, which ended in the abolition of slavery. Now they are being persuaded again, that the only way to save their lands from the confiscation of Congress, is in adopting the provisions of the Military Bill, giving universal suffrage to the negro, and disfranchising the leading public men. It is with a sad heart that I see these citizens, all over the State, of a preparation to adopt this second delusion, which will prove more fatal to the State than the first has been. It is true they have lost by the first their property in slaves, and involved their country in a long and bloody war, which desolated the State and sacrificed thousands of their most gallant men, but they have been placed under a military government. But now they are going to sacrifice their honor as a people, and lose their lands in the bargain! They are going to enfranchise 60,000 black voters, and surrender the political power of the State into the hands of the negroes! The inevitable result of this delusion and criminal folly will be the establishment of the most atrocious government and horrible state of society that a people was ever subjected to.

Already the negro vaults every in Virginia and elsewhere as "Land for the landless!" "Houses for the houseless!" "Political equality to all men, regardless of race or color!" What avail will 40,000 white voters have in South Carolina, with this witch cry ringing at the polls! It is against nature and reason to suppose that an ignorant and debased majority will not pursue their own interest, regardless of right, and carry out their wicked purposes, whatever they may be. It is impossible to restrain them at first, before they acquire concert of action. Hence the importance of defeating the call of a convention at the first election, before this majority is organized and emboldened by agitation and evil counsels. It cannot be controlled afterward, but will make South Carolina a political and social pandemonium. Is there an instance in the world's history of a class of men, invested with political power, who did not unite to promote their own interests?

Just as sure as general suffrage is given to the negro in South Carolina, he will feel his numerical strength, and sooner or later, under the vile lead of the Black Republican emissaries, seize the political power of the State and exercise it to oppress and plunder the white race. There are thousands of unprincipled white men among us, who will unite their destiny with the negro for the sake of spoils and plunder. They will easily be persuaded, and persuade themselves, that it is right and proper that the lands of the State should be divided out equally among all of her citizens. Every one should have a home, the poor free man as well as his former rich master. Having the power in their hands, with this belief, it is folly and stupidity to suppose they will not execute it. They must needs go in pursuit of office, ride with you and your daughters on the cars, and eat with you at the hotel, and sit with you in the church. All this, and ten times more, you must endure from your political masters. And can it be that the pride of Carolina has sunk so low, and been so degraded, as to vote for all this voluntarily, for the purpose of getting back into the Union which her citizens professed to hate and despise so cordially a few years since? Are they willing to go to the polls and cast their vote for a convention, with this degrading theme in the face, in order to save their lands from confiscation? No. They will be voting the ultimate confiscation of their lands and their political rights as surely as they are voting away their honor as men in after Carolinians.

There are in the State only two districts out of the thirty in which the white voters are in the majority, and these are the smallest, consequently two-thirds and more of the Convention may be negroes or Black Republicans. The Legislature will be similarly composed. Do the people of the South really think of these consequences, or are they prepared to accept them? Better a thousand times let Congress confiscate your land than entail such a government and such degradation and misery on yourselves and posterity. Do your duty and leave the consequences to God.—Act like men and Carolinians. Beware, by voting against a Convention, that you will never voluntarily yield the right of self-government or place yourselves under the control of your former slaves. Better—far better—to remain as you are, under the military rule of your conquerors, and await the returning sense of justice. I feel convinced that nothing but a mistaken appeal to base fear, and that dastardly virtue, called prudence, could have wrought so wonderful a change in the public sentiment of South Carolina, and it is unchimerly to see the people, a proud, gallant people—scored into their own ruin and degradation by the false cry of confiscation, like the consumptive lunatic, who had such a terror of death that he hatted his brains out against the walls of his cell to avoid it. In order to save our lands from Congressional confiscation, we are persuaded to let the negroes parcel them out among themselves.

Let no one charge me with disloyalty to the American Union, or infer from what I have said that I am not in favor of reconstructing the union of the States. My whole political life has been spent in fighting for the Union, and trying to ward off that fell spirit of disunion which has brought unnumbered woes upon South Carolina. I wish to see the Union restored under the Constitution. I know the American people never can be free and happy, great and prosperous, without the Federal Union; but I will never degrade myself, or my State, or surrender my constitutional rights or republican principles to get back into the Union. I will live under a military government, no matter how absolute or despotic it may be, and bequeath it to my children, sooner than vote a negro government for a South Carolina, or any man will do who votes for a Convention.

It is a source of proud satisfaction to me to see such Union men as Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi, Gov. Jennings, of Georgia, Gov. Worth, of North Carolina, and Gov. Marvin, of Florida, who never ceased their opposition to the spirit of disunion till the Union ceased to exist, standing firmly and breathing the storm of tyranny, oppression and degradation which has been hurled at them, while leading secessionists and disunionists are counseling the people to their own degradation and destruction, for the purpose of getting back into the Union; and in order to accomplish their purposes, holding up to their view the "raw head and bloody bones" of confiscation. Such counsel comes with a bad grace from those who boasted, at the beginning of our civil or sectional war, that they had drawn their swords and thrown away their scabbards, determined to live or die separate from the vile and accursed Yankee nation.

Let no one charge me, either, with unkindness to the African race. I have always been their friend and protector, and as they show themselves capable of exercising the right of suffrage, by their intelligence and property, I am willing to concede the right to them. But I am not willing, in their present debased and degraded condition, to throw the political power of the State into their hands. I know the result will be disastrous, both to them and the white race. It will end in a bloody contest of extermination to one race or the other. In very few of the Northern States are the negroes allowed to vote, where they have only a few, and they are far superior to those of the Southern States. It is manifest that the representatives of those States in Congress should attempt to force us to yield the right of universal suffrage to the negro, when they refuse it to him themselves.

There is no danger of confiscation by Congress. The members of this body may not be superior to the negro in honesty, but they have not the same motive to vote a division of the lands. They are not citizens who will have a foot in it, and are therefore not likely to rob and steal for another as for himself. But is it not better to be robbed and plundered by Congress than by a Convention of your own citizens? As wicked as Congress is, the members must have some regard for the opinion of the world. They may, too, have some appreciation of agrarianism at home.

I greatly fear there are many white persons in South Carolina who will vote for a Convention, under the delusion of its repudiating the public debts of the State. This class may influence the negro vote to unite with them, and thus, in effect, they can make use of the negro in parceling out the lands of the State. One step leads to another. Stay law first—repudiation next; and then follows a division of lands and an equal apportionment of property among all persons, and last of all, the honest, hardworking, industrious and prudent class must support the idle, dissipated, extravagant and roguish class. Who cares to be represented in Congress by negro, Black Republicans or perjured Southerners? All others are excluded by the "iron clad oath." A full 3/5 of the great boon South Carolina is to receive for her voluntary abandonment of honor, and principle, and constitutional liberty? We are to be represented in Congress by men whom we despise and will only increase the Black Republican majority in that body. Such, at least, we shall have a Legislature composed of negroes and their vile representatives! Congress has left it discretionary with the people of South Carolina whether to call a Convention or not. They have called a registration of voters and authorized every one to indorse on his ticket "Convention" or "No Convention." Therefore, let every man who is not disfranchised, go to the polls like a gentleman, and, for property, and the peace of society, go forward and register his name, and then vote at the election, indorsing on his ticket "No Convention." In this way alone can we maintain our honor, preserve the peace of society, prevent black suffrage, and a division of the lands amongst the negroes.

LOVE.—A complaint of the heart generally of an immoderate longing after something difficult to obtain.—It attacks persons of both sexes, generally between the ages of fourteen and thirty; some have been known to have died at the age of sixty.

Symptoms.—Absence of mind, giving things wrong names; calling tears nectar and sighs zephyrs; bleeding at the nose; loss of appetite; neglect of business; a loathing for all things—except love; bloodshot eyes, a constant desire to sigh.

Effects.—A strong headache; pulse high stupidly eloquent eyes; sleeplessness, and all that sort of thing.—At times the imagination is right, hovers of roses; winged cupids, and buttered-peas, and them again, oceans of despair, racks, tortures and hair triggered pistols.

Cure.—Get married. If that don't cure you it will at least open your eyes.

A TRUE LADY.—I was once walking a short distance behind a very handsomely dressed young lady, and thinking so, I looked at her beautiful clothes, "I wonder if she takes half so much pains with her heart as she does with her body?"

A poor old man was coming up the walk, and just before he reached us, he made two attempts to go into the yard of a small house; but the gate was heavy, and would swing back before he could get through.

"Wait," said the young girl, springing lightly forward, "I'll hold the gate open." And she held the gate until he passed in, and received his thanks with a pleasant smile as she went on.

The Chicago Times of the 15th gives prominence to the following incident, as indicating the state of society in a mortal town known as St. Louis. A crowd had gathered on a corner, and an excited individual, panting with heat rushed up to the crowd exclaiming:

"What's the matter!"

"Only a man killed," was the reply.

"Oh! is that all? I've been running like h—ll and d—nation. I thought it was a dog fight."

Seven miles from White Bluffs Station on the Northwestern Railroad, in Sumner county, Tennessee, some [illegible] struck oil in digging a well. The oil is about twelve barrels p[illegible]

Encouraged by the liberal support that the public in this part of the State have given the Gazette, and with a view to increase still farther its circulation, we have reduced the subscription price of the Weekly to two dollars per annum. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, our circulation has increased during the last three months and is now double that of any paper that has been published in Meridian or in this part of the State since the removal of the Clarion to Jackson. The Weekly Gazette is the cheapest paper in the State, will have but few advertisements and contains a complete epitome of all the news for the week. A little effort on the part of our friends would soon double our circulation.

Gen. Ord has issued an important circular of instruction to the Boards of Registration. The following officers in this district are regarded by General Ord as clearly included within the terms executive or judicial officers of any State, viz: Governors, Secretaries of State, Auditors, State Treasurers, Attorney Generals, Judges of the Supreme Court, of the High Court of Appeals, Chancellors, Judges of the Circuit Court, Judges or Justices of County Courts, Sheriffs, Coroners and Adjutants General and Quartermasters General who have actually exercised the duties and received the salaries of their offices, and Mayors authorized to act in a judicial capacity. Thus it will be seen the District Commander rather extends than curtails the list of disfranchised persons. As Clerks of Courts are not mentioned, it is clear they will be permitted to register.

The New Orleans Times has published the decision of the Supreme Court affirming that notes or obligations received in the purchase of slaves subscribed to the President's proclamation of emancipation, cannot be recovered, as the contract was founded upon an invalid consideration.

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.—The following press dispatch, received in Mobile Tuesday night, will be at once interesting and agreeable news to our readers:

It is stated, on authority, that it was decided to restore the civil officers removed contrary to law.

They will be restored by an Executive order, which will be issued tomorrow.

RULES AND FORMS IN BANKRUPTCY.—A letter from Washington, dated June 12th, says that the Clerk of the Supreme Court to-day issued the official printed copy of the rules and forms in bankruptcy, as agreed on and promulgated by the Court in May, and as printed for the Court by the Government printing office. All other editions are unofficial, though where they may be correct copies, are just as authentic. The Congressional printer and Clerk of the Court are overwhelmed with letters from parties desiring copies of the work. These officials do not undertake to distribute any copies except to Courts. The public will have to depend on the trade, which has been supplied with a large number of copies printed at private expense, from the same forms, at the Government printing office, on which the official edition was printed.

The first drawing of the Southern Asylum Land Lottery came off at Hernando, Miss, the other day, and was a triumphant success. Among the lucky ticket holders, we notice the name of Col. J. J. Shannon of this paper, who has drawn a lot.

Gov Perry on the Military Bill.

We give on our first page the last letter of Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, against reconstruction under the Military bill. These letters from the late Provisional Governor of South Carolina, have been extensively copied by the papers opposed to reconstruction, and have, no doubt, had considerable influence on the public mind. They constitute the heavy artillery of the opposition, embody all their arguments, and should be read carefully by those who have not yet decided what course to take on the important question.

We think, when closely examined, his essays will be found deficient in common sense reasoning, but abounding in violent abuse and empty declamation. He urges us to vote down a Convention and holds out the delusive idea that we should remain under military rule" and await the "returning sense of justice" to the Northern people. We are told the same thing by the journals who oppose reconstruction, and they claim that if we will "endure" and stubbornly vote against a Convention the Northern Democracy will come to our relief. We say there is not the slightest ground for such a hope. Out of one hundred and ninety-two members of the Fortieth Congress less than fifty are Democrats. Those is but one Democratic Governor in the North, and every Legislature of the twenty-five free States is thoroughly Republican. But a few weeks since in the Judicial elections that occurred in Illinois, eighteen of twenty-four districts were carried by the Radicals, and in the election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention in New York, last month, Republicanism carried the State by an overwhelming majority. Let us not deceive ourselves. Congress intends to reconstruct these States on some plan. Many of the leading Democrats of the North knowing that their party is impotent to save us, advise reconstruction.—Leading men of the party in Congress withdrew opposition to the Military bill, believing the terms then offered to be the best that would ever be proposed, and being utterly hopeless of a reaction sufficient to overthrow Radicalism before the South was reconstructed in some measure by the present Congress. We will not be permitted to live under a military government even if we desire it. Gov. Perry admits there are sixty thousand black voters in South Carolina and only forty thousand whites. How he expects to overcome this great preponderance is not stated, but it may be inferred that he expects, by taking advantage of the negro's ignorance, a sufficient number of colored votes may be obtained to carry the State against a Convention. The duplicity and fraud necessary to turn the colored vote of South Carolina in the wake of Gov. Perry, would not only be disgraceful to the people of that State, but would bring upon them the very evils his heated imagination so vividly depicts. Those who expect to vote down a Convention by practicing fraud and deception on the negro, would, if successful, strike a blow at the best interests of the South, from which the present generation would never recover.

The government of these States would pass at once and forever from the Southern whites.

With a majority of whites disfranchised, all the blacks enfranchised, hostility between the races would increase, riots ensue; a general insecurity for person and property would drive capital from the State, and destroy everything like business and prosperity.

Distasteful as the Military bill is, a large majority of the whites can vote under it. If they will honestly accept its requirements, manifest kindness and good feeling to the newly enfranchised, instruct them in their duties as citizens, show an interest in their education and improvement, the Southern whites will still retain place and power under the government. A conflict of races will be avoided. Immigration and capital will have security, the disabilities of the enfranchised will be removed, and with representation in Congress we can have just legislation that will develope our prosperity, build up our "waste and desolate places," and give to those whom God has entrusted to our charge, a home of peace and comfort. Our people should remember "negro suffrage is a fixed inevitable fact"—Gov. Perry does not show us how to avoid it. "Negro rule pure and unmixed" is worse than negro suffrage, and would be the inevitable result of the triumph of his teachings.

"NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—Minister Campbell is still here luxuriating in the society of the rebels of this city, where he was invited to depart for the Halls of the Montezumas."

Who are the Assistant Radicals?

Certain newspapers in this State, opposed to reconstruction, are in the habit of calling Conservative journals like the Clarion and Gazette, who favor a Convention, Assistant Radicals, and console themselves with such epithets, we suppose, for want of better argument. But let us see who are the allies and assistants of the Radicals in Mississippi? The newspapers that denounced negro testimony, that influenced the Legislature to prohibit the freedmen from acquiring real estate, and to pass other unjust and discriminating laws against that class, did more to swell the Radical majorities of the North than Stephens, Sumner and Wendell Philips put together. The acts of our Legislature, extracts from the editorials of these ostentatious vaporers for Southern honor, were read by Radical speakers, and the damaging effect was seen in the increased Republican majorities. They aided to fasten Radical rule on the nation, and negro suffrage on the South. Left to themselves the Republican press can accomplish nothing. They have but few papers with a limited circulation. But they find in the class of journals to which we refer, valuable auxiliaries. Their constant abuse and ridicule of the negro is calculated to stir up enmity between the two races and unite the colored vote, on the Radical platform. Should they succeed in defeating a Convention at an election in which nine-tenths of the whites are voters, it will give the extreme Radicals an opportunity to force on the State a rather Convention, disfranchising nine-tenths of the whites as is the case in Missouri and Tennessee.

These very papers that say so much about "Assistant Radicals" are doing more to subserve the ends of Radical leaders than if they classed themselves with the party, and are the most efficient allies and "assistants" Radicalism has in the South.

Reconstruction in North Mississippi.

We see from the Corinth News of last week that a number of citizens of Tishomingo county, including the most prominent of both the old political parties, have issued an address to the people of that county, urging them to register and vote for a Convention. The address concludes as follows:

This is the most important election you were ever called upon to have a voice in and the most important that any people were ever called upon to engage in.

We urge upon all who can do so to come forward at the time appointed by the Board and Register.

If you fail to register at your precinct go to some other point in the list where you can meet the Board and Register.

If you fail to register before the first day of September, 1867, you cannot vote. If you register you need not afterwards vote unless you wish to; but to fail to register is to deprive yourself of the privilege afterwards of voting if you should desire to do so.

When the time comes for an election of delegates to the Convention let us elect good and true men, and change our Constitution so as to meet the requirements of the Military bill.

Let us do everything in our power to produce peace and harmony and prosperity to our unhappy land.

The doing of all these things may fail to produce the desired effect, but to do otherwise will bring us still greater misery.

The Non-Action Policy.

Ex-Governor Perry, of South Carolina, has written a letter urging the people of his State to refuse to reconstruct under the Military Bill. We were never very ardent believers in the strategy so tersely designated "masterly inactivity," and now when the weakness of that policy, as applied to our course under the plan submitted to us for reorganization, and return to national relations, is so plain, the specious arguments of Gov. Perry in favor of continuing our present standing, we shall scarcely become converts to that school.

We frankly state that we agree with Gov. Perry that, were the horrors depicted by him likely to follow in consequence of our compliance with this act, and were our alternative continued impudence under military rule, we should prefer the latter; and should most assuredly oppose any more ready acceptance of the terminus laid down.

Let us examine the grounds taken by Gov. Perry, and see whether they are all so tenable as at first glance might seem. First, the Governor sets out to recall the fact that he opposed the secession movement on the ground of policy, and reminds the people that his prophecy has proven true by the result, hence the inference that now his advice should at once be accepted. "Our right always right," has not always held true.

The Governor says the people are going to sacrifice their honor in accepting this bill. We cannot see how, when hundreds of thousands of the widows, mothers, and fatherless children of brave men who gave up their lives in the cause once so dear to every true Southern heart, are to-day crying for bread—the people of the conquered States can sacrifice their honor by using enough even of the means at hand to save one of the many inducting to depart for the Halls of the Montezumas."

settled state of politics and society, which can alone secure unto such years to prosperity, as will again drive away from our doors, put our lands in full cultivation, start our mills, factories and mines in operation, and give honest and profitable employment to all.

There are 60,000 black voters and 40,000 white voters in South Carolina, and hence Gov. Perry says it is important to defeat the bill for a Convention. Free Governor, tell us how you will do this, with such a majority against you? Of course, all the black votes will be for it.

A Convention is bound to be held, and is not more to be hoped from one into which the conservative element has centered with all its power, even though that power be the minority? Would not even that minor influence have some weight in tempering and modifying the action of the body?

But if we do not believe that a Radical majority can be obtained in a Convention in any State of the South if the entire Conservative portion of the people go heartily and vigorously into the work, using the influences which in many cases they must possess over the simple honest minded negro, from child hood, and gradually, and slowly inculcate them for advice, and counsel in all personal private affairs, and certainly should now find no reason for looking to others for guidance in this new subject of important interest to them.

Most especially are we sure that, in this State, where there is no vast majority of black voters, a decidedly Conservative Convention can be elected, if every white man, that is eligible, votes, and for the best men to be found, and if influences as many of the colored votes with him as possible.

If we fail in getting a Conservative Convention, it will be because the Radical party out votes us, and hence, would succeed in voting a convention despite our efforts.

Even were it certain that the contest would be extreme, so long as it must be held, we should say vote for it.

The Radical leaders have been telling the people of the North, which in the mass are for the preservation of the Union, that the South is rebellious yet, and does not want to come into national relations under any circumstances. The prompt, honest acceptance and compliance with the terms given by Congress, which terms are approved in the main by an immense majority in the North, will give the lie to all those statements, and build up for us such an overwhelming party of sympathizers in the North as to insure such legislation in the National Congress, even though the South was Radically represented. Voting against convention, defeating this bill in the vital point, would only confirm the arguments of the extremists.

The general disposition evinced in the South to act in this matter in good faith, is the cause of the great revulsion in sentiment to-day sweeping over the North. The Radical party are not all extremists, and thousands will abandon it for the great National Union Conservative party, when they are convinced of the sincerity of our purposes.

Mr. Perry tells the people it is better far to live under military rule. Does he not know that this military provision for government is but temporary? that within 20,000 majority against him, he will have the terms of the bill complied with and the State organized and carried back to the Union and civil government?

Congress will certainly maintain the military government when a Radical State organization has been perfected.

It is not a question of submission to military rule for life and handing it down to our children, as Mr. Perry so eloquently puts it, but a plain question whether we shall be entirely on our backs and let the rule pass into the hands of the worst and most proscriptive men, with the most objectionable constitutions, or whether we shall, by activity and untiring work, create for our States the most liberal constitutions compatible with the many undoubtedly objectionable, but unavoidable features of the Act, and elect to their Government and representation those the most men eligible under the same.

We have never been believers in the coming of confederation, and are not stricken about danger, though we are not so certain as Gov Perry speaks, that it might not follow a stubborn repudiation of the Congressional plan. While a large vote last October's bill over till December, yet we understand it was simply to give time for action in the South on the Military bill, and there is no telling now to what mad end a great dominant majority might go, should their ultimatum be rejected.

One word more and we leave Gov Perry and his "non-action policy" for the present.

He says under this bill and the "test oath" we can only be represented by "negroes, Black Republicans, or perjured Southerners." We beg to differ directly. All over the South are men who have settled permanently, and become as thoroughly identified citizens as though born here; have planted their homes, reared their mills, shops or factories—in some way given the pledge of citizenship—men who, born and reared at the North, have no State rights views, and only knowing the whole nation, acting like men, in accordance with their settled convictions of right, fought in the Federal ranks for the maintenance of the Union solely, and who are not now nor were ever "Black Republicans"; men who had no prejudices in this war, no fanaticism to fight for, simply desiring the restoration of the Union as it was.—When the war closed and armed foes had laid down their arms and dispersed, they thought the question settled, and were willing to grant general amnesty to all returning to their loyalty.

They have come among us with only kindly feelings; are now of us, our interests in the future must be shared by them, and why should we not trust them?

They can, without perjury, take the required oaths, and why not represent us until the disability of so many of our old and trusted citizens be removed, as must soon be the case, after a full restoration of our rights in the nation?—Mobile Times.

AID FOR THE SOUTH.—It is stated that the subscribers to the English cotton famine fund desire to appropriate the surplus funds, amounting to the large sum of $600,000 in gold, to the relief of the Southern States of the American Union. It is known but a small portion of the funds would ever be claimed by the subscribers under any circumstances, and, therefore, it is not likely that there will be any difficulty in the way of its suggested application. It would be a magnificent donation. The Liverpool American says:

"There may be some legal obstacles to its immediate use for this purpose; but, in the character of the sufferings will admit of no delay; it has been proposed to send forward a portion now, and retain a part until such time as might be fixed for its withdrawal. At present, no demand is being urged, as people seem disposed to wait for the action of the Government; but one word from that quarter would cause the dormant energies of the people to be aroused, and a meeting to be called."

Go with Hydrichlingh's speed and fly down to me English Female Bitters and be cured.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, received at Vicksburg or St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides, J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

The Late Mrs. Fannie J. Early.

Yesterday morning a modest coffin, followed by a heart-stricken husband and group of sorrowing friends, issued from a gloomy home to convey to her final resting place, Fannie J. Early, eldest daughter of the late Wm. Chears, Esq., and wife of our fellow-townsman, Capt. R. V. Early. The last benediction over, the mortal remains were deposited into the earth alongside of father and mother, in the old Marion cemetery, without a voice other than that of religion being heard above the bier—a silence always eloquent and devotional, when observed about things perishable on the threshold of things eternal. Knowing well the subject of this notice, we cannot speak of her memory without feelings of the deepest sorrow. Every virtue that could ennoble and every quality that could endow the sex, were centered in her. So gentle, so meek, so amiable and so unassuming, wearing sunshine and gladness, pleasure and happiness, around her. Purity and innocence dwelt in her bosom, and truth and affection were the attendant spirits of her daily life. In large station she was scrupulously conscientious and just; her friendship cautiously bestowed, remained steadfast and unflinching; the idol of home and friends, she blended those delicate and lamentable qualities which constitutes Heaven below—a fitting passport to the one above." Bright and beautiful as her midst forever. Pure and spotless, her spirit has returned to the God who gave it after lasting of the rich wine of life and then encountering one of the severest trials and agonies of that cup—the bed of wormwood. Crimsoned and fearless she has passed above, under the shadow, and explored the glorious mysteries of the spirit land. God pity him who smoothed the hair around the icy brow and laid together the quiet, cold hands, and pride him and his children that to most her again when this weary travail is over, head by the waters of eternal life.

In paying a tribute to this good and true woman, gathered in the household of God, after a struggle of twenty-two years, we implore the aid of memory, and by her him, and where the eyes were her body slumbers with a smooth slumber of her life—a happy life.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The following is the substance of the bill published this morning. It is intended to meet the difficulties and complications arising from the reconstruction measures. The Committee did not meet in consequence of the extra session of the Senate, and therefore had no control. The Herald has published the bill of the 28th, which says the Committee reports the terms of the Reconstruction Act in the most explicit and unequivocal manner. On the reception of the report Congress will immediately resolve itself into a committee of the whole, and will carefully consider and digest the measure in all its details, and will suggest to the President such amendments as may be necessary to secure the objects which the honest imagination of the Secretary, is so prolific. The current news every one knows. The Committee do not vote down any Democratic bill, but participating in the movement and becoming a part of it, they may control it to their ends, and at all events prevent the mischievous results anticipated, and which will surely follow, we may add, if a sense seemed of such grave as Gov. Perry, prevail. He need not rely upon the use of fraud, or of chicanery, to prevent the negroes voting for a Convention—Woe to the whites of the South, if they should succeed in rejecting a Convention, by defrauding the negroes of the only way which the laws of the Government accord to him or by keeping him away from the polls by deception or threat—It will then be the duty of the Radicals in Congress who are now held in check by the Conservative Republicans, with the pretext which they have anxiously await, for a sweeping system of spoliation and political disfranchisement. Above all things, let the people spurn the Southern fanatic who would arm their enemies with this weapon.

And after all, to vote down a Convention, does not deprive the negro of his privilege to vote. This right he will continue to exercise until Congress pass another act of Restoration (which would speedily follow the decision of the Courts against the one now pending,) conferring the newly made voters and political adventurers from elsewhere, the exclusive control of the State.

But we commenced the article to introduce some timely comments on the proclamation of Gov. Perry, which we find in an able paper published in his own State—the Charleston News:

"The simple question submitted to him now, is whether he will—as such power as we have left us, and go into the Convention for the purpose of doing our best to make it work, where beneficial to the interest of the State, and preventing the mischief which in our absence will be assuredly the result.

"Governor Perry advises the State most earnestly no to do so. 1. Because, if we do not, matters will, with the help of the Democratic party, right themselves one of these days.

"With or without the Democratic party, we have no doubt that, as has been said long ago, "Time and the hour runs through the roughest day;" but to us the important point is "when?" Governor Perry does not pretend to a seer—that even he himself can come before the termination of this Congress, that is two years hence, and as the Convention will soon assemble after the coming autumn, all the evils, the confiscation of our lands, the subjugation of our race, which the Governor predicts as the result of the Convention, will have been accomplished. Indeed, the plain statement of this argument seems to be, as Governor Perry told Governor Means, "That the ship was going to the devil, and he was going with it," he is unwilling that anybody should interfere with this journey, for the Governor will scarcely pretend to say he has reached that uncomfortable point during his Provisional Government.

"In regard to the other way, we will not be admitted to representation when we have done it.

"This is Gov. Perry's opinion, formed in his room in a suicidal mood, and in direct defiance of that melancholy which always infects the minds of great actors in public life, when they retire from the stage. Charles V., in the Escurial, Napoleon at Fontainbleau, Mr. Weller, the elder, when he laid down the reins of his Government, took the same gloomy view of its future and their successors. But against even this opinion, we think practical men can safely put the opinions of leaders like Sherman, and Pennenden, and Wilson, and Colfax and Frelinghuysen, the open and almost unanimous declaration of the Northern Republican press, and the wholesome current of events since the adjournment of Cong ess.

"And when the Governor says, "The Union will not be restored until after the next Presidential election—the voters of the Southern States are not wanted in that election, we would ask Dr. Childs is he? if the Republican party is so overwhelmingly strong, where is the hope of that Democratic reaction, which is to be the result and the reward of their patience?

"2. Because the Convention will be controlled by the vote of the freedmen in the interest of the whites of the South.

"We have as yet seen nothing to justify this prediction. Indeed the Governor himself says "at present out of the towns and villages, the negro nothing else but the right of suffrage and knows nothing, unless influenced by bad men, he will not trouble himself to register or vote. He can, however, will not always be the case." Does it not occur to the Governor then that it would be wise for us to act, while it is yet the negro is ignorant, and while he is in his own account, the great mass of the colored vote of the State is willing to trust politicians of the South, that we should use it, use it wisely, and justly as that when they do take an interest in their right of suffrage they may continue to feel that their confidence has not been misplaced?

"We have endeavored at various times to put this issue gravely and honestly before our readers, but we despair. We do not think it useful to reproduce the argument. It comes too near home to our dearest and most sacred interests not to be considered in the solution of every man who feels that he has any responsibility in the country. With judgment, with firmness and with prudence we believe the Convention to be held in this State can and will be controlled for good."

A sweet morsel Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, has swallowed the Radical Congress constituting the Reconstruction Committee. His position as set forth in his late message is large majority of the people favor it, it will be the part of wisdom for the whites to vote against a convention. Keep the political power of the State from the hands of the negro, they have this majority, they will of course instinctively vote it for a Convention, and if they will stand firm and refuse to be driven into the polls they will necessarily control a board, and consequently the convention, and thus secure the protection which the honest imagination of Perry, is so prolific. The current news every one knows. Perry does not vote down any Democratic bill, but participating in the movement and becoming a part of it, they may control it to their ends, and at all events prevent the mischievous results anticipated, and which will surely follow, we may add, if a sense seemed of such grave as Gov. OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE CONCERNING HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.

PROTECTION FOR THE HEALTHY
AND RELIEF FOR THE SICK.

INTELLIGENT TESTIMONY IS AS IMPORTANT IN MEDICINE as in law. The great Sir Jacob Henry said that the issue by which his fate depended was the "Long of experience," the statements of men of character and standing in relation to the composition and effects of a medicinal preparation which they themselves have tried, and the appearance of which they have had abundant opportunity of witnessing in a great variety of cases, are deeply important. They are so considered by the public, who very naturally prefer this species of evidence to any other that can be offered in behalf of a proprietary remedy. Upon this principle has been established in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS during twenty years that it has commanded fame and Attestation has been before the world; and although it has attained a popularity that has long been established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still deemed necessary to establish, through the press, from time to time, new proofs of its success. Recent facts and certificates are borne to facts more remote, and serve to confirm the proofs already furnished with the form exactitude and care, and that it is still, what it has been, the purest and best of all. To invalids the Bitters is an inevitable cure for Dyspepsia in all its consequences of the Stomach and Bowels, and a perfect antidote to the unwholesome influences of malarious regions and of epidemic fevers.

The subjoined letters are all from citizens well known and generally respected in the localities from which their communications are dated, and are but a few samples of an immense mass of correspondence of a similar tenor. Some idea of the quantity of the kind of testimony in the hands of the proprietors of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be formed when it is stated that during the last year applications on the subject of Fever and Ague alone, from persons in the States and Territories, in small numbers amounted to TWO THOUSAND. They are but the same class of testimony as that given below, and if ever anything was established on unimpeachable evidence, it is the superior and at times Calls and Fever can be broken up and radically cured by a very short course of this the use of this incomparable tonic. Nor is this all. Entire prostration of the digestive functions and all the forms of Intermittent Fever, is guaranteed to such as resort to this safe and genial remedy. It may be wise enough to take the BITTERS as a preventive, but it works miracles by restoring their regulation on the right hand and on the left, those who have already taken possession in their system of their constitutions, in advance, with this counterblast to all malarious influences, surely escape the scourge.

The physicians and others whose names appear in the annexed correspondence are ready at all times to confirm verually the statements set over their signatures.

Perhaps one of the most striking proofs of the power of the intrinsic excellence of the Bitters, is the general adoption of the remedy by medical men. The profession as a rule is their fear of advertised medicines, but this overpowering vegetable tonic has vanquished their prejudices, and they constantly administer it to their patients as the purest stimulant and best appetizer that the art can produce.

The present season of the year is a trying one to the system, devastated—indeed to all. In July, in August and September, fearful diseases are contagious the system, and it is necessary to have a reserve of strength and vitality in order to meet them without finishing or breaking down. Hostetter's Bitters are a stamina medicine, sustains the vital and muscular energy of the frame with this general and natural vegetable restorative, under all temperature, any climate, any condition of the atmosphere and may be consumed with comparative impunity.

Read the following letter from E. Bourne, a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, Pa:

PITTSBURGH, May 10, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH,

GENTLEMEN: During a visit to the West, last fall, I contracted chills and fever, which brought me to my bed, and finally terminated in typhoid fever and confinement to my room for several months, during which time I was physically, so prostrated that I almost despaired of ever regaining my health, having entirely lost my appetite for days, not being able to eat a morsel, added to which I was many times of which I had sufficient reason has never been fully realized by my friends and the medical attendants, who finally gave me up as incurable. My friends, upon my return home, found me reduced to a mere mass of skin and bone, and each one recommended that I use them regularly.

I did so, and with very happy results.

E. BOURNE, 45 Market st.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa:

GENTLEMEN: I think I am only doing my part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits I have received from your Stomach Bitters during the last few years. Being in the Oil regions in '61, I was in the habit of using them for Dyspepsia, of which I am very weak. I was advised to try your Bitters for the Ague, which I had been afflicted with for a month or more. In one week I got eight 50 pounds able to eat a meal without its hurt, and now feel as much so that I have used them every summer since then, and I find that they are invaluable. They are sure, having neither bilious attack and much prevalent in the Oil regions, being more free of it. Especially, I again had to have recourse to the old Bitters, as I had lost about twenty-five or thirty pounds in a few days. I bought a half dozen bottles, and they were sure relief. I now use them regularly as a tonic and beverage. Wishing you every success, I remain yours truly,

WILLIAM MILLER.

PITTSBURGH, ALLEGHENY COUNTY, PA.,
MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH:

GENTLEMEN: With pleasure I can say that your Bitters are superior to any others. I have used them in my family for a long time, and always with beneficial results. Yours, very truly,

ROBERT LIEBERT.

BUCKLAND, Prince William County, Va.,
MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH:

GENTLEMEN: I believe your bitters are the best in use. I tried them for dyspepsia in 1863, and they cured me. I was troubled with chill fever, but I am now free from them; I tried them to please a friend. I had been troubled with dyspepsia for years, and tried various and chronic diarrhœa. I expected to die with it, but your Bitters cured me, and I would advise all to use them in my business. Last October I had occasion to take a walk to and in the return of the same disease, accompanied with chills and fever. I used your Bitters, and was soon restored to health. I have recommended them to hundreds, and to my gratification, and have never known them to fail in effecting a speedy cure. Yours truly,

ARANDA GRAVELL,
Postmaster at Buckland, Va.

EGERTON, PA., Nov. 6, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: We have been selling your Stomach Bitters for about seven years, and find them a good selling medicine. All that is necessary is to let the people know of their merits, and they will sell well. I have tried them myself, and now recommend them to all who have weak stomachs.

Respectfully yours,

WATSON & MCFARLAND, Druggists,
Ogdensburgh, Sussex County, N. J.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: For a long time I have been afflicted with a disordered stomach, and was unable to attend to my business. I was advised to use your BITTERS, which I did, and found them a great benefit to me. I would not be without it nor for three times what I have been in my grave ere this. I write not to please you but to the virtues of your BITTERS, and also to have you send me two dozen as soon as possible, as I am now going on a journey.

Yours respectfully, JOHN M. GREACEN.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best BITTERS of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where biliary derangements are more prevalent than here. From experience in the use of compounds, as curatives, I can safely give your BITTERS credit for the great practicability of the undertaking upon application to us by letter.

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates.—We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage-filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

ROMSON & Co., of the Lone Star, news depot, Galveston, Texas, have our thanks for renewed favors.

DeBow's Review has been revived by the heirs of the late J. D. B. DeBow, with Messrs. Barnwell and E. Q. Bakes editors. The number for April and May is filled with interesting papers.

The original formula for the manufacture of the rare vegetable specific—Red Jacket Bitters, is rigidly adhered to. Its quality and proportions never vary—consequently its operation is uniform. Moreover, it does not deteriorate in any climate.

Mr. Means, the tax collector, publishes a list of delinquent city tax payers this morning. It is to be hoped they will yet come up and settle, and thereby save much trouble and expense.

The work of registration is progressing here. Yesterday at 12 o'clock, 359 names had been enrolled, not more than one hundred of which were whites.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.—Man has no power to resist the silent eloquence with which woman's soft blandishments and sweeter smiles speak to the warm and generous heart. Her vocation is to do good, and her presence adds a halo of glory by gladdening the dejected, comforting the distressed and strewing flowers in the pathway of man. And shall we fail to respond to her wants? Look around you and behold the misery depicted among the sickly females of your acquaintance. Go, go with lightning's speed and tell them to use English Female Bitters and be cured.

We invite attention to the card of Smiths & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received by them at Louis, by large. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides, J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

The Late Mrs. Fannie J. Early.

Yesterday morning a modest coffin, followed by a heart-stricken husband and cortege of sorrowing friends, issued from a gloomy home to receive her final resting place, Fannie J. Early, eldest daughter of the late Wm. Chears, Esq., and wife of our fellow-townsman, Capt. E. V. Early. The last benediction over, the mortal remains were deposited into the earth alongside of those of her mother, in the old Marion cemetery, without a voice other than that of religion being heard above the bier—a silence always eloquent and devotional, when observed about things perishable on the threshold of things eternal. Knowing well the subject of this notice, we cannot speak of her memory without feelings of the deepest sorrow. Every virtue that could ennoble and every quality that could endow the sex, were centered in her. So gentle, so meek, so amiable and pure—ever showering sunshine and gladness, pleasure and happiness, around her. Purity and innocence dwelt in her bosom, and truth and affection were the attendant spirits of her daily life. In every relation she was scrupulously conscientious and just; her friendship cautiously bestowed, remained steadfast and unflinching; the idol of home and friends, she blended those delicate and laudable qualities which constitute a Heaven below—a fitting passport to the one above. She died in the bloom of womanhood's noon-tide. Pure and spotless, her spirit has returned to the God who gave it after tasting of the rich wine of life and then encountering one of the severest trials and agonies that fall to the lot of woman. Crimeless and fearless, she has passed above, under the shadow, and explored the glorious mysteries of the spirit land. God pity him who smoothed the hair around the icy brow and laid together the quiet, cold hands, and gentle Nine and his motherless infant be most her legacy when this weary travail is over, hard by the waters of repose.

In paying a tribute to this good and true woman, gathered to the household above at the early age of twenty-two years, we lay down the laurels she has won and by her fair, and adorn the tomb where her body slumbers with a wreath immortelle of her life—a simple chaplet here.

J. C. LEWIS, Clerk.

Fresh Arrivals of Groceries.

A large assortment Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, will offer constantly the stock to wholesale and retail dealers at reasonable rates. His purchases are for cash, he believes, his states that section of the country has a large majority in favor of selling. It will be due for weeks to the whites to vote against a Convention to keep the political power in the negro's hands. Let the whites do as they have the majority, they will of course instinctively resist it for a Convention, and if the whites stand aloof and refuse to join in the election, there will necessarily result a broad line of demarcation between the races, and the disgraceful scenes of last winter, which the heated imagination of Gov. Perry, is so prolific. The current must sweep on, and Perry himself will be carried along with the crowd. He need not rely upon the negroes voting for him—the resolute will to carry on the movement now great or add more necessary than ever of intermingling with the Andrew Johnson from the Executive chair."

The Times says: "It may be wiser to restrain the removal of the future but it will be a grave practical mistake to reverse the decision when hitherto, and a still greater blunder to make or punish the new officers for having taken it."

All the members but Browning attend the Cabinet meeting to-day.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The amount of securities held by the National Banks in the Treasury of the United States, in trust for National Banks, reported to-day, are as follows: For circulation notes, $740,600; and for deposits of public moneys, $38,983,950. During the week there has been received at the treasury from the printers, $10,543,-895 in fractional currency. There has been forwarded to the Assistant Treasurer at New York $100,000; to the Treasurer of the United States at Baltimore, $42,000; to National Banks, $10,930,365. Total, $24,-230,953.

The amount of National Bank currency issued during the week was $75,050. There is an aunlin circulation at this date of $293,150,932. The amount of fractional currency redeemed during the week at the Department during the week was $384,-000. The receipts from internal revenue were $1,262,253. During the week the issues of the mint were according to-day $4,-000 in gold coin, being the first coinage of the beginning of the fiscal year $26,301,880.

The amount of gold in the United States Treasury to-day was $125,000,000, of which sum $18,000,000 has been deposited by parties who had certificates thereof, and $85,-000,000 belongs to the government.

The Louisiana National Bank of New Orleans, on its voluntary application, has been chosen depositary and depository for public moneys and a financial agent of the United States.

It is understood in official circles that Attorney General Stanbery, in his opinion just prepared, holds that the reconstruction acts provides for two governments, military and civil. That both are provisional and are to be obeyed, but cease when organization of State governments take place.

He also takes the position that the military is only to protect all in their rights of person and property, and for the preservation and maintenance of peace, not to give violence and crime. There is no authority in the law for the removal by the military commander of any officer or agent of the State, neither executive nor judicial, nor the appointment of their successors. The military commander is authorized but to destroy, but is bound to protect civil officers—a military commander being regarded as a conservator and not as a destroyer nor an abrogator of the law.

An agent for the Pacific Railroad—California side—has arrived in Washington to obtain through the Freedmen's Bureau, the services of from five thousand to fifteen hundred colored laborers on that road.

Genl. Stevens has written a letter, urgently recommending a July session of Congress.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Sir William Napier, a brother of the British ex-Minister, was arrested here on the charge of purchasing of Colonel P. Maxwell, of Baltimore goods amounting to $3,300, and giving in payment a worthless order on an English bank. The complainant alleged that he was about to depart for Europe, which is untrue. He pleaded not guilty, and agreed to be examined on the 24th inst.

A grand concert for the relief the Southern Masons will be given at the Academy of Music on the evening of the 27th inst. James R. Brady will also deliver an address.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—In opening for the prosecution, (in the Surratt trial,) after describing the assassination, the District Attorney said:

"The prosecution would show to the entire satisfaction of the Jury, by competent and credible witnesses, that the prisoner at the bar, John H. Surratt, was then and there present aiding and abetting in that murder; would show that at the time of the murder he was in front of Ford's Theatre, co-operating with John Wilkes Booth. They would show that the prisoner said, then they would know him as the partner of Booth; they would know him as the director of the plot which murdered the President's head, and director of the plot which fell upon the throat of the Secretary of State. They would know that the companionship then and there between the prisoner and Booth was not accidental, but was the result of long and premeditated plans and associations.

The first witness summoned to a detailed account of the killing.

Senator Wade's exemption party passed Pass. Illinois, to-day—Fifteen Senators of the party expressed a determination to be in Washington for the July session. There, with Wade in the chair, will be engaging a telegram to Mr. Schenck, the Chairman of the National Congressional Union Committee, for every Republican Senators and Representatives to be present.

There is now little doubt of a July session.

Action dictated by the dominant sentiment, the following concluding paragraph of the New York Tribune's editorial to-day proves:

"Above all (and here we approach the crime of the Opinion) this is not the conviction which the people have accepted by the Administration and the country in this respect the Attorney General is disposed to be a partisan and disavowing to prepare the country for a guilty verdict. We are afraid we cannot trust the President to accept the unofficial faculty of pluudering and of getting rid of the Congress by the trouble and of bringing peril to the country. Nothing seems to savor him so much as peace. We have the President's own word for it, that he does at the reconstruction policy of Congress and bring up from the pit of sin and misery which it was dragged. Which has been the work of a handful of its dearly earned reputation. We must show him that he has been deceived. He has been in July and August would again to reconstruction, and that he had this bill so that even if he should veto it, it would become a law. We must show him that the Congress will not be intimidated by his threats. We must show him that the people will not be intimidated by his threats. We must show him that the people will not be intimidated by his threats. We must show him that the people

The Merchants' and Manufacturers'
JEWELRY ASSOCIATION

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in The United States. That business to end always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our purpose for the method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, and in some instances less than one-third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of those Bankrupt Goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away Finer Goods, and give better chances to clear the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those with whom we are not personally acquainted will please remember we will receive the full value of their money, as we publish on our list a value not less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties sending with us may depend on having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

The following parties have recently drawn valuable prizes from the Merchants' & Manufacturers' Jewelry Association, and have kindly allowed use of their names:

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Of all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting it—first introduced it to the public, and it is always used by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the Faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.
Dolbear's Commercial College
OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep and write out books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students earn such a "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition..... $145
Board for three months..... 90
Contingent expenses, about..... 20
Total..... $255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of Ordinary Literary College: About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probable $1800, or $5150 he earns in four years.

Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400, or $8293 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Editorial Correspondence.

MERIDIAN, Jan. 14, 1867.

We saw the Tournament! A real knightly tournament; gallant knights with lace in rest, beautiful females smiling encouragingly on the aspirants for fame and crowning the happy victor with trembling hands and fluttering heart.

The arrangements for the Meridian tournament for their equestrian games is situated in the Southern outskirts of that pretty town, on the right of a gentle eminence crowned with the new Catholic chapel, which the liberal citizens of the place have so largely contributed to raise, not only for the spiritual gratification of their Catholic residents, but which will still more enlarged view to attract to their rich and fertile neighborhood the tide of emigration of the hardy and orderly race which profess that religion, and by whom it is so justly and dearly held to the first inducement to decide their selection in the choice of new homes.

The day, although warm, was lovely, and a refreshing shower during the preceding night had cooled the breezy and revived the fading colors of the green fields and forests surrounding the chosen arena.

Owing, however, to the condition of the crops, the necessity to improve every hour of labor, and, also, in a great degree, to the straightened pecuniary circumstances of the planting and farming population, the attendance was by no means as large as was anticipated, but made up in spirit and cheerfulness what it lacked in numbers.

The games were limited to the favorite equestrian races of the rings, the origin of which is due to the Saracens and Moors, by them introduced in Spain after the treason of Count Julian had opened to them the Kingdom of Roderigo, and after spread all over Europe, like every other skillful and refined amusement, combining pleasure with exercise and daring.

Ten Knights only entered the lists, preceded by a fine brass band of amateur Mexican bugles, the Marshals the Heralds at Arms, and the Judges of Camp, the whole making quite a lively and dashing appearance as they rode through the crowded streets on their way to the field of contest.

There were found, comfortably seated in the shade of the overhanging trees, the ladies who had gathered from every point of the State to witness the interesting display, and who, like the men, made up in beauty and grace ample compensation for their rather thin ranks. The arena consists of a perfect circle of a total circumference of seven hundred and fifty feet, and the three pairs from which the tempting rings were hanging, consequently an hemicircle of three hundred and forty-five feet, with a distance of one hundred and fifteen feet between each.

A simple but handsome pavilion in the center of the area was the stand provided for the Judges and for the band, which occupied the time required for preparations in discussing martial music to the sound of which the high mettled horses of the Knights responded with erect mane, distended nostrils and rolling eyeballs of fire.

The Judges' stand were many prominent citizens of the State, including Judge Evans, of Quitman; Gen. Ramsey, of Meridian; Chas. Wilson, Esq., of the enterprise Sun; the talented editor of the Choctaw Herald; the brave soldier and sound statesman, Col. Shannon, of the Meridian Gazette, and many more no less distinguished, to whom the hospitalities of the town and courtesies of the ring had been liberally extended by the Mayor, Capt. R. L. Henderson, an old Louisiana acquaintance of ours.

Before the manly exercises were commenced, the President introduced to the audience the speakers of the day, one of whom—a Mobile editor—made about the poorest apology for a speech which it ever was our—we mean his—misfortune to collect on a suffering and patient community.

It was one of these speeches which a man ought to deliver but once, and then die!—the most anomalous compound of philosophy, history, chivalry, politics and nonsense, ever dealt out to an unsuspecting and over-confiding audience.

It commenced a short time before the Creation of the World, spoke of St. Michael and the Dragon as the first Knights on record having entered the lists—advance it took a jump to the Assyrians, fell down in a Grecian amphitheatre, scrambled up the middle ages of Roman excess, and lost itself in the dark forests of Germany, to crawl into light again in the train of the crusaders.

In attempting to recover the Holy Sepulcher, it hundered away from Constantinople to Jerusalem, and was so bruised in trying to interfere between Richard and Saladin that it lai two breath left to follow Bayard over the field of Marignan.

How long this thing might have lasted God only knows as the poor fellow was nailed to a table and made fast to a chair, which, from the way he stuck to it, in no doubt thought would help him to take a seat amongst the greatest living orators.

The audience "thought bravely"—the grin on one look d g sat at each other—the ladies kept a sorrowful smile on their pallid lips—all bearing the stern determination of surgs ready to do without a murmur, when Providence kindly interposed, and a black cloud, big with rain and storm, settling over the "orator" of the day, gave him the chance to say the only sensible thing of the occasion, namely, that it was going to rain, and to dismiss his band before go home—which he did, to the great relief of the audience—and of himself also.

However, as this unfortunate speaker happens to be our best friend, we will spare the publication of his name to a justly outraged community, adding only, that we betrip with that this omission of his should at least have the recommendation attributed by the great Chamberlain, Lafalleen, to the dying speech of the heroine of the Veiled Prophet, namely: that it is his last!

The Knights, Pages and Marshals of Camp, having succeeded, however, in waking up the hearers, most of whom were soundly asleep, Gen. Ramsey made his appearance, and in a few happy and eloquent remarks introduced the subject of the meeting.

The sandiness, truly chivalric and martial appearance of Gen. Ramsey restored good humor amongst the men and a smile amongst the ladies, who all turned all their attention towards the Knights and their gallant feats of horsemanship.

The riding was in general bold and elegant. The horses quick and spirited, and the time excellent, none of the Knights having even taken the full benefit of the ten seconds, allowed for each race of one hundred and fifteen yards, which most of them accomplished between eight and nine seconds.

2nd Prize—John W. Harry, the Knight of the Red Plume.

The three victorious knights, being already engaged in connubial bliss, the honor to Crown the Queen of Love and Beauty devolved on those ugly old bachelors who happened to be still free, and Knight Steiner tumbled the well deserved honors to Miss Bettie Watts, who accepted the honor and crowned it with a smile.

To the meantime, a committee of young ladies had unanimously agreed upon conferring Mr. Gaston, the Knight of Caucasus, the well deserved distinction of being the most graceful rider of the day.

These young ladies, together with the queen's maids of honor, Miss Lelia Watts and Miss Ida Payne, received in turn the homage of the judges and marshals of camp.

The unfortunate order of the day had meantime hidden his demish-ked head in a lager beer booth, where to soothe his feelings, he challenged to a foot race two of the judges, one of whom had left a leg at Gettysburg and the other was set apart, by a kindred judges of remarkable proportions. The challenge was contemptuously declined, and the three lobbled their way back to town, deserving the best wishes to leave the Republic.

At night, a ball was given by the knights, and the time passed off most pleasantly till the small hours of morning.

The little village—now the town of Meridian—has greatly improved since Gen. Sherman made it headquarters, and upon it his favorite adage that "war is cruelty." Every thing here is "reconstructed," even the flagpole (which so many of us remember in the good old Confederate times, when bright eyes and flashing smiles rewarded not only the hardest couch and season the richest food.

Stores and residences have sprung up in every direction, and the population which (but was only six hundred now exceeds four thousand.

The citizens are full of hospitality and industrious. The freedmen, who resort there daily, are polite, quiet, and it is also, we will not in connect with their treatment friends in the great work of reconstruction.

The crops—corn chiefly are very promising, and the cotton crop, although the out fields, promises an early and abundance for the support of the citizens, and a large surplus for sale. The price for the use of the hands still be a ready for the mill.

Cotton is not very much planted, but looks well; the stalks are of and the freedmen contented.

The political feeling is generally sound, although the "reconstruction" question is said to be gaining ground; but we hope it will soon see the error of its course.

The business of the town is now very dull, freedmen are at their work, and the merchants are very confident in favorable for the fall trade. They are purchasing their goods not for a credit by anticipating the business season, until they see the way clear before them.

On the whole, and having that unfortunate speech, we had a very fine time of it amongst the Meridianites, and we say it supported it.

We said before this that the town was sound in its views on reconstruction, but we are already somewhat disappointed. Gen. Sherman's raid, and being ready to "reconstruct" still further under only the honorable brother-in-law. Everything else is turning towards the North. The compass principally,) and as we used with our learned friend, the Ancient and our two other companions, we can see the retting and hanging lately on the horizon and peeping at us with the gold eye, as the confidence to hear our vows and behave accordingly.

Whether or not we convinced old master Sol, we can't tell; but when, after a long walk in the cool of the evening, in the back yard of a public institution, we emerged in the open air to watch the debutante moon, we were sorry that we might be beheld: It is well known that the track of the Mobile and Ohio Road runs due west from Meridian, and Lauderdale's Almanac, and every old Sol, to show his devotion to Northern principles and ideas, and his unalterable devotion to the foundations as it may hereafter happen to be, had just taken a notion to rise in the North! And there he was, way up there fully due North of Mobile, watching his groggy eyes in the sweet balmy dews of the morning and slumbering a blubbering "Cap of the morning to ye fair Lady!" and the cut of the grass mistake of her old sire—and it was not until we had washed our face and got fairly under way that, at a bend of the road, we saw that the old fellow—tile, sneaking flatter—had finally resigned his error and taken his station to the east!

We were surprised and deeply touched at the regrets expressed all along the road—principally by the state's rights republican—at the departure of our lady friends, and could not fully appreciate the just cause of these regrets, until we were on our way back. The fact is, that going up, we had seen few, if any, of those nice animals of the bovine and perverse family, so abundant, so ornamental in our own streets. On our return, however, the train stopped at every station to take on a car load of those poor, thin, shaky, starving animals, which have given on their name to, if not particularly founded, Cincinnati!

We picked up a number of cure where these poor beasts, unfit for market were being shipped, and no knowingly smiled and said, "Don't you know it?—sir, 'tis from Meridian!"

We owned the fact, then one rustic friend told us that the reason why they so much depleted the country side of the old Banks was, that owing to their tender regard for their country friends, they had always allowed them to send their hogs to Mobile for the purpose of fattening, as the streets offered much greater abundance and variety of food than the pineywoods of their own country, and in fact, as soon as the train reached the depot, some five or six hundred hungry hogs were turned loose on the streets, and may now be seen prowling about in search of the full consciousness of power and pride of right!

P. S.—In our sketch of the preliminaries of the late Tournament, we forgot to say that the signal for the starts of the procession was given by a gun fired from a beautiful brass piece, presented in 1861, by Capt. John Grant, the great rebel leader, to the authorities of Mobile as his "individual contribution" towards precipitating a town the invasion of the Yankee lion." The cannon was surrendered by then. Taylor to Gen. Canby at Mobile in May, 1865, and presented to the Mobile authorities as one of the trophies of the war. Capt. Grant has asked in vain for the return of his beautiful gun.

BANKRUPT FORMS AND BLANKS.

We have received an official copy of the rules and orders, together with the forms and proceedings in Bankruptcy, as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now printing a large number of blank petitions in Bankruptcy.

The petition, with the necessary schedules makes twelve pages. They will be printed in good style, on the finest quality of cap paper, and in strict conformity to the law. We intend printing immediately all the blanks used in Bankrupt proceedings, and will furnish them to Attorneys and others on the most reasonable terms.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

We return thanks to Col. Lawrence, Secretary of Wayne Lodge, No. 102. for an invitation to attend the celebration of the 24th June, by the Masonic fraternity of Shubuta. We regret that other engagements will prevent our attendance.

We are glad to see that Vicksburg is to have a reconstruction journal.—Col. Patrid ge, late of the Herald, and Col. Manlove, of the Times, it is announced, will commence the publication of a new daily paper, on the first of July, to advocate reconstruction under the military bill.

Gen. Ord says he will make appointments of County Administrators, but requests the judges of Probate of the different counties to suggest suitable persons to fill the places.

Common Sense Against Sentiment.

The Memphis Bulletin edited by Admiral Semmes, who, we suppose, few of our readers will accuse of "Assistant Radicalism," thus contrasts Gov. Perry's late letter, with the speech of another South Carolina statesmen, Gov. Orr: Whilst we admire the impracticeable sentimentalism of Governor Perry, we decidedly give the preference to the practical, non-sentimental, common sense of Governor Orr. Perry would have his people, in a fit of the heroics, throw themselves under the juggernaut of the negro, and be ground to powder, whilst Orr would rescue them from so ignominious a fate, by simply advising them to put out their hands, and turn the car aside. The argument is in a nut-shell. In South Carolina the negroes are in a majority. It is absolutely certain, therefore, that if every respectable white man in the State should vote against a convention, a convention would be called nevertheless. A convention called under these circumstances would, of course, be under the exclusive control of the negroes, and their white allies, who, to make themselves acceptable to the negroes, in the hope of sharing the plunder with them, would go even beyond their sable friends in disfranchising their own race. Such a convention would not stop at the requirements of Congress, as expressed in the reconstruction acts, but would go far beyond them; and the more radical the constitution, the more favor it would find with the rump Congress. Such is the fate which Governor Perry would prepare for his people. Governor Orr thinks, on the contrary, that, with proper efforts on the part of the whites, the convention may be controlled, and kept within the limits of the reconstruction acts—which we think quite probable. At all events, it would seem to be absolute insanity, not to make the effort. The Governor said:

"He earnestly insisted upon the acceptance of the plan of reconstruction now proposed, as the only means of preventing the administration of the affairs of the country passing into the hands exclusively of the ignorant, and consequently the barbarian and tyrant classes, as the only hope of making this country even tolerable as a place of residence. He showed, from the census of 1860, the great ponderance of the colored over the white voters of the State, and the utter inability of the whites to defeat the convention, or to protect themselves whenever an issue is made with the colored people. There are sixty thousand colored voters in the State, while there are only forty thousand whites. It is true, perhaps, that there are not now as many colored men as in 1860, but it is sure the proportionate decrease has been greater with the whites than the blacks since the commencement of the late war. Governor Orr insisted upon the cultivation of the most cordial relations between the races, and the formation of no alliance with the two great political parties of the nation."

Mr. Stanbery on Registration and the Power of Military Commanders.

We print to-day a summary of the Attorney-General's opinion on the qualification of voters. Accompanying this summary is the full opinion of Mr. Stanbery on the power of Military Commanders, which we regret our limited space will not permit us to insert. The bill, he says, contemplates two distinct governments in each of the ten States, the one military the other civil. Both are provisional and cease to exist when new constitutions are framed and the States represented in Congress. The existing State Governments, he argues, have not been set aside, nor have they been modified or repealed save only as to the qualification of voters, of persons eligible to hold office, the manner of holding elections, and the mode of framing new constitutions. Military governments are to protect persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals. Military Commanders have no right to appoint executive, legislative or judicial officers, and persons so appointed are without any power whatever. If the laws are properly executed the military must remain passive.

There has been a meeting of the Cabinet to consider the Attorney General's opinion concerning registration at which the whole matter was carefully considered and finally sustained. The President then announced that after full deliberation he concurred with the majority upon those sections of the summary upon which the Secretary of War expressed his dissent, and that he concurred with the Cabinet upon those sections approved by a unanimous vote, and that as it appeared the Military Commanders entertained doubts upon the points covered by the summary, as their action hitherto had been uniform, he deemed it proper, without further delay, to communicate in a general order to the respective commanders, the points set forth in the summary.

The points are in brief as follows:

"The oath is the only test; registers have no authority to add to or inquire about it; the applicant must be a citizen; papers cannot be required of naturalized citizens; applicants must be twenty-one years old; persons convicted of felony or rebellion are disqualified, and so are persons who took the oath of allegiance gnd afterwards engaged in rebellion; Militia officers, holding office before the war are not disqualified, nor are municipal officers; old federal officers, civil or military, are disqualified, and so are Members of Congress and State Legislatures before the rebellion, but not the members of State Constitutional Conventions, prior to the war. All State, Executive and Judicial officers, and also county officers, who, by the laws of their State, were required to take an oath of allegiance to the United States, are disqualified. Nothing but a voluntary act in support of the rebellion can work disfranchisement, not even serving in the army under compulsion of conscription or any other authority which could not be safely resisted. Voluntary loans of money disqualifies, and so does speaking and writing to incite others to engage in war. All parties having acted in support of the rebellion, such as members of Secession Conventions, Congress, Legislature, the Diplomatic Agents of the Confederacy and all others established to carry on hostilities against the United States Government are disqualified.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

MERIDIAN LODGE, No. 80. I. O. O. F.

At a special meeting of the Lodge, called this day, the following preamble and resolutions, drafted by a Committee appointed for that purpose, were introduced and accepted by the Lodge, viz:

WHEREAS, The Omnipotent Ruler of the Universe, has, in the dispensation of His Divine Providence, seen fit to call from among us, Mrs. Fanny J. Early, late consort of our much esteemed friend and brother, E. V. Early, therefore,

Be it Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Early, our community has been deprived of one of its most excellent Christian Members, and Society of one of its brightest gems, and that we, as an order, have lost the sympathies of one who rejoiced with us in seasons of gladness, and to one who was ever ready to give aid to the suffering and consolation to the sorrowstricken.

Resolved, That while, with our esteemed brother, we low in humble submission to the will of an All Wise Providence,we tender him our most heartfelt sympathies in his irreparable loss.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to our bereaved brother, and also, that one be sent to the "Gazette," for publication.

Who are Entitled to Registration

Attorney General Stanbery gives a concise and clear summary of his registration opinion, which is rendered very valuable by the confusion and doubts which have arisen upon that opinion in the public mind, caused in part by the errors of the telegraph and the press in its publication, and in part by the inaptitude of the general reader to follow carefully the successive and dependent steps of the protracted legal opinion:

1. The oath prescribed in the supplemental act defines all the qualifications required, and every person who can take that oath is entitled to have his name entered upon the list of voters.

2. The board of registration have no authority to administer any other oath to the person applying for registration than this prescribed oath; nor to administer any other oath to any other person, touching the qualifications of the applicant, or the falsity of the oath taken by him. The act to provide against falsity in the oath provides that, if false, the person taking it shall be tried and punished for perjury.

3. No provision is made for challenging the qualifications of the applicant, or entering upon any trial or investigation of his qualifications, either by witnesses or any other form of proof.

4. As to citizenship and residence.

The applicant for registration must be a citizen of the State and of the United States, and must be a resident of a county included in the election district, and will be registered if he has been such citizen for a period less than twelve months at the time he applies for registration, but he cannot vote at an election unless his citizenship has then extended to the full term of one year. As to such person the exact length of his citizenship should be noted opposite his name on the list, as he will not may appear on the day of election, upon reference to the list, whether the full term has then become accomplished.

5. And unnaturalized men cannot take this oath, but an alien who has been naturalized can take it, and no certificate of naturalization can be required from him.

5. No one who is not twenty-one years of age at the time of registration can take this oath, for he must swear that he has then attained that age.

6. No one who has been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion against the United States, or in felony committed against the laws of any State of the United States, can safely take this oath.

The actual participation in a rebellion, or the actual commission of a felony, does not amount to disfranchisement. The sort of disfranchisement here meant is that which is declared by law passed by competent authority, or which has been fixed upon the criminal by the sentence of the court which tried him for the crime.

No law of the United States has declared the penalty of disfranchisement for participation in rebellion alone. Nor is it known that any such law exists in either of these ten States, except perhaps Virginia, as to which State special instructions will be given.

7. As to disfranchisement arising from having held office followed by participation in rebellion.

This is the most important part of the oath, and requires strict attention to arrive at its meaning. I desire it properly to give the exact words. The applicant must swear or affirm as follows:

"That I have never been a member of any State Legislature, nor held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in an insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof: that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterward engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof."

Two elements must concur in order to distinguish a person under these clauses: First, the office and official oath to support the Constitution of the United States; Second, engaging afterwards in rebellion. Both must exist to work disqualification, and must happen in the order of time mentioned.

A person who has held an office and taken the oath to support the Federal Constitution and has not afterward engaged in rebellion, is not disqualified. So, too a person who has engaged in rebellion, but has not therefore held an office and taken that oath, is not disqualified.

8. Officers of the United States.

As to these the language is without limitation. The person who has at any time prior to the rebellion held an office, civil or military, under the United States, and has taken an official oath to support the Constitution of the United States, is subject to disqualification.

9. Military officers of any State, prior to the rebellion, are not subject to disqualification.

10. Municipal officers, that is to say, officers of incorporated cities, towns and villages, such as mayors, aldermen, town council, police, and other city our town officers, are not subject to disqualification.

11. Persons who have prior to the rebellion been members of the Congress of the United States, or members of a State Legislature, are subject to disqualification. But those who have been members of conventions framing or amending the constitution of a State, prior to the rebellion, are not subject to disqualification.

12. All the executive or judicial officers of any State who took the oath to support the Constitution of the United States are subject to disqualification, and in these I include county officers, as to whom I made a reservation in the opinion heretofore given. After full consideration I have arrived at the conclusion that they are subject to disqualification if they were required to take as a part of their oath the oath to support the Constitution of the United States.

13. Persons who exercised mere agencies of employments under State authority are not disqualified such as commissioners to lay out roads, examiners of pubic works, visitors of State institutions, directors of State banks or other State institutions, examiners of banks, notaries public, commissioners to take acknowledgments of deeds and lawyers.

ENGAGING IN REBELLION.

Having specified what offices held by a person prior to the rebellion come within the meaning of the law, it is necessary next to set forth what subsequent conduct fixes upon such person the offence of engaging in rebellion. I repeat, that two things must concur to disqualify: first, the office held prior to the rebellion, and afterward, participation in the rebellion.

14. An act to fix upon a person the'offence of engaging in rebellion under this clause must be an overt and voluntary act, done with the intent of aiding or furthering the common unlawful purpose. A person forced into the rebellion by conscription, or under a paramount authority which he could not safely disobey, and so he would not have entered such service if left to the free exercise of his own will, cannot be held to be disqualified from voting.

15. Mere acts of charity, where the intent is to relieve wants of the object of such charity, and not done in aid of the cause in which he may have been engaged, do not disqualify. Thus, contributions to the sanitary and other charities for the general relief of persons suffering in the rebellion, and of needy families of those in the service, and contributions to the support of churches, are not disqualifying acts. Nor is it disqualifying to pay taxes imposed by the rebel authorities, or purchase of bonds or securities created to afford the means of carrying on the rebellion, will work disqualification.

16. All those who, in legislative or other official capacity, were engaged in the furtherance of the common unlawful purpose, where the duties of the office necessarily had relation to the support of the rebellion, such as members of the rebel conventions, congresses, and Legislatures, diplomatic agents of the rebel Confederacy, and other officials whose offices were created for the purpose of more effectually carrying on hostilities, or whose duties appertained to the support of the rebel cause, must be held to be disqualified.

But others who, during the rebellion, discharged official duties not incident to the war, but only such duties as belong even to a state of peace, and were necessary to the preservation of order and administration of law, are not to be considered as thereby engaging in rebellion or as disqualified. Disloyal sentiments, opinions, or sympathies would not disqualify, but where a person has by speech or actions incited others to engage in rebellion he must come under the disqualification.

This board, having the custody of the list of registered voters in the district for which it is constituted, must see that the name of the person offering to vote is found upon the registration list; and if such proves the fact, it is the duty of the board to receive his vote. The board cannot receive the vote of any person whose name is not upon the list, though he may be ready to take the registration oath, and although he may satisfy them that he was unable to have his name registered at the proper time, in consequence of sickness or other cause.

The board cannot enter into any inquiry as to the qualifications of any person whose name is not on the list, or as to the qualifications of any person whose name is on the list.

18. The mode of voting is provided in the act to be by ballot. The board will keep a record and poll-book of the election, showing the votes, list of voters, and the persons elected by a plurality of the votes cast at the election, and make returns of these to the Commanding General of the District.

19. The board appointed for registration and for superintending the elections must take the oath prescribed by the act of Congress, approved July 2. 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office." I have the honor to be, with great respect

SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Comprise a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepared from pure Herbs, by a class of experienced Druggists, who have specially for the diseases incident to a Southern locality.

They are not secret nor patent mixtures and are recommended to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know but little of Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

FEMALES OF THE SOUTH!

Diseases peculiar to your sex, incident to all localities, enfeel from the pasale breeze, that, fans you with its perfumed breath, or snatched from some opulent dew-drop, are to you a constant and abiding trouble. Whether an inhabitant of city or country, hill or dale, pale-face or hovel, disease rankles and preys upon your vitals. Gloom and dispair are your constant companions. Your pale and ghastly countenances, your cadaverous cheek, your lifeless eye, your tottering walk, your palpitating heart, your dejected spirit, all tell of that disease which is gradually and steadily making inroads upon your declining system.

The Sunshine of Hope

Now bursts upon your vision, and the clouds of dispair that hang as a heavy pall of gloom upon your brow are made to be driven back, and the bright visions of health in all its grandeur are made more your own. DROMGOOLE & CO'S

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those who are hanging back from subscribing, we shall be found under the head of club rates. We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge a newspaper in every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading matter, devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

The original formula for the manufacture of the rare vegetable specific—Red Jacket Bitters, is rigidly adhered to. Its quality and proportions never vary—consequently its operation is uniform. Moreover, it does not deteriorate in any climate.

The number of persons registered here yesterday at twelve o'clock, footed up five hundred and fifty-five. The freedmen are largely in the ascendency.

Scuppernong Wine.—We have before us a sample of this fermented juice of the Scuppernong grape, made by Mr. John G. McArthur, of Tamola, Kemper county, and if we are any judge pronounce it a most excellent article—such a quality as Hebe or Ganymedes would have delighted to serve to the Gods. It is highly recommended for medicinal purposes at this season of the year, and can be had at the drug store of Mr. R. Y. R. Chadwick. The advertisement appears elsewhere.

We had the pleasure of a call on Friday from Dr. Nicholson, of Mobile, who visited our city for the purpose of lecturing on Religion and Chemistry, but was called away by the sickness of a relative in Mobile.

Dr. Nicholson's lectures are spoken of very highly, and have given great satisfaction to the public at the different places he has visited. We learn he intends visiting Meridian during next week, or at some early period, and will give the citizens of our town an opportunity to hear one of his interesting lectures. We will undoubtedly have a large and appreciative audience. Dr. N. proposes to lecture at the Baptist Church.

We learn from the Enterprise Star, that the total number of votes registered in Clarke County, on the 12th inst., of these 980 are colored, and 274 whites.

We learn that Judge L. Johnson, of Enterprise, has located at Holly Springs, and formed a partnership with J. C. Johnson, Esq., of that place. Judge Johnson has many friends in this part of the State, who will be glad to hear of his prosperity.

We give on our first page Maj. St. Paul's account of the late tournament at this place. His apology for the address of the "orator of the day," will not be endorsed by those who heard him. His speech was certainly a good one—intermixed with intellectual rockets, starry gems of thought, and a review of knight-errantry from its incipiency, which was interesting to all.

Non-Explosive Burning Fluid.—The Meteor Safety Burning Fluid, recently introduced in this city by Fallon, Fulton & Co. is rapidly coming into general use, and on account of its great superiority, is destined to take the place of all other luminating substances. The right for the sale of such fluid has been purchased by them. The following letter from a responsible and well known firm in St. Louis will furnish additional testimony in favor of the "Safety Fluid":

314 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.,
May 17, 1867.

E. L. Woodson & Co:—Having used the Meteor Safety Burning Fluid for several months past, we are pleased to say that we has, as an illuminating substance, given entire satisfaction, and for its superior qualities as such, we cheerfully recommend it to all who may be desirous of using it.

We have found it perfectly safe, clean, and producing a light rivalling gas, at a far less expense.

We can say of its merits after having used it this long, that it far excels the coal oil for brilliancy of light, has none of the offensiveness of that substance, is free from any explosive quality, and that every housewife must be delighted with it for its cleanliness.

Woman's Influence.—Man has no power to resist the silent eloquence with which woman's soft blandishments will entwine smiles speak to the warm and generous heart. Her vocation is to do good, and her presence adds a halo of glory by gladdening the dejected, comforting the distressed and strengthening fiowers in the pathway of man. And shall we fail to respond to her wants? Look around you and behold the misery depicted among the sickly families of your acquaintance. Go, go with lightning's speed and tell them to use English Female Bitters and be cured.

The Cause.—The information we gather from our many friends in the country proves the corps in the field is increasing in numbers and efficiency. Every day adds new recruits to the cause and to an abiding extent.—Beller (Ala.) Journal.

Letter from Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., June 18, 1867.

Dear Gazette—If you can make out a few rascal" sketches, and feel disposed to print these, they are at your disposal. The newspapers unanimously refuse to publish so much as a paragraph of using "ink," even if we were willing to devote the necessary requisite for putting down ideas.

About a week since, a party of us started from our respective homes, on the Mobile & Ohio Railroad train, and rapidly sped towards the once "far west." The early days were spent in the country train; the region of Corinth, where we took breakfast. A trip in the night, and quiet snoozes in an arm-chair, left but little available for observation as to growing crops, and the probable relief of destitution in our suffering State. But we had daylight in which to view prospects in Tennessee. The wheat looked well, and indicated an abundant yield, as a general thing; but all that can be said of corn is that it promises to be enough quite to "boss" a reasonably good amount of coffee and peared in distant fields.

At Humboldt we met our former townsman, Mr. E. D. Howard, who still deals in lightning, but never strikes sharp one, save with his pen. We departed with our old friend, Maj. Geo. Whitfield, of Confederate days, and Meridian memory. By the way, that night we had crossed the Tennessee river, and had stopped for supper on the Cumberland, at Clarksville. The country road had been very rough, and during the night it had been necessary for us to change cars twice, once being almost "down on combat." This last matter was not so pleasant as Meridian fare, but the fact that star friend R. had secured a big lump of ice, we might not have "kept cool."

The day that we passed were warm, and we had been greeted with thick clouds of dust, till almost suffocated. It was no little relief therefore, when this misery, the sun, sank down to rest, and twinkling stars, with the silvery moon, shone forth upon the earth. Under such influence did we enter the noble State of old Kentucky, we were told, before we can be more noble than the glorious work it was already. We have been recently so deeply engaged, supplying the sufferings of the South with bread. But this a digression, here.

A trip of only thirty-two hours placed us in Louisville, and at once at the hotel of many dollars. One of the first persons we met was our old friend Maj. W. T. Edwards, who did us the honor of a call. We became across many sympathizers with the South. There are differences of opinion as to what our people should do under the military bill, but all agree, we think, that it is the duty of everyone to register, because this enables a vote for or against a Convention—otherwise, we give up every thing without a struggle. Our people should seriously consider, and determinate at once, else it may be too late.

Louisville is a beautiful city. It is regularly laid out, the streets are of good width, and bordered with beautiful shade trees. The residences are of the modern, substantial public edifices and handsome private residences in various directions. In general appearance, the city reminds us of New Orleans. But 'tis time to close. CIRCULAR.

General Orders No. 12, current series, from these Headquarters, relating to the sales of land under cultivation, and the stock and farming utensils used thereon, is not intended to apply to writs or process issued by the United States Courts, nor will that order be construed to authorize any interference whatever with the proceedings of those Courts.

By command of Brevet Maj. Gen. Ord
JOHN TYLER,
1st Lieut. 43d U. S. Infantry,
Acting Asst. Adjutant Gl. Federal
Hdqrs G. Ruer.
1st. Lieut. U. S. Infantry,
Asst. Adjutant.

We, the undersigned, to whom the matter between Mayor Henderson and Mr. Sanford has been referred, recommend the following, viz: that instead of the card which the Mayor sent to the U. S. Gazette, a statement in the Gazette of the 11th inst. the following be inserted, and accompanied as a retraction of the charges, and a final settlement of the whole matter.

J. M. Nicholson,
J. R. Phillips, Referees.
W. S. Hatch,
R. Y. R. Chadwick,

A CARD.

Having understood that Mr. F. T. Sanford circulated a report, that I had compounded with him to assault Mr. Lewis, on the 12th inst., and, that I had made arrangements with the police to absent themselves on that occasion, I called upon Mr. Sanford, that he might set me right before the community. In the card of Mr. Sanford will speak for itself.

R. L. Henderson.

To the Public.

On the 9th of June, I approached Mayor Henderson and asked him in a jocular manner, what he would charge me to whip a man for, and anticipating any offer of violence on Mr. Henderson remarked in the same jocular manner, (knowing the question was put as a joke,) that he generally charged fifteen hundred dollars if it was well done. Subsequently, and on the 12th inst., I had a difficulty with Mr. Lewis, and as I have since told several persons, did not suppose it was arranged between myself and the Mayor to assault Mr. Lewis, and that I had also made arrangements with the Police to be absent on the occasion, I would here state, that these remarks were said unthoughtedly, and with no intention to injure the Mayor or the Police, for I have discredit upon either of them, and that there is not one single scintilla of truth in regard to such arrangement having been made by me. I would further state, that I have several times asked the Mayor, jocularly, what he would charge for fighting.

F. T. Sanford.

We accept of the above recommendation.

R. L. Henderson,
F. T. Sanford.

HYMENEAL.

Married, by Christ Church, Vicksburg, Wednesday, June 5th, 1867, by Rev. Dr. Sinnon, Hiram Denio, Esq., and Miss Florence, second daughter of the late Dr. F. Lightcap.

Our friend Denio is undoubtedly a wise man, first in becoming a willing captive to Cupid's cunning, and double so for making so good a choice of a companion for life. Man's happiness in this stormy world we have to travel through, depends almost entirely upon his association with woman; she has the spell to sweeten his hours as well as his tea and coffee, and in nine cases out of ten, if man is poor, he owes it to her in Scanning his wishes. She is ever ready to cheer in the hour of disappointment—to whisper words of kindness in the thunderstorm car, and in the necessity of privation as fate may have it to bestow upon us, she is happy to grace our board and add to its blessings. Such are the qualities of woman, and we heartily wish the happy couple every blessing that can be desired.

Augusta, June 18.—Registration in the 18th senatorial district commenced to-day in Columbia county. There are 1,000 voters in the city—365 were registered—150 blacks and 18 whites.

London, June 18, 2 p. m.—A formidable anti-Popery riot is progressing at Birmingham. The mobs have attacked no streets. The Roman Catholic chapel has been attacked and threatened with demolition. Intense excitement prevails.

3 p. m.—At this hour rioters are in full possession of the city of Birmingham. All efforts to suppress the riots have proved futile. Large bodies of troops have been sent to the scene of disturbance with orders to put down and suppress quiet at all hazards.

Washington, June 18.—The cross-examination did not shake Dyes' testimony materially, though some inconsistencies exposed. The defence will close to-morrow, that given before the military commission. A black woman, a servant in Mrs. Surratt's house, testified that Booth was present at house on the night of the assassination. A sporting gent testifies to having seen him on the afternoon of that day on Pennsylvania Avenue.

It is in the proof that under the name of John Harrison, Surratt left Montreal on the afternoon of the 12th and returned on the 18th, this would have given him about four days to make the trip and do his work.

The following dispatch has been sent to Gen. James B. Steedman, Collector of Internal Revenue at New Orleans:

"Washington, June 16.—Gen. James B. Steedman, New Orleans.—Will you accept the mission to Mexico and proceed there without unnecessary delay.

(Signed) "W. H. Seward."

Gen. Steedman sent the following reply:

"I thank you for the compliment you have paid me. The condition of my private affairs compels me to decline."

The Secretary of the Treasury will publish the names of 10,000 each alleged stolen, have been found in the Treasury vaults.

There was a full Cabinet meeting to-day.

New Orleans, June 18.—The following has been received from Galveston, dated the 16th inst.:

We have dates from Quertaro of the 30, which are unfavorable to Juarez. A letter from San Louis of the 31 says a telegram from Queretaro of the 3d states that the trial of Maximilian had not been concluded.

Sixty ladies in Mourning, residing in San Louis, had called upon President Juarez and prayed for the life of the prisoners entured at Queretaro. The President said he would do all he could compatible with justice and his duties. He said many Liberals had been shot and they had not interceded.

There had been two engagements at the capital which resulted in favor of the Republicans. Foreigners had advised Marquez to surrender, promising to protect his people.

It is reported that Maximilian has asked for a private interview with Juarez for the purpose of disclosing important state secrets. Maximilian was convicted on the 14th of May, and was to be executed or shot on the morning of the 4th with Miramon and Mejia.

Mejia commanding the City of Mexico, executed Gen. O'Horn, commander of the post, for treasonable correspondence with the Liberals. He has also executed 100 Liberal sympathizers and threatens to execute them and burn the capitol if Maximilian and his generals are executed.

Mejia selected Escobedo as his counsel, who refused to serve, saying "he would not defend a traitor."

Chicago, June 18.—Numbers 54 and 56, occupied as a saloon and boarding house, were burned last night. Eight persons have been rescued—eight are supposed have been burned.

Washington, June 18.—The Cabinet were in session to-day and yesterday on the subject of Gen. Pope's letter. The instructions as will clearly define the powers of these commanders under the reconstruction acts, and leave obedience to them, and at the same time facilitate registration under uniform rules.

Washington, June 18.—Gen. Pope telegraphs Gen. Grant that it is untrue that negroes have been appointed to the municipal government of Mobile, but that the offices are filled from the best people of the city. He says that Gen. Swayne is now on his way to Washington.

Nothing authentic has transpired regarding Gen. Gillem's trip. The Executive order has not been completed.

Judge Fisher (in the Surratt case) has not decided whether he will allow the prosecution to introduce evidence of the finding of arms in Surratt's room.

I carried the same two men spoken of by Blum over the road, towards Canada. One of them looked like Surratt.

John H. Triplett testified:

I have heard conversations between Mrs. Surratt and the prisoner. I heard Mrs. Surratt say she would give any one a thousand dollars to kill Stanton. I also testified I have heard the prisoner (when there was a Union victory) curse the Union army.

The counsel for the defence objected to this testimony, but the prosecution claimed the right to show malice; the evidence was admitted.

Further evidence intended to confirm the testimony that Mrs. Surratt was the owner of the carbine found in her house, and that at the time of the assassination, was loaded. Nothing of importance, however, was elicited from the witnesses.

The Department of State has information that the utmost activity is displayed in the case of Jefferson Davis, and the proceedings will be pressed.

Washington, June 18.—The Commissioner of Agriculture, is dead.

New York, June 18.—The Express says that Gen. Pope's letter to Gen. Grant was received that Juarez's forces were severely defeated in the capital. The position's both of city and Vera Cruz. Santa Anna "Vive Republic."

The grand drought in Jamaica threatens the entire failure of the sugar crops for the very limited. The entire crop, however, will not exceed 25,000 tons.

Washington, June 18.—The commissioner Gen. Sickles' report contained in the following letter to Gen. Grant, dated Charleston, June 10th, 1867:

Sir—I have the honor to report that I arrived at this city on the 7th inst., and assumed command of the District of South Carolina on the 8th inst.

Charleston. Roe was wounded, it is supposed mortally, at the first fire. Boag surrendered himself promptly to the civil authorities.

New Orleans, June 18.—A paper published in Guadalupe concludes an article on Europe as follows: "Heretofore she threatened; now she implores and before she looked upon us with contempt; now she is upon her knees before us. The time has arrived for the reign of Monroe imperiously demanded by the Mexican nation."

The Mexican press are congratulating themselves that no European power here after will be able to coerce them either into paying debts or any other way. In fact they say nothing about the United States.

Richmond, June 18.—In registration in this city to-day the blacks went ninety-seven ahead of the whites. In the county fifty-nine whites and two blacks were registered.

Two citizens have been summoned before the United States Commissioner, charged with registering though they were disfranchised.

Petersburg, June 19.—In two wards of this city up to this evening 486 whites and 1408 negroes have been registered. There is much apathy among the whites on the subject of registration.

Washington, June 19.—The superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad says the work must be abandoned unless there is more protection to the Indians.

Philadelphia, June 19, 10 P. M.—The American Variety Theatre, on Walnut St., and a church surrounding property, is in flames.

Washington, June 20.—The President leaves on a Northward trip in the morning.

Prominent citizens of New Orleans have telegraphed the President urging Mr. King, of the Times, for the Mexican mission.

The close relations between Thos. S. Smoot and the wife of Henry Johnson were interrupted by Johnson, who shot Smoot in in the head. Smoot died in a half an hour.

The Russian treaty has been officially promulgated.

Philadelphia, June 20.—Thirty dead and thirty wounded have been reported from last night's fire.

Richmond, June 20.—Mark Downey and Thos. B. White, two well-known citizens, were arraigned before the United States Commissioner this morning, charged with perjury in having taken the registration oath yesterday.

The District Attorney said on the first case the prosecution would be on the ground that the State Constitution, adopted by the Convention at Alexandria, disfranchised all persons who aided the rebellion after April 1861. This Constitution it is claimed is not set aside by the reconstruction bill. About nine tenths of the white people in the State will be disfranchised if the District Attorney's ground is sustained.

Both cases were continued till to-morrow. There is great interest manifested by all classes of citizens in the case.

Montgomery, June 20.—The result of four days registration in Montgomery is 1783 blacks and 657 whites.

Charleston, June 20.—Gen. Sickles has issued a circular explanatory of certain paragraphs or order No. 32, chiefly with regard to the suppression of the sale of distilled spirits.

PROTECTION FOR THE HEALTHY and RELIEF FOR THE SICK.

INTELLIGENT TESTIMONY IS AS IMPORTANT IN MEDICINE as in law. The great Patent Office says that the lamp by which his feet were guided, and the light by which he read the statements of men of character and standing in regard to the merits of Dr. Jacob Townsend's sarsaparilla preparation which they themselves have tried, and the consequence of which has been to secure to him, particularly at witnessing in a great variety of cases, the unparalleled success of his medicine, as evidenced by the public, who very naturally prefer this special remedy to all others, and will not be satisfied, even in behalf of a proprietary remedy, unless the evidence has been published in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS during twenty years that it has enjoyed a popularity unequalled in the annals of the world, and although its reputation as a Standard Family Medicine is established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still diverged asiduously to establish, through the press, from time to time, new proofs of its success. Recent facts add gratifying confirmation to former ones, and serve to show that the great remedy is prepared with uniform excellence and care, and that it is still, what it ever has been, the purest and best of all Vegetable Tonics, and an reliable cure for dyspepsia and all derangements of the Stomach and Liver, and a perfect safeguard to the unobtrusive influences which produce and aggravate epidemic fevers, and to which emigrants are all more or less exposed. Known and generally respected in the localities where it is manufactured, and throughout the land published as specimens of an immense mass of evidence, equally as similar, are the letters of a large quantity of this kind of testimony in the hands of the proprietors, which they have on file, and are ready at the reader, when it is stated that the communications from persons on the subject of Fever and Ague alone received by the firm during the last three years, and carefully preserved, number over 1,000, and all to the same effect as that of Mr. Bourne, given below, and that the bitters was successful in every instance. Unsolicited evidence, it is the important fact that the bitters not only cure fever and ague, but radically cured in a very short space of time by the use of this agreeable tonic. Nor is this all. Entire exemption from the distressing malady, and all forms of liver complaint, dyspepsia, and nervous debility, are the results which follow the use of the bitters by residents of Fever and Ague Districts as may be seen from the following letter from Mr. Bourne. Though malaria may be prostrating their neighbors on every hand and on the right hand and on the left, those who have taken the precaution to fortify their systems with this protective influence, with this counteractive to all atmospheric poisons, may safely rest in security.

The physicians and others whose names appear in the annexed correspondence, are ready at all times to confirm, personally the statements made over their signatures.

Perhaps one of the most striking proofs that can be cited of the intrinsic excellence of the Bitters, is the unanimity of the opinion of the press in their favor. The professional as a rule set their faces against all proprietary medicines, and the reason for this course has unquestioned their prejudices, and they refuse to examine the merits of a remedy which they pursue stimulant and best stomachic that money can procure.

The present season of the year is a trying one to the Stomach and Bowels—indeed to all. In July, in August and September heavy draughts are made upon the vital energies, and it is necessary to have a nerve of strength and vitality in order to meet them without prostration and breaking down. Hostetter's Bitters are a stomach medicine, sustains the nerves and invigorates every of the frame with that powerful and general vegetable restorative, and any medicine which is recommended as a tonic for the morpheus may be encountered with comparative security.

PITTSBURGH, May 10, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen—Some years ago I went to the West last fall. I contracted chills and fever, which brought me to the verge of the grave. Physicians did me no good, and continued me to my room for several months, during which time I was physically as powerless as a child. I almost despaired of ever recovering my health. The medicine failed to impart any appetite for food, and my constitution became entirely undermined. Nothing seemed to relieve me. I was passed many sleepless nights, all from debility caused by the fever and ague. Nothing seemed to relieve me of fever. At this stage of my condition, a friend recommended me to use your celebrated Stomach Bitters; but, being mentally opposed to the use of patent medicines, I at first declined, but at last, as all remedies failed to my prejudices, and after using your Bitters for two weeks as directed, my appetite returned, and with it I am happy to say, health in a measure strength and vigor. My sleep from that time forward and to this day has never been better than it is now, and the reeling sensation the size of dizziness has entirely left me. I can say with truth that I feel myself a new man, and tender you this testimonial of the unsurpassed excellence of your medication in order that others suffering as I have may avail themselves of its virtues, and by prudence prevented me from enjoying for so long a period, they may also call upon you for relief. After seeing the beneficial effect your Bitters had on me, recommended that I use them regularly.

Yours, very respectfully,
E. BOURNE, 63 Market st.

Another letter, from a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, dated November 4th, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen—I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefit I have derived from your Stomach Bitters during the last few years. Being in the old regiment, in 1861 I had a severe attack of fever and long disappointment, which settled in my bowels. I was advised to try your Bitters, which I did, and found them very much to my benefit. I bought a half dozen bottles, and however, and I seemed to have got a new life in me, so much so that I have used them every summer since, as a tonic. I think they are invaluable. This summer, in particular, my children were sick and I was confined in weight, being under the care of an A. No. 1 physician, but could not get relief until I got your Bitters, with the same good results, gaining six (6) pounds in a half dozen bottles. I regard them as a first class article, and intend to keep them constantly on hand. Wishing success to your enterprise, I remain yours gratefully,

WILLIAM MILLER.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Sirs: I believe your bitters are the best in use. I first used them in 1863, and they cured me. It was not faith that did it, for I had no faith in them: I tried them as a last resort. I had been a prostrate for several weeks with dyspepsia and nervous debility, and was not able to walk. I used one bottle so far restored me that I could attend to business. Last October I was attacked with chills which resulted in the return of the same disease, accompanied with bronchial affection, when I again used your Bitters, and was soon restored to health. I have since been taken to boarding on my acquaintance, and have never known them to fail in effecting a speedy cure.

Yours truly,
MIRANDA CHAPPEL,
Postmaster at Rockford, Va.
Elsewhere, Pa., Nov. 8, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen—We have been selling your Stomach Bitters for eighteen months, and find them an extensive favorite. All that is necessary is to let people know their virtues, and they will use them. We have used them ourself, and now recommend them to all who have weak stomachs.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: For a long time I have been afflicted with a chronic disorder, and was unable to attend to any business. I was advised to use your Stomach Bitters, which I did, and they have entirely cured me. I believe had it not been for them I should have died. I am now in the enjoyment of health, and only to testify to the virtue of your BITTERS, but I will also say that I am now keeping a store, and will also be happy to recommend them to all who have weak stomachs.

JOHN M. GREACEN.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gents; It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best BITTERS of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where billious derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years experience in the use of compounds as medicines compels me to give your BITTERS the preference to all the compounds in the market.

Gallatin, Saline County, Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: I have practiced medicine for many years, and have used your BITTERS in a number of cases, and have found them to be a valuable remedy in commending them to the public in general.

J. SMITH, M. D.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: I will more of your Stomach Bitters than of any other medicine. Parties who have used them speak in very high praise of their excellent virtues. I have used them myself, and prescribe them with unparalleled success.

Very respectfully, yours,
G. T. KEMER, M. D.
Xenia, Clay County, Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: I have used and often prescribed your Stomach Bitters, and take pleasure in recommending it to all whose stomachs are debilitated. I find it an excellent tonic, and I regard it as one of the best medicines of the day.

Gents: Some months since I was troubled with weakness of the stomach, and had lost my appetite, and was otherwise unwell, and by the use of your BITTERS, am restored to perfect health and my family physician. I purchased several bottles of your BITTERS, and have given them to my wife, who was also troubled with weakness of the stomach, and they have entirely restored her to health, but of late I have not been able to obtain the BITTERS in our place; please inform me where I can obtain them, as I find that I must use some on sale, will be pleased to have the same sent to me immediately. The Safety Hand Lamp,

AND

Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest, best smoker and most safe, and the cheapest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are as follows, viz: Particular superior to any thing yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is inexhaustible. The cost of the fluid is about one half that of refined coal Oil. The wick is round and does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not fear explosion in these lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Chesterfield county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common St.,

In the Elegant and Spacious

IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges :

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence in any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc , separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course
here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total $255

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.
—About $400 per session, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $4150 for same time. Deduct $255 leaves $3892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400, or $2295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Safety Hand Lamp,

AND

Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are of a superior character to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no equal. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is not harmful. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

The Vernon Times copies our article about R. W. Flournoy, of Pontotoc, and pins the following to it:

For the benefit of our Meridian exchange we will state that the Celegates to the above Convention from Pontotoc were Fontaine and Miller of the strict Southern Rights party, and Flournoy and Herring, of the class of politicians known as Co-operationists. Flournoy used to Lauderdale square on occasion. He came home, raised a company which was attached to Humphreys' Regiment, we believe the 21st Mississippi Infantry. He went with it to Virginia, but we understand he didn't do a great deal of fighting; at least he didn't "whip 'em out by breakfast." He exhibited as much incapacity for the place, that he was unprecedented by a true soldier and clever gentleman; he came home, took advantage of the "twenty nigger law" and kept out of the army during the whole war. He was engaged much of the time in running the Blockade and otherwise contributing to our failure.

We are familiar with the history of his private character, with which we have, however, nothing to do; but our knowledge of the man warrants us in assuming the Gazette that he has all the elements that make a good Radical. It is a strange fact, none the less true, however, that all the scum and rascality of society, (we speak in a political sense) belong to that party. We do not say that all who belong to that party are scoundrels, but we do say that all the scoundrels in the country belong to the nigger loving, proclaimed, moral blue, Radical party.

Gen. Sheridan to Grant.

The following telegram will create some surprise:

HEADQRS. FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT,
New Orleans, La., June 22, 1867.

Gen. U. S. Grant, Commanding Armies of the United States, Washington, D. C.:

GENERAL—I am in receipt of a telegram from the President, through Brevet Major General E. D. Townsend, A. A. G., U. S. Army, directing me to extend the registration in this city and State until August first, unless I have some good reasons to the contrary, and ordering me to report such reasons for this information. Also stating that in his judgment this extension is necessary to a full and fair registration, and that the time should be thus extended because the other district commanders will not get through before that time.

My reasons for closing the registration in this city were because I had given the city two and a half months, and there were no more to register. I have given the State two and a half months, and registration will be exhausted by that time. I do not feel warranted in keeping up boards of registration at large expense to suit new issues coming in at the eleventh hour.

The registration will be completed in Louisiana at the time specified, unless I am ordered to carry out the law under Mr. Stanbery's interpretation, which practically, in registration, is opening a broad macademized road for perjury and fraud to travel on! I do not see why my registration should not be finished at the time when other district commanders got through. I have given more time for the registration of Louisiana than they propose to give in their commands, for I commenced six weeks before they did. I regret that I should have to differ with the President, but it must be recollected that I have been ordered to execute a law to which the President has been in antagonism. If after the report the time is to be extended, please notify me and it will be done. I would do it at once, but the President's telegram was conditional, and there is sufficient time left to issue the necessary order.

P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major General.

Mrs. Julia P. Burnett, who died at Natchez, in April, aged 74 years, was sister of the late Governor Quitman.

Courts of Bankruptcy.

At a meeting of the members of the bar in attendance at the District Court of the United States at Oxford, Miss., at the June term 1867, on motion Hon. S. J. Gholson was called to the chair and Col. H. W. Walter appointed Secretary.

C. D. Fontaine explained the object of the meeting, to be the adoption of a Fee Bill for services in cases of Bankruptcy, and on his motion the Chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five to recommend a Fee Bill on the subject.

The chair appointed Fontaine Miller committee: E. S. Fisher, H. A. Barr, W. F. Dowd, H. W. Walter, and J. S. Orrick.

The Committee made a report, and recommended the following Fee Bill:

For filing a petition schedule and oath taining discharge of a Bankrupt, where there is no litigation, (in advance) not less than $100,00,

For all cases in which there shall be opposition to the discharge of the Bankrupt, not less than $250,00.

For all other litigated business for either the Bankrupt creditors or assignee, the Fee charged by the tariff of Fees of the county of the council employed.

The motion of General Pentacton, the following amendment was adopted to the report:

The foregoing are to be regarded as the minimum Fees, and the profession are expected to exercise a sound discretion in making such additional charges in each case as may be justified by the amount of labor to be performed, of the indebtedness from which the Bankrupt seeks to be discharged, and the value of his assets.

The report with the amendment was adopted. The proceedings of members of the District are requested to publish the proceedings of the meeting.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

H. W. WALTER, Secty.

The is the way the Pacific railroad is laid at the rate of more than a mile a day: Forty miles in front of the line are sent in a train as near the end of the track as it can get, and unloaded at the side of the road. Then it comes on again with 10 teams, while gangs of men place and level them; then small, low cars, are loaded with rails, spikes, and chains, and pushed to the end of the last track, where two rails are seized and run off at the end and dropped in their places; as they fall others grasp them and keep them at the proper width, while another drops spikes at the cross-ties; the little car goes on and the spike drivers follow up nailing them down. Then comes the track straighteners and the ballast men, making in all a procession a mile long, all trained to know their special duty, and to do it with a will and promptness that knows no failure or delay.

How to Get an Education.—Boys say to me, "We want an education; but we are poor, and father is poor, and we can't get it; so we are going to learn a trade, or go into a store or something of that sort." Now let me say, every boy that wants an education, if he will bend his force to it, can get just as good a one as he wants. The way is open. Education does not come through mindless mills, colleges, and seminaries; these are helps; but it comes by study and reading, and comparing, and all the schools, and colleges, and seminaries in the world will not make the education of a man without these; and with them a man will be one if he never sees a college. And what is true of boys is true of girls, and what is true of this pursuit is true of any other. The force must be from yourself, and you must develop it. It is that indomitable "I can," that sets a man astride the world.

"I have seen a woman professing to love Christ more than the world, clad in a silk dress costing $75; making up and trimmings of same, $10; bonnet (or apology for one) $35; velvet mantle $150; diamond ring $500; watch, chain, pin and other trappings, $360; total, $1100—all hung upon a frail, dying woman. I have seen her at a meeting in behalf of homeless orphans in New York, wipe her eyes upon an expensive embroidered handkerchief at the story of their suffering and when the contribution box came round take from a well filled purse one couple of cents! Wretched, twenty-five cents to aid the society formed to promote their welfare. Ah, thought I, dollars for ribbons and pennies for Christ."—[Spurgeon.

BANKRUPT FORMS AND BLANKS.

We have received an official copy of the rules and orders, together with the forms and proceedings in Bankruptcy, as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now printing a large number of blank petitions in Bankruptcy.

The petition, with the necessary schedules makes twelve pages. They will be printed in good style, on the finest quality of cap-paper, and in strict conformity to the law. We intend printing immediately all the blanks used in Bankrupt proceedings, and will furnish them to Attorneys and others on the most reasonable terms.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

Important to Ex-Postmasters.

Many men who were postmasters previous to the war are of the opinion they are disfranchised under the late opinion of the Attorney General. The Clarion publishes the postmaster's oath used prior to 1862, which proves conclusively that postmasters, mail carriers, agents and others connected with the post office department, are not disfranchised. Here it is:

I, ——, do swear, or affirm, (as the case may be,) that I will faithfully perform all the duties required of me, and abstain from everything forbidden by the laws in relation to the establishment of the post offices and post roads within the United States—So help me God. A post office laws, under the head of organization and miscellaneous—Sec 9.

Let this class of our citizens come up at once and secure the right to vote. "Our safety and the security of unborn generations can be secured only through the narrow defile of general registration."

Henry Porter and a man named Bradley, two notorious horse thieves, have been arrested and lodged in the Canton jail. They belong to Ashley's gang.

Eliza Curl, a girl only thirteen years old hung herself near Peoria, Illinois, last week. Cause, her mother bought her sister a corset and neglected her.

General James Alcorn.—We see that this gentleman has been called upon by a committee of the most prominent citizens of Memphis to address them on the political topics of the day at as early a period as he conveniently can.

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 18th inst., relates an account of a foul murder eight miles from the city. A girl named Sarah Klein was murdered by her lover, a man named Betz. He then started to escape but changed his mind soon, however, for he halted suddenly, placed the muzzle of the pistol against his head, discharged the remaining cartridge, and blew his brains out.

Steamboatmen have been notified that the government will at once revive the assessment of the 2½ per cent. tax on the gross amount of receipts of steamers for passengers.

We mentioned the other day, the robbery, and attempted assassination of Capt. Felts of Choctaw county, Alabama. This rather startling paragraph touching the affair, appears in the last Butler Herald:

It appears that Capt. Felts, the Tax collector for this county, whose robbery we reported last week, has fallen under suspicion of having robbed himself. He was arrested last Monday at Pushmattaha and placed under guard. The attorneys interested pro and con in the case, met at this place on last Wednesday and agreed upon next Friday as the day for the investigation of the affair. For the State, in addition to the Solicitor, Judge Morse and F. C. DuBruiz, Esq., have been retained. Maj. Thos. Cobbs, of Sumter, appears for the defence. We sincerely hope and trust that Capt. Felts will be able to clear himself from the suspicion that has fallen upon him. We forbear further comment until the matter has been investigated.

A man named Cockrell, living in Madison county, shot his brother last week. The wound is severe, but not dangerous.

The South will be irrevocably ruined if the white people fail to register, no matter what the motive may be in so doing.

New Lands in the Market.—Great excitement, it is stated, prevails in Northern Texas by the fact that the lands in the Indian Territory are being sectionized for sale to whites, by consent of the Government, and that it is expected the Territory will soon be admitted into the Union as a State. If there is one portion of the United States more fertile, beautiful and healthful than all the others, it is the Indian Territory. Emigrants are flocking there in large numbers.

Keep it Before the People.

That no person is disqualified from registering who, being disqualified as to age and domicil, did not hold an office before the war, that required him in order to be prepared to discharge its duties, to take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States.

That no person is disqualified from registering, who, having held such office before the war, did not afterwards engage (voluntarily and willingly) in aiding the rebellion.

That two elements must concur in order to disqualify a person under those clauses: First, the office and official oath to support the Constitution of the United States; second, engaging afterwards in rebellion. Both must exist to work disqualification, and must happen in the order of time mentioned.

A person who has held an office and taken the oath to support the Federal Constitution and has not afterwards engaged in rebellion, is not disqualified. So, too, a person who has engaged in rebellion, but has not heretofore held an office, and taken that oath, is not disqualified.

That not to register, if qualified, is in fact delegating to others the powers to register, legislate and hold office for you.

That not to register gives the freedman full control of the country and power to fill all the offices from his own race.

That when we give up the country to the newly enfranchised class we cease to control them and are without any voice in the framing of our laws.

That class legislation will necessarily follow such a course—and unequally imposed taxes be forced upon us.

That a wall of separation will be reared between the races, and agrarian laws worse than those of Rome be enacted to rob the people of the South of their lands.

Therefore, let every man be up and doing. Those who fail to fortify themselves with a ballot now, will live to regret it.

Don't beguile yourselves with promises of the up-rising of a dying party, nor cling to the hope that rights now gone will be restored. They have been stamped out forever and the "conquering idea" carries the day. There is no way to dodge it—no place for our unfortunate, desolated people, to hide themselves. We are compelled to live and move with the tide of power, and the sooner we become reconciled to the Northern theory and adopt it, the sooner will we return to the path of wealth and prosperity.

The Objects of the Party.—Stanbery's opinion has drawn forth many bitter editorials from the radical press. Men and measures calculated to return the country within constitutional bounds meet with most violent opposition in the radical ranks and contempt and hatred, calumny and vituperation, becomes a popular commodity with a few of the extreme journalists. Here is a short extract from the Washington Chronicle, in which the mask is removed:

Indeed, the one fatal misconception which vitiates the entire argument of the Attorney General is briefly this: His assumption that the relation now existing between the nation and the States recently in flagrant rebellion is one of peace. It is true a war, as carried by masses of armed men in hostile array, engaged in the work of mutual extermination, no longer exists. Peace, in the sense of a submission by the vanquished to the victor when resistance becomes no longer possible, certainly now obtains in the Southern territory. But this is in no sense that peace known to the law of nations which should deprive a victorious people of the right to gather up and secure the fruits of the bloody triumph which they sacrificed so much to win. Till then the status of the country is in bello nondum cessante.

The extract will bear a second reading. The "victorious people are yet to gather up and secure the fruits of the bloody triumph." Men of Mississippi, do you hear that? The white race of the South are to go under and what little property left us to be placed in the hands of the "victorious people." To this complexion it must come at last, unless every man qualified steps forward to aid in carrying the State back into the Union. To permit "loyalists" and freedmen to finish the work of restoration is to give the "victorious people the fruits of the victory." Registering and voting for a Convention is our only hope. If the white people vote against the Convention "resistance becomes no longer possible."

We see mention made of the lynching of two colored men at Wyandott, Kansas, by a mob, on suspicion that they were the authors of a murder committed on a citizen named O'Marrah, and of the subsequent discovery that the two unhappy men are innocent. An act of this kind committed down South, would bring upon us additional military rigors and probably a "war of races." As it occurred in Kansas, but little will be said on the subject, by either freedmen or radicals.

Important Decision.

Chief Justice Chase has rendered a very important decision at Raleigh, North Carolina. A Philadelphia house brought suit against a North Carolina firm for the payment of a note given before the war. The defendants set up the claim that the note had been paid to the government during the war under the act of sequestration. The Chief Justice, however, held that compulsory payment under sequestration acts to Confederate receivers, was no discharge from the debt, and ordered that the plaintiff have judgment for principal and interest of the debt, without deduction.

In his opinion he elaborated on the regulations of the States lately in rebellion to the United States government. He says that there is no doubt but that the State of North Carolina, by the acts of the Convention of May, 1861, &c., set aside her State Government and the Constitution, connected under the National Constitution with the Government of the United States, and established a Constitution and Government set up in hostility to the United States, and entered upon a course of active warfare against the National Government, but that these acts did not effect, even for a moment, the separation of North Carolina from the Union, any more than the acts of an individual, who commits grave offences against the State by resisting its officers and defying its authority, can separate him from the States. He does not agree with Stevens, Sumner & Co., who insist that when the rebellion attains proportions and assumes the character of a civil war, it is purged of its treasonable character, and can only be punished by the defeat of its armies, and disappointment of its hopes and calamities incident to unsuccessful war. Courts have no policy, Judge Chase tells us, they can only declare the law.

On the morning of the 20th inst., about an hour before day, an attempt was made to assassinate Mr. Phil. Rose and a Mr. Shoemaker, living some six miles north of Canton. Messrs. Rose and Shoemaker were occupying a bed together near a window. Some one poked a double barreled shot gun through the window, the muzzle of the gun striking Mr. Rose's head. He awoke instantly and seized the muzzle of the gun, turning it from his head as it fired, receiving the greater portion of the contents in his hand, a few shot striking Mr. Shoemaker, who was asleep, in the back. Two negroes upon whom suspicion rested, were taken in custody. One of them confessed the other did the shooting.

Pollard has sent us a copy of his new paper, the Southern Opinion, and written a letter asking that we notice it as we think it deserves. It is one of the most handsomely gotten up prints we have seen for many a day. The news is carefully condensed and collated and all arranged under appropriate heads. Its editorials are able and well tempered—the tone far different from what we expected. It "accepts the new condition of affairs in good faith" and "advices the people of the South to comply in good feeling with the requirements of the Military bill." We are glad to see that reconstruction finds no foe in Pollard, and that the government, civil or military will not be obstructed by his pen.

Those who are tired of poverty and taxation, should register and contribute their mite towards raising the South from her present lamentable condition.

The mysterious mission of the United States steamer Gettysburg to the West Indies, has resulted in a simple treaty of amity, commerce, &c., with the Dominican Republic. It is nothing more or less than the stereotyped formality which we have gone through with every State, big and little, in the entire circle of American powers.

Elopement.—The New Orleans Picayune states that Emeline Zavistanski, the well-known dansense and comic actress of that city, had eloped with an Irish comedian named Carrollton. The affair produced considerable of an excitement. Mad. Christine, it is stated, purchased a pistol with which she threatened to kill the husband of her daughter if he could be found.

Mr. Robert B. Sharkey died on the 10th inst., near Canton, in his 74th year. He once cultivated the land on which the town of Grand Gulf is built. The Clarion says he perhaps reared and educated more orphan children than any man in the South.

Governor Flanders of Louisiana, has made proclamation of some stringent regulations for preventing the introduction of yellow fever into the port of New Orleans.

Rois Brown, a freedman about 70 years of age, near Enterprise, committed suicide last week by hanging; the act being induced, it is supposed, by religious excitement.

Bankrupt Law—Proceedings Under It.

We have received a copy of the rules and proceedings in Bankruptcy promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States. As the law will now go speedily into operation, and as a great many persons are interested in it, the provisions of the law are of general interest.

Cases under the Bankrupt law are only cognisable in the U. S. District Courts, which are to be always open for the transaction of Bankrupt business. The petition of the debtor must be filed with the clerk and a duplicate copy of it delivered to the Register.—Almost all the business, except in cases where a contest arises, is done by the Register. They make adjudication of bankruptcy, receive the surrender of the bankrupt, administer oaths in all proceedings before them, hold and preside at meetings of creditors, take proof of debts, make all estimates of dividends and all orders of distribution, audit the accounts of the assignees, pass the final examination when no creditor opposes the discharge, and sit in chambers and dispatch there all administrative business connected with the law which the court or the general orders may prescribe. The form of petition of a debtor to be declared bankrupt, is as follows:

"To the Honorable ——, Judge of the District Court of the United States, for the —— District:

The petition of ——, of——, in the county of——, and State of ——, and District aforesaid, respectfully represents:

That he has —— for —— months next immediately preceding the filing of this petition at ——, within said judicial district; that he owes debts exceeding the amount of $300, and that he is unable to pay all of the same in full; that he is willing to surrender all of his estate and effects for the benefit of his creditors, and desires to obtain the benefit of the act entitled 'An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved March 2d, 1867.'

That the schedule hereto annexed, marked A, and verified by your petitioner's oath, contains a full and true statement of all his debts, and (so far as it is possible to ascertain) the names and places of residence of his creditors, and such further statements concerning said debts as are required by the provisions of said act:

That the schedule here annexed, marked B, and verified by your petitioner's oath, contains an accurate inventory of all his estate, both real and personal, assignable under the provisions of said act:

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that he may be adjudged by the Court to be a bankrupt, within the purview of said act; and that he may decreed to have a certificate of discharge from all his debts provable under the same.

The schedule to accompany the petition exhibiting the assets and liabilities of the Bankrupt are given in eleven different forms, and, with the petition, occupy twelve pages.

Before any warrant issues, the petitioner must deposit fifty dollars with the Register, as security for the payment of all fees under the proceedings, which are to have priority of payment over all other claims out of the estate. It is now made the duty of the Register, if satisfied as to the facts, to issue a warrant in bankruptcy against the estate of the debtor, directed to the Marshal of the district, authorising him to publish notices in such newspapers as the warrant specifies, and to serve notices on all creditors, that the payment of any debts to the delivery or transfer of any property of the debtor are forbidden by law, and that a meeting of the creditors will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be specified in the warrant, not less than ten nor more than ninety days after the issue of the same. It is also made the duty of the Marshal to take immediate possession of the property of the bankrupt, under the warrant, and to prepare within three days, an inventory of all the property, and return to the Register.

At the first meeting of the creditors of the bankrupt they must choose, in presence of the Register, one or more assignees of the estate of the debtor. As soon as an assignee is appointed and given security, she Register must assign and convey to him all the estate of the bankrupt, with all books and papers relating thereto. There are excepted and reserved to the use of the bankrupt the following only: Necessary household and kitchen furniture, in the discretion of the assignee, but not exceeding five hundred dollars in value; wearing apparel of the bankrupt, his wife and children, and such other property as may be exempt from execution under the laws of the United States, or of the State in which the bankrupt resides. The assignee is to receive, out of the sale of the estate, in addition to all necessary expenses actually incurred, five per cent. on amounts under $1,000, two and a half per cent. on sums between $1,000 and $5,000, and one per cent on all sums over $5,000. He is to give written notice of all meetings of creditors, after the first, and of all dividends payable by him in the discharge of his trust.

He is to keep a strict account of all claims presented, and of all proceedings by him as assignee. Three months after an adjudication of bankruptcy, or earlier, the Court, upon request of the assignee, is to call a general meeting of the creditors, to hear the report of the assignee, which shall be a full schedule, with vouchers, of all receipts and payments. In case a dividend is ordered, the Register is required to prepare the list of creditors to receive it, and forward it, specifying the amount each is entitled to, to each creditor by mail. The assignee is to pay the creditors their quotas in such manner as the court may direct.

The like proceedings are to be held at the expiration of the next three months, or earlier, if practicable, and a third meeting of creditors be called by the Court, when a final dividend shall be declared, unless suits at law or other unavoidable delays may prevent.

Arrest Captured.—We learn that the assassin of Geo. V. Moody has been captured, and was brought by the military authorities to this city to-day. It will be remembered that Moody was murdered near Grand Gulf, at Port Gibson, in the house of Col. ——.—Vicksburg Advocate.

THE CREW

SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Comprises a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepared from pure Drugs, by a class of experienced Southern Physicians, specially for the diseases incident to a Southern locality.

They are not secret nor patent mixtures and are recommended to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know but little about Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines ever offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

It is Dromgoole & Co's Toule Hair restorer. If it is warranted.

The Great Southern Preparation as a class of Family Medicines, should be used by every body.

We have received a cotton stalk, on which there is a fully blown cotton flower, from the farm of Mr. W. H. Pankey, of this county. This speaks well for the "staple" in Lauderdale. All reports we get relative to crops, are encouraging—Cotton is growing rapidly, and corn promises an abundant yield.

A negro was arrested here the other day and lodged in jail, charged with having committed murder at Chester, South Carolina. The Sheriff of Chester, telegraphed that the necessary steps have been taken to secure his return to that place. He was recognized by Mr. Jones an engineer on the Vicksburg and Meridian Railroad.

A number of important city ordinances will be found in to-day's paper. Read them, and govern yourself accordingly.

Seven hudjred and forty persons had registered yesterday, up to 12 o'clock. Of this number there were 457 blacks, and 283 whites.

We heard yesterday of a horrible tragedy that occurred at Enterprise, in Clarke County, on Tuesday. A man and his wife were killed outright with an axe, and their daughter dangerously wounded. The man who committed the deed, then killed himself and is not expected to recover.—We have no particulars and forbear giving names until something definite is ascertained.

Monday was observed as a festival by Masons throughout the United States—it being the anniversary of the birth of St. John the Baptist, one of the patron saints of the order. "St. John's Day" was duly celebrated by the Mystic Brotherhood, in the neighboring city of Shubuta.

SET LOVINGOOD'S YARNS.—We have received from the publisher's Messrs. Dick & Fitzgerald, New York, through Messrs. Putnam & Malone of Mobile, a copy of this amusing work. It is "schuck full" of humor and wit, and is just the thing to drive off the blues these sultry afternoons, when the mind naturally reverts to a depleted pocket, and the sad condition of our national affairs. To those who believe "'tis better to laugh than be sighing," we would say send down to Putnam & Malone, and get a copy of Set's yarns. A few passages might have been left out very well, but on the whole, we presume it is not any more defective than the great bulk of works now read by our people.

The original formula for the manufacture of the rare vegetable specific—Red Jacket Bitters, is rigidly adhered to. Its quality and proportions never vary—consequently its operation is uniform. Moreover, it does not deteriorate in any climate.

At a freedman's meeting in Greenville, Mississippi, a few days ago, William Murphy a sensible colored man defined his position in the following style: "I'se on de platform good for white or black: "I am in favor of all hands going to work and making plenty of cotton and keep less whiskey, and then all will go right. I tell you the South is the greatest country in the world. I now propose three cheers for the South."

BILLY WORRE—Lizzie Cady Stanton and Sue Anthony telegraph to the National State Convention: "Rise above mere parties; strike white male from your constitutions; make Kansas a genuine republic. Lead the nation and the world."

Correspondence from Ireland states positively that James Stephens had just paid a visit to Dublin, and returned to France after attempting to defend his country in a Fenian council in Dublin. There was no escape for the council. The letter states as a result of the Fenian movement, the United States will this year gain an abundant supply of the most valuable contraband labor from Ireland.

Letter from Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, June 18, 1867.

DEAR GAZETTE:—Do you have any warm weather in Meridian? If not, come up to Louisville! We almost melted the other day, but concluded it was the best to wait a little longer." Sunday we spent as usual, "going to Sunday School and Church.—In the afternoon we visited one of the most interesting schools, it has ever been our privilege to attend. There were over 300 scholars present, and the strictest order was observed in all the exercises. A better superintendent than Mr. Thos. Harvey we have never seen; nor a Sunday School more orderly and better conducted.

Being in search of provisions for our suffering poor, we determined to visit Cincinnati, and make a short tour back through Kentucky. Cincinnati has grown much since our visit before the war.—While we "decreased," like other parts of the North it "increased," at our expense, to some extent—but that is past now. We took a round or two through the business streets, and in the afternoon rode with friend to Spring Grove Cemetery, a beautiful place, beautifully laid out, with many splendid monuments and richly decorated "homes of the dead." On our route thither we passed by palatial residences of merchant princes, and wealthy contractors, made so, possibly, by the late war.—But we found philanthropists there; kind hearted people who feel sabstantially for the suffering South, and we hope to receive benefactions therefrom, ere many days.

A shower of rain was not unwelcome, and made a trip by rail from Covington to Lexington quite pleasant. We passed through old Bourbon, and other highly cultivated portions of the country, presenting almost the appearance of continuous gardens. Covington is a place of considerable importance now, and must contain 12,000 to 15,000 inhabitants. Lexington was a larger place than we expected to see. It has already about ten thousand inhabitants, and is increasing in population, wealth and importance. It must be a delightful place for a residence.

Of course we found Louisville where a great many good things were spread in abundance before a good many guests, for all of which a good price had to be paid. As none of those at which we happened to put up, advertise in the Gazette, it may be as well to write their names. You have advertisers among the merchants of Louisville, however, and some of these we called upon in a social sort of way, as they showed themselves to be liberal minded, social fellows.

The South-western Relief Commission of Louisville, gives us one hundred sacks of corn for the destitute of our region, while the Baptist Southern Relief Association, which has already forwarded 200 sacks, have sent 198 more, and propose furnishing further supplies. Our people should never forget the generous sympathy and substantial aid rendered by the citizens of Kentucky, to the devastated South. Some private firms of this city have done much outside of committees; among others, we mention Messrs. Jos. Morton & Co., and Messrs. J. B. Wilder & Co. We hope to report other contributions next week. D.

The Exemption Laws.

Here is a complete list of all the property which is now by the laws of Mississippi exempt from seizure and from sale under execution or attachment:

One year's supply of provisions necessary for the family and the hands employed on the farm and forage for the teams and stock of ever kind herein exempted.

The property above exempted, "upon the death of the husband, descends to the widow as the head of the family, during widowhood, and to the children as heads of household and children; and in the event of her marriage or death, descends in like manner to the children as heads of household and children; and in the event of her marriage or death, descends in like manner to the children as heads of household and children;" (See Acts 1856, page 387, section 3.)

The following order was issued to-day:

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, June 20, 1867.—Whereas several commanders of Military Districts created by Acts of Congress have shown a misconception of powers expressed doubts as to the proper construction thereof, and in respect to some of their powers and duties have not fully complied and have applied to the Executive for information in relation thereto; and whereas the said Acts of Congress have been referred to the Attorney General for his opinion thereon, and the said opinion of the Attorney General have been fully and carefully considered by the President in conference with the heads of the respective Departments; the President accepts the following as a practical interpretation of the aforesaid Acts of Congress on the points therein presented, and directs the same to be transmitted to the respective Military Commanders for their information, in order that there may be uniformity in the execution of said acts—Here follows the 10 points of the Attorney General's summary adopted by the Cabinet, and telegraphed on the 20th inst.]

The following letter from Gen. Sickles, has been addressed to the Adjutant General:

"I have the honor to request that I may be relieved from command in the 5th district, and I respectfully demand a court of inquiry upon my official actions, that I may vindicate myself from the accusations of the Attorney General, published (it is presumed), with the approbation of the President. Congress having declared the so-called State Governments illegal, the opinion of the Attorney-General that military authority has not been established there prevents the execution of the reconstruction acts, and the murder of negroes to effect life, property or the rights of citizens, and murders all interests in these States with impunity."

NEW ORLEANS, June 21.—Queretaro dates of the 8th, San Luis dates of the 11th, and Montgomery dates of the 19th, have been received via Galveston.

It is reported that on the 8th Marquez learned of the sale of Queretaro by Lopez, he opened the documents left with him by Maximilian. Among them he found one in which he abdicated in favor of young Iturbide. Marquez immediately proclaimed Iturbide Emperor. He also arrested thirty Liberal Generals, who are held as hostages for Maximilian and companions.

No authoritative denial of the Emperor's proclamation has been received. It is still believed to be genuine. It is stated that Maximilian's counsel had been refused thirty days preparation for trial. It is stated that Maximilian had been sentenced—also, rumored that he had been executed, but nothing authentic.

Maximo Campo, had not been shot as stated, but was murdered while laying dangerously wounded in his bed.

Miramon and Mejia are still in prison at Queretaro.

By the last mail it is reported that Marquez had commenced executing the hostages—he had shot two, names not given.

The death of Mendez has been confirmed.

All the foreign prisoners are en route to Montgomery and Iturbide's 5,000—Austrians, Belgians and French.

The great Summit Tunnel of the Sierras, on the California end of the Pacific road, is to be 1,600 feet long, had generally been considered as a locked upon three or four years' job; but, putting in practice the underground tactics their engineers had taught them, our California friends set to work at both ends, but sunk a shaft in the middle and worked both ways from that. The tunnel was commenced in September, and on the first of May had but 681 feet remaining to be taken out. This was distributed at the rate of sixty feet each week, which promises to have it completed in August—eleven months from the start.

The Louisville Courier, referring to the new trial recently granted to Gen. Buckner, says its effect will be to restore to that gentleman his property. This is the first case brought up under the Kentucky Amnesty act of last winter, which provides and prevents suits being brought against officers and soldiers of either army for any acts performed under military compulsion, or by color of military authority.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.—Man has no power to resist the silent eloquence with which sweet soft blandishments and sweeter smiles speak to the warm and generous heart. Her vocation is to do good, and her presence adds a halo of glory by gladdening the dejected, comforting the distressed and strewing flowers in the pathway of man. And shall we fail to respond to her wants? Then rouse and you will behold the misery depicted among the sickly females of your acquaintance. Go, go with lightning's speed and tell them to use English Female Bitters and be cured.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE CONCERNING

HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.

and
RELIEF FOR THE SICK.

INTELLIGENT TESTIMONY IS AS IMPORTANT IN MEDICINE AS IN LAW. The Hon. Patrick Henry said that the lamp by whose light he (Henry) was guided, was the "lamp of experience." The statements of men of character are of value, in addition to the property of the article, and of the preparation which they themselves have tried, and the operation of which they have had ample opportunity of witnessing in a great variety of cases, are absolutely conclusive. Such is the testimony given by the public, who very naturally prefer the advice of testimony to any other that can be had on behalf of a proprietary remedy. Volumes of such evidence have been published in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS during twenty years that the unrivaled Tonic and Alterative has been before the world; and although its reputation is co-extensive with the habitable globe, it is established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still deemed advisable to be exhibit, through the press, from time to time, new proofs of its excellence, and for the benefit of those who have not before used it, to show, by the public, who very naturally prefer that species of testimony to any other that can be had on behalf of a proprietary remedy, volumes of such evidence have been published in favor of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS during twenty years that the unrivaled Tonic and Alterative has been before the world; and although its reputation is co-extensive with the habitable globe, it is established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still deemed advisable to be exhibit, through the press, from time to time, new proofs of its excellence, and for the benefit of those who have not before used it, to show, by the public, who very naturally prefer that species of testimony to any other that can be had on behalf of a proprietary remedy.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, received all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months.....90
Contingent expenses, about.....20
Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1500, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2100, or $8225 outgo—but has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

DR. SEABROOK'S
Infant Soothing Syrup.

We have, by purchase of the original recipe, become Sole Proprietors of this Celebrated Medicine. We ask you to give it a trial, with an assurance that you will in future, discard all those nauseous and destructive stuffs, such as Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, Dowse's Mixture, &c., combinations of a past and anti-progressive age, when it was thought that the more disgusting the mixture the better the medicine

Use in the future only SEABROOK'S, a combination, quite up with the advancement of the age. Pleasant to take, harmless in its action, efficient and reliable in all cases. Invaluable in the following diseases:

Gives health to the child and rest to the mother.

We could furnish any quantity of certificates bearing evidence of its superior qualities, but prefer that our medicine should stand on its own merits, which it will do upon trial.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

OF all the remedies that have been discovered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only six years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting—his first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the best remedy and effective remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the Faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effect of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and well, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Hurley's Ague Tonic.

PERFECTLY RELIABLE.

The only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever that is or can be depended upon to cure every time. Thousands have been saved and cured by using it who had tried the most remedies without benefit; but in no case has failed to effect a cure. All who have used it after-wards felt warranted in pronouncing it a sure and certain cure for chills and fever. Any one suffering from chills would do well to call over into see it by sending to the drug store and buying a bottle. It is perfect to take compared with others, and will be certain to cure all cases of fever and ague or chills and fever. Send for it to the nearest agent.

The Safety Hand Lamp,

AND

Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out in the strongest wind, and is unbreakable. The rest of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in any Coal Lamp by attaching the Light House or Meteor Hand Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution to the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

Letter from Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, June 17, 1867.

DEAR GAZETTE:—The country between Lexington and Louisville, is also in a high state of cultivation. We saw many beautiful farms, with fields of rich clover and green blue grass, while here and there long rows of corn appeared, though scarcely over a foot high. But the prospects of a fair crop are favorable, and if rains do not come in sufficient profusion to engender rust the wheat will soon be ripe and full for harvest.

There are two railroads starting out from this point, the Louisville & Nashville and the Louisville, Frankfort & Lexington. Another is under contract to Cincinnati, and is to be in operation within two years. Not many years ago the population of this city was reckoned at 40,000, but now it is estimated at 125,000. Improvements are still in progress too, while property is at least nominally appreciating in value day by day. Rents are high; the kind that rented for $100 per annum before the war, now command $600 to $700, and some that brought only $300, now rent for $1,200, etc. This state of things can not always exist.

Traversing the principal streets are lines of city railroads, which are well patronized, and like similar institutions in other places, the stock pays well. Some of these days there will likely be cars running through our narrow avenues and irregular streets. Then a trip to the Fortest Cemetery will be not only pleasant, but quite a fashionable deed.

Who can tell the future of Meridian? With the railroads all completed that are to centre there, and the numerous factories put into operation that are contemplated, it is bound to be a point of great importance. The western buildings will then have given away to neat brick and massive edifices; and the shade trees will have attained reasonable proportions. No place is improving more rapidly; so the day looked forward to may not be so far distant as many imagine. A healthy location, good water, and an enterprising people, with the advantages of railroad communication possessed by Meridian, will certainly make it a large inland city.

But it is too bad to inflict you with such a long digression. To return to Louisville. Let us take a look at the new Court House; it is a splendid structure, and quite large, but it is unnecessary to give the dimensions, though it may be as well to remark that it is not a square. Suppose we walk in and take a view of that costly statute of Henry Clay, so recently erected there.

Education is held in high esteem. The public schools are said to be excellent, and the private schools are not behind them.—School books are published here by Jno. P. Morton & Co., and are not only used in the city schools, but generally now in our region. We met Prof. Towne to-day; he is preparing other books; but you advertise them. Your Col. Shannon is quite popular, and is often inquired after. Tell him that the position of the Gazette, politically, is conceded by thinking men here to be the wisest and best under the circumstances. There, "times up." D.

Dr. Harmon's Defense.

ENTERPRISE, June 27, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:—Since my return home, your paper was placed in my hands, containing personal reflections upon myself, and I deem it proper and just, to claim a short reply to your strictures.

I confess that I was not a little surprised that you should condemn by wholesale the position which I assumed in a speech at Galva.

I have made it my special business for four or five months past, to inquire into and seek to relieve the destitution existing in this section of the State.

My stock-in-trade of observation has been altogether different from yours, as I do not suppose you have made it a specialty to hunt up and relieve the destitute.

You take offense, and pour out your condemnation upon me because I called for, and collected second hand clothing to relieve those, who from absolute want, are not able to purchase goods and clothing, representing me as indulging in exaggerated statements, which were false.

Now Sir, what are the real facts in the case. We have an immense list of registered families, being in Clarke, Jasper and Lauderdale counties, who for months past have been drawing second hand clothing and provisions from the Relief Committee at this place.

You seem to think it an insult to our people, and a disgrace to offer them such things, that there was no necessity for it.

For your information I will state, that five or six large dry goods boxes of first class second hand clothing (not worthless rags) have already been distributed to these destitute families, and what is sad indeed, we have not as yet been able, with all my efforts, to meet the increasing demands upon us for more of the same sort.

Besides this, thousands of pounds of meat, and bushels of corn have been distributed, and since I commenced this writing, numerous calls have been made for clothing and provisions, they having come six and ten miles from this place.

Now, if you will permit me to put this matter to a severe test, and open your columns without let or hindrance to the publication of certificates from those who have been relieved, and are now receiving relief in the Counties named, we can refer you to you in batches of twenty-five or fifty, until you shall cry out, hold! enough! and then we may satisfy you of existing want and destitution.

As you have, however, questioned my statements in the matter, I will now refer you to Col. James Wood, of Clarke county, and Judge G. W. Ryan, of Jasper county, for information in their neighborhoods, and the positive want and suffering.

I also refer you to Col. Watts, of Forest station, who plead with me to endeavor to county in our list, and spoke feelingly, on the subject.

Now, Mr. Editor, I refer you to all these gentlemen, old and reliable citizens, as you have discredited my statements.

I am responsible, and will stand by any speech that I have made in any place where I have solicited help, but I will not be answerable for any editorials that have appeared on this subject.

J. W. HARMON,
Agt. S. Relief.

Letter from Judge Ryan.

GREEN VALLEY, Jasper Co.)
Miss., June 24, 1867. (

Dear Gazette: I see in your paper of the 19th inst., a call urging upon your subscribers in the counties of Lauderdale, Clarke, Jasper and Newton, to send you the facts in reference to the want of provisions and clothing in those counties. You further state that you are really suffering for the necessaries of life, can obtain relief in the statement of their condition and call for it made known.

As I have been acting as a sub-agent in the northwest portion of Jasper county, in the distribution of a portion of the corn brought, or sent to Enterprise by Dr. Harmon, and have consequently some knowledge in this portion of the county, and from reliable information received from different portions of the county, I find that some parts of the county are in a more destitute condition even than this, for the reason that they live further from Enterprise, and have no facilities to get it home, even were it there for them. With the knowledge that I have in relation to this matter, I feel called upon as one of the subscribers of your valuable paper to make a full and clear statement of facts in relation to the destitute condition of many of the citizens of this county. I can think of no duty more painful to me than that of representing my neighborhood and friends in their true condition, as to their wants and necessities, (but duty before pleasure). It is useless to state to you Sir, the fact that the people in this part of the country but year, you are as well acquainted with the facts as I or any person can be. I will therefore simply state the fact that the people have not been able to procure provisions enough, therefore it has left those who had families and very little or stock in a deplorable condition and that is the case with many in this county.—Some having been able to obtain scanty allowances, have divided by the half—others by the third, and in a few cases, with those that have money and by that means have kept many from suffering, (that be I mean for bread stuff has been out of the question). Now, sir, just think of the number of widows, who were made so by the ruthless hand of war, left from one to a half dozen children, whose husband and father gave his life as well for them in his time, who never knew what it was to want for the necessaries of life. I say sir, that I for one, have been living upon a scanty allowance of dry bread and water and nothing else, and that too not only for one week but for months, and even months together. Some may conclude that this is an exaggerated statement, but I tell you it is not, I know it to be literally true, as only in one or two cases, but in many. I stated at the outset, that I was a sub-agent to distribute corn to the destitute. I was associated with Dr. Hiller, of the firm of Marsh & Hiller, at Enterprise, to establish him with the names of the destitute in my portion of the county, which I accordingly did. I then stated to him, that I would, small, has done a great deal of good. It is now gone, and there is no more at Enterprise for them. I was informed by Mr. Hiller a day or two ago, that probably there would be no more corn there. If this should be the case, and there comes no help from any other quarter, a vast amount of suffering is bound to follow. Crops are generally late in this part of the country, but look very promising, corn especially, but it will be at least two months before any hope can be obtained from the fields, and many poor widows have no fields to which to look to even then. Nothing can be done to alleviate the distresses of the suffering poor, it would be thankfully received, and doubly repaid by the prayers and tears of the bereaved widow and fatherless children, many of whom are not able to earn a living without help. As for clothing the most of them can make out if they can get cotton to spin, or could get spun thread they can clothe their children. Something to eat is what they want, and something to eat they must have, or extreme hunger must be the fate of many. May God help the distressed.

BANKRUPT FORMS AND BLANKS.

We have received an official copy of the rules and orders, together with the forms and proceedings in Bankruptcy, as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now printing a large number of blank petitions in Bankruptcy.

The petition, with the necessary schedules makes twelve pages. They will be printed in good style, on the finest quality of cap paper, and in strict conformity to the law. We intend printing immediately all the blanks used in Bankrupt proceedings, and will furnish them to Attorneys and others on the most reasonable terms.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

In Newton county, up to date, 315 whites, and 223 blacks have registered.

There is no genuine antagonism of interests or duties dividing the North and South at present. It is the remnant of passion and prejudice, engendered by the war, that is clogging reconstruction on both sides. Violent designs and selfish purposes have irritated many of our people, and they do not work as willingly for reconstruction as the good of the country demands. But when the great interests of the South are properly estimated, we think enough sober and calculating men will throw their influence into the contest to place the capital, energies and industry of the country upon such a footing as will command permanency, steadiness and assurances of reliable returns to the honorable and honest exertions of all classes in the various pursuits of life.

The residence of Col. R. C. Jordan, at Tibbee, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning about daylight. The fire broke out in the kitchen, which building, together with the store room and the residence, was destroyed. Loss between three and four thousand dollars. Origin—carelessness of some of the servants.

The fallacious letters of Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, fail to inflicate the time when we may look for the reaction which is to tumble radicalism from power, place the government in Democratic hands, and give to the South all the rights she enjoyed in former days, barring the right to hold negroes as property; nor do these letters advise us by what hocus pocus we are to retain the present military government, if the convention is now voted down and the States reconstructed, by an edict of Congress, ninety or one hundred days afterwards, on a strictly loyal basis—none voting save those prepared to gulp down the ironclad without any qualms of conscience. If Gov. Perry wishes his views carried out he had better begin by establishing elemosynary institutions all over the South. Guarantee the people something to eat and wear and they may be willing to endure the vexation and turmoil incident to the policy of "masterly inactivity."

Some of our friends are vacillating, not being able to decide whether 'tis best to register or not register—vote or not vote. For us the position and the path are plain. That which the war settled is irreversible, and we should cast no lingering looks behind. We must be winning laurels in the great work of reconstruction, bridging the cruel gulf that severs the sections, so as to be able to restore the country to prosperity. We should move straight forward on the road to restoration, under the law, looking neither to the right hand nor to the left. It is the true policy. Have a steadfast purpose, and put a stop to any further evil that radicalism may have rolled up to visit upon us in the future.

Our disfranchised citizens look to those still permitted to vote for relief. They expect them to go forward, every man, and become qualified to vote when the proper time comes. The best interests of the country, and the best interests of the leaders of the war who are proscribed on account of the influence they wielded in behalf of the Southern cause, appeal to us for assistance. This can only be done by putting yourself in a condition say who shall be elected, and who is deserving of a Constitution we

On a recent Sunday, some negro soldiers took possession of the seats in the Church on New Bourne, La., whereupon the Clergyman announced that the building was the property of the and left the building

Dr. Harmon Again.

We ask attention to the letter of Dr. Harmon, and also to the communication of Judge Ryan, in reference to the suffering in Jasper County.—We have no doubt there is considerable distress in this part of the State, and we think an appeal should be made to the Relief Societies of Cairo and other cities for corn and meat, and not for old shoes and cast away clothing, which are not wanted. Dr. Harmon says he is responsible for his speech, bitt not for the editorials of the Cairo Democrat. The Democrat based the article to which we referred on the authority of Dr. Harmon, and if it misrepresented him, should be called upon by Dr. H. to make the correction. Our people owe a debt of gratitude to the citizens of Cairo, Memphis, St. Louis, and those cities who have given from their abundance to relieve the distress of the South, but it is a plain duty that those who ask their charity, should not exaggerate or misrepresent the condition of our poor.

We felt mortified that such appeals had been made, as would be inferred from the article in the Democrat, and for that reason called attention to it.

We wish Dr. Harmon well in his efforts to obtain supplies for the destitute, but still insist that "old clothing" is not what the people need. Our columns will be open "without stint" to publish certificates of what he has done, or may hereafter do to help the needy. As he represents Lauderdale and Newton, as well as Clarke and Jasper, we would like especially to know what Lauderdale and Newton have received for their part of his acquisitions.

The World Moves.

The telegraph informed us the other day that the President had instructed Gen. Sheridan to extend the time of registration in Louisiana, until the first of August next, unless he had some "good reason to the contrary," and ordered him to report such reasons for confirmation. The President also declared, that, in his judgment, this extension of time was "necessary to" a full and fair registration, and that the time should be thus extended because the other district commanders will not get through before that time." In response to this dispatch, Gen. Sheridan telegraphs to Gen. Grant as follows:

My reasons for closing the registration in this city were because I had given the city two and a half months, and there were no more to register. I have given the State two and a half months, and registration will be exhausted by that time. I did not feel warranted in keeping up boards of registration at large expense to suit new issues coming in at the eleventh hour.

The registration will be completed in Louisiana at the time specified, unless I am ordered to carry out the law under Mr. Stanbery's interpretation, which practically, in registration, is opening a broad macademized road for perjury and fraud to travel on! I do not see why my registration should be dependent on the time when other district commanders get through. I have given the State two and a half months, and registration will be exhausted by that time. I did not feel warranted in keeping up boards of registration at large expense to suit new issues coming in at the eleventh hour.

The registration will be completed in Louisiana at the time specified, unless I am ordered to carry out the law under Mr. Stanbery's interpretation, which practically, in registration, is opening a broad macademized road for perjury and fraud to travel on! I do not see why my registration should be dependent on the time when other district commanders get through. I have given more time for the registration of Louisiana than they propose to give in their commands, for I commenced six weeks before they did. I regret that I should have to differ with the President, but it must be recollected that I have been ordered to execute a law to which the President has been in antagonism. If after this report the time is to be extended, please notify me and it will be done. I would do it at once, but the President's telegram was conditional, and there is sufficient time left to issue the necessary order.

This dispatch, we see, has created a great sensation in Washington, and well it may. We are drifting rapidly from the old established lines of courtesy and respect, when a man like Sheridan can use the impertinence contained in the above dispatch, with perfect impunity. Ten years ago such a telegram would have cost him his commission.

The war proclaimed that the people of the United States should be one, and the Northern people will never rest until the question is settled to their satisfaction. The South is helpless, and cannot expect to make any formidable resistance. The country is to be reconstructed as the dominant party wish, entirely regardless of our ideas of "right."—Why oppose these measures when we know such resistance only adds to our poverty, perpetuates mean tyrannies, and elevates a class that will show us no quarter when they get in power. Let us stand together and accept the situation as we find it, and make the best of the unfortunate condition the God of war has left us in. Hurry up reconstruction to give your neighborhood peace, and enable you to till the soil and enjoy its bounteous products.

Sound Argument.

The Southern Opinion, edited by H. Rives Pollard, of Richmond, Va., one of the most talented and vigorous political writers of the South, in an article on the duty of the South, comes out squarely for reconstruction under the Military bill. In alluding to the distress occasioned by the war, the unsettled political condition of the country and the failure of the crops, Mr. Pollard says:

From these causes the stagnation which is the forerunner of approaching dissolution has palsied the South and now hangs like a black pall over our future. A continuance of the present state of things will soon cause grass to grow in the principal streets of our great cities, our plantations will become jungles and wildernesses, our young men will fly from the blasted and desolated section and our trade and commerce will absolutely perish. All observant, intelligent and reflecting men feel that if we remain out of the Union, as helpless, unrepresented, subjugated provinces much longer, our fate is irrevocably sealed.—Capital, the breath of life to the business man, now shuns the South as if it was an accursed leper, whose touch was death."

And again:

"Bitter and proscriptive as the military bill is, behind it stand that fiendish triumverate of the chosen agents of Satan, Stevens, Butler and Phillips, eager for confiscation and total disfranchisement of all who "participated in the rebellion." The future holds out no better terms for us than those offered in the military bill, and we must accept those or worse will speedily follow. We have not yet fallen to the lowest depth," for the sulphurous blasts of Stevens' hate reveal a hell of torture still held in reserve for us to which what we now endure seems, by comparison, a heaven.

"Promptly, with energy, and with a ceaseless vigilance which will send every white man to the polls, we must "accept the situation." Prosperity, security to life and property, the continual dominancy of the Caucasian race, all depend upon our doing quickly and thoroughly the work before us. We must kick from our path the bones of old parties, old prejudices, and all false ideas of dignity, and work to secure all that we can from the wreck and debris of what the civil war has left us.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY IN ENTERPRISE.

About 9 o'clock on the evening of the 24th inst., our quiet town was the theater of the most terrible tragedy that ever transpired in this portion of the State—Mr. Wooley and his wife were killed at their own house, and their daughter mortally wounded, while Mr. Johnson received from Wooley a pistol shot in the head, which the attending physician declares to be necessarily fatal. The heads of Wooley and his wife were chopped open with an ordinary chop ax, and the daughter has two or three terrible wounds on the head from the same instrument, and one on the shoulder, but while she still survives, her physician has no hopes of her recovery. Mr. Johnson has also two heavy bruises, which he alleges were given him with the same ax, before he seized it in the hands of Mr. Wooley.

A jury of inquest are investigating the matter but have not returned their verdict. If they do so before we go to press we shall lay it before our readers. In the mean time the facts of this horrible occurrence are substantially as follows: Wooley was a man of low character, but made a good soldier, and lost a leg at Gettysburg; but since the war has been reputed to be living by the prostitution of his daughter, who is young and pretty. Mr. Johnson, an old merchant of this place, is reported to have been her next friend, and for several days there have been rumors of secret understandings between Johnson and the Wooley family, which culminated last night in the tragedy we have chronicled. Johnson, on going into Wooley's house, was repulsed by the girl, who called her mother to her assistance. Johnson knocked Wooley down with his fist, and while down the pistol was fired by him at close range, which he received this wound, he seized the ax, and used it with the terrible effect described, and then ran for home, a distance of three quarters of a mile.

Since writing the above, the verdict of the jury has been returned and there appears to be some conflict, in the testimony. One reporter is preparing a detailed account of the whole affair, embodying all the evidence, which we shall publish next week, if not deemed too disgusting for the public eye.

LATER.—Wednesday, 10 o'clock.—Mr. Johnson died this morning at half past 8, and the young girl is in a very critical condition.—Enterprise Star.

We had a conversation to-day with Capt. Turner, of Enterprise, who was one of the jury of inquest held over the bodies of the victims of the late terrible tragedy in that place, and learn from him that Mr. Johnson, upon his death-bed, made the following statement:

I have not lived with my wife, "as man and wife," for nearly six years. About one year ago, I made a criminal act with Wooley and his wife to support the family, pay house rent, &c., and they giving their consent to a liason with their daughter, and I have lived with her in the house with Wooley and wife since that time, until about a week since, when Mr. Sherman induced the girl to leave me, and Wooley and the family moved to a house in West Enterprise. On the day of the difficulty, the girl wrote me a note to come over at night. I went as requested, thinking she desired to return to me, and not thinking of any difficulty, was unarmed.

I was met at the door by Wooley, who commenced abusing me, and struck me with an axe on the shoulder, which felled me to the floor. I recovered from the blow, and rose to take the axe from him, when I heard a voice inside the room say, "shoot the d—n son of b——," and immediately Wooley, or some one in the room fired, giving me my death wound.

I felt that I was killed, seized the axe, wrested it from Wooley, and with one blow split his skull. I then rushed in the room from whence the voice came, saying "shoot me," and it being dark, could not see who the parties were, and believing I had been sent for to be murdered, I struck right and left with the axe to weed out the ranche.

If I had known it was the old woman and the girl, I would not have killed them.

The girl was not killed instantly, but was unable to give any testimony. Upon being asked who was there at the time of the difficulty, she said Johnson and Charley.

A negro woman who was at the house, states that a man unknown to her ran out of the back door after the firing of the pistol. Her statement in the main corroborates the statement of Johnson.

The community sustain no loss by the death of the Wooley family. Mr. Johnson had been a leading business man of Enterprise for some time, but for the past few years has been drinking excessively, until finally selling in business, he has degenerated into a loafer, and lost the confidence of all who knew him. He was not one of the Sons of Andrews & Johnson, as we at first supposed, but was a native of Ohio, and has no relatives in this State.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.—The Corinth (Miss.) News of last Saturday, furnishes the following melancholy record:

We learn that a frightful malady has appeared in the family of Mr. Andrew Allen, of the neighborhood of Kossuth. Some several weeks past his eldest son, after long and severe suffering from a wound received in the war, died; soon after a younger son was taken with a violent pain and fever in the head, and died in about twenty-four hours. In a few days thereafter another, still younger boy, was taken in the same way and about the same time died. While this child was a corpse, the eldest daughter, a young lady, was similarly afflicted, but medicine attention being instantly given, she is yet living and perhaps convalescent. But a younger sister, about fourteen years of age, was taken on Sunday evening last, and by the same hour the next day was a corpse.

STOPPED WORK.—The Boston Journal has the following:

More than a hundred thousand spindles, controlled in Providence and vicinity, have been stopped within the last ten days, and the probability is that the number will be considerably increased this week.

To which the Mobile Times affixes the following appropriate comment:

This profitable business will be carried on, regardless of expense, till one-half the Northern people, driven to desperation, will take Dan. Wade's advice, and set on the rich to divide their property with them.

Gen. Grant's Chief-of-staff, Gen. Rawlins, delivered a political address at Galena, Illinois, recently, which is supposed to embody the views of Gen. Grant himself. He endorsed the Military Bills of the 42nd Congress, and advised Reconstruction under them, and concluded by saying:

There has been a sacrifice of much blood and treasure. The necessary laws, seem burdensome, but what the South shall fully accept its situation there will be an end to those which they consider oppressive laws, and the attention of our statesmen may be given to the development of these vast resources which will liquidate our national debt.

THE GREAT
SOUTHERN PREPARATIONS

Comprise a class of pure and select Family Medicines, prepares from pure Drugs, by a class of experienced Southern Physicians, specially for the diseases incident to a Southern locality.

They are not secret nor patent mixtures and are recommended to be used in lieu of those prepared by our Northern friends, who know but little about Southern treatment.

Ours is the only class of Family Medicines ever offered to the public which were prepared by the Medical Profession.

FEMALES OF THE SOUTH!

Diseases peculiar to your sex, incident to all localities, exiled from the north breeze, that fans you with its perfumed breath, or snatched from some pedant dew-drop, are to you a constant and chilling trouble. Whether an inhabitant of city or country, hill or dale, palace or hovel, disease rankles and preys upon your vitals. Gloom and dispair are your constant companions. Your pale and ghastly countenance, your colorless cheek, your lifeless eye, your tottering walk, your palpitating heart, your dejected brow, all tell of that disease which is gradually and steadily making inroads upon your declining system.

The Sunshine of Hope

By an overalright in our market reports great injustice has been done our merchants in the price of corn. Corn has been selling at from $1.25 to $1.35, and not $1 70, as appeared in our last quotations.

The examination exercises of Rev. J. B. Hamb-mb's school commences to-morrow morning.

Meridian is to be a permanent military post. Maj. Norton has arrived with two companies of regulars, and informs us he will commence the erection of barracks at once. The Major is an excellent officer, and a clever gentlemen, and since troops are to be here, we return thanks to Gen. Ord for sending him here.

Our friends will find among our new advertisements that of Bullock & Co., of New Orleans, among the best known and most enterprising book sellers and publishers of the South. They have for sale, besides the new publications of the day, a complete stock of stationery and books of every description which they offer for the most reasonable prices. Our readers who visit New Orleans should not fail to give them a call.

We call special attention to the advertisement of the St. James Hotel, New Orleans, which appears in this issue. The St. James Hotel has been a favorite resort of Mississippians who visit the Crescent City, and though there has been recently a change of proprietors, a visit to the St. James last week satisfies us that it has lost none of its attractions for the public.

Maj. Hurt, of No. 5 New Orleans, and Mr. Corkery, so well known as the proprietor of the Spottswood Hotel, Richmond, Va., are the present proprietors and will fully sustain the reputation of the house. Captain Herndon as book keeper and Messrs. Ogg and Bogan, as clerks, know how to make their guests comfortable.

A telegraph office is in the Hotel presided over by our young friend, M. H. Callum, one of the cleverest gentlemen in the world and who has been for some time connected with the Sec. Service. Mr. Callum was a telegraph operator for the army of Gen. Lee during the war, and in that capacity rendered efficient service.

We hope our friends who visit the city and desire telegraph facilities will call on Mr. Callum.

The original formula for the manufacture of the rare vegetable specific—Red Jacket Bitters, is rigidly adhered to. Its quality and proportions never vary—consequently its operation is uniform. Moreover, it does not deteriorate in any climate.

In answer to enquiries, we are requested by the law firm of Evans & Ford, to state that Judge Evans, of that firm, will spend most or all of his time at the firm's office in Meridian, during the sitting of the Bankrupt Court; and that the firm are prepared to transact any business connected with proceedings in Bankruptcy. 29-2w

Our readers will find among our new Meridian advertisements, that of J. J. Nicholson & Co., who have opened a dry goods store at the place recently occupied by Sanford & Bro. They have on hand a well selected stock of dry goods and groceries, which they will sell on reasonable terms. Read their advertisement and give them a call.

A meeting of the members of the bar of Meridian, was held a few days since, at which it was agreed that fifty dollars would be the lowest fee for obtaining a discharge under the Bankrupt Law. In Rankin throughout the fee has been fixed at

Through the agency of the party in power, we are to be restored to the Union, no matter what efforts the anti-convention party may make to the contrary. Bankruptcy.

In accordance with the rules adopted by the Supreme Court for the proceedings in Bankruptcy, Judge Hill has made an order designating the time and places in this Congressional District, at which the Register in Bankruptcy will attend for the purpose of disposing of petitions and other business. The places designated are Meridian, Jackson and Vicksburg. Col. Geo. McKee, who is the Register for this District, will attend Meridian the first week in each month, beside the second week, and Vicksburg the third week. The additional time will be given to whatever place the business requires. As there has not been sufficient time to have any cases ready for next week, the first business transacted by this Court in the District will be during the first week in August.

We have received a couple of numbers of the Brazil Emigration Reporter, published at Rio de Janeiro, by Rev. W. C. Emmerson, late of this place. The paper is devoted to commerce, agriculture and emigration. There is much in it of interest to those contemplating a removal to that far off country, and in our next issue we may give them the benefit of a few extracts.

Mr. T. S. Williams, the General Superintendent of the New Orleans & Jackson Railroad, announces that on and after July 10th, the local fare will be seven cents per mile. A discount of two cents per mile will be allowed parties purchasing tickets before entering the cars. The ticket office will be opened at the several stations half an hour before the departure of trains.

Letter from Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, June 21, 1867.

LOUISVILLE June 21st, 1867.

DEAR GAZETTE:—For a few days past the weather has been very hot, but the recent shower of rain having materially cooled the atmosphe re. As a consequence the streets are thronged with ladies, much to the edification of shop-keepers, so to speak, if not to their profit. Otherwise the city is rather dull. Nothing of interest during the presence of the Great Cross, and the various exhibitions occurring.

The people of Kentucky have been foremost in efforts to supply the needy of the South with bread. Their labors have been as extended as they have been generous and though most of their contributions have been to Georgia, be assure it was supposed that the most suffering was there, but the reports received have been forwarded to our State. But few applications have been made from Mississippi, and little publicity has been given to the needy condition of our poor widows and their children. It is a pity that we did not make known the suffering since, that Meridian one week by week thronged by persons without means seeking food for their families, and often returning to the excited crowds at barracks handed. Why, we were asked the other day, did you all not let this thing be known before? Simply that we supposed, when large donations from the noble hearted Kentuckians have been distributed generously and given relief.

We insist that the true policy is to help people until corn begins to harden, and then assistance will not be required another year. The Northern States and the State are more than willing still to aid their substance. For the sympathy for the suffering South is deep rooted in the hearts of her sons and daughters, though few of them are making expenses. Even in the Northern States there are many who are forwarding funds even Davis to be Killed if found on United States Soil.

A Washington correspondent of the Erie (Penn.) Dispatch writes as follows, which he says he can testify to:

When it was found that Davis was to go on bail, a matter which every one here looks upon as an actual discharge, the excitement among the veteran soldiers knew no bounds. The result had been published days before, and, half expecting it, a meeting was privately called, at which some sixty discharged soldiers were present, who bound themselves sacredly together under the name of "Andersonville League," every member subscribing to a solemn oath that if justice failed its duty they would take justice in their own hands.

This brotherhood no man was qualified to enter but who had suffered either from wounds or imprisonment in the rebel pens during the war. It now extends to New York, Philadelphia and Boston. While the bail was being arranged by the court at Richmond on the day set for the trial, a paper was handed in to Davis' council, Charles O'Conor, of New York, warning him of the existence of such a league, and naming two men in the court room as members.

These men were seized as soon as they left the room, on a mock charge, and taken to jail, and were not released until a week after, when Davis was in New York. It will be remembered that Davis arrived in New York during the night; that he kept secluded as much as possible while at the New York hotel, no one being admitted but those who were personally known to some of the parties; that he was suddenly removed from the hotel to Brooklyn, where he remained until his departure; that he left New York alone and in disguise for Montreal, his party and family following only when he telegraphed there of his safe arrival. When it is understood that the brotherhood were upon his track, and that he was conscious of it, this strange conduct is easily accounted for. According to the oath, as long as he remains upon foreign ground he is safe; so it is nardly probable that he will again set foot upon the soil of the United States, at least until he feels easier in mind than at present.

WRITING FOR THE PRESS.—Bayard Taylor's first "Random Letter" from Europe, is dated at Gotha, Germany, and was printed in the Tribune of Friday last. In speaking of writing for the public eye, he truly remarks: "We all know how much superior in frankness, ease, and fresh and racy life is any private correspondence to that which is specially written for publication. In the latter case, one always has a sense of invisible eyes peering over his shoulder, and his thoughts take, unconsciously, a more conventional form. Every correspondent, I imagine, feels this restriction, and the dashing, rollicking air which some writers assume, in a spirit of reasonable, threatens to degenerate into a different conventionality. The true middle ground he's been discovered by a few lucky individuals (we all know our friend of the "Easy Chair") but their success, alas! is not a matter for imitation. How shall I hope, marching over ground which has been beaten dry and hard by thousands of feet, to escape falling into decorous dulness on the one hand, or tinkling triviality on the other?"

GENERAL SWAYNE.—The Ohio Statesman, speaking of Gen'l Swayne, says: "Old and respected citizens, elected to office to care for the interests of a great city, are turned out at the whim or pleasure of this egotistical stripling in epaulettes. In this city where this man Swayne is well known as they rightly appreciated, and where he could not be elected to the lowest office, men wonder at the impotency of an administration that selects such a man for high position."

There is good sense and sound advice in the following from the National Intelligencer:

"We are glad to see the 'Southern Opinion' taking a practical course. It is necessary that all the friends of constitutional government, North and South, should regard things as they are, and not as they ought to be.—More damage has been done to the South and to the friends of the South by the intemperance of a few intemperate writers than by any other means. Every intemperate paragraph from the Southern journals is copied far and wide in the North as an evidence of Southern temper and Southern opinion. What we want now is calm, temperate argument, and a statement of facts that will convince the people of the North without prejudice or passion.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—We learn that Mr. David C. Rush, one of the most thorough going and respectable planters of this county, with two negro men, was returning his mill-dam on Buttahatchie River, on Tuesday, when all parties were drowned. How the fatal accident occurred, is not known, as none live to tell the story. It is surmised, however, that the boat was capsized, and no helping hand being near, all three went down together.—Columbus Sentinel.

The Congressional Republican Committee have engaged the Rev. John V. Given, colored speaker of Charleston, S. C., to canvass the South and address the people.

While the Woman's Rights Convention was in session in Albany, a horse car was crowded. There entered a severe looking female. An old gent rose to give her a seat. "Do you one of these woman righters?" he asked. "I be," replied the ancient. "You believe a woman should have all the rights of a man, do you?" "Yes, sir, I do," was the emphatic answer. Thereupon said the man,

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.
Dolbear's Commercial College
OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Founded in 1832—Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana.
WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.
AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. Cost of

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition..... $145
Board for three months..... 90
Contingent expenses, about..... 20
Total..... $255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; closing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800 or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5895 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $2295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

In making this announcement, the Trustees beg leave to state that they desire making this a permanent school, and one of the first order, and to this end, have secured the services of teachers of high standing and of many years' experience, whose success hitherto, in their opinion, forbidden sufficient guarantee to all who may repose confidence in them, of the thorough and faithful manner in which their children will be taught. To test the merits of this school, therefore, they ask only a liberal patronage and a fair trial.

BANKRUPT FORMS AND BLANKS.

We have received an official copy of the rules and orders, together with the forms and proceedings in Bankruptcy, as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now printing a large number of blank petitions in Bankruptcy.

The petition, with the necessary schedules makes twelve pages. They will be printed in good style, on the finest quality of cap paper, and in strict conformity to the law. We intend printing immediately all the blanks used in Bankrupt proceedings, and will furnish them to Attorneys and others on the most reasonable terms.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

The Herald and Mississippian, with some other anti-reconstruction papers, refer to the former politics of those with whom they differ in opinion on reconstruction, as if it were a crime, or at least matter of personal obloquy, to have been a secessionist. For instance, the Editor of the Gazette is termed an "ex-fire-eating, ex-secession democrat," and so called as if in the sight of the Herald and Mississippian, it were matter of reproach. If it is any comfort to Col. Yerger, though unable to perceive its relevancy or importance in discussing the issues now before the country, we admit voting for secession. We have also good authority for stating that our course then was approved by Col. E. M. Yerger, of the Herald and Mississippian, who was likewise a "fire eating" accessionist, and in 1860 both spoke and wrote in favor of that measure.

As he has alluded to this subject, we wish to know of our friend, whether he now thinks his course in 1860 was right or wrong?

Perpetual servitude awaits the Southern people if they fail to organize under the Military bill. Congress will disfranchise the whites and give an inferior people the right to rule. Delays are dangerous. Men must act promptly. The shifting scenes of anarchy will sweep us from the polls entirely unless we take the bull by the horns and by our energy, vigilance and united efforts, organize under the bill, claiming all its rights and privileges and conforming to all its demands.

It is, says an exchange, in the power of the law-abiding people of the State to control their local and State Government, and no prejudices or weak indulgence in fancied independence, will excuse our people if they do not. Register! Register!! The honored dead; their widowed women and orphan children—all you hold dear—tell you to fulfill this sacred duty.

The present action of our people will impress itself upon the unwritten future of the next quarter of a century for good or evil. We are passing through an eventful crisis. Every man should reflect well before he votes against a Convention—for to defeat the Convention is to disfranchise the white people of the South and give the country to the freedmen.

We are not permited to wait in passive obedience the course of events. The coercion of Congress forces us to vote for or against a Convention.—Every man must decide for himself the policy he will pursue. Our advice is vote for a Convention and get in the Union at once. We cannot look for right while the present party is in power, and it will hold the reins of government as long as we remain unrepresented. Once in the Union with all the rights of sovereign States, if at all, radicalism will be at an end. Right will be might once more and the country's prospects speedily and greatly brighten.

Thos. L. Bevill, late of the Freedmen's Bureau, has been appointed sheriff of Sumter county, Alabama, in place of H. L. Bonnett, resigned.

Gov. Patton has offered a reward of $4000 for the arrest of John O. Orrick, charged with the murder of Alexander Webb, colored.

The City Council of Charleston, S. C., has ordered that all bar-rooms, except those attached to hotels, shall be closed on and after July 1st.

They will be likely to have dry times down there.

A CINCINNATI Democrat puts Cousins. The Cincinnati Commercial a few days ago nominated Richard Smith, the responsible editor of its rival, the Gazette, for Congress in that District. The proposition was favorably received, and it is likely that it will be adopted.

Rankin Wheeling into Line.

We publish to-day an important letter from Richard Cooper, Esq., of Brandon, on the subject of reconstruction. We are glad to see that the friends of restoration are checking the extravagant representations of the Republican, and hope they will push the good work forward until the whole county is united in favor of action. The Clarion in alluding to Mr. Cooper's letter says: The statement that there are not fifty white voters in the county in favor of Reconstruction, is shown to be absurd when it is known that the policy of re-establishing peace with its accompaniment of a revival of prosperity in the land, by accepting the terms now offered is favored by such substantial men of the county as Mr. Cooper himself, Hons. W. C. Harper, T. J. Catchings, and Cols. Jayne, Shelby, and others, whose names are familiar to the people, as men who have served them faithfully and honorably in the field and in civil positions of trust and responsibility.

It will be seen that a meeting is called by Mr. Cooper and others at Brandon, on Monday next the 8th inst., to devise measures for the successful prosecution of the canvass in that county in behalf of Reconstruction. We are assured that in due time, the friends of a Convention will bring out candidates who will discuss before the people calmly and dispassionately, the issues involved, so that every man who has a vote, may cast it understandingly, and with a full knowledge of the vast interests at stake.

A republic is defined to be "a State in which the exercise of the sovereign power is lodged in representatives elected by the people." The love of such a government begotten by a long period of prosperity and happiness is the common sentiment of the whole country. The war was not against this government, for the adopted Constitution of the Confederate States was strictly republican. The sacrifices we made were offered at the shrine of republican liberty and but attest and measure the attachment of our people to this cherished form of government. It was only because they apprehended an invasion of their rights under such a government that they took up arms, and whether in the judgment of the world they had sufficient cause for resorting to war, or whether they had not, it cannot be doubted that they were inspired by considerations of the utmost political importance to dare and to do through all the long night of the sanguinary struggle. The war and its consequences, has partially shattered, this long system of fundamental rules and principles, and shaken the faith of many in our ability to rescue it again from the clutches of lying newspapers and unprincipled politicians. That there is just ground for such a belief cannot be denied, but at the same time we must hazard the opinion that though the political heavens are dark and threatening, the will of the people will yet be executed. To accomplish this we must get out of the present state of suspense and political disability with all the evils we suffer. And that can only be done by a voice in the government that will enable us to assist in shaping its laws. Let us not give up because we failed to vindicate ourselves against what we conceived to be abuses by a dominant and fanatical majority. Things go by turns now-a-days, and if we push on, become part and parcel of the government again, as prescribed by the present law, right and justice will eventually prevail, the juggernaut of organized opinion crushing out the present dominant party, thus leaving the government in the hands of those who will return the power to the "representatives elected by the people."

A Voice from Neshoba.

We publish the proceedings of a meeting in Neshoba county, held at the Court House, in which strong ground is taken for reconstruction. We recognise among the names of gentlemen who took part in the meeting, many that have heretofore been honored and trusted by the patriotic citizens of that country. We have no doubt the sentiments of the meeting will be endorsed at the convention election by a heavy majority.

Truths About Brazil.

Jno. H. Evans, Esq., who has just returned from Brazil, sends us the following letter which we commend to the attention of those having the Brazil fever:

DESOTO, Miss., July 26, 1867.

EDITOR GAZETTE: The undersigned, a returned emigrant from Brazil, comes to make known through your journal, to the people of the Southern country, that the emigration movement to Brazil is a delusion and is getting up for speculations. That as yet there has been only one side of it presented to the people. I am prepared to represent the other side, and I challenge contradiction. I further make known to the people that the Brazil agent at New York, whose name is Gaston, is a fraud and a scoundrel, and ought to be hissed out of the country. This is saying a good deal, and I mean just what I say.

JOHN H. EVANS.

Destitution in Jasper County.

We have received a communication from Dr. Harmon, with several certificates in reference to the destitution in Jasper county, too late for publication to-day, but which will have due attention in our next. It appears from the information of persons we know to be reliable, that in two neighborhoods in Jasper county, there are a number of families, widows and orphans, who for several weeks have had neither bread nor meat, but are actually subsisting on vegetables and unless speedy relief is obtained will starve. One of these neighborhoods is near Paulding, the other near Buckley's store, in Jasper county.

We refer to these cases with the hope that the Relief Societies of Cairo and St. Louis may contribute to the aid of these suffering people. We would suggest that corn or other articles that can be obtained for their assistance, be sent to Enterprise, directed to Geo. W. Ryan and Ben. Thigpen. Mr. Ryan has been acting in the capacity of agent, distributing supplies in his neighborhood, and Mr. Thigpen is Probate Judge of the county, well acquainted with the destitute, and both gentlemen will give this matter prompt attention.

G. T. SWANN,
Clerk.

A Union Republican paper, at Atlanta, Ga., thus speaks of the Radical platforms lately put forth in the Southern States:

Negroes are not only to be exempted from all property tax, but from all poll tax also. Meantime, that respectable and worthy class of white men who live by their daily labor, and who are able to purchase a homestead for their families, are to be taxed as heretofore—taxed to support the education of the children of this newly-installed negro aristocracy; taxed upon their meagre salaries; taxed upon their household and kitchen furniture; taxed upon the coffee they drink, the tobacco they chew, the clothes they wear, upon the patent medicines they use, upon the bills they pay; taxed upon their own heads, and even upon the very spoons their children eat with.

"Can poor white men support a party pledged to measures which make them hewers of wood and drawers of water to the black race? Can the black man trust the sincerity of men able, under such circumstances, to make such orders and cause such proceedings to be had as are required by law, and the general orders adopted and promulgated by the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States.

CROPS IN ARKANSAS.—The Fayetteville Record, after complaining of an abundance of water, and more grass than the law allows, says:

The corn crop turns out splendidly, which is a consolation; cotton is not so good, yet sufficient will be made to buy store fixins and sugar and coffee for the family.

The Arkansas papers complain, in glowing terms, of an order issued by Maj. Gen. Ord, forbidding the payment of bills for printing executed under contract with or by orders from, the Legislature of that State. The proprietors of the Little Rock Gazette, who are State Printers, are seriously affected by this order.

The crop reports from the interior of Tennessee are generally favorable. Fully two-thirds of the land in cultivation in that State is devoted to corn and small grains. The best crops have been gathered, with a fair yield, in Eastern Arkansas, among the Red River bottoms. Cotton is also growing well in the southern portion of Arkansas, and promises to the overflow.

By an oversight in our market reports great injustice has been done our merchants in the price of corn. Corn has been selling at from $1 30 to $1 35, and not $1 70, as appeared in our last quotations.

The examination exercises of Rev. J. B. Hamberlin's school commences to-morrow morning.

Meridian is to be a permanent military post. Maj. Norton has arrived with two companies of regulars, and informs us he will commence the erection of barracks at once. The Major is an excellent officer, and a clever gentlemen, and since troops are here, we return him our thanks to Gen. Ord for sending him here.

Our friends will find among our new advertisements that of Bielock & Co., of New Orleans, among the best known and most enterprising book sellers and publishers of the South. They are now adding to their already large publications of one day, a complete stock of stationery and books of every description which they offer for the most reasonable prices. Our readers who visit New Orleans should not fail to give them a call.

We call especial attention to the advertisement of the St. James Hotel, New Orleans, which appears in this issue. The St. James Hotel has been a favorite resort of Mississippians who visit the Crescent City, and though there has been recently a change of proprietors, a visit to the St. James last week satisfies us that it has lost one of its attractions for the public.

Maj. Hurl, of New Orleans, and Mr. Parkery, so well known as the proprietor of the Spotswood Hotel, Richmond, Va., are the present proprietors and will fully sustain the reputation of the house. Captain Heraden as book keeper and Messrs. Ogg and Bogian as clerks, know how to make their guests comfortable.

A telegraph office in the St. James Hotel presided over by our young friend, Mr. H. Callum, one of the cleverest gentlemen in the world and who has been for some time connected with the St. James. Mr. Callum was a telegraph operator for the army of Gen. Lee during the war, and in that capacity rendered efficient service.

We hope our friends who visit the city and desire telegraph facilities will call on Mr. Callum.

The original formula for the manufacture of the rare vegetable specific—Hop Jacket Bitters, is rigidly adhered to, its quality and proportions never vary—consequently its operation is uniform. Moreover, it does not deteriorate in any climate.

In answer to enquiries, we are requested by the law firm of Evans & Ford, to state that Judge Evans, of that firm, will spend most of his time, at the firm's office in Meridian, during the sitting of the Bankrupt Court; and that the firm are prepared to transact any business connected with proceedings in Bankruptcy.

Our readers will find among our new Meridian advertisements, that of J. J. Nicholson & Co., who have opened a dry goods store at the place recently occupied by Sanford & Bro. They have on hand a well selected stock of dry goods and groceries, which they will sell on reasonable terms. Read their advertisement and give them a call.

A meeting of the members of the bar of Meridian, was held a few days since, at which it was agreed that fifty dollars would be the lowest fee for obtaining a discharge under the Bankrupt law, in North Mississippi, for the law has been fixed at one hundred dollars.

REGISTRATION AT MERIDIAN.—The total number of persons registered at Meridian is 3261; whites 2651, blacks 610.

In Clarke co., 54,775 whites and 61,210 blacks and registered 4,000 whites and 2,000 blacks.

Bankruptcy.

In accordance with the rules adopted by the Supreme Court for the proceedings in Bankruptcy, Judge Ryan has made an order designating the time and place at which Congressional District at which the Register in Bankruptcy will attend for the purpose of disposing of petition and other business. The place designated are Meridian, Jackson and Vicksburg. Col. Geo. McKee, who is the Register for this District, will attend Meridian the first week in each month, Jackson the second week, and Vicksburg the third week. The additional time will be given whatever business may demand it. As there has not been sufficient time to have any cases ready for next week, the first business transacted for this part of the District will be during the first week in August.

We have received a copie of numbers of the Brazil Emigration Reporter, published at Rio de Janeiro, by Rev. Ballingerton Fite of this place. The paper is devoted to commerce, agriculture and emigration. There is much left of interest to those contemplating a removal to that far off country, and in our next issue we may give them the benefit of some extracts.

Mr. T. S. Williams, the General Superintendent of the New Orleans & Jackson Railroad, announces that on and after July 10th, the local fare will be seven cents per mile. A discount of two cents, as a consequence the fashionable thoroughfares are crowded with ladies, much to the satisfaction of the conductors, who are paid according to their profits. Otherwise the city is rather dull,—or withstanding the presence of the Convention and the various exhibitions occurring.

The people of Kentucky have been foremost in efforts to supply the needy of the South. Several cargoes of flour and corn have been so extended as they have been generous; and though most of their contributions have been to Georgia, because it was supposed that the most suffering was there, many benefactions have been forwarded to our State. But few applications have been made from Mississippi, and little publicity has been given to the needy condition of our poor widows and their children. It is a pity that we did not make known the fact long since, that Meridian was work by the freedmen, who have left their homes seeking food for their families, and often returning to their cheerless homes empty handed. Why, we were asked the other day, did you not tell us? We did not be known before! Simply for the reason, we replied, that our merchants had supplied this destitution and freedmen had gone beyond their reach. It has been suggested by some that vegetables are now coming in and the danger of starvation is past. This last season from the South, from localities, it must be supposed, where large donations from the noble hearted Kentuckians have been distributed generously and given relief.

We insist that the true policy is to help people until corn begins to bear, and then assistance will not be required under what we have mentioned. The benevolence of this State are ready, but a thing still to divide upon—that is, the destitution of the suffering South is deep rooted in the hearts of her sons and daughters, although few of them are making expenditures. Even in the Northern States there are many who are forwarding funds to purchase supplies for our unfortunate people.

The "South Western Relief Commission" of Louisville, has not yet turned a deaf ear to any cry, as far as we have heard. We applied for corn and a load or two was at once granted for our region—while an application from Macon for Kemper county was literally responded to and a car load was since been ordered to our place for Neshoba. This last was consequent upon a letter received and announcing from there the destitution. If other suffering counties will address Saml A. Miller, Esq. Secretary of the commission here, they will receive something, if advices reach him before its labors are brought to a close.

The responsible element we made, by invitation, before the "Ladies South-ern Relief Association," of the sum of $200 was voted to be invested in corn for our people. A lady handed in the list of additional but declined to let her name be known. It could not but touch a Southern heart to witness the generous feeling by these devoted ladies for our misfortunes and our suffering poor. They spend their time cheerfully and labor faithfully to raise funds to aid in the benevolent work of relieving the destitute and friendless. Mrs. Eliza Fields, the whole souled President, is not unknown in Mississippi. But this organization has determined to wind up, and direct its remaining means towards providing for what might be termed refugee homes from starvation's domains.

If the "Kentucky Baptist Southern Relief Association" should succeed its operations are a little more of the destitution in our State is appalling, it is to be feared that much suffering will ensue, and possibly the growing crops be yet abandoned. Let us hope for the best, and trust that the President's Bureau will be able to prevent absolute starvation, if nothing more. D.

Through the agency of the party in power, we are to be restored to the Union, no matter what efforts the anti-convention party may make to the contrary. Let none be deceived, and lulled into masterly inactivity by dreams of a northern re-action. The party now holding the reins of government is determined to put us back in the Union, and those who go with the anti-convention bulk, will walk up when, perhaps, we are bound by more than military thongs and visions of faded glory are tertaring their distracted vision.

The Colfax Chronicle announces Wednesday, as the day on which the Grant Parish Democratic Executive Committee will meet to appoint delegates to the State Convention.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Court of Claims has rendered judgment against the United States in fourteen cotton claims, involving $110,000, under the law of restitution to loyal owners, and holds twelve under advisement.

In the former case, the court was occupied to-day in hearing evidence regarding the death of Booth, whose diary was produced. Colonel Conger was on the stand, and testified that it was in the same condition as when he saw it five weeks ago, before the Judiciary Committee, and as when taken from Booth.

BOSTON, June 25.—The President and suite stopped at the State House to-day.

The President, in company with Secretary Seward, Postmaster General Randall, Surgeon Norris, Col. W. G. Moore and others of the party, were escorted to the capitol by several members of the governor's staff, and a committee of municipal authorities. Thousands of persons of both sexes were in the streets of the scene. Loud and repeated huzzas by the multitude were given for the Chief Magistrate of the Republic. The President in the course of the day immediately afterwards received similar honors. He acknowledged the compliment, bowing with uncovered heads.

Soon after the company had entered the Hall, Gov. Bullock introduced the distinguished visitor. He said:

"MR. PRESIDENT:—We regard the visit of the President of the United States as an augury of the harmony, prosperity and stability of our Union. [Applause.] The President spoken of in the past as the ruler of a whole country by becoming himself an exemplar promising mutual acquaintance, mutual interests, and which overlying the one in political interest. It is in the cause of the general welfare, with a loyal pride, that I take great satisfaction in welcoming you to the Capital of Massachusetts." [Applause, in which all the spectators joined.]

The President said:

"Governor,—I did not intend making an address upon this occasion, but I cannot refrain from a single remark: If we were all brought together and made known to each other, and could see and understand each other better, the differences which operate unfavorably in keeping the Union, would, and which are for the part imaginary, would disappear. [Applause.]

"The superficial and slight say our prejudices would then be removed. The State would stand in close harmony with the States of the Union. That is the cause said our nation is too large to hold together. So I will take up your remarks in proposition and say it is too large to divide. The whole cannot get along without the parts, nor the parts without the whole. [Renewed applause.] We should be one united, happy and prosperous people. [Applause.] I am glad to meet those I represent. I thank the people, through you, for this manifestation of their kind regard. [Great applause.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 25.—A dispatch from Galveston says an Austrian passed through that city to-day en route North, representing himself as an officer of Maximilian. He stated that the Emperor had been pardoned, on condition of his leaving the country as soon as the ports of Vera Cruz were reopened for his departure.

The Times this morning, in an article commenting on several of Sheridan's telegram to Gen. Grant, says it contains gross inaccuries of fact and errors of law and logic. It says if the country takes the gauge of this remarkable document be sanctioned by any considerable portion of the American people or the Constitution be better be consigned at once to the flames and the country be delivered over to anarchy and chaos.

RICHMOND, June 25.—Registration in this city, as reported to-night, amounted to 1,003; whites, 1,280. In the country it stands: colored, 383; whites, 93.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The State Department has advices of the total wreck of the steamship Sacramento off Madras. No lives were lost.

Quite few members of the Judiciary Committee are present. They have adjourned until to-morrow.

Nothing startling has been developed in the Surratt case.

General Grant was on the stand, testifying in regard to having seen Jacob Thompson at Vicksburg. There was a sharp colloquy between the counsel regarding Thompson. The prosecution declined saying whether Thompson was connected with the conspiracy, but wished to show the connection between him and the prisoner in many matters.

Mrs. Mary Benson was on the stand.—She stated that she had been to Canada, and that she got her own and her husband's expenses and twenty dollars per day during their presence there.

The prosecution announced that it would close the evidence in two or three days.

Collector Kellogg, of New Orleans, telegraphs to the Secretary of the Treasury denying the report of yellow fever there.

Secretary Wells addressed a letter to Secretary Stanton regarding the application from Gen. Sickles for a steamer to carry out reconstruction. He says that the Department of course would not feel justified in such funds for such a purpose; besides, it has neither the officers nor men for such a vessel.

Hon. H. C. Peck, Consul General for Hayti, is dead.

The President is expected here Friday.

PORTLAND, Me., June 26.—The Democratic convention has nominated Eben F. Pillsbury for Governor.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The President is answering Gov. English, said: "Every body is familiar with my views and I refer what my views are in reference to the first principles of government. My acts before the people of the country are consistent and will be to what will be my future course."

The Japanese North American is ashore at South Point. The passengers and crew were saved. The vessel is a total wreck.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.—Man has no power to resist the silent eloquence with which woman's soft blandishments and sweeter smiles speak to the warm and generous heart. Her vocation is to do good, and her presence adds a halo of glory by gladdening the dejected, comforting the distressed and cheering the path of pilgrimage of man. And shall we fail to respond to her wants? Look around you and behold the misery depicted among the sickly females of your acquaintance. Go, go with lightning's speed and tell them to use English Female Bitters and be cured.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE CONCERNING

HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

and

RELIEF FOR THE SICK.

INTELLIGENT TESTIMONY IS AS IMPORTANT IN MEDICINE as in law. The great Patent Medicine Bill of the land is that by which its fate were guided was the "lungs of experience." The opinions of men of character and standing in relation to the properties and effects of a medicinal preparation are always decisive, for they are the result of the operation of which they have had a personal or practical acquaintance, and in a great variety of cases are absolutely conclusive. There are no considerations by the public, whatever naturally, more the evidence of it summary to any other that can be offered on behalf of a proprietary medicine. The volume of such evidence have been published in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during twenty years that the unrivalled Tonic and Alterative has been before the world; and although its reputation as a Stand and Specific has long been established throughout the Western hemisphere, it is still deemed advisable to exhibit through the press, from time to time, such additional proofs of its great merits as experience and favor to facts may come forward, and serve to keep the public advised of the claims which confirm exactness and care, and that it is still, what it has been, the purest and best of all Vegetable Invigorants, an inestimable cure for Dyspepsia and Indigestion, and the greatest of all Appetizers and a perfect antidote to the unwholesome influences of Malaria and miasmatic and marsh poisons.

The subjoined letters are all from citizens well known to the community, and in the locality from whom their communications are dated, and are published with the approval of an honorable sense of our responsibility to the public. Some idea of the quantity of this kind of testimony in the hands of the proprietors of Hostetter's Bitters may be formed by the statement that a single mail from the communications on the subject of Fever and Ague received in five days more than three hundred numbers amounts of TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS, all to the same purport and best of all Vegetables Invigorants, an inestimable cure for Dyspepsia and Indigestion, and the greatest of all Appetizers and a perfect antidote to the unwholesome influences of Malaria and miasmatic and marsh poisons. SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

Davis to be Killed if found on United States Soil.

A Washington correspondent of the Erie (Penn.) Dispatch writes as follows, which he says he can testify to:

When it was found that Davis was to go on bail, a matter which every one here looks upon as an actual discharge, the excitement among the veteran soldiers knew no bounds. The result had been published days before, and, half expecting it, a meeting was privately called, at which some sixty discharged soldiers were present, who bound themselves sacredly together under the name of "Andersonville League," every member subscribing to a solemn oath that if justice failed its duty they would take justice in their own hands.

This brotherhood no man was qualified to enter but who had suffered either from wounds or imprisonment in the rebel pens during the war. It now extends to New York, Philadelphia and Boston. While the bail was being arranged by the court at Richmond on the day set for the trial, a paper was handed in to Davis' council, Charles O'Conor, of New York, warning him of the existence of such a league, and naming two men in the court room as members.

These men were seized as soon as they left the room, on a mock charge, and taken to jail, and were not released until a week after, when Davis was in New York. It will be remembered that Davis arrived in New York during the night; that he kept concealed as much as possible while at the New York hotel, no one being admitted but those who were personally known to some of the parties; that he was suddenly removed from the hotel to Brooklyn, where he remained until his departure; that he left New York alone and in disguise for Montreal, his party and family following only when he supposed there of his safe arrival. When it is understood that the brotherhood were upon his track, and that he was conscious of it, this strange conduct is easily accounted for. According to the oath, as long as he remains upon foreign ground he is safe; so it is hardly probable that he will again set foot upon the soil of the United States, at least until he feels easier in mind than at present.

WRITING FOR THE PRESS.—Bayard Taylor's first "Random Letter" from Europe, is dated at Gotha, Germany, and was printed in the Tribune of Friday last. In speaking of writing for the public eye, he truly remarks: "We all know how much superior in frankness, ease, and fresh and racy life is any private correspondence to that which is specially written for publication. In the latter case, one always has a sense of invisible eyes peering over his shoulder, and his thoughts take, unconsciously, a more conventional form. Every correspondent, I imagine, feels this restriction, and the dashing, rollicking air which some writers assume, in a spirit of resistance, threatens to degenerate into a different conventionality. The true middle ground has been discovered by a few lucky individuals (we all know our friend of the 'Easy Chair!") but their success, alas! is not a matter for imitation. How shall I hope, marching over ground which has been beaten dry and hard by thousands of feet, to escape felling into decorous dulness on the one hand, or tinkling triviality on the other?"

GENERAL SWAYNE.—The Ohio Statesman, speaking of Gen'l Swayne, says: "Old and respected citizens elected to office to care for the interests of a great city, are turned out at the whim or pleasure of this egotistical strip-ling in epaulettes. In this city where this man Swayne is well known and rightly appreciated, and where he could not be elected to the lowest office, men wonder at the impotency of an administration that selects such a man for high position."

There is good sense and sound advice in the following from the National Intelligencer:

"We are glad to see the 'Southern Opinion' taking a practical course. It is necessary that all the friends of constitutional government, North and South, should regard things as they are, and not as they ought to be.—More damage has been done to the South and to the friends of the South by the intemperance of a few intemperate writers than by any other means. Every intemperate paragraph from the Southern journals is copied far and wide in the North as an evidence of Southern temper and Southern opinion. What we want now is calm, temperate argument, and a statement of facts that will convince the people of the North without prejudice or passion.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—We learn that Mr. David C. Rush, one of the most thorough going and respectable planters of this county, with two negro men, was repairing his mill-dam on Buttahatchie River, on Tuesday, when all parties were drowned. How the fatal accident occurred, is not known, as none live to tell the story. It is supposed, however, that the boat was capsized, and no helping hand being near, all three went down together.—Columbus Sentinel.

The Congressional Republican Committee have engaged the Rev. John V. Given, colored speaker of Charleston, S. C., to canvass the South and address the people.

While the Woman's Rights Convention was in session in Albany, a horse car was crowded. When he entered a seat were seeking female. An old gent rose to give her a seat. "No you can of these women rights!" he cried. "I have applied the account. "You believe a woman should have all the rights of a man, do you?" "Yes, sir, I do, was the emphatic answer. "Then, madam, if you stand up and enjoy them like a man!"

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.
Dolbear's Commercial College
OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING
Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,
In the Elegant and Spacious
IRON BUILDING,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.
AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR
One Thousand Students
During the Current Year.
Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges.

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc, separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145
Board for three months 90
Contingent expenses, about.....10
Total $245

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortune a parent can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Important Decision in the United States Courts at Oxford, June Term, 1867.

This is an action by plaintiff against defendant for the amount alleged to be due upon a promissory note executed on the 5th day of December, 1860, by defendant to plaintiff, by which he promised, sixty days after date to pay to plaintiff the sum of fourteen thousand and five hundred dollars. The declaration is in the usual form, to which the defendant plead several pleas, the first of which is the only one now under consideration, the second and third pleas being the same in substance.

This plea alleges that the note sued on, was given to secure the purchase money for certain salt works and appurtenances, purchased by defendant from plaintiff, upon the same day that said note was executed; that said contract was reduced to writing and signed by plaintiff, in which it was stipulated that plaintiff sold to defendant the property mentioned, for the sum of eighteen thousand dollars, to be paid within sixty days thereafter in Confederate treasury notes; provided, that if a certain portion of the property described, should be ascertained not belong to the plaintiff, then the purchase price should be reduced to fifteen thousand dollars; that such was ascertained to be the fact, and the price was so reduced; five hundred dollars in Confederate notes being then paid, and the note sued on executed for the remainder, the understanding being that the same was to be paid in Confederate treasury notes, as agreed upon in said written contract; that said contract and agreement was to pay in an issue made expressly to aid the belligerent power then waging war against the United States, and in rebellion against the authority thereof, and was a contract in aid of the rebellion and therefore illegal, against public policy, and void.

To this plea the plaintiff replied, that the note sued on was not payable in Confederate treasury notes. To this replication the defendant demurred, and for cause states the following:

First: Because the said replication neither admits or denies the allegations and contract stated in said plea.

Second. That said replication is otherwise insufficient, uncertain, &c.

It is manifest that if the plea is a good defence to the action, the replication is bad, for the reason that it neither admits nor denies the contract as stated, which brings the Court at once to consider the sufficiency of the plea.

It is insisted by plaintiff's counsel, that the note sued on, and the contract as stated in the plea, not referring the one to the other, parol evidence is admissible to connect them. This position is too untenable to require more than a passing notice. In Sec 233, 1st Greenleaf's Evidence, it is held, that "while the controversy is between the original parties or their representatives, all their contemporaneous writings, relating to the same subject matter, are admissible in evidence," with numerous authorities there cited. In Parsons on Contracts (vol. 2, page 2,) it is held, that if there are contemporaneous writings between the same parties, so far in relation to the subject matter that they may be deemed as part and parcel of the same contract, although not referred to in it, they may be read in connection with it.

It is not usual to state in a promissory note or bill, for what consideration the note or bill was given. Nothing is more common in defence to such instruments, than to show by parol testimony what the consideration was, that it has failed, was illegal, or that the contract upon the part of the promisee has not been performed.

Taking and construing the two instruments together as set out in the pleadings, it is manifest that the note was executed to secure the payment of the purchase money, as stated in the contract of purchase in which it is stated that upon a certain contingency the price was to be fifteen thousand dollars. This plea alleges that upon the closing of the contract the sum of five hundred dollars was paid, and the same steel or was executed for the residue, these two sums making the amount of fifteen thousand dollars. This, upon reference to the contract, it will be seen, was to be paid in Confederate treasury notes. At this time these treasury notes, as compared with specie, were only worth about four cents in the dollar. From this it cannot be inferred that any fraud was in the forms of the contract could have been agreed upon; so that construing the two instruments together, I can come to but one conclusion, and that is, that the instrument stated in the plea, contains the terms of the contract, and the note, the promises on the part of the defendant to pay, sixty days thereafter, in Confederate treasury notes, the sum of fourteen thousand five hundred dollars, the balance then unpaid.

But it is urgently insisted by the plaintiff's counsel that the salt works, &c., being the consideration for which the note was given, which, not being tainted with any illegality, is unaffected by the illegality of the funds in which the payment was agreed to be made. Upon examination, this position will be found equally untenable, with the first, the illegality, if any such existed, commenced with the inception of the contract. The first paper evidencing the contract was executed by the plaintiff, who is now invoking the aid of this Court for its enforcement, and in it he agrees to take, in payment, the issue of the so-called Confederate States. If, in so doing, he violated the laws or polity of the United States, the Courts of this Government, whose laws and public policy were thus violated, surely cannot be invoked for the enforcement of such a contract; and this brings the Court to the question of the main question in this cause, which is, can such a contract be enforced? which, so far as I am informed, is the first time any of the Courts of the United States, superior or inferior, have been called upon for the adjudication of this question, notwithstanding the State Courts have given numerous and conflicting decisions thereon.

These decisions having no binding authority upon this Court, can only be considered as argumentative and persuasive, and no authority having been produced by which this Court can be bound, I am left to draw my conclusions, more from general principles, than any other source. With a desire to obtain all the light on the important question involved, the Court solicited from the able counsel who argued the question on both sides, the fullest argument and reference to authorities, and is of opinion the field has been fully explored, and from a deliberate and careful consideration of all that has been produced, with a sole desire of arriving at a correct conclusion, now states the following as the result:

The Constitution of the United States was adopted, not by the States in their sovereign capacity, but by the people as the Sovereign Power, acting through their delegates, chosen by them in convention assembled. True, the assent of the States were implied from their calling on the people to assemble in convention and ratify or reject the instrument thus submitted to them; the people were at perfect liberty to accept or reject it, and their act was final. It required not the confirmance of, and could not be negatived by the State Governments. The Constitution when thus adopted, was a complete obligation and bound the State Sovereignties. "The Government of the Union is a Government of the people; it emanates from them; its powers are granted by them; and are to be exercised on them, and for their benefit."

This was the doctrine declared by the Supreme Court of the United States in the opinion of Chief Justice Marshall in the case of McCulloch v. The State of Maryland et. al. (4 Wheaton, 316,) which has never been overruled. It therefore follows, that no State or number of States forming a portion of the Union, thus formed, had any right or authority under the Constitution thereof to withdraw their allegiance therefrom, without the consent of the other States forming that Union, and any attempt so to do was an act of rebellion against the Constitution and laws of the Government of the United States. And all acts done by the people of such States, assuming to act either in a State or Confederate capacity, having as the object and purpose thereof the overthrow of, and resistance to, the authority of the United States therein, must be deemed by this and all other Courts of the Union, as illegal, and against the policy of the Government of the United States, and, as a consequence, void.

With all due deference to the opinions of the others, I must say that it is strange that any one acquainted with the history of the events which transpired in the United States, and especially in the insurrectionary States, since the first of the year 1861, should come to the conclusion that the issues by the so-called Confederate States, commonly known as Confederate money, were issued for any other purpose that to aid the most gigantic, prolonged and persistent effort to throw off and oppose the Government and laws of the United States, ever made against any Government, and which failed of success.

Call this combination and organization by what name you please, Confederate States, States in rebellion, or belligerent power, it is a well established fact that within a very short period after its commencement, the issues of what was then known as money, and which is regarded as one of the very sinews of war, within the control of this Power, became exhausted. Indeed, if the history of that time is true, many of the most ardent supporters of this Power, placed their money beyond its reach, either in specie hid in recesses at home, or within the vaults of some bank or other secure place abroad. Those charged with furnishing a substitute for this indispensible means of carrying on the war, devised the issues in question. It was this and kindred issues, issued by the different States in the Confederation, that enabled the belligerents to keep up the contest until the close. The result and consequences of which are now seen and felt by millions of all classes inhabiting this one of the most favored lands upon which the sun casts his rays, and who, but for the efforts thus sustained, would today have been the most happy and prosperous people on the globe.

Believing that this Court, at least, must consider these issues in themselves as illegal and contrary to public policy, they cannot inquire as to how far contracts in which they were agreed to be taken as payment, made between citizens as in their private dealings, are to be effected thereby. The general rule is, that in a corrupt fountain never sends forth a pure stream, nor does an evil tree bring forth good fruit. It is difficult to conceive how a party dealing with that which is illegal, and at the same time knowing its illegality, can exhonorate himself from its effects.

The argument to take these issues in payment, was giving to them credit. Without credit, voluntarily given, or coercively exacted, they would have been harmless.

I have been unable to come to any other conclusion than this, that all acts done which tended to aid the effort to oppose and overthrow the Government and authority of the United States, of which the contract stated in the plea was one, must be, by this Court, considered as illegal, against public policy, and void.

It has been insisted that although the so-called Confederate Government fell short of establishing a de facto Government, it was nevertheless such belligerent power as to afford to the citizens under its control, and subject to its power, all the rights and exemptions of citizens within a de facto Government, and that such being the case, the issues so made and the transactions passed thereon, should be upheld and enforced. Admitting this to be true, so far as it related to events during its continuance, or to exemptions now from punishment or liability for acts done during said time, yet no authority has been shown, and I presume none can be found, in which contracts made or rights acquired under a mere de facto Government have subsequently been respected or enforced, unless recognized by the political department of the Government, succeeding such de facto Government. No such recognition has been made by the political department of this Government in relation to those or any other issue or acts done in aid of the rebellion, and it is not probable that it ever will be, and if not, as it will be, left as they were at the close of the contest on all those subjects. True it is, that under the Cromwell usurpation, rights acquired thereunder were upheld; but upon investigation, it will be found that this was sanctioned by the political department of the Government succeeding the usurpation.

The foregoing being the conclusions to which I have come upon the questions presented, it follows as a consequence, the pleas in question must be held good, the replications thereto bad.

It is therefore ordered by the Court, that the demurrer, which is asked by plaintiff's counsel to be applied to the pleas, as such, be overruled, and as to the replications, be sustained, with leave to plead over within thirty days.

BANKRUPT FORMS AND BLANKS.

We have received an official copy of the rules and orders, together with the forms and proceedings in Bankruptcy, as promulgated by the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now printing a large number of blank petitions in Bankruptcy.

The petition, with the necessary schedules makes twelve pages. They will be printed in good style, on the finest quality of cap paper, and in strict conformity to the law. We intend printing immediately all the blanks used in Bankrupt proceedings, and will furnish them to Attorneys and others on the most reasonable terms.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

Important Military Orders.

By Order No. 15, civil officers are forbidden to collect the tax levied upon freedwomen and minor freedmen under the 6th section of the act of November, 1865. This section as we published some days ago, was repealed by the Legislature, Feb. 13, 1867, in view of its manifestly discriminating character; but in some of the counties, sheriff's were still proceeding to collect it on the ground that the repealing statute had reference to the assessments of the pressent year and not of the past—a construction which we do not think is warranted by the law itself, or the intention of its framers.

The same Order forbids the infliction of the penalty of hiring for nonpayment of taxes against freedmen, also applied to white persons. It is proper to say that whatever may have been the object of the Legislature, in the practical working of the law, the act itself makes no distinction of race or color. It is our opinion that the wisest course for the District Commander would have been to postpone the collection of this tax against indigent persons until after the present crop is gathered, say the 1st of December. To enforce the law against delinquents and take them from their crops at this busy and critical season in cultivating, would deprive the State of a vast deal of important labor, and secure to it the collection of a comparatively trifling sum.

Order No. 16, is designed to prevent the practice of an evil which we have endeavored to guard the people against; and to secure to the freedmen correct information concerning the legislation of Congress investing them with the privilege of suffrage. Gen. Ord instructs the Agents of the Bureau, to visit the interior, and impart to the negroes, information of their obligations and rights under these laws, which is the interest of both races and of our section, and ought to be, and we trust will be, freelygiven by the people among whom they are living.

The Waco (Texas) Spectator thus alludes to the speech of Capt. Chas. A. Jennings, formerly of this place, who was selected as orator on the occasion of the commencement exercises of the Waco University:

"He was followed by Capt. Jennings, whose address was characterized by an eloquence that commanded the profound attention of the entire audience. We have seldom listened to such a speech. Capt. Jennings by this distinguished effort, has shown conclusively that his diligent researches have not been confined entirely to Blackstone and Coke, but that he has also explored the wide fields of classical literature, with which his mind is so well fertilized."

Some Mississippi editors talk about "the white man's party" and voting down the Convention to secure white men's rights, with a zeal and avidity that would lend the uninformed to believe we could do and dare without being checked by Congress. This talk about the "white man's party" is all very fine, but it will never put Mississippi in the Union, or secure us the control of the State. The question is shall we vote with the negro or shall he vote with out us? Building up a white man's party when so many of our citizens are disfranchised, is simply handing the State over to freedmen and "mean whites."

The Military Commission at Vicksburg, has found George Chandler and Wm. Fears, of Yazoo county, guilty of horse stealing. They go to Dry Tortugas for five years.

Dr. J. W. Harmon and the Relief Question.

We entertain no personal feeling of unkindness toward Dr. Harmon; we desire to do him the fullest justice, and in our next issue will publish several letters we have received from him, besides numerous certificates which we find to be in Dr. H.'s handwriting, in reference to the destitution in the vicinity of Enterprise.

We have at no time denied that there was destitution and distress in the country. We feel grateful to those who have labored to relieve it, and nothing but a sense of duty, as well to the people at home as our friends in the West, impelled us to notice the article in the Cairo Democrat. If Dr. Harmon had been misunderstood or misrepresented by the Democrat, he could have made the explanation, and we would gladly have published it. We charged Dr. Harmon on the authority of that paper, with making certain representations about the people of Clarke, Lauderdale, Newton and Jasper. In reply he attempts to shift the blame on his friend of the Democrat, and in his letter of June 27th, says:

"I am responsible, and will stand by any speech that I have made in any place, where I have solicited help, but I will not be answerable for any editorials that have appeared on this subject."

This dodging will not do, Dr., the public expected you to state plainly whether or no the article in the Democrat was published on the authority of your statements?

For the information of those who have not read the article, we republish it, and ask the unprejudiced reader if it is not calculated to convey the impression that "nakedness and starvation" prevailed generally among the people of the counties named. That is the plain import and meaning of the following extract:

"The people of Clarke, Jasper, Lauderdale and Newton counties, Mississippi, whom he represents are in a pitable condition of destitution. They are without clothing to conceal their nakedness, and are barely kept alive by the bread of charity. He is here therefore to obtain provisions, money, or any kind of old cast-off clothing. Old dresses, coats, pantaloons, shirts, boots, or shoes, no difference how badly worn, will be received by these nearly naked people with feelings of the deepest gratitude."

If he had stated that there were families or individuals in this condition near Enterprise, or in any other locality, we should not have noticed it, but would have rejoiced that his appeals for aid were successful.

But he permits these statements to be published on his authority, and during his presence in Cairo, and without his denial, they go before the public on his responsibility.

While we desire the distress of the poor relieved, and feel grateful for the liberality of of our friends in Cairo, we would not even obtain their charities by humbug and misrepresentation.

If, as Dr. Harmon's friends complain the article in the Gazette has "injured his influence," he has no one to blame for it but himself. If he had not allowed the destitution of this section of country, for provisions and clothing, to be exaggerated and misrepresented, we certainly would have made the exposure.—We have no doubt the Enterprise Relief Society has done much good and we trust the charitable people of the West may continue to send it supplies. If the "usefulness" of Dr. H., as an agent, has been injured, we presume the gentlemen composing the Relief Committee, Messrs. Marsh and Hiller, for whom we have a very high esteem, can procure the services of another agent less extravagant in his statements, and who, perhaps, on that very account, may be more successful in his appeals to the charitable.

There is no doubt of the shooting of Maximilian. He was executed, as before stated, on the 19th ult., and his fate was shared by his two principal chieftains in the field, Miramon and Mejia. The date of the fall of the City of Mexico is now said to be on the 21st ult.

Horton, the Military Mayor of Mobile, has, at the request of two or three of the colored aristocracy, promptly removed eighteen white laborers from the street and horse and cart force of the corporation for the purpose of putting eighteen "cullud persons" in their places.

We printed the other day from the Clarion, a paragraph to the effect that postmasters before the war were not required to take an oath to "support the Constitution of the United States!" The Clarion of a later date announces that it was mistaken, and that postmasters were required to swear to support the Constitution. Persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

The Female Academy at Livingston, Alabama, was struck by lightning on Tuesday last. No one was hurt, though one of the classes was reciting in the room at the time.

The Johnson and Wooley Tragedy.

We find in the last number of the Enterprise Star fuller details of this shocking affair. A reporter for that paper who visited Wooley's house as soon as the killing was known, gives the following account:

I went in company with several gentlemen to Mr. Wooley's house at about 10 o'clock, on Monday evening, June 24th. On entering the house from the front door, I saw first, Mr. Wooley, lying dead in the hall, his head having the appearance of being beaten with some heavy instrument, and bleeding profusely. Mrs. Wooley was in the hall beyond Mr. Wooley, her head broken and bleeding, her head and shoulders supported by the wall. Casey Wooley was in the room to the right (or on the North side of the hall,) laying just opposite the door that leads into the room from the hall where Mr. and Mrs. Wooley were lying, her head broken and bleeding.—She was alive, moved and moaned as if in great pain. She was able after a few moments to speak and raise her head, part of her body resting on her elbows.

I confess this to have been the most horrible sight I ever witnessed. I was attended by those circumstances which served to render it so. The attitudes of the dead bodies—Wooley lying straight, his head thrown back as if in death by a spasm, his mouth open, blood in a large pool around his head, Mrs. Wooley with her head and shoulders held up by the wall, her chin tucked under, in her night clothes, blood in puddles about her and still flowing from the gaping wounds in her skull. Casey lying on her face bleeding and moaning. All seen by a dim light, the darkness profound, and, as yet no clue to the cause or author of the bloody deed. It seemed as if some terrible demon of revenge was loose in our midst, whom none could see, but say or all might meet and feel in a moment.

COUNTY OF CLARK. }

We, the undersigned, summoned, sworn, and charged to make inquest over the body of William Johnson, find, upon our oaths, on the evidence before us, that the said William Johnson died on the morning of the 25th inst., from the effects of a pistol shot in the bowels, which he received at the house of one H. A. Wooley, on the night of the 24th inst in said county and State. While much of the evidence would indicate a conspiracy to murder Mr. Johnson, and that some other person was present besides the family of Wooley and Mrs. Weaver and her children, we find from all the evidence that the fatal shot was given Mr. Johnson by H. A. Wooley.

Given under our hands this (28th) day of June, A. D. 1867.

The statement of Johson's dying declaration copied in this paper from the Mobile Times in reference to Mr. Sherman, was erroneous. He had nothing to do with the parties and is placed right in the Times of July 2d.

On Saturday I received a note from Casey asking me to come over and see her last night. In the same note she informed me that she had been married at 8 o'clock on last Monday morning, a week ago yesterday. I answered her note, stating I would come if agreeable to her. I did go over last night. When I got to the gate Wooley's little dog came out barking at me. Wooley came forward towards me, and said: "There you are again, you damned rascal." I answered him, "You are a damned rascal, yourself." He asked me what I came there for. I told him "that I came to see Casey, and meant no harm." He said I couldn't see her, and immediately struck me with the axe, and in a second afterwards shot me. I grabbed him, jerked the axe from him and knocked him down with it. Just before I was shot I heard some one—a man's voice, I thought—say "shoot the d—— son of a b——." Whoever this was ran off, going out by the back way. I feel confident that it was a white man. Mrs. Weaver. When I was shot I thought it was a plan concocted to murder me, and when I got the axe I knocked with it on all sides of the room, at any one in whom I thought was that I struck. There was no light in the house and I do not know who or how many persons were there. I do not recollect seeing any person there except Mr. Wooley, his wife and their daughter Casey. I have no idea who it was that ran out of the back way after crying out to "shoot the d—— son of a b——." I have no recollection of going into either of the rooms; I know only what I was told when I recovered. I think the pistol now shown me by J. W. Winn (it being the pistol found near Wooley's body) is mine; I had one like it with me at Wooley's but it was not loaded; when I left I came out of the front gate, and came immediately home. I did not run until I found I was bleeding profusely.

ANNEXATION.—From the N. O. Bulletin we learn there has been a nice bit of diplomacy going on between Uncle Sam and Benito Juarez, which is likely to result in the annexation of a considerable slice of Mexican territory to the United States. Since the recent troubles in Mexico, it seems that Juarez obtained the loan of 45,000,000, from the U. S. Government, for which he mortgaged the territory of New Mexican States, Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi.

Mrs. Mary Gilmore, of Springfield, Mass., a widow sixty-five years old, cut a frightful gash in her abdomen, on Saturday, and completely detached her bowels from her body, notwithstanding which, she lived over forty hours, and made a will.

Another Call for Relief.

NAKEDNESS AND STARVATION.

Dr. J. W. Harmon, representing the Enterprise and East Mississippi Relief Society, is now in the city. He holds a commission to act, signed by Gov. Humphreys of Mississippi, and stamped with the seal of the State.

The people of Clark, Jasper, Lauderdale, and Newton counties, Mississippi, whom he represents, are in a pitable condition of destitution. They are without clothing to conceal their nakedness, and are barely kept alive by the bread of charity. He is here therefore to obtain provisions, money or any kind of old cast-off clothing. Old dresses, coats, pantaloons, shirts, boots, or shoes, no difference how badly worn, will be received by these nearly naked people with feelings of the deepest gratitude.

HEADQ'RS FOURTH MILITARY DISTRICT,

VICKSBURG, MISS., June 27, 1867.

General Orders, }
No. 15. }

It appears that a poll tax, authorized to be imposed on freedmen by the County Boards of Police in the State of Mississippi, under section VI. of the Act of the Legislature, approved November 24th, 1865, entitled "an Act to amend the vagrant laws," is still levied and collected, and this act, so far as it discriminates against freedmen, being manifestly contrary to the Act of Congress, passed 9th April 13th, 1866, commonly called the Civil Rights Bill, therefore, all officers are hereby forbidden to levy or collect any tax imposed upon freedmen or negroes as a class, or that is not equally laid upon all persons without distinction of race or color, and such officers are likewise prohibited in the case of freedmen and negroes, from inflicting or executing any fine or penalty, such as hiring to labor for nonpayment of taxes, or recognizing as proofs of evidence which penalty or evidence is not actually executed upon and applied to white men under similar circumstances.—All civil officers will be held to strict accountability for failing to comply with the instructions herein promulgated. Post commanders and officers of the Bureau, of Refugees Freedmen and Abandoned Lands in this District, will report any violation of the foregoing order which may come to their knowledge.

General Orders, }
No. 16. }

As a mistaken idea on the subject of registering and voting may be spread or arise among the freedmen in this District, which, if not corrected, would tend to prevent them from registering and voting, Sub-District Commanders will direct the Agents of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands to visit every important plantation within their reach, and instruct the freedmen upon these points. They and registrars will inform freedmen that the registration, where their names have to be entered and an oath taken, is not for the purpose of imposing any tax, or holding them to any military or other service, but simply to enable them to share equally with the white men in the privilege of choosing who shall hold office in the County, State and United States wherein they reside, and that unless they register, they may be deprived of this privilege.

Whenever freedmen are interferred with, threatened, or deprived of any advantage, place or hire, on account of their registering, or showing a wish to register, they will be informed that it is their duty to report such interference or deprivation, so that the party offending may be dealt with according to law. Registrars and officers of the Army throughout the District, will report all such offenders to the Assistant Adjutant General at these Headquarters, with the names of the witnesses, dates and places given carefully, so that the offence may be punished.

Josh Billings on Gongs.

"I never can eradicate hull from mi memory the sound of the first gong I ever herd. I was setting on the front step ov a tavern in the sitty of Bufferio pensively smokin. The sun was going to bed, and the hevins for an hour was blushing at the performance. The Ery Kanal, with its golden waters, was on its way to Albany, and I was pursuin the line botes a floatin by, and thinkin or Italy (wher I used to liv) and her gondoliers and gullus wimmin. Mi entire sole was, as it were, in a swet.—I seemed to kilmes. I felt grate, I natcherly grew. There are things in this life tu big tu be trifled with; there are times when a man brakes luce from hisself when he sees spirits, when he can almost tush the mune, and feels as tho he kud fill both hands with the stars of hevin, and almost aware he was a bank president. That's what ailed me. But the korse or tru luv never did run smoth (this is Shakespeare's opinyun too,) just as I was duing my best to dummer, dummer, spat, bang, heller, crash, roar, ram, dummer, dummer, whack, rip, rare, rally, dummer, dummer, dummer, I was struk with a tremenjus jim, struck in the center ov the sidewalk, with anuther I kleared the gutter, and with anuther I stood in the middle ov the street, snortin like an Indian pony at a band ov hawsik. I gazed in wild despare at the tavern stand, mi hart swelled up so big as a outdoor sausage, mi teeth was as luce as a string ov bedes. I that all ov the crockery in the tavern had fell down. I thot of Sennemore, the ole Gabriel and his horn. I was jest on the plut of saying something else when the landlord came out in front stapo ov the tavern holdin by a string the bottom ov a old bass kittle. He looked me gravly with his hand, I went sloth, and sloth up to him, he looked me over, he said it was a purty day. I sed the same thing, he said purty good whisky. During a recent visit to Enterprise, we stopped at the Enterprise Hotel, kept by our friend Capt. W. C. Turner, and found it a kept a pleasant and accommodating place. Our friends, who visit the flourishing city of Enterprise, will find the Hotel equal to any in this part of the State, and well deserve their patronage.

Attention is invited to the Calhoun Institute, for young ladies. This school is located at Macon, in Noxubee County, and is similar to the University of Virginia in mode of instruction and industries. The fact that it has been seventeen years under the management of Prof. Polindexter, is a sure guarantee of the popularity of the institution.

DIARRHŒA.—Why will our friends permit the various members of their family to suffer with Diarrhœa, Nausea and Vomiting, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum and the Bowel Complaint among children, when a pleasant and effectual scientific preparation can be had that will give immediate relief? No family should be without a bottle. Thousands of bottles were sold during the cholera season last summer, in Memphis, with the happiest results. We allude to Dromgoole & Co's Red Diarrhœa Remedy, which we cheerfully recommend.

In answer to enquiries, we are requested by the law firm of Evans & Ford, to state that Judge Evans, of that firm, will spend most or all of his time, at the firm's office in Meridian, during the sitting of the Bankrupt Court; and that the firm are prepared to transact any business connected with proceedings in Bankruptcy.

Those who suffer from Liver Complaints may rely upon the Red Jacket Bitters, because they derive from its anti-bilious properties, immediate and certain relief when all the usual prescribed remedies have proved useless.

A gentleman just down from Kemper, speaks in glowing terms of the "crop prospects" there, and in that part of Lauderdale through which he travelled. The recent heavy rains have not done any material injury.

Private advices from Vicksburg announce that the cholera is on the increase in that city. The work of cleaning backyards and filthy resorts should be pushed forward vigorously by our municipal authorities. "An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure."

A fair but frail woman, who came here recently from Vicksburg, swallowed twelve grains of morphine Saturday afternoon, and came very near retiring from this mundane sphere. She is now, we understand, in a fair way to recover.

We call attention to the house and lot in Hickory, offered for sale by J. L. Matthews. The place is a very desirable one.

We mentioned recently that a negro named Belton Cline, had been arrested here, charged with having committed murder in Chester, South Carolina. Gov. Orr writes Mayor Henderson, that "Belton is charged, and no doubt truthfully, with having been engaged in two of the most atrocious murders which have occurred in any civilized country;" and he desires him to be securely kept until he can send an agent to have him brought back to South Carolina for trial—first at Chester, where he killed Mr. Walker, and if necessary, then at Newberry, where he killed Mr. Lane. Both of these murders were for money. Belton is securely ironed and will no doubt be on hand when Gov. Orr's agent arrives. Belton is a native of Chester, and an neighbor of the Walkers and Mortlocks.

Mission Free School.

Mr. Lewis L. Ragsdale, Lot 12, Block 59; Dr. J. W. McLane, 4,333 feet lumber, Greer and Dial, 1,536 feet of lumber; John Baldwin & Co., two thousand shingles; Lloyd, White & Co., one thousand shingles; H. Y. Townsend, one thousand shingles; R. F. Coleman, twenty-five pounds nails; Capt. Ford, $5 00; Mr. James R. Dickey, $5 00; Mr. Shed, Free goods; Mr. Williamson, labor and teams in hauling.

Some contributions have also been made from a distance, and others promised. Five thousand shingles, 133 pounds nails, and sashes for window still needed. A subscription paper will be found at the drug store of Mr. R. Y. R. Chadwick, and citizens are respectfully invited to contribute. This enterprise must elicit the aid and sympathy of all good men.

It will advance the interests of our city. There are no Free Schools nearer than Columbus and Vicksburg.

A number of carpenters have signified their intention to assist in the erection of the building free of cost. This is noble generosity on their part, and is gratefully confessed as such.

God bless those who aid His poor.

Council Proceedings.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Meridian, Miss., July 6, 1867.

Proceedings of two meetings in June, read and approved.

Reports of committees being called for, the Committee on Guard House, asked further time, which was granted.

On motion, Messrs. Ramsey and Hart were appointed as a special Committee to draft a tax ordinance for the fiscal year, commencing July 1st, 1867, and report at a meeting to be called the ensuing week.

An election was held to fill a vacancy in the Police Force, occasioned by the resignation of A. Smith, and J. S. Carver, elected.

At the request of the military authorities of this Post, I do hereby call on all Retail Dealers in ardent or other intoxicating drinks, refrain from selling directly or indirectly, any intoxicating beverages to the enlisted soldiers. Nor will they sell in greater quantity than a drink to any person whom they suspect are purchasing for the soldiers. Wholesale dealers in the article are also requested to refrain directly or indirectly from selling to soldiers. As any infringement of this notice, will recall upon the heads of parties so doing, it is hoped that its provisions will be strictly observed.

R. L. HENDERSON,

A collision occurred at Franklin, Tenn., on the 5th, between the Conservatives, whites, and blacks and Radicals of either color, during which Mr. Ed. Neal, a white man, was killed. Eight whites and eighteen blacks were wounded, three of the latter mortally. Cause—politics. An investigation will be necessary to fix the responsibility for the murderous affair.

The movements of the citizens of Natchez towards building a branch railroad to connect with the Jackson railroad, seems to be gaining ground. According to the Democrat of the 2d, the committee appointed at the meeting last week has been organized and will issue an address in the course of two or three days.

The Chicago Times in an editorial complaining of the failure of the city authorities to tunnel the river, gives its attachment as to the plan of establishing across the river an iron tubular bridge whose upper surface shall be on a level with the bottom of the river.

It appears from the following incidents, that Gen. Ord, who commands in the State of Mississippi, has some regard for civil authority:

On a recent occasion, a number of citizens of Madison county, in that State, petitioned Gen. Ord to send a cavalry force to capture a gang of horse thieves that were troubling the people. The General sent the cavalry force as was requested, with orders to report to the sheriff of the county and submit to his authority. It is evident from this, that Gen. Ord believes in authority and is to respect.

The Auditor of this State publishes the following list of lands that will be sold during the years 1867-8-9 and 70, for taxes:

1868.....	3,000
1869.....	3,000

Certificates and Letters from Dr. Harmon.

ENTERPRISE, July 2, 1867.

MR. J. J. SHERMAN—

SIR—I send you only a small batch of certificates at the present writing, but will follow them by a great many more, reaching forth the facts of great destitution existing in various parts of the country.

I have been able to see but very few up to this time, but during the week, we anticipate quite an influx of the destitute who have been receiving food and clothing for the past five months.

I greatly fear that your strictures will leave the effect to cut off supplies from a large class of destitute who have been depending upon our efforts to keep them from actual suffering.

Yours truly,

J. W. HARMON.

REV. T. S. ABERNETHY, JR.—

DEAR SIR—Having heard that Mr. Avery was distributing a generous article to Graves county, Kentucky, has consigned to you 250 bushels of corn to be distributed among the needy and destitute. I beg leave to call your attention to the condition of several families in the neighborhood of the Antioch (Baptist) Church, near the center of Jasper county. These families (8 can, and will, at the proper time, give you their names,) have by no fault have for the last four weeks been entirely destitute of bread; and are living from hand to mouth on what vegetables they have been able to raise. They have no meat at all. One of them said to Mr. John Moore, living in the neighborhood and a reliable man, that she must inevitably perish for want of bread unless she got some source. All these families are widows and orphans.

Now, my brother, can these families get a portion of the corn? If you will have it donated to them I will receipt you for it and see that they get it.

Respectfully yours,

JAS. E. BUNTYN.

MR. J. C. HELLER—

SIR—You will please send to Mrs. Mary Sherman, by Mr. J. I. Fowler, or any person else that will bring it, some provisions if you can. There is any quantity of this enterprise, as she is really in a suffering condition, having nothing only what her neighbors divides with her. She has some five or six children, none of them able to do much, and with all, she had the misfortune to lose her eldest son last week, the only help she had. She is trying to make a little crop but will be bound it will unless some assistance is given. Her pony has given out for the want of food.

I have distributed what corn I had to the best advantage among them, and they have used it and what they are to do now I cannot tell. I have divided from my own scanty supplies until I am not able to do any more.

Yours respectfully,

G. W. RYAN.

REV. T. S. ABERNETHY, JR.:

DEAR SIR—I have been conversant with the destitute in our midst, and as my statements have been questioned by the Meridian Gazette, and myself now and have been charged with casting a reproach upon our people by soliciting second hand clothing—that being the only article of such a demand, will you, with your knowledge of the facts, give a written statement relative to this matter, that I may be able to vindicate himself from the aspersious cast upon me efforts in behalf of the destitution among our suffering people.

Yours Truly,

J. W. HARMON.

REV. J. W. HARMON—

DEAR SIR—Since the receipt of yours of the 1st inst. In reply, I can only say, that as far as my knowledge extends, clothing has been in demand among the poor, and in the usual proportion to the demand for food. It is to be expected, that people situated as ours have been, will be in the destitute of food and have no means to purchase it, would not be so destitute of clothing themselves, as longer it more imperative in its demands than nakedness.

I have seen a large number of scantily and shabbily dressed women and children. In three cases I have seen women barely able to cover themselves. Two of these cases were wandering about our streets a few weeks ago, and begged bread at my door. Another was some five or six miles from Enterprise (I think in the edge of Jasper County,) near Col. Wood's. When I saw the family last spoken of there were scanty enough in clothing. But Col. Wood told me that they were better off for clothing than many I have heard several women say to Mr. Hiller, that they would very thankfully accept a part of the clothing procured through your efforts. When the box sent from Memphis was opened and arranged in order, I, at least twenty women, belonging to our destitute class standing around it, and speaking in grateful terms of the efforts in the direction of getting clothing. The clothing was rapidly distributed.

After all the destitution we have seen, I think there is suffering that has never come to light. Many hide their wants and suffer in secret, hoping for "a better day."

I have stated here only the facts which come under my observation.

Respectfully Yours,

T. S. ABERNETHY, JR.

The Republican State Convention met at Atlanta yesterday. Delegates were present from all parts of the State. The Hon. Foster Blodgett of Richmond County, was elected president. Resolutions were adopted stating that the only means of Georgia desire an early settlement of the reconstruction question by Republicans of the State are allied with the national Republican party, and pledging their hearty support to the measures of the present session of Congress. Also declaring that the State Republican party is in sympathy with the Northern States, and will encourage immigrant and support to protect the rights of all, and to abide by the prescribed terms of reconstruction with the view to admit men who can comply in all respects with the requirements of Congress.

Matthews received the letter given him honorably, as a secret communication; that night during the excitement of the assassination, Matthews remembered the letter, and read it. It contained a statement, signed by Booth, Payne, Atzerodt and Harold; the statement of Booth they had tried to abduct the President, but had failed; they then resolved that they would sacrifice three or four lives to save their country. It was not proved that Surratt was not in Washington on the 14th, but that he was in Canada on the 12th, and that he could not be returned, and therefore it would be unjust to convict him. Counsel will continue to-morrow.

If Booth had left town. Matthews received the letter given him honorably, as a secret communication; that night during the excitement of the assassination, Matthews remembered the letter, and read it. It contained a statement, signed by Booth, Payne, Atzerodt and Harold; the statement of Booth they had tried to abduct the President, but had failed; they then resolved that they would sacrifice three or four lives to save their country. Booth would remove by death the President, whom they considered as the cause of the country's misfortunes. After reading the letter, Matthews became terrified and burned it. Matthews will testify in behalf of Surratt.

PARIS, July 5.—Three cases of yellow fever are under treatment at the military hospital, and two in the city hospital. One death is reported so far.

RICHMOND, July 6.—A colored caucus in the upper ward last night, decided on running a colored candidate for Mayor, and a council ticket with two whites and three blacks.

PARIS, July 5.—The Moniteur of to-day has an article expressing detestation of the execution as a crime against civilization.

Orders have been sent out suspending from their functions all French Consuls in the Mexican Republic.

All festivities in this city have ceased, and preparations for forthcoming fêtes have been abandoned out of respect for the memory of the ill-fated Maximilian.

The French government has granted a concession to a new Franco-American telegraph company, which proposes to lay a sub-marine cable from Brest to some point on the American coast.

LONDON, July 5.—All the Courts of Europe have suspended mourning for the death of Maximilian.

The recall of the British Legation from the City of Mexico, and the suspension of diplomatic relations between the two governments is seriously proposed.

ABBINGTON, July 6.—The total registration in Alexandria stands at 2,600; doubtful, 300; whites, 305. Votes challenged 196; rejected 7; all of whom were whites.

The Consul at Kingston reports to the State Department, under date of June 19th, the prevalence of yellow fever as epidemic and malignant in form—a quarter of the case proving fatal. Vessels confined to quarantine.

Paper's have been filed in the Attorney General's office looking to the removal of F. J. Herron, United States Marshal for Louisiana.

The prosecution in the Surratt case closed today. Mr. Bradley, Jr. made the opening speech for the defence. He reviewed the testimony in great detail, and said the prisoner's presence here on April 14th, did not in any way prove that most of the conspirators were either present or knew of it.

It was not proved that Surratt was not in Washington on the 14th, but that he was in Canada on the 12th, and that he could not be returned, and therefore it would be unjust to convict him. Counsel will continue to-morrow.

Almost the entire north of the State there is a general destitution of provisions, and the people are in a starving condition. Many families have not had bread for months. Corn is selling at $2 per bushel, and is scarce at that price. Many persons are living on roots and herbs. Many have died from starvation, and many more will die unless relief is furnished.

The Safety Hand Lamp, AND Meteor Burning Fluid.

THE new Meteor Safety Hand Lamp is the latest wonder and novelty, as well as the greatest invention of the times. The burning qualities of the Oil are in every particular superior to anything yet used, while its illuminating power has no superior. The Lamp will not blow out nor explode, and the Oil is inexhaustible. The cost of the fluid is about one-half that of refined coal oil; has no greasy, smoky smell; does not smoke the chimney, and will not grease a fabric of any kind. You need not throw away your old Lamps; the Meteor Fluid will burn in a coal oil Lamp by attaching the Light Home Burner Fluid Burner.

We have the agency for Lauderdale county, Miss., and Choctaw county, Ala., and will be glad to supply our friends in those counties with the Meteor Oil and Safety Hand Lamp.

It is bound to create a great revolution in the Lamp business, and only needs a test to be appreciated.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

OF all the remedies that have been di covered during the present age for the thousand ills that flesh is heir to, none equal this wonderful preparation. Only ten years have elapsed since the discoverer—who spent a decade in studying experiments, and perfecting—first introduced it to the public, and it is already recognized by the most eminent physicians in all parts of the country to be the most surprising and effectual remedy, for certain diseases, of which they have knowledge.

All other compounds or syrups of this root have hitherto failed to command the sanction of the Faculty, because, on being tested, they have been found to contain noxious ingredients, which neutralize the good effects of this Sarsaparilla, and oftentimes injure the health of the patient. It is not so with Hurley's preparation.

This is the pure and genuine extract of the root, and will, on trial, be found to effect a certain and perfect cure of the following complaints and diseases:

Hurley's Ague Tonic,

PERFECTLY RELIABLE.

The only remedy for Chills and Fever or Ague and Fever that is or can be depended upon is Hurley's Ague Tonic. There have been thousands cured by using it who had tried the usual remedies without benefit; but in no case has failed to effect a cure. All who have used it cheerfully tell their afflicted friends of it as a sure and certain cure for chills and fever. Any one suffering from the chills would consult their own interest by sending to the drug store and buying a bottle. It is pleasant to take, prepared with others, and will be certain to cure all cases of fever and ague or chills and fever. Send for it to the nearest store.

ANNUAL CIRCULAR.

Dolbear's Commercial College

OPEN CONSTANTLY, DAY AND EVENING

Corner of Camp and Common Sts.,

In the Elegant and Spacious IRON BUILDING,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Founded in 1832---Chartered by the Legislature of Louisiana,

WITH COMMERCIAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS.

THIS COLLEGE, has, by its own merits and thorough, practical plan of education, outlived all the liberally endowed State Colleges of this and the South-Western States. It is the Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course here—Tuition.....$145

Board for three months.....90

Contingent expenses, about.....20

Total.....$255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

Cost of Ordinary Literary Colleges.—About $100 per annum, for four years, or $1650; clothing for four years, $200; or $800—total $2000, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800, or $6150 he earns in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2100; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or, $3000 annually, to be the best fortune parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Appeal of Baron Magnus to prevent the Execution of Maximilian.

To His Excellency, Sebastian Lerdo de Tejada:

Having arrived at Queretaro to-day, I learned the three prisoners condemned on the 14th, died morally on Sunday last, and all the world considers it so, for all their preparations for death having been made, they expected, every instant, during a whole hour, to be carried to the place in which they should receive death, before the order to suspend the execution could be communicated to them by means of the telegraph.

The humane of our age do not allow that, after having suffered that terrible agony, they should be made to die a second time.

In the name, then, of humanity and of heaven, I conjure you that you order that their lives be not taken; and I again repeat to you that I am certain that my sovereign, H. M., the King of Prussia and all the monarchs of Europe, united by the bonds of blood with the prince prisoner, namely: his brother, the emperor of Austria; his cousin, the queen of the British empire; his brother-in-law, the king of the Belgians, as well as his cousins, the queen of Spain and the kings of Italy and Sweeden, will readily agree to give to his excellency, Don Benito Juarez, full security that none of the three prisoners will ever again stand on Mexican territory.

A. V. MAGNUS.

JUAREZ REPLY.

SAN LUIS POTOSI,
June 18, 1867—10:05, P. M.

To A. V. Magnus, etc. Queretaro:

I am sorry to say to you in answer to the telegram you have been pleased to direct to me to-night, that as I expressed to you the day before yesterday in this city, the president of the republic does not believe it possible to grant the pardon of the Archduke Maximilian, for the gravest considerations of justice, and, of the necessity of assuring the peace of the republic. I am, baron, your respectful and obedient servant,

LERDO DE TEJADA.

ESCOBEDO'S OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Telegram from Queretaro to San Luis Potosi, June 10th, 1867:

Citizen Minister of War:

On this 14th inst., at eleven o'clock at night, the council of war condemned Maximilian of Hapsburg, Miguel Miramon and Thomas Mejia, to suffer the death penal'y.

The sentence having been confirmed by this headquarters, on the 15th, the 16th June was named for the execution, which was suspended until today, by order of the supreme government. It is now seven in the morning, at which hour the aforesaid Maximilian, Miramon and Mejia have been shot.

Please communicate to the citizen president of the republic.

M. ESCOBEDO.

We took a trip to Meridian the other day and found, from all accounts, that crops are promising in every direction. There was a fine rain at Meridian last Monday. We heard at our return, that there had been too much rain in the prairies—in some places they had been almost flooded. Maj. Norton is again stationed at Meridian. There are several companies there, including some cavalry, all white troops. Meridian is improving—several new houses are going up, and the people seem determined to go ahead, notwithstanding the dull summer. At Lauderdale we called at the Orphans' Home. It is getting on very well, under Prof. Granberry. Our friends Griffin & Callum, are holding forth, and expect to have an excellent supply of goods for the fall trade. Dr. John F. Kennedy is doing business there, mostly in the drug line, and practicing medicine; the Doctor is an accomplished gentleman.—Kemper Flag.

Our Position—A Convention.

As the readers of the Chronicle have doubtless noticed, we, for a time, have preserved perfect silence on the question of reconstruction; although upon the passage of the Sherman bill, we took a decided position in favor of organizing under its provisions in preference to remaining subject to a military despotic rule. We took this course, not that we endorse the measure, but believing that to accept the position as presented, was the only means left the people of the South, whereby they might escape the further iniquitous and oppressive legislation which the fanatical majority in Congress, in our humble opinion, would be not only ready, but eager to foist upon us, should we refuse to comply with the requisitions of the bill. Although we had taken this position, our great abhorrence of many of the features of the bill, and particularly that of negro suffrage, induced us to pause and await future developments.—Micawber-like, for something to turn up. The injunction bill, filed in the Supreme Court by our able and talented jurist and fellow citizen, Judge Sharkey, (while we could not, with our obtuseness of perception, see that any relief could possibly come from that source,) was looked to by many as a panacea for all our political troubles; and our entire confidence in the legal ability and far-sightedness of that Nestor of jurisprudence added, as he was, by the full consent of the nation, encouraged us to wait and hope. The result of this matter is familiar to all. The bill was dismissed almost without hearing. Again, a number of the members of the press and other gentlemen of distinction, in whose mature judgment we had the utmost confidence, opposed the measure with a zeal that could not be mistaken; consequently we felt it to be our duty, as an exponent of the best interests of the country, to wait, perchance some one of the number might propose something tangible by which the people of Mississippi and the South generally can be extricated from the awful dilemma. We have read and re-read the arguments of gentlemen of the press, very many of whom exhibit marked ability and energy in their opposition to the measure—we have carefully read the elucidations of Judge Harris, Mr. Potter, and many other gentlemen of distinction of our own State, as well as those of Governor Perry, of South Carolina, the King of Prussia and all the monarchs of Europe, united by the bonds of blood with the prince prisoner, namely: his brother, the emperor of Austria; his cousin, the queen of the British empire; his brother-in-law, the king of the Belgians, as well as his cousins, the queen of Spain and the kings of Italy and Sweeden, will readily agree to give to his excellency, Don Benito Juarez, full security that none of the three prisoners will ever again stand on Mexican territory.

We have failed to find a single one, however, that proposes a tangible remedy for the present deplorable condition of affairs. Says one, we will preserve our honor (?) Our opinion is that what honor the South didn't forfeit, in a political point of view, by the act of secession was lost upon the surrender of the Confederate armies. Says another, we will, by defeating the convention, also put down negro suffrage. Would to God it were true. No man would oppose a convention with more zeal than we. But our opinion is that the opposite—complete negro domination—would be the result. Upon a failure to organize under the military bill, the next Congress will terrificate the South, the franchise every man that ever took any part in the rebellion, and pass another reconstruction law which will be carried out by the negroes and what few whites who are or may be in our midst, thus giving the negro the entire control of the whole country. This is the gist of the main arguments offered by those who oppose a convention. They profess that they can neither live under despotic military rule for an indefinite time, than to forfeit their manhood (?) and honor (?) by organizing under this bill. We can but admire their 'pluck' but must condemn their judgment.

While we cannot see any prospect of bettering our condition by resistance, we do not believe that by organizing under the bill, peace and quiet will be restored to our unhappy country. We are satisfied that if we pursue this course our senators and representatives will be received into Congress, the military withdrawn from our midst, law and order restored, and ere long the States of the South will resume their original political rights as sovereign States in the Union, and by industry and perseverance, our people will become prosperous and happy. Holding these opinions, after due deliberation, we shall advocate the calling of a convention and complying with the several requisitions of the military bill.—Kosciusko Chronicle.

The letter was received from Paris, and states that he is tired of the hubbub of the Exposition, and contemplated leaving for Switzerland. He will sail for Canada in September with his family. Dr. Harmon and the Cairo Democrat.

Since our last issue we have seen Dr. Harmon, and Messrs. Marsh and Hiller, of the Enterprise Relief Society, and besides personal statements from these gentlemen, have received the following note from Dr. H. touching the article in the Cairo Democrat. We had obtained from a number of the most respectable citizens of this county, certificates proving that the editorial of the Democrat conveyed an erroneous impression as to the people of our county, but Dr. Harmon's letter renders their publication unnecessary.

We are satisfied Dr. Harmon's efforts, and the Relief Society at Enterprise have done much to feed and clothe the poor of that part of the State, and that there is still much distress there deserving the aid of the charitable. What we objected to was the extravagance of the Democrat's editorial, and the stress which was put on "old boots and shoes, worn out clothing," &c., when'ft every one knew bread and meat were the articles the poor most needed.

From a late number of the Democrat, we see that paper very stupidly construes what we wrote as an insult to the people of Cairo, and takes occasion to give Meridian a lecture on Tournaments. We can assure the editor of the Democrat that he wholly misconceived our meaning, and that his strictures on Meridian are undeserved.

ENTERPRISE, July 9th, 1867.

MR. J. J. SHANNON:

Editor Gazette—I conceive that the article in the Cairo Democrat referring to my efforts to aid the destitute in Clarke, Jasper, Newton and Lauderdale counties, Mississippi, intended only to embrace the destitute, the class which it was my business to represent before them. Of course I did not go to represent the well fed, and well dressed portion of our people. I was the agent of a benevolent committee asking alms for those to whom alms were needful. I based my speeches and all my efforts upon a set of ideas originating in and belonging to this class exclusively. I did not take upon myself a general representative agency and therefore all I said finds its explanation in this key-note.

These doubtless were the ideas of the editor of the Cairo Democrat when he wrote the article referred to. It was not, it certainly in all reason, could not have been his intention to represent all our people,—every man, woman, and child, or even a majority of them as being so destitute as to need old carpets and worn out boots.

Common sense would suggest to every man that all could not be in this condition for if they were, grim and ghastly starvation would have eaten us up, soul and body, before I could have reached Cairo to ask for help. I think this will explain all misconception about the matter.

Yours, &c.,

J. W. HARMON.

Hon. James M. Burton, of Lee county, in a letter to the North Mississippian says:

"I am in favor of holding a Convention and reorganizing under the Sherman bill; but do not consider myself as belonging to the "Republican Party," or any other party.

Capt. Burton was a member of the last legislature, and a faithful, efficient representative. We are glad to hear he is on the right track.

Admiral Charles Wilkes manages 1,200 acres of land on Long Island, and a correspondent says he has never seen a man who knew more about farming.

Our Commanders and the Will of Congress.

The Galveston News draws attention to an article in the N. Y. Times arguing that, although Congress did not want to violate the Constitution by taking away from the President the power to appoint the military commanders, it evidently intended to take away from him the power to control them—that they are absolute in their districts, and that any attempt on the part of the President to interfere with them will be very uncomfortable! Congress had no particular way of raising an excitement to cover a violation of the Constitution in taking away the President's appointing power; but an attempt of his to exercise the controlling power which necessarily follows, will bring him in conflict with the popularity of a military Commander, and thus the party hopes to compass another accumulation of party capital! The Times has a long article on the subject, admitting the force of the Attorney General's opinion, and the dangers and evils of military despotism, but justifies the worst that the commanders may do, or have done, by the simple plea of "the will of Congress." If, therefore, every white man be removed from office, and negroes be put in their places, the will of Congress "justifies it.' If, in addition to military commissions, the commanders recognize the courts of the State, and force them to try rebels for treason and order their execution without appeal, the "will of Congress" justifies it. If the military commanders promulgate an order requiring every man to leave the State within ten days, on penalty of being shot down wherever he may be found within its borders, there is no help because it is only carrying out the "will of Congress." The logic is that Congress has a will—that the military commanders are its inspired and infallible interpreters, and that, if they do not execute a man condemned to death by a military commission, without the approval of the President, they may do whatever else they please.

Still we find men every day who declare their preference for a military government—for tribunals in the place of civil courts, for a species of government indulged rather than allowed—a rule that ignores the jury and the civil statutes and places the lives and property of citizens in the hands of men wholly uneducated in law, and who are frequently governed more in their decisions by passion and prejudice than a desire to meet out justice to the unfortunate victims brought before them. This military rule which some of our citizens prefer on account of the conservative administration of Gen. Ord, is liable at any day to become as odious in Mississippi as in Louisiana or Alabama. It is a maxim that military courts are only convened to convict, and already we see that two citizens of Yazoo county have been sentenced to Dry Tortugas for five years, by a court of men educated more in slaughter than the complications of every day life. We cite the Yazoo case not that we think the horse thieves have been unfairly dealt with, but to show how the military are encroaching upon the rights of our courts. This preference for military governors will soon wear out; when men see the progress of jurisprudence checked and its place supplied by arbitrary demoralizing power; when high handed acts of outrage and tyranny are committed under the pretext of carrying out the "will of Congress," they will begin to reflect and ask themselves if it would not have been better to accept the Military Bill of 1867, and secure restoration and a perfect judicial power, than a permanent military government with all its narrow and arbitrary rules in direct opposition to the most essential principles of justice. Men should carefully consider the prospective situation before making up their minds to vote in such a way as to give us permanent military rulers and colored custodians of whatever law the "will of Congress" will permit to be executed in the future.

We publish elsewhere a sensible article from the Kosciusko Chronicle, upon the subject of reconstruction.—It will be seen that our Kosciusko friend has decided to advocate the calling of a Convention, and compliance with the requirements of the military bills.

The Brandon Republican declares that the "promise of a little pocket change, has induced a few secession leaders in this State to sell themselves to the Republican party." The Republican is never satisfied unless engaged in the harmless occupation of firing its feeble weapons at secessionists. As far as our information goes, the statement is gratuitous, and Frank knew it when he penned the paragraph.

The Dream of a Dreamer.

A late number of the Hernando Press, under the caption of "the handwriting on the wall," contains an article which sounds first rate on paper:

Nearly every election that has taken place in the North since the passage of the so-called Reconstruction Acts, has resulted in a Democratic triumph. The latest election news is to the effect that the Democrats of Belleville, Illinois, elected their entire ticket by 150 majority—a gain of 750 since last fall. In a judicial election in that State, a second grand division which gave 3,044 majority for the Radical ticket in November, now elects a Conservative Democrat for Judge by a majority of 4,000—a gain of 7,000.

Every day the power of the Radicals is waning; every day the Democracy are storming the Radical strongholds, and their flag will soon wave triumphantly from its citadel.

Such articles as the above are calculated to mislead the public. It is a significant fact, unpleasant as it may be, that the various elections that have taken place in the North since the passage of the Military bills, show increased strength in the Republican party, the very reverse of the statements of the Press. It is true a Democratic Governor was elected in Connecticut by a small majority, but the Legislature is decidedly Republican and even that State can scarcely be called democratic. The Illinois election to which he refers placed more Republicans in office than were there before—18 out of 24 districts electing Radicals. In the election for members to the Constitutional Convention in New York, held in May, the State went largely Republican. In Cincinnati and all other large cities where elections have taken place since the passage of the Reconstruction acts, the Republican majorities have been increased. The municipal election in Belleville, Illinois, is not of sufficient importance to give us much comfort. Cairo, another town in Illinois, with 400 democratic majority, recently elected a Republican Mayor. There never was a greater delusion than for us to look for aid from a party that is in a helpless minority. The power of the radicals will never wane while we remain unrepresented and unreconstructed. It is what they call the "rebellious spi it" of the South that keeps the party up now and it will continue to keep Sumner & Co. in power until we get a voice in Congress and combat the heresies upon which Radicalism is subsisting. Vote for the Convention, get the States back in the Union and we may defeat the dominant party on an equality of taxation platform. There is no hope for the ascendency of the Democracy while the South remains out of the Union.

Murder at Gainesville Ala.

We find in the North Sumpter News, an account of the assassination of Mr. Robert Stratton, the miller at the Gainsville steam mill. He was murdered by an unknown assassin on Wednesday night. The editor of the News visited the scence of murder on Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, and thus describes it.

The body of Mr. Stratton was lying across the foot of the bed, face downward, the feet projecting over the bed on one side and the head resting near an open window on the other, in which position, doubtless, he was slain. The window was but little more than four feet, as a shoulder high to a man. It was at this window that the demon approached his sleeping victim, and placing the muzzle of his gun on the left side of his head, about three inches below his arm, (and so near that the powder burned his skin,) discharged the contents into his heart. At the post mortem examination five buckshots were found lodged near the pit of his stomach.

Robbery was undoubtedly one motive which led to the assassination, as it was found upon examination that trunks and clothing belonging to the deceased had been thoroughly overhauled, and a small sum of money which he was known to have had the evening before, was missing from his pocket-book.

Mr. Stratton was a bachelor, somewhat advanced in life, and lived alone in a small house lately erected near the mill. He was an honest, hard-working man and a useful citizen, and his place will be hard to fill. The poor have lost in him a sympathising friend, and all classes a man upon whose word they could implicitely rely. By all, his death is deeply deplored, and by none more than the Masonic Fraternity of which he was a worthy member. They, with many of our citizens met of the Order, attended the funeral and followed his remains to the grave.

No disdiscovery has yet been made as to who committed this attrocious muder.

CHOLERA IN VICKSBURG.—Quite a number of cases of cholera have occurred in Vicksburg, and it appears that the disease is on the increase.—During the week ending Monday last, the Sexton's report shows 28 deaths; 6 of which were from cholera and 4 cholera morbus.

NEGROES FOR THE INDIAN WAR.—A correspondent of the Memphis Ledger says the Radicals will soon commence drafting negroes for the Indian war, which it is expected will be carried on during the summer and fall.

By the death of her father, in Bath, England, the wife of Col. G. La Rhett of Macon, Georgia, has become heir to an estate of £20,000 sterling, which will be divided between herself, a brother and two sisters.

The Brandon Republican when unable to answer an article with argument, throws off a lot of twaddle about secessionists, democracy, &c., thus making up in froth and wind, what it lacks in sense. The course of the Republican is ever prating about the political antecedents of its cotemporaries, who happened to be democrats, is decidedly discourteous, and displays an illiberality unbecoming even a man who was a citizen in times of war, and is now a warrior when there is peace. We are not ashamed of our past political affiliations, but think writing about secession and secessionists, is a poor way to enlighten the people now, or solve the great prob.em agitating the country.

From the Brandon Republican:
BRANDON, MISS., June 29, 1867.
Editor Brandon Republican:

The undersigned, dissenting from your views as promulged weekly in the columns of the Republican, as to the proper course to be adopted by the people of the South, with the reference to reconstruction under the "Sherman military bill" and believing we should at once "accept the situation," call a Convention and reorganize as speedily as possible, and having no paper here reflecting our views, through which we could address the people of the count , we respectfully ask you to publish the following communicati n:

To the Voters of Rankin County.

Having carefully and cautiously examined the political situation, with a deliberation eminently demanded by the solemn and momentous question submitted for our decision, viz: Whether we will favor a Convention and a reconstruction of the Union upon the terms proposed in the Sherman Bill, or, by resistance aid in defeating a Convention and incur the consequences, be they what they may. We have determined to yield whatever influence we possess, or may exercise, in favor of a Convention, and a speedy restoration of the country to a condition of peace, good order, harmony and prosperity.

We sincerely believe that a compliance with and adherence to the provisions of the "Sherman Military Bill," as it is commonly called, will be conducive of the best interests of the South. And we unite in advising the voters of Rankin county, to vote for a Convention, and for the most intelligent and honorable men who may be candidates therefor.

We are fully pursuaded that if the present plan of reconstruction is rejected another enabling act will be passed by Congress, more objectionable and distrous to our hopes of perpetuating republican ins t utions in the South than the present plan can possibly be, and which will entail upon the country far greater evils than any we have yet endured or contemplated.

We regard with profound astonishment the oft repeated idea, that by registering the right of voting is forever secured, although the enfranchised may vote against the Congressional plan of reconstruction. The power which confers and limits this privilege, not being legislated or retrenched by constitutional restrictions, confers the franchise upon the colored man and the same power can, by a simple act or resolution, withhold that privilege from those on whom it is now conferred, and limit its exercise in the future exclusively to those who now vote for a Convention.

We think it better to "bear the ills we have than fly to those we know not of."

Our Club Rates.

The wherewithal to interest those wishing to subscribe to a cheap newspaper, will be found under the head of club rates. We have revised and reduced our terms so as to put the Gazette within the reach of every one. We pledge it anew to keep it every way worthy of patronage—filled with varied and interesting reading—and devoted to the interest of our section. Let our friends in the East stir themselves in getting up clubs and extending the circulation of our paper.

THE TOURNAMENT TO-DAY.—Our citizens should not forget the grand tournament to-day, and the ball to-night. Extensive preparations have been made for the accommodation of all. Tilting commences precisely at two o'clock P. M.

We are gratified to state that Major St. Paul, of the Mobile Times, will be in our city to-day, and deliver an address at the Tournament.

We invite attention to the card of Smith & Parsons, Vicksburg, and to the fact that they are now offering for sale three thousand sacks of corn, just received from St. Louis, by barge. There is no better firm in Vicksburg than Smiths & Parsons, and they sell at prices that defy competition.—They are agents for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company at St. Louis, and receive weekly large shipments of corn, flour, &c., thus offering superior inducements to merchants. Our young friend, J. J. Hood, formerly of Scott County, is with this house, and will be glad to serve his friends. Besides, J. A. Jones, of this city, well known to our merchants, is in their employment, and will be pleased to see his many friends from this section, when they visit the Hill City. may30-6t

RECONSTRUCTION IN NORTH MISSISSIPPI.—At the recent term of the Federal Court at Oxford, Gen. Alcorn addressed the people in favor of reconstruction, and Col. Matthews of Columbus, in opposition to it. The Grinth News, in noticing their speeches says: "The majority of the people are for complying with the law as required by Congress, so Radicalism will have no excuse to further trample the South in the dust."

It will be seen that the Meridian Tournament Club proposes to have a grand tournament and fancy dress ball in this city, on Thursday, the 12th of June.

Preparations are now making on a large scale and there is no doubt that it will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind that has ever been seen in the South. The large assemblage that will be here from all parts of the State and Alabama will be addressed by Maj. H. St. Paul, the talented and eloquent editor of the Mobile Times and other distinguished speakers. Gen. Forrest is confidently expected here as one of the Judges. It will be noticed from the advertisement that three prizes in gents and ladies saddles, besides the knightly honor of crowning the queen of love and beauty.

The Knights will form in procession at Rosh's Saloon at 10 o'clock P. M. and march through the principal streets of the city to the Fair Ground, at 2 o'clock, precisely, crowning and the prizes to be awarded. The tilting is over. A procession of young ladies will then be attended by the Knights and invited to the ball room, where the music will commence.

COON TOURNAMENT.—Mr R. M. Harrison reported yesterday evening at the Fourth District Station that the house of Mr. Elmore No. 178 Seventh street, had been robbed of furniture valued at one $1000.

This morning a man named John Ramer, who has been with Spalding & Rogers Circus stirred, was arrested, charged with having the stolen furniture in his possession. It appears that the transaction was accomplished in this way: Mr. Elmore, who is at present in the country, sold to a colored man in charge of the house.

Yesterday morning two white men came to the house with furniture carts, said they had bought the furniture of Elmore, and carried off the goods.

SEMI-WEEKLY GAZETTE

A WIFE WANTED.

I want a wife
To cheer my life;
I care not what she lacks of beauty,
So I but find
That she is kind.
And knows and practices her duty.

I want a wife.
Who through her life
Was never known to be in fault;
Who 'll bring to me
A recipe
To keep the buttons on a shirt.

If such a one
Dwell 'neath the sun,
And don't mind leaving friends behind her,
Write the author of this
She 'll find true bliss,
By informing him where she may find her.

Governor Fletcher, of Missouri, has offered a reward of $300 for the arrest of the twelve or fourteen scoundrels who robbed the Richmond Bank and killed the Mayor and two citizens of that place, on the 22d ult.

Albert Pike of the Memphis Appeal, has an unusual command of language. Here is one of his impressive sentences: "Bankruptcy, foreign war, internal hatreds, a hell of fire thinly crusted over, new dissensions, separations, strifes, new rivers of blood, repeated decimations, new lightnings of the red dissevered wrath of God, the corroding stains of innocent blood upon the soil, the insensible horrid lapse into the most hiddeous of despotism, all the Dantesque horrors of the infernal regions that the shades of dead nations, tortured, inhabit—all these stare upon them out of the grim silent darkness of the future days."

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A train on the Mississippi Central Railroad ran off the track near Duck Hill, Tuesday morning, in consequence of an open switch, and the engineer a Mr Percy, who formerly resided in this city, was instantly killed. The locomotive was badly broken, and several cars were damaged. Mr Percy left a helpless family to mourn his loss.—Memphis Bulletin.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Oldest Commercial College in the United States.

AMPLE ARRANGEMENTS FOR

One Thousand Students

During the Current Year.

Comparative Cost and Value of the Education Given Here and in the Ordinary and Literary Colleges:

It is believed to be the first in Europe or America, chartered with Commercial, Agricultural and Mechanical Departments. Every student who gives proper attention to the instruction, is qualified before graduating to keep any set of books, it matters not what the business may be, and do the Correspondence of any house. Students can attend the "Commercial Course," or to the English, French, Spanish, German, Latin or Greek Languages, or the higher Mathematics, etc., separately. We have

Cost of full Commercial Course

here—Tuition..... $145
Board for three months..... 90
Contingent expenses, about..... 20
Total $255

After which the student is ready to go into business, and make $1000, $2000, or $3000, annually.

COST OF ORDINARY LITERARY COLLEGES.—About $400 per annum, for four years, or $1600; clothing for four years, $200, or $800—total $2400, and four years of time expended. Our student will begin to work after three or four months, and make, say the first year, about $1200; and two years and nine months at probably $1800 or $6150 in cash in four years. Deduct $255 leaves $5892 net gain to our Students; but to the other a net expense of $2400; or $8295 our student has gained over the other. We suppose the Students in both cases to have a good English education to begin with. We deem a business education that enables the student to earn $1000, $2000, or $3000 annually, to be the best fortunes parents can give their sons. So far as known, not one of the thousands of our graduates, is out of profitable employment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Speeches of Gov. A. G. Brown and Hon. Walker Brooke, at Terry Barbecue.

We find in the Clarion a sketch of the speeches made by these Gentlemen at Terry, on the 4th of July, which, as part of the history of the times, we republish.

Gov. A. G Brown in response to the call to preside over the meeting, proceeded in a speech of some length and great power, to explain the object of the meeting and to describe the issues which are before the people. He said that the object of the meeting was to arrive at a proper understanding and to cultivate a feeling of reciprocal kindness and good will between the whites and blacks, who were people of a common country, and whose destinies, for weal or woe, must be a common one. He argued that their interests were identical and that a blow leveled at the prosperity of the one could not fail to reach the other. He had spent thirty years in the public service of the State. He was called a "proscribed rebel," he could hold no office if every man in the State were to vote for him. His locks were whitening for the grave. In the ordinary course of human events, the longer portion of his life had been spent; and the days that remained to him must, under the inexorable law of nature, be short in comparison with those that had passed. God was his judge. In any counsel which he had been prompted, or could be prompted, to give to his fellow citizens who had oftentimes intrusted him with their confidence he could have no motive but their welfare to subserve.

He said that he who, whether from the North or the South, stirred up strife between the whites and blacks, was the enemy of both. The colored people had been told that the war was waged in order to give liberty to the blacks. The history of the causes of the struggle disproves the assertion. The South did not go to war to enslave them nor the North to set them free. The object of the South ern people was to establish an independent government of their own, the object of the Northern people was, as they expressed it, "to maintain the Constitution the laws and the Union." Mr. Lincoln after the war commenced issued a proclamation guaranteeing slavery to the Southern States if they would return to the Union; but the right of self-government, the paramount aim of those States, his proposition was not accepted. The war progressed. The slaves were finally declared free as a military necessity—the armies of the Union advanced, and they were eventually emancipated as a result of the war not antici pated by either section when it commenced. It was the overruling of events by the finger of God, to whose interposition you, my colored friends, are indebted for your freedom. (Loud applause and cries of "that's so"). He quoted historical facts to show that at one time slavery existed in all the States, (save Vermont,) of the Union; and by reference to a book prepared by a Northern author, which he held in his hand, many examples to show that in the North when slavery was an institution of the North, were not treated with the kindness which had been shown them in the South. The States of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, were especially referred to. In one instance a negro girl had been burned alive for arson. In New York by law a "Common Whipper" was appointed for slaves; and negroes who owned slaves were not permitted to free them unless they gave bond that they would not become a charge upon the State. Now, if the black man should, by the rule of antagonism to the people of the South because slavery was once an institution of this section, the same rule would array them in hostility to the Northern section. The institution of slavery had been common to them both.

The people of the South are now free through the controlling dispensation of the Almighty. They are entitled to equality of privilege with the white people as long (as law; and he would spurn a man who would deprive them of the rights in this particular. The government of the South invested them with the privilege of voting—the responsibilities and nature of which the Governor explained at some length. In reference to social equality, about which some persons had expressed great concern, there was no danger of that. No law had been framed, or could be framed, to interfere with or control the social relations of any people. In the matter of voting, he urged the colored men when they feel that they do not understand the question to be decided to take counsel of those in whom they can place their trust; whose love of justice would respect their rights, have been displayed by their acts. Above all don't trust the man who thrusts himself into your house in the dark hour of night, or takes you away off in hidden places to whisper something in your ear which nobody else must hear. That man means mischief.

In reference to the question of Reconstruction, he stated that our duty, as well as best interests were clear. The Government of the United States had acquired the power, if it did not possess the right, to dictate the terms of the readmission of the State into the Union. There is no evading that fact. He would advise the holding of a Convention and the acceptance of the terms tendered by Congress without delay, or cavil. He does not approve these acts—would have framed them differently—but they have been passed by the supreme power of the Government, and that to reject or postpone their adoption would be to incur severer penalties than any we had yet experienced.

At the conclusion of Gov. Brown's address, to which marked attention was paid, he introduced Hon. Walker Brooke of Vicksburg, formerly a Senator from Mississippi in the United States Congress, who stated that he had come to meet the fellow citizens to take counsel with them in determining what is best to be done in the interest of our oppressed State—There was one party which was advocating the policy of stupidity and of holding its arms and leaving the ship of State to float down the current into the abyss of irremediable ruin and destruction. This was the party of Non-Action. There was another party. A party which says "let us be up and doing." Let us bring the ship back to moorings; and save what we can of her precious cargo. It was idle to denounce the hardships of the Military Reconstruction laws of Congress. They are the terms on which the Government has required the restoration of the State to the Union, and we could not, with safety, reject them. Congress offers peace; shall we accept or reject? He asked the Non-Actionists if they did not hold a Convention what would they do? Nothing; and thus you will force Congress to "give the screw another turn." The State will be organized and that speedily. If not upon the present terms, upon others that will be prescribed if these are rejected.

To his colored friends he would say that he was probably the first white citizen of the State who addressed their race after they become free. In answer to a call which was made on him by a committee of colored men in Vicksburg, he spoke to them at length, giving them such counsel as he believed would promote their best interests. As a friend of the race, he had admonished them to cultivate kind relations with the people among whom their destiny was cast.

To cultivate habits of industry, to obey the law, to improve their minds, and to fit themselves for the responsibilities which their changed condition had conferred. A man can be a gentleman whether he be white, black or an Indian; but to entitle himself to this application, he must be sober, virtuous, honest and industrious. If he wants character and wealth, they must be acquired by unceasing industry. There is plenty of land in Mississippi—cheap, and teaming with fertility. To become a very garden, it needs only the labor of man. It is within the reach of every one who will practice industry and economy. Put your labor can prosper only under the bright influences of peace. Let us have none who do not desire peace. In war, they were peace men. In peace they are for war.

Mr. Brooke said that he had nothing to say in a spirit of enmity against a incorrect and rightminded Northern man, but there are mere adventurers here from that section who are actuated by selfish pursuits, but whose object is to make money out of the colored people, and secure their own elevation to office. They were mischief makers. Their love for colored men is due to a desire to secure selfish ends. He instanced the case of an itinerant vender of bogus tickets in Vicksburg, which purported to give the holder the privilege to travel on railroads in any part of the country after thirty days and secure the paramount privileges—all for twenty-five cents each.—This scoundrel had obtained nearly an hundred dollars in this way from unsuspecting freedmen in a day, before he was fessed to be. He spoke of the causes of the war, one of which was the denial by the Northern people of the Southern people of their rights to take their blacks into the common Territories. The white people of the South claimed this privilege for the benefit of the white people. Negroes must not be permitted to occupy it, and pollute with their footsteps its virgin soil. War ensued from this and other causes. The North said to the South, surrender your arms and you shall be secured in the institution of slavery. The proposition was not accepted to. The war progressed, and the result was emancipation; now let both races, accepting this result, so act as to turn it to best account.

The Explanatory Reconstruction Act.

The bill supplementary to the existing reconstruction acts, has already passed the House and will undoubtedly go through the Senate and become a law. It provides that the act to which it is supplemental, and also that of March 2d, shall be construed to authorize Military Commissioners whenever they deem it necessary, to remove or suspend any official, state or municipal, exercising authority by virtue of such provisional Government, and to appoint other in their places; and that such commanders shall also have power to prohibit, suspend, or set aside any act of such government or of any subordinate authority thereof, the intent of the aforesaid act being that such governments shall be considered subordinate to the military, and all acts done by such commanders shall be deemed valid. It provides further that Boards of Registration shall admit to registry only such persons as they shall deem entitled to registration under the provisions of the acts aforesaid. Taking the oath prescribed by the act of March 3d, shall not be regarded as conclusive of the right to registration, but as prima facie evidence. Boards of registration may strike from the lists the names of persons already registered who improperly took the oath or are not entitled to be registered, and they shall not be bound or governed in their action by any opinion of any officer of the United States Government. Record evidence to prove participation in the late rebellion on the part of those applying for registration shall not be required, but parole evidence shall be sufficient.—No civil court of the United States or any State shall have jurisdiction of any proceedings, civil or criminal, against any district commander for any official act done under these acts. No district commander shall be removed from the command assigned to him without the advice and consent of the Senate, or unless cashiered or dismissed, or unless he consents thereto.

This is the explanatory part of the bill and settles all mooted questions, making the reconstruction acts so plain that there can be no misinterpretation of their meaning hereafter. The supplemental part disfranchises all State officers whether they took the oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not; declares that the President's pardon does not have the effect of restoring the right of franchise, and transfers from the President to the General commanding the army, all power over the District commanders. The new law makes no material change, for the military commanders were supreme before, absolute and irresponsible. This new turn of the screw will meet with some opposition, but we think there is yet room for us to live, move, reconstruct and have our being, under it. To reconstruct under the law will relieve us of military rule, to vote down a Convention is to fasten a permanent military government upon the South with still harder terms of restoration. "Our concessions to the inevitable by no means commit us to an approval of the injustice perpetrated upon us."

Gov. A. G. Brown.

The malignity and vituperation with which the anti-convention press have assailed Gov. Brown for his participation in the Fourth of July celebration at Terry, show the extremity to which these factionists are reduced. Some of these doughty editors, who during the war, were a dead weight to the Southern cause, are ready to denounce the best and truest men of the South for an honest difference of opinion on the grave questions now before the country. With more intolerance than the Radicals, they are ready to guillotine every man who was a secessionist, and now refuses to join their insane ravings against a convention. Men like Gov. Brown, who have heretofore enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the public, are the special objects of their animadversion. As an example of the slang and misrepresentation to which we refer, the following highfalutin emptying of the vials of wrath from the North Mississippi at Tupelo, is the latest we have seen:

CELEBRATION OF THE FALL OF VICKSBURG.—Ex-Governor A. G. Brown, the arrogant, the great leader of secession in Mississippi, one of those who was going to shed the last drop of blood, spend the last dollar, and die in the last ditch, his resurrection and reinstatement as a leader as the Head Centre of the Radical representationists at a black and tan meeting lately held at Canton, and it is reported proposed a meeting of the blood and tan at Jackson, to celebrate that part of all others over which true hearted Southrons may mourn, that day over which Mississippi's fairest flag waved, that day when her proud banner sank beneath the conquering hand of Justice, and Grant's columns, the day upon which the constitutional rights of the sovereign State made over memorable by their prowess and endurance. On that day Governor Brown was invited, on a third July day, in company with those of African descent, to meet Jackson, in joy and hilarity, to speed the degradation of the white race. How hast thou fallen Albert G. Brown? Oh shame where is thy blush!

In another place we give the speeches of Gov. Brown and Hon. Walker Brooke on the occasion, as we find them in the Clarion, and feel assured they will meet the approval of all intelligent reflecting men.

We have reason to believe that Gov. Brown does not desire to take any prominent part in political affairs, but we can assure him he still has hosts of friends in Mississippi who are not indifferent to the ungenerous assaults he has received, and who would be gratified to hear of his canvassing the State and giving the people his opinions freely on the grave matters now occupying public attention.

The Argument of Vituperation.

Our old friend, Maj. McCardle, pours hot shot into the sides of that class of editors whose only argument is abuse and slander. Here is his article on the subject:

We have, on more occasions than one, deprecated and condemned, what seems to be the fashionable argument of the hour, the argument of vituperation and denunciation. The editor of the Times is unalterably opposed to any kind of acceptance or endorsement of the military reconstruction bills of Congress, but, because he is opposed to that measure, he does not think it consistent with his duty as a gentleman or a patriot, to denounce those who differ from him as traitors, scoundrels or cowards! We are well aware that men as honest and as brave as we ever pretended to be, do not agree with us, but, because of this difference, we do not feel called upon to denounce those, who have the misfortune to disagree with us. There are, in Mississippi, several gentlemen connected with the press, who feel no hesitation or delicacy in denouncing Gen. James Longstreet as a traitor! It is just possible, that some of Gen. Longstreet's old soldiers may differ from him as widely as those self-constituted patriots, but, we venture to affirm that, no soldier has yet been found willing to denounce the "old war-horse" of the army of Virginia, as a traitor! In like manner the Hon. Albert G. Brown has been denounced by the petty whipsters and blackguards who have, by some accident, obtained control of a batch of old types and a quart of printer's ink, as a traitor and a sliming demagogue! By what right do these boys and blackguards assume to bespatter, with the filth natural to them, a man so immeasurably above them? Before the most of them were born, Albert G. Brown was a Representative in Congress, and when they were old enough to have borne a musket in defence of their country, he was the idol of the party of Mississippians where something more serious than vituperation were the arguments of the occasion. Out upon such blackguardism! We are as much opposed to the proposed reconstruction of Congress, as any of these wordy patriots can possibly be; but if no better argument than the above, of Albert G. Brown and General James Longstreet, can be found against the military bills, we will unhesitatingly vote for a Convention. But, thank God! no such alternative is presented to us, while there is a mind to appeal to. Reason is always powerful, and we shall, therefore, have no occasion to join the fools and blackguards whose highest effort of intellect and courage is to abuse their betters!

We have known Albert G. Brown for years. We know him for a brave, true man, and that is more than we can say for his assailants. We know Gen. Longstreet. We had the honor to serve under him, and we can appreciate him as fools and cowards never can. Let us, therefore, hear no more of this assinine harping about "traitors" from men who have neither sense or courage. The men who were either too good, too smart, or too rich to fight in defence of their country, are not the style of men to denounce General Longstreet or Albert G. Brown as traitors.

The Picayune says truly that any kind of Reconstruction can "hardly make things worse. The great evil of the present situation is the paralysis of all the forces of society "caused by the uncertainty of the future. If Congress would only decide upon our fate, and adhere to "their decision, it would be comparatively a great blessing."

The London Shipping Gazette says that if the ease of stopping the American steamers in the river St. Lawrence is not treated with temper and discretion, both by the English government and that of the United States, it may rapidly lead to very serious consequences.

Custar had been whipped, makes the following telling hit at the Secretary of War: "From the number of battles reported as won by the enemy, it is quite evident that Stanton is not doing the telegraphing. Letter from Tennessee.

Relations of Mississippi and Tennessee.—How Memphis was unfortunate.—A settler.—Old History's tricks.—Actors and how they—The best view of it.—What it means.—Old shotgun figures largely in its grave.—The sensation of the week.—Hard times.

MEMPHIS, July 11, 1867.

I need hardly tell you that trade was never so dull in this city—that dry goods were never so cheap—that groceries never were subjected to such a decline. Memphis is debilitated—paralyzed. By some fatal mistake, or fatality, the act of Andrew Jackson, who then managed matters in the town way, the dissolution of Tennessee defined. He did not foresee the existence of Brownlow and of the Barbey Lewis. He wielded the thews of Smith, the General, who called, and slain painter, of Richards the tinner, and of many like them, who have swollen into greatness by absorbing the vices of the age. It's pity that Andrew Jackson had not foreseen the existence of these men and the chapter of accidents by which they were heaved up from the sediment of society to its boiling surface! Had the old hero been also a prophet in mercy he would have perpetrated the original definition of the Southern boundary line of this State, and, to-day Memphis would be geographically, as it is in fact sympathy and interest, a metropolis of Mississippi.

There was once in your State a sort of antipathy to Memphis. Safely locked secrets beget the prejudice. Events of the past six years have dissipated mistaken notions. But still it is hard for the sentiment of the great body of the people of Memphis and of Mississippi, are identical.

IDENTITY OF OPINIONS—NEW ORLEANS RUMPS.

Not less inseparable are the interests of the two peoples. There are more Mississippians here than were from all other States, and our railway system binds us to Mississippi "as with hooks of steel."—It suggests the very matter to which the press of the interior should attract public attention. Mississippi granted charters for the railroads that have built this city. Singularly enough, and with absolute want of prescience, the builders of these highways were not required to connect with the great river to which their people would have access. Many evils have followed. Drayman, commission men, and factors intervene to levy exactions upon the products of the country, which impoverish producers, drive trade from the city, and even destroy the profitableness of railway lines. The Mobile & Ohio Road, at Columbus, Ky., extends to the very water's edge. The transport of freights from the river to the railway, costs nothing. In consequence of this fact merchants and planters of the interior, to escape exactions imposed by Memphis middlemen, factors, commission merchants, and transmit my goods in North-western cities, and no longer resort to New Orleans. Of course railways that converge at Memphis, suffer, and the wealth of the country is transferred to Northern and Western cities.

THE REMEDY.

All Memphis roads should have a common depot and connect with the river, and through passengers should be transferred from one line to another without the intervention of a broker (a nuisance in most of the Memphis commission and drays.) Transportation. These papers of the interior will discuss this question, or local press will be compelled to ventilate in the columns the burdens it entails upon the subjected, and many public evils will be eradicated.

ANOTHER MOVEMENT IN THE POLITICAL CHESS-BOARD.

Gen. Alcorn, of your State, proposes to take the stump. He inveighs against Democracy and Radicalism alike, asserting that if a third party is not voted up we shall have two, distinguished solely by the color of their constituent elements, the other words, white and black parties—evils to grow out of this condition of things are palpable enough. The question is whether Gen. Alcorn is not too late in his movement. So firm an adhesion to any party is concerned, we are hardly weak enough to be governed by enemies' policy. Yet if a great public good may be achieved by creating a new organization, which may divide the colored vote among those who adhere to old creeds. The South went into the war misled by the assurances of Northern Democracy. Butler, Logan and many like them induced Mr. Davis to declare in one of his speeches of late he left the United States Senate in 1861, that the Border States will gladly come into the Southern Confederacy within sixty days, as we shall be their only protection. The great mass in Northern cities where the pavements have been worn off by the tread of commerce, hated Southern Democracy. The bravery and trust of them were content to make mouths at Abe Lincoln. The World, their organ of to-day, was fierce for war against the South and the rest paid taxes and kept quiet. When Fredericksburg was fought and Sumpter overwhelmed and Mississippi soldiers won immortal renown, Lincoln wished to make terms, but Democracy, filled to gain a point and seize the offices, became of Lincoln's defeat and ill success, opposed the movement. The war went on, thanks to Northern Democracy, and the South was crushed by sheer force of numbers.

If a Southern will steer clear of Radicalism and content himself with opposition to Red Republican Democracy he may draw after him Whigs and Douglas men and blacks enough to achieve his purposes.—Something may have white parties struggling for the negro vote and may be governed by whites instead of blacks. I am told that Horace Greeley, conservative Republicans, who dread a war of race, concur in the purposes suggested, and no effort will be made to create a Radical party if plans suggested may be approved by the people of the Gulf States.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

It has been found a difficult task, because of adverse legislation, to establish a system of agencies for the Southern Asylum for Foreign Paupers, but the Asylum company has made up a list of plantations, based upon which, tickets will soon be issued. Two agents have been dispatched to Europe and another has opened an office in New York. Until this was done, there was no possibility of selling any large bodies of land to white immigrants. The scheme now prepared consists wholly of Mississippi lands lying along railroad lines. The tracts into which plantations are subdivided are small, forty and eighty acres. Tickets cost one dollar each. There is besides a local scheme already advertised. In this tickets cost $5. The capital prize in this scheme is the residence of Col. M. C. Galloway, of the Avalanche, and in the county seat of Memphis. It is appraised at $20,000, at least $5,000 less than its value in 1860. Agents throughout Mississippi, furnish tickets. Drawings occur in both these schemes. Drawings occur in August and September.

BARBARO.

Those who suffer from Liver Complaints may rely upon the Red Jacket Bitters, because they derive from its ingredients properties immediate and certain relief when all the usual prescribed remedies have proved useless.
